Reprints dated at last amendment All reprints produced on or after 1 July 2002, authorised (that is, hard copy) and unauthorised (that is, electronic), are dated as at the last date of amendment. Previously reprints were dated as at the date of publication. If an authorised reprint is dated earlier than an unauthorised version published before 1 July 2002, it means the legislation was not further amended and the reprint date is the commencement of the last amendment.

If the date of an authorised reprint is the same as the date shown for an unauthorised version previously published, it merely means that the unauthorised version was published before the authorised version. Also, any revised edition of the previously published unauthorised version will have the same date as that version.

Replacement reprint date If the date of an authorised reprint is the same as the date shown on another authorised reprint it means that one is the replacement of the other.

Part 3 Performance dividend and attributed amounts

Division 1 Interpretation

20 Meaning of benchmark portfolio

- (1) The benchmark portfolio, for a pool other than the floating rate debt pool, is a notional portfolio made up of the weighting of both—
 - (a) the relevant stock for the pool; and
 - (b) the benchmark portfolio for the floating rate debt pool.
- (2) The weighting must be calculated using a mathematical algorithm decided by the Corporation.
- (3) A calculation under subsection (2) must ensure, as far as practicable, that—
 - (a) the duration of the benchmark portfolio is the same as the duration of the notional loan; and
 - (b) the cashflow profile of the benchmark portfolio is closely matched to the cashflow profile of the notional loan.

21 Meaning of daily pool yield

The daily pool yield, for a pool, is calculated using the following formula—

$$\frac{MV_2 - MV_1}{MV_1} \times 100\%$$

where—

MV_1 is the net value of the pool at market closing on the day before the day for which the daily pool yield is being calculated.

MV_2 is the net value of the pool at market closing on the day for which the daily pool yield is being calculated after adjustment to remove the effect of changes in net borrowings from the pool between market closing on the day before, and market closing on, the day for which the daily pool yield is being calculated.

22 Meaning of net value

- (1) The net value, of a pool on a day, is the amount calculated by subtracting the market value of the pool's liabilities at market closing on the day from the market value of the pool's assets at market closing on the day.
- (2) The market values of the pool's assets and liabilities at market closing on a day are the values decided for the day by the Corporation having regard to the market rates on the stock forming the pool.

23 Meaning of quarterly borrowing margin

- (1) The quarterly borrowing margin, for a pool, is the amount calculated by subtracting the yield on the benchmark portfolio for the pool from the simple average of the yields of the notional portfolios of all central financing authorities.
- (2) For calculating the margin, the Corporation must, at the end of each financial quarter—

[s 24]

- (a) calculate the benchmark portfolio for the pool; and
 - (b) construct notional portfolios for each central financing authority, to reflect the benchmark portfolio, as if each central financing authority had issued notional stock equivalent to the relevant stock used by the Corporation to calculate the benchmark portfolio; and
 - (c) calculate—
 - (i) the yield for the benchmark portfolio; and
 - (ii) the yield for each of the notional portfolios.
- (3) In calculating each yield under subsection 2(c)(ii), the Corporation must have regard to the market rates on the central financing authorities' stock that is equivalent or similar to the notional stock.

24 Meaning of yield on the pool

The yield on the pool, for a financial year, is obtained by compounding the daily pool yields for the pool over the year.

25 Prescription of periods—Act, ss 19A(2) and 19B(3)

For sections 19A(2) and 19B(3) of the Act, the prescribed period is a financial year.

26 Prescription of Corporation accounts—Act, s 19C(3)(a)

For section 19C(3)(a) of the Act, the following are the prescribed accounts of the Corporation—

- (a) the floating rate debt pool;
- (b) the 3 year debt pool;
- (c) the 6 year debt pool;
- (d) the 9 year debt pool;
- (e) the 12 year debt pool;
- (f) the 15 year debt pool.

27 How to round to a decimal place

- (1) This section applies if a percentage must be rounded to a particular decimal place.
- (2) If the number immediately after the place is less than 5, the number at the place is not changed.
- (3) If the number immediately after the place is 5 or more, the number at the place is rounded up to the next whole number.

Division 2 Performance dividend

28 Total amount of performance dividend for a financial year

The amount of the performance dividend payable by the Corporation for a financial year is the total of—

- (a) the performance dividend payable for each pool for the year; and
- (b) the performance dividend payable for all special arrangements for the year.

29 Performance dividend for pools

- (1) For section 19A(2) of the Act, the performance dividend payable for a pool for a financial year is the amount equal to the sum of the increase in the net value of the pool on the last day of the year that would result if the daily pool yields for the pool over the year were increased by the dividend percentage for the pool for the year.
- (2) The dividend percentage, rounded to the second decimal place, for a pool for a financial year is calculated using the following formula—

$$\frac{BM + (BPY - APY)}{2}$$

where—

[s 30]

BM means the simple average, rounded to the fourth decimal place, of the quarterly borrowing margins for the pool for the year.

BPY means the yield on the benchmark portfolio for the pool for the year, as calculated by the Corporation.

APY means the yield on the pool for the year, as calculated by the Corporation.

- (3) If the dividend percentage calculated under subsection (2) is less than 0, the dividend percentage is taken to be 0.

30 Performance dividend for special arrangements

- (1) The performance dividend payable for a special arrangement for a financial year is the amount calculated by multiplying the average of the outstanding amounts under the arrangement over the year by the weighted average dividend percentage for the arrangement for the year.
- (2) The weighted average dividend percentage, rounded to the second decimal point, for a special arrangement for a financial year, is calculated using the following formula—

$$\frac{B}{C}$$

where—

B means the total of the amounts calculated by multiplying the dividend percentage for each pool for the year by the net value of the pool on the last day of the year.

C means the total of all the net values of the pools on the last day of the year.

31 Payment of performance dividend

- (1) As soon as practicable after the end of a financial year, the Corporation must calculate the amount of the performance dividend payable by it and give notice of the amount to the Treasurer.

- (2) The dividend is payable within 14 days after the notice is given.
- (3) If the Corporation has not given the notice within 45 days after the end of the financial year to which the dividend relates, the Corporation must give the Treasurer its reasons for not giving the notice.

Division 3 Attributed amounts

32 Calculation of attributed amounts

The attributed amount payable for a financial arrangement entered into by the Corporation with a statutory body or other person for a financial year is calculated as follows—

- (a) if the arrangement is associated with a pool—the attributed amount is the increase in the outstanding amount under the arrangement on the last day of the year that would result if the daily pool yields for the pool over the year were increased by the dividend percentage for the pool for the year;
- (b) if the arrangement is a special arrangement—the attributed amount is calculated by applying the weighted average dividend percentage for the special arrangement for the year to the average of the outstanding amounts under the special arrangement over the year.

33 Payment of attributed amount

- (1) As soon as practicable after the end of a financial year, the Corporation must calculate the attributed amount payable for each financial arrangement entered into by it with a statutory body or other person and give notice of the amount to the body or person.
- (2) The attributed amount is payable within 14 days after the notice is given.
