JUSTICES ACT 1886

[as amended by all amendments that commenced on or before 15 August 1997]

An Act to consolidate law about the powers and jurisdiction of justices and magistrates and to provide for proceedings before, and appeals from, justices and magistrates, and other matters

PART 1—PRELIMINARY

Short title

1. This Act may be cited as the Justices Act 1886.

Definitions

4. In this Act—

“approved procedures”, for computer warrants, see section 67(1).

“breach of duty” means any act or omission (not being a simple offence or a nonpayment of a mere debt) on complaint of which a Magistrates Court may make an order on any person for the payment of money or for doing or refraining from doing any other act.

“charge of an indictable offence” means a charge of an indictable offence as such.

“clerk of the court” means the person who for the time being is the clerk of every Magistrates Court at a place or places appointed under this Act for the holding of Magistrates Courts in question, and includes any assistant clerk of the court, deputy clerk of the court and any person who for the time being occupies or performs the duties of such office.

“complaint” includes the terms ‘information’, ‘information and complaint’, and ‘charge’ when used in any Act, and means an information, complaint or charge before a Magistrates Court.

“computer warrant” see section 67(1).¹

“court” means a Magistrates Court.

“decision” includes a committal for trial or for sentence, a conviction, order, order of dismissal or striking out or other determination.

“defendant” means a person complained against before a Magistrates Court or before justices for a simple offence, breach of duty or an indictable offence.

“examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence” means an examination of witnesses or the taking of a statement of any person by justices in relation to a charge of an indictable offence.

“hearing” includes an examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence.

“indictable offence” means an offence which may be prosecuted before the Supreme Court, a District Court, or other court having jurisdiction in that behalf, by indictment in the name of the Attorney-General or other authorised officer.

“indictment” means a written charge for an indictable offence presented to a court having jurisdiction to try the accused person by the Attorney-General or other authorised officer.

“jurisdiction” includes the place in which jurisdiction may be lawfully exercised.

“justices” or “justice” means justices of the peace or a justice of the peace having jurisdiction where the act in question is, or is to be, performed, and includes a stipendiary magistrate and, where necessary, a Magistrates Court.

“order” includes any order, adjudication, grant or refusal of any application, and any determination of whatsoever kind made by a Magistrates Court, and any refusal by a Magistrates Court to hear and determine any complaint or to entertain any application made to it, but does not include any order made by justices committing a defendant for trial for an indictable offence, or dismissing a charge of an indictable offence or granting or refusing to grant bail and, in the last mentioned case, whether or not the justices are sitting as a Magistrates Court or to hear an examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence.

“police station” includes a police office, watch-house, and lockup.

“private complaint” means a complaint made by a person who is not—

- (a) a public officer; or
- (b) in making the complaint, acting in—
 - (i) the execution of a duty imposed on the person by law; or
 - (ii) the proper administration of an Act or Commonwealth Act.

“public officer” means—

- (a) an officer or employee of the public service of the State or the Commonwealth; or
- (b) an officer or employee of a statutory body that represents the Crown in right of the State or the Commonwealth; or
- (c) an officer or employee of a local government;
who is acting in an official capacity.

“simple offence” means any offence (indictable or not) punishable, on summary conviction before a Magistrates Court, by fine, imprisonment, or otherwise.

“summary conviction” or “conviction” means a conviction by a Magistrates Court for a simple offence.

General saving of powers of justices

5. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to diminish or take away from any power or authority conferred on justices of the peace by any other Act, except so far as the provisions of this Act are inconsistent with the existence or exercise of such power or authority.

PART 3—JURISDICTION

Division 1—General provisions

General provision

19. Whenever by any Act past or future, or by this Act, any person is made liable to a penalty or punishment, or to pay a sum of money, for any offence, act, or omission, and such offence, act, or omission is not by the Act declared to be an indictable offence, and no other provision is made for the trial of such person, the matter may be heard and determined by a Magistrates Court constituted, subject to this Act, by 2 or more justices in a summary manner under the provisions of this Act.

Authentication of acts of justices

20. All summonses, warrants, convictions, and orders (not being by law authorised to be made by word of mouth only) shall be under the hands of the justices issuing or making the same.

Presumption

21. Every act done or purporting to have been done by or before a justice shall be taken to have been done within the justice's jurisdiction without an allegation to that effect unless and until the contrary is shown.

Division 2—Magistrates Courts

Continuance of Magistrates Courts

22.(1) The Magistrates Courts, as formerly established as courts of record in Queensland, are continued in existence.

(2) Each Magistrates Court is to have a seal that is to be kept by the clerk of the court and is to be judicially noticed.

Jurisdiction of Magistrates Courts

22A. Magistrates Courts are to have the civil, criminal and other jurisdiction—

- (a) that Courts of Petty Sessions or justices sitting in Petty Sessions had before the commencement of the Justices Acts Amendment Act 1964; and
- (b) that is conferred on them by this Act and other Acts.

Magistrates Court districts

22B.(1) The Governor in Council may make regulations with respect to—

- (a) the appointment of districts, and divisions of districts, for the purposes of Magistrates Courts; and
- (b) the names of districts and divisions; and
- (c) the appointment of places for holding Magistrates Courts within districts and divisions; and
- (d) the transfer of proceedings, matters, documents, records and accounts from one Magistrates Court to another.

(1A) Despite the appointment under subsection (1)(c) of a particular place within a district or division as a place for holding a Magistrates Court—

- (a) the Magistrates Court may sit at another place in the district or division; and
- (b) if it sits at another place in the district or division, the place is taken to have also been appointed under subsection (1)(c).

(2) Two or more Magistrates Courts may be held at the same time at the same place.

(3) Provision made by a proclamation under section 22 (as in force immediately before the commencement of this section) continues to have effect, after the commencement, as if it had been made by a regulation.

(4) Provision made by an order in council under the Decentralisation of Magistrates Courts Act 1965, section 5 (as in force immediately before the commencement of this section) continues to have effect, after the commencement, as if it had been made by a regulation under this Act.

Appointment of clerks of the court

22C.(1) The Governor in Council may, by gazette notice, appoint a person to be clerk of the court, or an assistant clerk of the court, at 1 or more places.

(2) A clerk of the court—

- (a) may discharge the functions of the office at each place for which the clerk is appointed; and
- (b) is the clerk of each Magistrates Court held at the place.

Vacancy in office of clerk of court etc.

23.(1) If, in relation to a place appointed for holding a Magistrates Court, a clerk of the court is not appointed or is absent, a magistrate may discharge the duties of the clerk of the court.

(2) Anything done by or in relation to a magistrate acting under subsection (1) is taken to have been done by the clerk of the court.

(3) If a magistrate is discharging the duties of clerk of the court under subsection (1), the magistrate may require a police officer to perform, or assist in performing, a specified part of the duties.

(3A) If, in relation to a place appointed for holding a Magistrates Court—

- (a) the person appointed as clerk of the court for the place is a police officer; and
- (b) there is no magistrate available at the place to discharge the duties of the clerk of the court during the clerk's absence from the place;

a magistrate may require another appropriately qualified police officer to perform, or assist in performing, the duties or a specified part of the duties during the clerk's absence.

(4) Anything done by or in relation to a police officer acting under subsection (3) or (3A) is taken to have been done by the clerk of the court.

Division 2A—Decentralisation of Magistrates CourtsDefinitions for div 2A

23A. In this division—

“address”, in relation to any person, means the place of residence or place of business or other address of that person.

“defendant” means a person to whom a summons is directed upon a plaint or complaint.

“metropolitan district” means the district named or known as the metropolitan district.

“motor vehicle” means a motor vehicle within the meaning of the Traffic Act 1949.

Act has effect subject to division

23B. This Act has effect subject to this division.

Venue of hearing complaint to be determined subject to this section

23C.(1) Section 139 shall apply in respect of a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty to which this subsection refers subject to the following provisions—

- (a) when a simple offence or breach of duty has been committed within a district and within 800 m of the common boundary of 2 or more divisions of that district a complaint of such offence or breach may be heard and determined within any of those divisions;
- (b) when a simple offence or breach of duty has been committed within a district a complaint of such offence or breach may be heard and determined within a division of that district in which division the defendant resides or is reasonably believed by the complainant at the time of making the complaint to reside or be;
- (c) when a simple offence or breach of duty has been committed at a place which is not within any district but within 35 km of a boundary of a division of a district which is not a common boundary between 2 or more divisions of that district a complaint of such offence or breach may be heard and determined within the division such boundary of which is nearest by direct measurement to the place of commission of such offence or breach but, subject to the following provisions of this Act, within no other division of that district or of any other district;

- (ca) however, where such an offence or breach has been committed at a place equidistant by direct measurement from such a boundary of 2 or more divisions (whether of the same district or different districts) a complaint of such offence or breach may be heard and determined in any of such divisions;
- (d) save as is prescribed by this Act a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty committed within a division shall not be heard and determined within any other division of the same district or within a division of any other district.

(2) No provision of subsection (1) shall be construed to prejudice the jurisdiction conferred by section 139 upon a court situated elsewhere than within a district.

Power of clerk of the court to adjourn hearings

23D.(1) If, before the time at which a defendant is required by a summons to appear within a division, it appears to the clerk of the court for such division that—

- (a) in the case of a summons issued upon a plaint or upon a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty—a court within such division has jurisdiction to hear and determine the plaint or complaint in question; and
- (b)—
 - (i) the hearing of the plaint or complaint cannot proceed or is not likely to proceed at the time and place at which the defendant is required by the summons to appear; or
 - (ii) the manifest preponderance of convenience to the plaintiff or, as the case may be, complainant or to the defendant of hearing the plaint or complaint at some other time or place requires such an adjournment; or

Justices Act 1886

- (iii) for such other reason as the clerk of the court considers sufficient the hearing should be so adjourned;

the clerk of the court may, either upon application made to the clerk in that behalf or of the clerk's own motion, adjourn the hearing to a certain time and place, whether situated in that division or in some other division of the district, to be then appointed by the clerk of the court.

(2) When a hearing is so adjourned the clerk of the court shall cause the time and place to which the hearing is adjourned to be stated in the presence and hearing of every party to the proceeding concerned or of the party's counsel, solicitor or agent who is then present and if any party to such proceeding is not then present either personally or by the party's counsel, solicitor or agent the clerk of the court shall, forthwith after such adjournment, give notice in writing to that party or, as the clerk of the court may elect, the party's counsel, solicitor or agent informing the person of—

- (a) the time and place to which the hearing is adjourned; and
- (b) the reason for the adjournment; and
- (c) the right of the party concerned to be heard at the adjourned hearing.

(3) When a hearing is so adjourned the defendant shall not be obliged to appear at the time and place referred to in the summons in question but such summons shall thenceforth be read and construed as if the time and place to which such hearing is, for the time being, adjourned were appointed by such summons as the time and place at which the defendant is thereby required to appear.

(4) The hearing as adjourned shall not commence at the appointed time and place unless the court is satisfied that the parties or their respective counsel, solicitors, or agents have been given reasonable notice thereof.

(5) A document purporting to be a certificate signed by the clerk of the court who last adjourned the hearing in question pursuant to this section as to the making of a statement in the presence and hearing of a party or the party's counsel, solicitor or agent of the time and place to which the hearing is adjourned shall upon its production in any proceeding and without further proof be received as evidence of the matter therein contained and a document purporting to be a duplicate original or copy of a notice last directed to any person in accordance with this section and endorsed with a certificate purporting to be signed by the person who served the original of such notice or, where such notice was sent by post, by the clerk of the court who last adjourned the hearing in question that—

- (a) the document is a duplicate original or, as the case may be, copy of the notice directed to the person named therein; and
- (b) the original of such notice was served upon such person personally on a date specified or, as the case may be, was posted on a date specified to the address appearing therein and such address was the address of such person last known to such clerk of the court; and
- (c) where the original of such notice was sent by post, in the ordinary course of post such original would have been delivered at such address on a date specified;

shall, upon its production in any proceeding and without further proof, be received as evidence that the original of such notice was given to the person named therein, according to the certificate so endorsed and, where such original was sent by post, that the address appearing therein is the address of such person last known to such clerk and that such original was delivered to the address appearing therein on the date on which the same would be delivered in the ordinary course of post according to the certificate so endorsed.

(6) Costs of and occasioned by any adjournment under this section may be ordered by the court hearing and determining the plaint or complaint to be paid by any party to any other party as to the court may appear just.

(7) Where a hearing is duly adjourned under this section from one division to another division of a district—

- (a) the clerk of the court by whom the hearing is adjourned, unless the clerk is also clerk of the court for the division to which the hearing is adjourned, shall forthwith transmit to the clerk of the court for such division the plaint or complaint and summons and any other documents relating to the proceeding which have been lodged with or received by the clerk of the court;
- (b) the plaint or complaint and summons and other documents relating to the proceeding shall be kept and preserved by the clerk of the court for the division to which the hearing is adjourned as if the clerk were the clerk of the court at the place where the defendant is required by the summons to appear unless the hearing and determination of the complaint is further adjourned to another division of the district;

- (c) the plaint or complaint may be heard and determined in the division to which the hearing is adjourned and all proceedings may be commenced, continued or completed and all acts, matters and things which are authorised, permitted or required by law to be done, executed or taken, whether for the purpose of the enforcement or variation of an order made in such a proceeding or any other purpose, may be done, executed, or taken as fully and effectually as if the hearing or order were a hearing by or, as the case may be, an order of a court at the place at which the defendant was originally required by the summons to appear.

(8) The hearing of a plaint or complaint which has been adjourned under this section may be further adjourned from time to time under this section or any other provision of this Act or under any relevant provision of any other Act and the relevant provision, whether of this Act or such other Act, shall with all necessary adaptations, extend and apply accordingly.

(9) A clerk of the court need not constitute a court for the purpose of exercising any power or function under this section, and may exercise in respect of a defendant to a complaint any of the powers which justices might exercise in respect of a defendant upon an adjournment under this Act apart from this division.

(10) No provision of this section shall be construed to affect the powers or duties of a registrar of a court under the Magistrates Courts Rules 1960.

Further powers of clerk of the court

23DA.(1) This section is in addition to, and does not limit, section 23D.

(2) The clerk of the court has the following additional powers—

- (a) power to adjourn a matter before the court on terms decided by the clerk or stated in an application;
- (b) power to make any order a magistrate may make with the consent of all the parties to a matter.

(3) However, the clerk of the court may exercise the powers mentioned in subsection (2) only if—

- (a) application for the adjournment or order is made to a Magistrates Court; and
- (b) all the parties to the matter consent in writing, personally or by their agent, to the exercise of the power.

(4) When exercising a power under subsection (2)—

- (a) the parties to the matter need not be present; and
- (b) the clerk of the court is taken to constitute a Magistrates Court.

Court or justices may adjourn within or outside district

23E.(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of this Act or any other Act a court or justices sitting for any purpose at a place within a district may, in order to carry out such purpose, sit at any other place within such district or within an adjoining district and may, from time to time (whether before or after entering upon the purpose for which such court or, as the case may be, justices are then sitting)—

- (a) adjourn the proceeding to a certain time and place to be then appointed and stated in the presence and hearing of the party or parties then present or of their respective counsel, solicitors or agents then present; or
- (b) adjourn the proceeding and leave the time and place at which the proceeding is to be continued to be later determined by such court or, as the case may be, justices.

(1A) However, a proceeding so adjourned shall not be continued at a time and place so determined unless the court or, as the case may be, justices are satisfied that the parties or their respective counsel, solicitors or agents have been given reasonable notice of such determination.

(2) Upon such an adjournment the court or, as the case may be, justices may exercise in respect of a defendant to a complaint any of the powers which the court or justices might exercise in respect of a defendant upon an adjournment under this Act apart from this division.

Additional powers of court or justices

23EA.(1) This section is in addition to, and does not limit, any other provision of this Act.

(2) A court or justices have the following additional powers—

- (a) power to give any direction the court or justices consider appropriate;
- (b) power to direct a party to file and serve stated documents, including affidavits, within a stated time;
- (c) power to make orders to which all the parties to a matter consent.

(3) When exercising the power under subsection (2)(c), the parties to the matter need not be present.

Division 3—Powers of single justiceActs by 1 justice

24. One justice may receive a complaint, and grant a summons or warrant thereon, and may issue the justice's summons or warrant to compel the attendance of witnesses, and do all other necessary acts and matters preliminary to the hearing, notwithstanding that the case must be heard and determined by 2 or more justices.

After decision 1 justice may issue warrant of execution or commitment

25. After a case has been heard and determined, 1 justice may issue thereon any warrant of execution or of commitment, and the justice who so acts need not be the justice or 1 of the justices by whom the case was heard and determined.

Warrants of execution after appeal

26. After an appeal against a conviction or order has been decided against the appellant, any justice may issue a warrant of execution or commitment for execution of the same as if no appeal had been brought.

Division 4—Hearing and quorumHearing of complaint

27.(1) Subject to the provisions of any other Act, every complaint shall be heard and determined by a Magistrates Court constituted by 2 or more justices.

(2) If any Act authorises a matter of complaint to be heard and determined by—

- (a) a Magistrates Court constituted by 1 justice; or
- (b) 1 justice;

that matter of complaint may be heard and determined by a Magistrates Court constituted by 1 justice.

Majority to decide

28.(1) When 2 or more justices are present and acting at the hearing of any matter and do not agree, the decision of the majority shall be the decision of the justices, and if they are equally divided in opinion, the case shall be reheard at a time to be appointed by the justices.

(2) Despite subsection (1), on a complaint for an indictable offence, any 2 or more of the justices may commit the defendant for trial even though a majority of the justices are of the opinion that the defendant should be discharged.

(3) If the defendant is committed under subsection (2), a memorandum of the dissent of the majority of the justices is to be made on, or attached to, the depositions.

When 2 justices required, must be present throughout the case

29. Where a complaint must be heard and determined, or a conviction or order must be made, by 2 or more justices, the justices making the decision must be present and act together during the whole of the hearing and determination.

Division 5—MagistratesStipendiary magistrates

30.(1) A stipendiary magistrate constituting a Magistrates Court shall have power to do alone whatever might be done by 2 or more justices constituting a Magistrates Court, and shall have power to do alone any act which by any Act may or shall be done by 2 or more justices.

(2) Unless otherwise expressly provided, when a stipendiary magistrate is present at a place appointed for holding Magistrates Courts and is available to constitute any such court to be held at that place the court shall be constituted by the stipendiary magistrate alone.

(3) Nothing in subsection (2) shall be construed to abridge or prejudice the ministerial power of justices in taking an examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence, or the powers of justices to receive a complaint or to issue, grant or endorse a summons or warrant, to grant bail or to adjourn a hearing of a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty.

Division 6—Extent of jurisdictionJustices may act outside jurisdiction

32. No act done by a justice shall be invalid merely by reason of the fact that at the time of doing such act the justice was outside the limits of the justice's jurisdiction, and it shall not be necessary that any conviction, order, or other proceeding, should appear to be made or done within the geographical limits of the jurisdiction of the justice making or doing the same.

Warrants of commitment and remand by justices of limited jurisdiction

33. A warrant of commitment or of remand shall be valid throughout the State, notwithstanding that the gaol or other place to which the defendant is committed or remanded, or any place into or through which the defendant is taken by virtue of the warrant, is outside the limits of the jurisdiction of the justice by whom the warrant is granted.

Police officers to obey warrants of justice etc.

34. Police officers must obey, and perform their duties in relation to, warrants, orders and directions of a justice.

Apprehended person may be taken before any justice

35.(1) A police officer or other person who apprehends a person (the “offender”) offending against law may take the offender before any justice.

(2) The justice may deal with the person according to law, even though the justice does not have jurisdiction for the place where the offender was apprehended.

Summons or warrant not avoided by death of justice etc.

37. A warrant or summons issued by a justice shall not be avoided by reason of such justice dying or ceasing to hold office.

Order in lieu of mandamus

38.(1) When a justice refuses to do any act relating to the duties of the justice’s office as such justice the party requiring such act to be done may apply to the Supreme Court, or a judge thereof, upon affidavit of the facts, for an order calling upon such justice and also the party to be affected by such act to show cause why such act should not be done, and if after due service of such order good cause is not shown against it, the court or judge may make the same absolute with or without or upon payment of costs.

(2) A justice upon being served with an order absolute shall obey the order and do the act required by it to be done.

Power of court to order delivery of certain property

39.(1) If property—

- (a) has come into the custody or possession of the police—
 - (i) in connection with any charge or prosecution; or
 - (ii) otherwise in the course of their duty; or

- (b) has come into the possession of a Magistrates Court or clerk of the court, whether as an exhibit or otherwise, in connection with a summary proceeding under this Act;

the Magistrates Court may, on application by a police officer or the clerk of the court or by a claimant of the property—

- (c) make an order for the delivery of the property to the person who appears to be its owner; or
- (d) if the owner cannot be ascertained—make such order in relation to the property as the court considers appropriate.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), the order does not prevent a person from recovering the property by action from the person to whom the property is delivered under the order.

(3) An action for the recovery of the property may only be brought within 6 months after the making of the order.

(4) A regulation may make provision with respect to disposal of property mentioned in subsection (1) if—

- (a) the owner has not been ascertained; and
- (b) an order of a court of competent jurisdiction has not been made for the disposal of the property.

(5) The regulation may authorise the sale of the property and the application of the proceeds of sale.

Division 7—Interruption of proceedings

Penalty for insulting or interrupting justices

40.(1) A person who—

- (a) wilfully insults a justice or a witness or an officer of the court during his or her sitting as, or, as the case may be, attendance in a Magistrates Court or during his or her sitting or, as the case may be, attendance in any examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence or who is on his or her way to or from any such court or examination; or

Justices Act 1886

- (b) wilfully misbehaves himself or herself in such a court or in the place where such an examination is being held; or
- (c) wilfully interrupts the proceedings of such a court or examination; or
- (d) unlawfully assaults, or wilfully obstructs a person in attendance at such a court or examination; or
- (e) without lawful excuse, disobeys a lawful order or direction of such court or justice; may by oral order of such court or justice, be excluded from such court or examination and, whether the person is so excluded or not, may be summarily convicted by such court or justice of contempt.

(2) A person convicted under subsection (1) is liable to a maximum penalty of 2 penalty units or imprisonment for 14 days.

(3) A person referred to in subsection (1)—

- (a) may be dealt with under this section without a complaint being made or a summons being issued in respect of the person;
- (b) may be taken into custody by a police officer on order of such court or justice and without further warrant;
- (c) may be called upon by such court or justice to show cause why the person should not be convicted of contempt under this section;
- (d) may be dealt with by such court or justice under this section upon the court's or justice's own view, or upon the evidence of a credible witness.

(4) A court or justice may, if it or the justice thinks fit, accept from any person convicted by it or the justice of contempt under this section, an apology for such contempt and may recommend that the Governor in Council remit or respite any fine or punishment imposed on such person in respect of such contempt.

PART 4—GENERAL PROCEDURE

Division 1—Complaints

Commencement of proceedings

42.(1) Except where otherwise expressly provided or where the defendant has been arrested without warrant, all proceedings under this Act shall be commenced by a complaint in writing, which may be made by the complainant in person or by the complainant's counsel or solicitor or other person authorised in that behalf.

(1A) However, where a defendant is present at a proceeding and does not object, a further charge or an amended charge may be made against the defendant and be proceeded with although no complaint in writing has been made in respect thereof.

(2) Where a defendant has been arrested on any charge and no complaint in writing has been made and in a case to which subsection (1A) applies particulars of the charge against the defendant shall be entered on the bench charge sheet.

Matter of complaint

43.(1) Every complaint shall be for 1 matter only, and not for 2 or more matters, except—

- (a) in the case of indictable offences—if the matters of complaint are such that they may be charged in 1 indictment;
- (b) in cases other than cases of indictable offences—if the matters of complaint—
 - (i) are alleged to be constituted by the same act or omission on the part of the defendant; or
 - (ii) are alleged to be constituted by a series of acts done or omitted to be done in the prosecution of a single purpose; or
 - (iii) are founded on substantially the same facts; or
 - (iv) are, or form part of, a series of offences or matters of complaint of the same or a similar character;

(c) when otherwise expressly provided.

(2) When 2 or more matters of complaint are joined in the 1 complaint each matter of complaint shall be set out in a separate paragraph.

(3) At the hearing of a complaint in which 2 or more matters of complaint have been joined but which does not comply with the provisions of this section—

(a) if an objection is taken to the complaint on the ground of such noncompliance—the court shall require the complainant to choose 1 matter of complaint on which to proceed at that hearing;

(b) if no such objection is taken to the complaint—the court may proceed with the hearing and may determine the matters of complaint, and may convict or acquit the defendant in accordance with such determination.

(4) If, at the hearing of a complaint, it appears to the court that a defendant may be prejudiced or embarrassed in the defendant's defence because the complaint contains more than 1 matter of complaint or that for any other reason it is desirable that 1 or more matters of complaint should be heard separately, the court may order that such 1 or more matters of complaint be heard separately.

Description of persons and property

46. Such description of persons or things as would be sufficient in an indictment shall be sufficient in complaints.

What is sufficient description of offence

47.(1) The description of any offence in the words of the Act, order, by-law, regulation, or other instrument creating the offence, or in similar words, shall be sufficient in law.

(2) Where a person is convicted of an offence by a Magistrates Court other than the Childrens Court and it is proved to the satisfaction of the court on oath or as prescribed by subsection (3) that there has been served upon the defendant with the summons or a reasonable time before the time appointed for the appearance of the defendant a notice specifying any alleged previous conviction of the defendant for an offence proposed to be brought to the notice of the court in the event of the defendant's conviction for the offence charged and the defendant is not present in person before the court, the court may take account of any such previous conviction so specified as if the defendant had appeared and admitted it.

(3) Any person who serves such a notice specifying any alleged previous conviction may serve such notice in the same manner as is provided for the service of a summons by this Act and may attend before any justice having jurisdiction in the State or part of the State or part of the Commonwealth in which such notice was served and depose, on oath and in writing endorsed on the notice, to the service thereof.

(3A) Such deposition shall upon production to the court by whom the case is heard and determined be sufficient proof of the service of the notice on the defendant.

(4) Unless otherwise expressly provided, if, for the purpose of the assessment of penalty in respect of a simple offence, it is intended to rely upon a circumstance which renders the defendant liable, upon conviction, to a greater penalty than that to which the defendant would otherwise have been liable, that circumstance shall be expressly stated in the complaint made in respect of that offence.

(5) However, if the circumstance is that the defendant has been previously convicted of an offence, the alleged previous conviction must be stated in a notice served with the complaint.

Division 2—Amendment of complaints, summonses and warrants

Amendment of complaint

48. If at the hearing of a complaint, it appears to the justices that—

- (a) there is a defect therein, in substance or in form, other than a noncompliance with the provisions of section 43; or
- (b) there is a defect in any summons or warrant to apprehend a defendant issued upon such complaint; or
- (c) there is a variance between such complaint, summons or warrant and the evidence adduced at the hearing in support thereof;

then—

- (d) if an objection is taken for any such defect or variance—the justices shall; or
- (e) if no such objection is taken—the justices may;

make such order for the amendment of the complaint, summons or warrant as appears to them to be necessary or desirable in the interests of justice.

Amendment

49. If in making an order for the amendment of a complaint summons or warrant the justices consider that the defendant has been misled by the form in which the complaint summons or warrant has been made out or if it appears to them that the variance between the complaint summons or warrant and the evidence adduced at the hearing in support thereof is such that the defendant has been thereby deceived or misled, they may, and at the request of the defendant shall, upon such terms as they think fit, adjourn the hearing of the case to some future day, and in the meantime may commit the defendant, or whether or not the defendant is in custody, may grant the defendant bail or may suffer the defendant to go at large without bail.

Recording of amendment

50. If an order is made for the amendment of a complaint, summons or warrant, the Magistrates Court or justices must—

- (a) immediately enter particulars of the amendment on the complaint, summons or warrant; and
- (b) give a copy of the order to the party against whom the order is made on request by the party.

Division 3—How complaints are made

When complaint to be on oath and when not

51. Unless otherwise expressly provided—

- (a) when it is intended to issue a warrant in the first instance against the party charged—the complaint in writing must be on oath, which oath may be made by the complainant;
- (b) when it is intended to issue a summons in the first instance against the party charged—the complaint in writing need not be on oath.

Division 4—Limitation of proceedings

Limitation of proceedings

52. In any case of a simple offence or breach of duty, unless some other time is limited for making complaint by the law relating to the particular case, complaint must be made within 1 year from the time when the matter of complaint arose.

Division 5—Summonses

When justice may issue summons

53.(1) When a complaint is made before a justice that any person is guilty of or is suspected of having committed any indictable offence, simple offence, or breach of duty, within the jurisdiction of such justice, then such justice may issue the justice's summons.

(2) No objection shall be taken or allowed to a summons issued upon a complaint under this section on the ground that—

- (a) the justice who issued the summons and the complainant were at the date of its issue—
 - (i) officers of the same department, subdepartment, branch or section of a department of the Government of the Commonwealth or of the State;
 - (ii) employees of Brisbane City Council;
 - (iii) employees of the same local government within the meaning of the Local Government Act 1993; or

- (b) the justice who issued the summons was at the date of its issue, the complainant's solicitor, or that solicitor's partner or an employee of either of them.

(3) Where the justice before whom a complaint is made considers that the matter of the complaint would be better resolved by mediation than by proceedings under this Act, the justice may, with the consent of the complainant, instead of issuing a summons under subsection (1), order the complainant to submit the matter of the complaint to mediation under the Dispute Resolution Centres Act 1990.

(4) Where an order is made under subsection (3) in relation to the matter of a complaint but—

- (a) the complainant withdraws the complainant's consent to the order; or
- (b) the matter of the complaint may not, by the operation of the Dispute Resolution Centres Act 1990, section 4.3(1), be the subject of a mediation session under that Act; or
- (c) the defendant refuses to attend at, or participate in, a mediation session under that Act or either party withdraws from such a session; or
- (d) the director of a dispute resolution centre declines under section 4.5(1) of that Act to consent to the acceptance of the matter of the complaint for mediation; or
- (e) a mediation session attended by the complainant and the defendant is terminated under section 4.5(2) of that Act;

a justice may issue a summons under subsection (1).

(5) It is sufficient compliance with subsection (4) if a justice who issues a summons pursuant to that subsection is informed by the complainant of a matter referred to in subsection (4)(a) to (e).

Form of summons and filing of complaint and summons

54.(1) Every summons shall be directed to the defendant and shall require the defendant to appear at a certain time and place before the Magistrates Court, or, as the case may require, before justices taking an examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence, to answer the complaint and to be further dealt with according to law.

(1A) Every summons shall be served in accordance with this Act, and, where the summons has been issued on a complaint in writing, other than an entry of a charge on a bench charge sheet, a copy of such complaint shall be served with and in the same manner as the summons.

(2) Every summons and, where the summons has been issued on a complaint in writing, other than an entry of a charge on a bench charge sheet, such complaint, shall, before the hearing is proceeded with, be lodged, within 3 days of the summons being issued, with the clerk of the court at the place at which the defendant is required by the summons to appear, to be by such clerk kept and preserved.

(3) Where a summons has not been served upon a defendant prior to the time at which the defendant is thereunder required to appear before a Magistrates Court, or, as the case may be, before justices taking an examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence, the clerk of the court at the place where the defendant is required by the summons to appear, being a justice, or other justice at such place authorised by such clerk, whether or not such clerk is a justice, may, from time to time and before, at or after the time appointed by the summons for the appearance of the defendant in accordance with the summons, extend the time so appointed.

(4) Every such extension shall be made under the hand of the justice making the same, who shall alter the time appointed in the summons and shall endorse and sign a memorandum in the margin of the summons, as nearly opposite such alteration as is practicable, stating that the time appointed has been extended and the date to which such time has been extended.

Ex parte proceedings

55. Nothing herein contained shall oblige any justice to issue a summons in any case where the application for an order of justices is by law to be made ex parte.

Service of summonses

56.(1) A summons shall be properly served upon the person to whom it is directed if it is served in accordance with this subsection, that is to say—

- (a) in the case of a summons directed to a person to appear to answer a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty—by posting (by means of registered post) a copy thereof addressed to the person at the person's place of business or residence last known to the complainant at least 21 days before the date on which the defendant is, by the summons, required to appear; or
- (b) in all cases (including the case referred to in paragraph (a))—by delivering a copy thereof to the person personally or, if the person cannot reasonably be found, by leaving a copy thereof with some person for the person at the person's usual place of business or residence or place of business or residence last known to the person who serves the summons.

(2) Save where it appears that the person to whom a copy of a summons was posted addressed to the person at an address in this subsection specified was not, to the knowledge of the complainant, at the time of posting, residing or carrying on business at such address, it shall be sufficient compliance with subsection (1)(a) if the copy summons is addressed to an address as follows—

- (a) in the case of an offence arising out of the driving or use of a motor vehicle or an attempt so to do—the address appearing as the address of the person on a driver's licence produced by the person at or about the time of the alleged offence or upon the investigation thereof;
- (b) in the case of an offence alleged against a person as owner of a motor vehicle—the address appearing in the current certificate of registration of the motor vehicle under the Transport Infrastructures (Roads) Act 1991, as the address of that person;
- (c) in the case of any other offence or breach of duty—the address appearing as the address of the person in any licence or registration for the time being in force pertaining to such person or to any property of which the person appears to be the owner or occupier and which licence or registration such person holds or has effected under the Act against or under a provision of which the offence or breach is alleged to have been committed.

(3) The person who serves a summons shall either—

- (a) attend personally before the Magistrates Court, or, as the case may be, the justices taking the examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence, at the place and time for hearing mentioned in the summons and, if necessary, at any extended time therefore, to depose, if necessary, to the service thereof; or
- (b) attend before any justice of the peace having jurisdiction in the State or part of the State or part of the Commonwealth in which such summons was served and depose, on oath and in writing endorsed on a copy of the summons, to the service thereof.

(4) Where a summons is served as prescribed by subsection (1)(a)—

- (a) the person who serves the summons shall, in the person's deposition as to service endorsed on a copy of the summons under subsection (3), state the time and place at which the person posted the copy of the summons;
- (b) the complainant shall depose, on oath and in writing endorsed on the copy of the summons endorsed under subsection (3), that the address to which a copy of the summons was posted is (if such be the case) the defendant's address last known to the person and as to the person's means of knowledge.

(5) Every such deposition shall, upon production to the Magistrates Court by which or to the stipendiary magistrate by whom the complaint upon which the summons issued, is heard, or, as the case may be, to the justices who take the examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence in respect of that complaint, be evidence of the matters contained therein and be sufficient proof of the service of the summons on the defendant.

(6) Where proof is required in any proceeding of the service of a document which—

- (a) pursuant to any enactment or rule of law may be served in the same manner as a summons may be served under this Act; or
- (b) is served at the same time as, and in connection with a summons served under this Act;

the provisions of subsection (1) shall apply and be construed as if a reference in that subsection to a summons were a reference to such a document.

(7) The person who serves the document may attend before any justice having jurisdiction in the State or part of the State or part of the Commonwealth in which such document was served and depose on oath and in writing endorsed on the document to the service thereof.

(8) The deposition made under subsection (7) is, on production to the Magistrates Court or justices—

- (a) evidence of the matters contained in the deposition; and
- (b) sufficient proof of the service of the document on the defendant.

Right of entry to serve summons

56A.(1) Subject to subsection (3), a police officer or public officer, and a person acting in aid of the police officer or public officer, may enter, and remain for a reasonable time in or on, a place for the purpose of serving a summons.

(2) If the officer seeking to serve the summons is not a uniformed police officer, the officer must produce the officer's identification to any person requesting proof of the officer's authority to be in or on the place.

(3) If the place is premises, or the part of premises, used exclusively for residential purposes, a police officer or public officer, and a person acting in aid of the police officer or public officer, may enter the place only with the consent of the occupier.

Division 6—Warrants and arrest without warrant

Cases in which warrants may be issued

57. If a complaint is made before a justice—

- (a) that a person is suspected of having committed an indictable offence within the justice's jurisdiction; or
- (b) that a person charged with committing an indictable offence elsewhere within the State is suspected of being within the justice's jurisdiction; or

- (c) that a person charged with committing an indictable offence on the high seas, or elsewhere outside the State, of which notice may be taken by the courts of the State, is suspected of being within the justice's jurisdiction;

the justice may issue a warrant—

- (d) to apprehend the person; and
- (e) have the person brought before justices to answer the complaint and to be further dealt with according to law.

Summons may be issued instead of warrant

58.(1) A justice may issue a summons against a person for an indictable offence instead of issuing a warrant to apprehend the person for the offence.

(2) Despite the issue of the summons, a justice may issue a warrant for the apprehension of the person at any time before or after the time mentioned in the summons for the person's appearance.

Warrant in the first instance

59.(1) When complaint is made before a justice of a simple offence, the justice may, upon oath being made before the justice substantiating the matter of the complaint to the justice's satisfaction, instead of issuing a summons, issue in the first instance the justice's warrant to apprehend the defendant, and to cause the defendant to be brought before justices to answer the complaint and to be further dealt with according to law.

(2) A warrant in the first instance shall not be issued on a complaint of a simple offence (not being an indictable offence) pursuant to subsection (1) unless the Act or law creating the offence authorises—

- (a) the arrest of an offender without warrant; or
- (b) the issue of a warrant in the first instance.

Direction of warrant

60. A warrant to apprehend a defendant that the defendant may answer a complaint may be directed either to any police officer or officers by name, or generally to all police officers within the jurisdiction within which the warrant is to be executed, without naming them, or to both.

Any police officer may execute warrant

61. When a warrant is directed to all police officers any police officer may execute the warrant as if it was directed specially to the police officer by name.

What warrants shall order

62. A warrant shall state shortly the offence or matter of the complaint on which it is founded, and shall name or otherwise describe the person against whom it is issued, and it shall order the police officers to whom it is directed to apprehend the defendant, and to bring the defendant before justices to answer the complaint and to be further dealt with according to law.

Warrant to be in force till executed

63. A warrant need not be returnable at any particular time, but may remain in force until executed, and may be executed by apprehending the defendant at any place within the jurisdiction of the justice who issued it.

Sunday warrants

64. A justice may grant or issue a warrant upon a complaint of an indictable offence, or a search warrant, on a Sunday as on any other day.

How person arrested without warrant to be dealt with

65. A person taken into custody for an offence without a warrant shall be brought before a justice to be dealt with according to law as soon as practicable after the person is taken into custody.

Division 6A—Procedures for computer warrantsPurpose and application of division

66.(1) This division authorises procedures under which computers may be used to create, store and otherwise manage warrants.

(2) The objective of the procedures is to reduce the handling of warrants in the form of written documents.

(3) For this division, it is immaterial whether a warrant is a type that is issued—

- (a) by a justice or anyone else; or
- (b) under this or another Act.

(4) However, the warrant must be of a type prescribed under a regulation.

Approved procedures for computer warrants

67.(1) A warrant (“computer warrant”) may be created in the form of computer stored information under procedures (“approved procedures”)—

- (a) prescribed under a regulation; or
- (b) made by the chief executive, by the commissioner of the police service, or jointly by the chief executive and commissioner, and approved under a regulation; or
- (c) partly prescribed under a regulation, and partly made as mentioned in paragraph (b) and approved under a regulation.

(2) Approved procedures may include provision for the following—

- (a) the use of computer systems for computer warrants;
- (b) the generation and management of written versions of computer warrants;
- (c) security of, and access to, information about warrants that is kept in computer systems;
- (d) any matter required or permitted to be prescribed under approved procedures;

- (e) any matter necessary or convenient to be prescribed for carrying out or giving effect to this division.

Creation of a computer warrant

68.(1) The creation of a computer warrant by a person under the approved procedures has the same effect as the issue of the same type of warrant under the person's hand.

(2) Without limiting subsection (1), a requirement under an Act that a warrant be issued by a person, issued under a person's hand, or signed by a person, is taken to be complied with if the person creates the warrant as a computer warrant.

(3) A computer warrant may be created even though the warrant is authorised under a provision of an Act authorising the issue of a warrant on application made by telephone or other form of distance communication.

(4) For a computer warrant mentioned in subsection (3)—

- (a) a requirement that a form or copy of the warrant be completed or made for execution or otherwise may be complied with by making a written version of the warrant or, if the form or copy is made for execution, a document mentioned in section 69B(1)(b); and
- (b) a requirement that the warrant or a form or copy of the warrant be dealt with in a particular way may be complied with by dealing with a written version of the warrant in that way or by completing another process stated in the approved procedures.

Example of paragraph (b)—

A requirement that a form of a warrant be sent to the issuing magistrate may be complied with by sending a written version of the warrant to the magistrate.

(5) Subsections (3) and (4) do not limit the application of other provisions of this division to the type of warrant to which the subsections apply or to another type of warrant.

Computer version of computer warrant

69.(1) This section applies to information stored in a computer for a computer warrant.

(2) The information must include, for the creation of the warrant or any step in the warrant's use—

- (a) information that would have been included or endorsed on the warrant were the warrant issued in writing; and
- (b) any information prescribed under a regulation.

(3) The information may include directions and conditions.

Written version of computer warrant

69A.(1) A written version of a computer warrant may be generated under the approved procedures.

(2) The written version must state the following—

- (a) the time the written version was made;
- (b) the time the written version is taken to be cancelled under subsection (4);
- (c) information that would have been included on the warrant were the warrant issued in writing;
- (d) any information prescribed under a regulation.

(3) The written version is taken to be an original warrant issued at the time of computer warrant's creation by the person who created the computer warrant.

(4) The written version—

- (a) may be cancelled by endorsement of anyone entitled to execute the warrant; and
- (b) is taken to be cancelled 8 hours after it is made, if it has not been executed by that time.

(5) The making or cancellation of the written version does not affect the existence of the computer warrant.

Execution of a computer warrant

69B.(1) A computer warrant may be executed by using—

- (a) a written version of the warrant; or
- (b) information about the warrant in another document made under the approved procedures.

(2) A document mentioned in subsection (1)(b) used to execute a computer warrant must include information prescribed under a regulation.

(3) The execution of a computer warrant by using a document mentioned in subsection (1)(b) has the same effect as if the document were the computer warrant.

(4) If anyone is arrested on execution of a computer warrant using a document mentioned in subsection (1)(b), a written version of the warrant, made before or after the execution, must then be dealt with as if the written version of the warrant had been used.

(5) In a proceeding before a court in which execution of a computer warrant is relevant—

- (a) a document purporting to be a written version of the warrant certified by the person who made it under the approved procedures is admissible as proof of the warrant it purports to be; and
- (b) unless the court requires a written version to be produced, a document purporting to be a document mentioned in subsection (1)(b), certified under a regulation, is admissible as proof of a warrant it purports to contain information about.

Further procedure on execution of warrant

69C.(1) If a particular type of warrant is required on execution to be endorsed, returned, filed or otherwise dealt with, the requirement may be complied with for a computer warrant of that type in a way stated in the approved procedures.

Example—

The approved procedures may provide for a return or endorsement to be made by—

- (a) storing information in a computer in a way stated in the procedures; or

- (b) using, in a way stated in the procedures, a document used to execute the warrant or another document.

(2) The endorsement, return, filing or other dealing under the procedures has the same effect as if the warrant were endorsed, returned, filed or otherwise dealt with in the way a written warrant would have been dealt with.

Division 6B—Execution of written warrants using electronic copies or a computer document

Application of division

69D.(1) This division applies to a written warrant issued by a justice or anyone else under any Act.

(2) The purpose of this division is to facilitate the execution of written warrants.

Facilitation of execution of written warrant

69E.(1) A written warrant may be executed by using—

- (a) a copy of the warrant printed from a fax machine or computer; or
(b) a document prescribed under a regulation containing information about outstanding warrants.

(2) The warrant copy mentioned in subsection (1)(a) must contain, in the text printed from the fax machine or computer—

- (a) a certificate of a person using the fax machine or computer to send or make available the copy that the person has seen the original warrant and the copy is a copy of the original warrant; and
(b) a statement specifying the time the copy was sent or made available.

(3) The copy may be used to execute the original warrant for only 8 hours after the specified time.

(4) In a proceeding before a court in which execution of the warrant is relevant—

- (a) a document purporting to be a warrant copy mentioned in subsection (1)(a) certified by the person receiving the copy is admissible as proof of the warrant it purports to be; and.
- (b) a document purporting to be a prescribed document mentioned in subsection (1)(b), certified under a regulation, is admissible as proof of the warrants it purports to contain information about.

(5) However, the court may require the original warrant to be produced as soon as practicable or at a later specified time.

Division 7—When courts open

Open court

70.(1) The room or place in which justices sit to hear and determine any complaint upon which a conviction or order may be made, shall be deemed an open and public court, to which all persons may have access so far as the same can conveniently contain them.

(2) However, in any case in which, in the opinion of the justices, the interests of public morality require that all or any persons should be excluded from the court, the justices may exclude such persons therefrom accordingly.

(3) But such power shall not be exercised for the purpose of excluding the counsel or solicitor for the defendant.

Exclusion of strangers

71. The room or place in which justices take the examinations and statements of persons charged with indictable offences for the purpose of committal for trial and the depositions of the witnesses in that behalf shall not be deemed an open court, and the justices may order that no person shall be in such room or place without their permission, but they shall not make such order unless it appears to them that the ends of justice require them so to do.

Prohibition on taking photographs, producing pictures or other optical effects

71B.(1) A person who, during the conduct of a proceeding involving the exercise of any jurisdiction of justices or immediately before the commencement of that proceeding or immediately after the conclusion thereof or during an adjournment thereof, by means of a camera or similar apparatus or reproducing equipment, takes a photograph or produces a picture or other optical effect (in any case whether a movie or a still)—

- (a) in or of the room or place in which the proceeding is being, is about to be or has been conducted or of a person therein;
- (b) in or of the room or place for the time being set apart for a purpose connected with that proceeding or of a person therein;
- (c) in or of an entrance or passageway leading to or from any room or place referred to in paragraph (a) or (b) or of a person therein;

commits an offence against this Act unless the person takes the photograph or produces the picture or other optical effect with and in accordance with the consent first had and obtained of the justices who are to conduct, have conducted or, as the case may be, are conducting that proceeding.

Maximum penalty—7 penalty units or 1 month's imprisonment.

(2) A person who publishes a photograph taken or picture or other optical effect produced in such circumstances as to constitute an offence defined in subsection (1) commits an offence against this Act.

Maximum penalty—7 penalty units or 1 month's imprisonment.

Division 8—Right to conduct own case or have counsel or solicitorCounsel or solicitor

72. Every complainant shall be at liberty to conduct the complainant's case and to have the witnesses examined and cross-examined by the complainant's counsel or solicitor, and every defendant shall be admitted to make the defendant's full answer and defence to the charge, and to have the witnesses examined and cross-examined by the defendant's counsel or solicitor.

Division 9—EvidenceEvidence how taken

73. Every witness shall be examined upon oath, or in such other manner as is prescribed or allowed by the Acts in force for the time being relating to giving evidence in courts of justice.

Prosecutor's and complainant's witnesses

74. Upon any complaint of an indictable offence or simple offence or breach of duty, the prosecutor or complainant shall be a competent witness to support such complaint.

Proof of negative etc.

76. If the complaint in any case of a simple offence or breach of duty negatives any exemption, exception, proviso, or condition, contained in the Act on which the same is framed, it shall not be necessary for the complainant to prove such negative, but the defendant shall be called upon to prove the affirmative thereof in the defendant's defence.

Taking of evidence

77.(1) The deposition of a witness must be—

- (a) written; and
- (b) read to the witness or, if the defendant consents, by the witness; and
- (c) then signed by the witness and the presiding judicial officer.

(2) Subsection (1) applies subject to the Recording of Evidence Act 1962 or any other Act.

Views and inspections

77A. In any proceeding, justices may make an inspection or conduct a view.

Division 10—Witnesses in generalPower to issue summons to witness

78.(1) If a justice is satisfied that a person within the justice's jurisdiction is likely to be able to give material evidence as a witness at the hearing of a complaint, the justice may issue a summons to the person.

(2) The summons must require the person—

- (a) to appear at a time and place specified in the summons; and
- (b) to testify before the justices present about what the person knows concerning the complaint.

(3) The summons must be served, and a memorandum of service endorsed on the summons, in the same way, and within the same time, as a summons to a defendant.

(4) However, if a doctor is summonsed to give evidence of a professional nature, the summons may be served on the doctor by leaving a copy of it at a place where the doctor practises with a person apparently employed at the place.

(5) Proof of service of the summons may be given in the same way as a summons to a defendant.

After summons warrant

79.(1) If a person summonsed as a witness neglects or refuses to appear at the time and place appointed by the summons, and no just excuse is offered for such neglect or refusal, then (after proof upon oath that the summons was duly served upon such person, and, except in the case of indictable offences, that a reasonable sum was paid or tendered to the person for the person's costs and expenses of attendance) the justices before whom such person should have appeared may then and there impose upon the person in the person's absence a penalty not exceeding 2 penalty units, which may be recovered in the same manner as penalties imposed upon a summary conviction as hereinafter provided.

(2) The justices may also issue their warrant to bring and have such person at a time and place to be therein mentioned before such justices as shall then be there to testify as aforesaid.

(3) No payment or tender of expenses shall be necessary in the case of indictable offences.

Warrant in the first instance

81. If the justice is satisfied by evidence upon oath that it is probable that a person whose evidence is desired will not attend to give evidence without being compelled so to do, then instead of issuing a summons the justice may issue the justice's warrant in the first instance.

Witness not answering

82. If on the appearance of a person before a court or justices taking an examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence, either voluntarily or in obedience to a summons or upon being brought before them by virtue of a warrant, such person refuses to be examined upon oath concerning the matter, or refuses to take an oath, or having taken an oath refuses to answer such questions concerning the matter as are then put to the person, without offering any just excuse for such refusal, the court or justices may by warrant commit the person so refusing to gaol, there to remain and be imprisoned for any time not exceeding 7 days unless in the meantime the person consents to be examined and to answer concerning the matter.

Production of documents before justices

83.(1) When justices have authority to summon any person as a witness they shall have the like authority to require and compel the person to bring and produce for the purposes of evidence all documents and writings in the person's possession or power, and to proceed against the person in case of neglect or refusal so to do in the same manner as in case of neglect or refusal to attend or refusal to be examined.

(2) However, no person shall be bound to produce any document or writing not specified or otherwise sufficiently described in the summons, or which the person would not be bound to produce upon a subpoena duces tecum in the Supreme Court.

Division 11—Remand and adjournment

Remand of defendant

84. In any case of a charge of an indictable offence, if from the absence of witnesses or from any other reasonable cause it becomes necessary or advisable to defer the hearing of the case, the justices before whom the defendant appears or is brought may adjourn such hearing to the same or some other place, and may by their warrant from time to time remand the defendant to some gaol, lockup, or other place of security, for such period as they may in their discretion deem reasonable, but not exceeding 8 clear days (or such longer period as may be consented to by the defendant) at any one time, to be there kept, and to be brought before the same or such other justices as shall be acting at the time or place appointed for continuing the hearing.

Verbal remand

85. If the remand is for a time not exceeding 3 clear days the justices may verbally order the person in whose custody the defendant then is, or any other person named by the justices in that behalf, to keep the defendant in the person's custody, and to bring the defendant before the same or such other justices as shall be acting at the time and place appointed for continuing the hearing.

Bringing up during remand

86. Any justices may order the defendant to be brought before them at any time before the expiration of the time for which the defendant was so remanded, and the officer in whose custody the defendant then is shall duly obey such order.

Adjournment of the hearing

88.(1) In any case of a charge of a simple offence or breach of duty the justices present, or, if only 1 justice is present, that justice may—

- (a) adjourn the hearing to a certain time and place to be then appointed and stated in the presence and hearing of the party or parties then present, or of his, her or their counsel, solicitors or agents then present;

- (b) adjourn the hearing and leave the time and place at which the hearing is to be continued to be later determined by such justices, or, as the case may be, justice.

(1A) However, a hearing so adjourned shall not be continued at a time and place so determined unless the justices then present are satisfied that the parties thereto have been given reasonable notice of such determination.

(1B) The power to adjourn a hearing conferred upon justices or a justice by subsection (1) includes power to adjourn a hearing to enable the matter of a charge of a simple offence or breach of duty to be the subject of a mediation session under the Dispute Resolution Centres Act 1990.

(1C) Also, the power to adjourn a hearing under subsection (1) includes power to adjourn the hearing on an application to which all the parties consent, made to the justice or justices.

(2) Upon adjourning a hearing the justices or, if only 1 justice is present, that justice—

- (a) may commit the defendant; or
- (b) whether or not the defendant is in custody, may grant the defendant bail or suffer the defendant to go at large without bail.

(3) Upon an adjournment the justices or, as the case may be, the justice may order that costs of and occasioned by the adjournment be paid by any party to any other party as to the justices or justice may appear just.

Division 12—Committal and recognisance

Place of committal or detention

89. When justices commit a defendant by way of remand or upon an adjournment, or at any time before the decision, they may commit to the gaol or lockup, or any other place of security in the place for which they are then acting, or to such other safe custody as they think fit.

Place to which committal to be made

90. When justices commit a witness or person sought to be made a witness, and when they commit a defendant after the decision, they must commit to a gaol or lockup.

Notice to witness

91.(1) A clerk of the court may give to any witness or person sought to be made a witness a notice in the prescribed form requiring the person to attend the court at the time and place to which the hearing is adjourned or specified in the notice or that is to be determined or at all times and places to which the hearing is adjourned from time to time or specified in the notice.

(2) A notice pursuant to subsection (1)—

- (a) may be served personally or sent by post to the person to whom it is addressed at the person's address last known to the clerk of the court concerned;
- (b) shall have effect as if it were a summons to the witness or person sought to be made a witness issued out of the court that the witness or person is by the notice required to attend.

Adjournment on non-appearance

93. Where any witness, defendant or other person does not appear at any time and place to which the hearing is adjourned or that has been specified in the notice referred to in section 91 or that has been determined, the justices who are then present may adjourn the hearing.

Recognisances taken out of court

94.(1) If justices have fixed the amount in which the principal and any sureties are to be bound by a recognisance, the recognisance need not be entered into before the same justices, but may be entered into before—

- (a) another justice; or
- (b) a clerk of the court; or
- (c) an inspector of police or another police officer who is of a higher rank; or

- (d) another police officer who is in charge of a police station; or
- (e) if a party is in gaol—the keeper of the gaol.

(2) The recognisance has effect as if it had been entered into before the justices.

(3) If it is inconvenient for a surety to enter into the recognisance at the same time as the principal, the recognisance of the surety may be taken by any person authorised to take the recognisance of the principal and any other sureties, even though the person does not take the recognisance of the principal or other sureties.

Non-acceptance of sureties

94A. No person shall be accepted as a surety if it appears on the administering of an oath to such person that it would be ruinous or injurious to such person or the person's family should the recognisance be forfeited for any noncompliance with any of the conditions therein.

Forfeited recognisances how to be enforced

95. When the conditions, or any of them, in any recognisance taken before justices exercising a summary jurisdiction are not complied with, any justice may certify upon the back of the recognisance in what respect the conditions have not been observed, and transmit the same to the proper officer, to be proceeded upon in like manner as other recognisances, and such certificate shall be deemed sufficient prima facie evidence of the recognisance having been forfeited.

Conveying prisoners to gaol

97. The person to whom a warrant of commitment is directed shall convey the person therein named or described to the gaol or other place mentioned in the warrant, or to some other gaol or place of legal detention which is more accessible or convenient, and there deliver the person together with the warrant to the keeper of such gaol or place, who shall thereupon give the person delivering the prisoner into the person's custody a receipt for such prisoner, setting forth the state and condition in which such prisoner was when the prisoner was delivered into the custody of such keeper.

Division 13—Records of court

Records of court

98A.(1) The clerk of the court shall have the custody of all records and proceedings of every court of which he or she is clerk.

(2) Rules made pursuant to this Act may make provision with respect to the records to be made for the purposes of a court, the particulars to be inserted therein, the form and manner of keeping thereof and the receipt thereof into evidence in any proceeding and such provision may vary in respect of different places for holding courts.

PART 4A—INFRINGEMENT NOTICES

Division 1—Interpretation

Definitions

98B. In this part—

“administering authority” for an infringement notice or infringement notice offence means the entity prescribed by regulation as the administering authority for the notice or offence.

“alleged offence” for an infringement notice means the offence specified in the notice.

“alleged offender” for an infringement notice means the person on whom the notice is served.

“authorised person” means—

- (a) for an infringement notice—a person who, under the regulations, may serve the infringement notice; or

- (b) for a reminder notice—a person who, under the regulations, may serve the reminder notice; or
- (c) for an enforcement notice—a person who, under the regulations, may give the notice; or
- (d) for a withdrawal from acting under division 3—a person who, under the regulations, may effect the withdrawal.

“enforcement notice” means a notice under section 98O (Enforcement procedure).

“enforcement order” means an order under section 98P (Enforcement orders).

“enforcement order notice” means a notice under section 98Q (Notice of enforcement order).

“entity” means a person or unincorporated body.

“executive officer” of a corporation means a person, by whatever name called and whether or not the person is a director of the corporation, who is concerned with, or takes part in, the management of the corporation.

“illegal user declaration” for an alleged offence involving a vehicle means a statutory declaration stating facts establishing the vehicle was stolen or illegally taken at the relevant time.

“infringement notice” means a notice under section 98C (Service of infringement notices—generally).

“infringement notice offence” means an offence (other than an indictable offence or offence against the person) prescribed by regulation to be an offence to which this part applies.

“infringement notice penalty” for an infringement notice offence means the amount prescribed by regulation to be the penalty payable for the offence under an infringement notice.

“known user declaration” for an alleged offence involving a vehicle means a statutory declaration stating—

- (a) if—
 - (i) the owner is an individual—the owner was not in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time; or

- (ii) the owner is a corporation—the vehicle was not being used for the corporation at the relevant time; and
- (b) the name and address of the person who was in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time.

“owner” of a vehicle includes the person registered as the owner of the vehicle under the relevant registration Act.

“registration Act” means—

- (a) the Transport Infrastructure (Roads) Act 1991 or another Act prescribed by regulation; or
- (b) a corresponding law of another State or a Territory.

“relevant time” for an alleged offence involving a vehicle means the time and date specified in the infringement notice as the time and date of the offence.

“reminder notice” means a notice under section 98N (Reminder notices).

“SETONS” is an acronym for the self-enforcing ticketable offence notice system.

“SETONS clerk” means the person employed under the Public Service Act 1996 as SETONS clerk.

“sold vehicle declaration” for an alleged offence involving a vehicle means a statutory declaration stating facts establishing the owner had sold or otherwise disposed of the vehicle before the relevant time, including—

- (a) the name and address of the person to whom the vehicle was sold or disposed of; and
- (b) the date and, if relevant, time of the sale or disposal; and
- (c) if an agent made the sale or disposal for the owner—the name and address of the agent.

“unknown user declaration” for an alleged offence involving a vehicle means a statutory declaration stating—

- (a) if—
 - (i) the owner is an individual—the owner was not in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time; or
 - (ii) the owner is a corporation—the vehicle was not being used for the corporation at the relevant time; and

- (b) the declarant has not been able to find out who was in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time; and
- (c) the nature of the inquiries made to find out the name and address of the person in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time.

“vehicle” includes a boat and anything declared by regulation to be a vehicle.

Division 2—Service of infringement notices

Service of infringement notices—generally

98C.(1) If an authorised person believes, on reasonable grounds, a person has committed an infringement notice offence, the person may serve a notice under this section (an “infringement notice”) on the person (the “alleged offender”) for the offence (the “alleged offence”).

(2) The infringement notice must be in the form approved by the administering authority.

(3) The infringement notice must—

- (a) be identified by a unique number; and
- (b) unless section 98D(4) (Service of infringement notices for infringement notice offences involving vehicles) applies or a regulation otherwise provides, specify—
 - (i) the full name, or surname and initials, and full address of the alleged offender; or
 - (ii) the particulars that are, under the regulations, identifying particulars for the alleged offender; and
- (c) specify the alleged offence in a way clearly showing the nature of the offence; and
- (d) specify—
 - (i) if the offence took place over a period and did not involve a vehicle—the period when the offence was committed; or
 - (ii) in a case prescribed by regulation—the particulars that are,

- under the regulations, identifying particulars for the offence; or
- (iii) in any other case—the place of the offence and the time and date of the offence; and
- (e) if the offence involves a vehicle—specify the particulars that are, under the regulations, identifying particulars for the vehicle; and
- (f) if the offence involves an animal—specify the particulars that are, under the regulations, identifying particulars for the animal; and
- (g) specify the infringement notice penalty for the offence; and
- (h) inform the alleged offender that, if the person does not wish the alleged offence to be dealt with by a court, the person may pay the infringement notice penalty within—
- (i) 28 days after the infringement notice is served on the alleged offender; or
- (ii) any further time the administering authority allows (whether before or after the end of the period); and
- (i) specify where and how the penalty may be paid; and
- (j) inform the alleged offender the notice may be withdrawn before or after the penalty is paid; and
- (k) if the offence involves a vehicle—inform the alleged offender, in general terms, about section 98E (Liability for infringement notice offences involving vehicles).

Service of infringement notices for infringement notice offences involving vehicles

98D.(1) This section applies to an infringement notice offence involving a vehicle.

(2) An infringement notice for the offence may be served—

- (a) on the owner of the vehicle; or
- (b) on the person specified in a known user declaration as the person who was in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time; or
- (c) on the person specified in a sold vehicle declaration as the person to whom the vehicle had been sold or otherwise disposed of before the relevant time.

(3) If the infringement notice is to be served by post, the notice may be addressed to the person—

- (a) if the person is the owner of the vehicle involved in the offence—at the latest address of the owner in the register of vehicles kept under a registration Act; or
- (b) if the person is specified in a known user declaration as the person in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time—at the person's address specified in the declaration; or
- (c) if the person is specified in a sold vehicle declaration as the person to whom the vehicle had been sold or otherwise disposed of before the relevant time—at the person's address specified in the declaration.

(4) The infringement notice may be served by securely placing or attaching the notice, addressed to the owner (without further description), on or to the vehicle in a conspicuous position.

(5) If the infringement notice is served in the way mentioned in subsection (4), it is taken to have been served on the owner on the day it is placed on or attached to the vehicle.

(6) A person must not remove, deface or interfere with an infringement notice placed on or attached to a vehicle unless the person is the owner, or person in charge, of the vehicle at the relevant time.

Maximum penalty—35 penalty units.

(7) To remove any doubt, this section does not prevent an infringement notice being served on a person under section 98C (Service of infringement notices—generally).

Liability for infringement notice offences involving vehicles

98E.(1) If—

- (a) an infringement notice offence involving a vehicle happens; and
- (b) an infringement notice for the offence is served on the person who owns the vehicle at the time of the offence;

the owner is taken to have committed the offence even though the actual offender may have been someone else.

(2) If the actual offender is someone else, subsection (1) does not affect the liability of the actual offender, but—

- (a) the owner and the actual offender cannot both be punished for the alleged offence; and
- (b) if an infringement notice penalty is paid or a penalty is imposed on 1 of them for the offence—a further penalty must not be imposed on or recovered from the other person for the offence.

(3) However, the owner must not be taken to have committed the alleged offence if, within 28 days after service on the owner of an infringement notice or summons for the offence, the owner makes and gives to the administering authority an illegal user declaration, a known or unknown user declaration or a sold vehicle declaration for the vehicle for the offence.

(4) The declaration must be made by—

- (a) if the owner is an individual—the owner; or
- (b) if the owner is a corporation—an executive officer of the corporation.

Payment of infringement notice penalty

98F.(1) The alleged offender must not be prosecuted in a court for the alleged offence if the alleged offender pays the infringement notice penalty as required by the infringement notice.

(2) Subsection (1) applies even though more than 1 infringement notice has been served on the alleged offender for the alleged offence.

(3) If payment of the infringement notice penalty is made by cheque and the cheque is dishonoured on presentation, payment is taken not to have been made until—

- (a) the cheque is honoured on presentation; or
- (b) payment in cash is made in place of the cheque.

(4) This section is subject to section 98L (Withdrawal of infringement notice).

Effect of illegal user declaration

98G.(1) This section applies if—

- (a) an offence involving a vehicle happens; and
- (b) an infringement notice for the offence is served on the person who owns the vehicle at the relevant time; and
- (c) the person makes and gives the administering authority an illegal user declaration for the vehicle.

(2) In a proceeding for the offence against the owner, the court must not find the owner liable for the offence if it is satisfied (whether on the statements contained in the declaration or otherwise) the vehicle was stolen or illegally taken at the relevant time.

Effect of known user declaration

98H.(1) This section applies if—

- (a) an offence involving a vehicle happens; and
- (b) an infringement notice for the offence is served on the person who owns the vehicle at the relevant time; and
- (c) the person makes and gives the administering authority a known user declaration for the vehicle.

(2) This section and section 98E (Liability for infringement notice offences involving vehicles) apply as if the person named in the declaration as the person in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time (the “user”) were the owner of the vehicle at that time.

(3) A proceeding for the offence may be started against the user only if a copy of the declaration has been served on the user.

(4) In a proceeding for the offence against the user, the declaration is evidence that the person was in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time.

(5) In a proceeding for the offence against the owner of the vehicle, the court must not find the owner liable for the offence if it is satisfied (whether on the statements contained in the declaration or otherwise) the user or someone else was in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time.

Effect of sold vehicle declaration

98I.(1) This section applies if—

- (a) an offence involving a vehicle happens; and
- (b) an infringement notice for the offence is served on the person who owns the vehicle at the relevant time; and
- (c) the person makes and gives the administering authority a sold vehicle declaration for the vehicle.

(2) This section and section 98E (Liability for infringement notice offences involving vehicles) apply as if the person named in the declaration as the person to whom the vehicle was sold or otherwise disposed of (the “buyer”) were the owner of the vehicle from the time of the sale or disposal.

(3) A proceeding for the offence may be started against the buyer only if a copy of the declaration has been served on the buyer.

(4) In a proceeding for the offence against the buyer, the declaration is evidence that the person was the owner of the vehicle at the relevant time.

(5) In a proceeding for the offence against the owner of the vehicle, the court must not find the owner liable for the offence if it is satisfied (whether on the statements contained in the declaration or otherwise) the owner had sold or disposed of the vehicle before the relevant time.

Effect of unknown user declaration

98J.(1) This section applies if—

- (a) an offence involving a vehicle happens; and
- (b) an infringement notice for the offence is served on the person who owns the vehicle at the relevant time; and
- (c) the person makes and gives the administering authority an unknown user declaration for the vehicle.

(2) In a proceeding for the offence against the owner, the court must not find the owner liable for the offence if it is satisfied (whether on the statements contained in the declaration or otherwise)—

- (a) that—

- (i) if the owner is an individual—the owner was not in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time; or
 - (ii) if the owner is a corporation—the vehicle was not being used for the purposes of the corporation at the relevant time; and
- (b) that the inquiries made to find out the name and address of the person who was in charge of the vehicle at the relevant time—
- (i) were reasonable in the circumstances; and
 - (ii) were carried out with appropriate diligence.

Evidentiary provisions

98K.(1) This section applies to a proceeding for an infringement notice offence.

(2) A certificate purporting to be signed by the administering authority and stating any of the following matters is evidence of the matter—

- (a) a specified infringement notice was served in a specified way on a specified person for a specified infringement notice offence;
- (b) the person did not pay the infringement notice penalty as required by the notice;
- (c) the notice has not been withdrawn or was withdrawn on a specified date;
- (d) the offence involved a specified vehicle or animal;
- (e) a specified person owned the vehicle or animal at a specified time;
- (f) a specified address is the latest address of the owner of the vehicle in the record of registration of vehicles under a registration Act;
- (g) a specified person has not given the administering authority an illegal user declaration, known or unknown user declaration or sold vehicle declaration for the offence;
- (h) a specified person has given the administering authority a specified illegal user declaration, known or unknown user declaration or sold vehicle declaration for the offence;
- (i) an infringement notice penalty has not been paid by, and a penalty has not been imposed on, a specified or any person for the offence.

Withdrawal of infringement notice

98L.(1) The administering authority may withdraw an infringement notice by serving a notice on the alleged offender after the infringement notice is served on the alleged offender (whether or not the infringement penalty has been paid).

(2) The notice must inform the alleged offender, in general terms, about subsection (3).

(3) If an infringement notice is withdrawn, the following provisions have effect—

- (a) this division ceases to apply to the infringement notice offence;
- (b) if the infringement notice penalty or part of the penalty has been paid by the alleged offender—the amount paid is repayable to the alleged offender;
- (c) a proceeding for the offence may be taken against any person (including the alleged offender) as if the notice had not been served on the alleged offender.

Effect of division on prosecutions

98M.(1) The fact that an infringement notice has been, or could be, served on a person for an offence, does not affect the starting or continuation of a proceeding against the person or anyone else in a court for the offence.

(2) This division does not—

- (a) require the serving of an infringement notice on a person; or
- (b) limit or otherwise affect the penalty that may be imposed by a court for an offence.

*Division 3—Enforcement of infringement notices by registrationReminder notices*98N.(1) If—

- (a) an infringement notice has been served on a person; and
- (b) the infringement notice has not been withdrawn; and
- (c) the time specified in the infringement notice for payment of the infringement notice penalty has elapsed; and
- (d) the infringement notice penalty has not been paid as required by the notice; and
- (e) if the infringement notice offence involved a vehicle—the person has not given the administering authority an illegal user declaration, known or unknown user declaration or sold vehicle declaration for the offence; an authorised person may serve a notice (the “reminder notice”) on the alleged offender.

(2) The reminder notice must—

- (a) be in the approved form; and
- (b) specify the infringement notice and the alleged offence; and
- (c) inform the alleged offender—
 - (i) if the person wishes to have the alleged offence dealt with by a court—the person may, by notice given to the administering authority within the time specified in the reminder notice, require the offence to be dealt with by a court; and
 - (ii) if the person does not wish to have the alleged offence dealt with by a court—the person may within the time specified in the reminder notice, pay the amount specified in the reminder notice to be the amount owing for the alleged offence to the administering authority; and
 - (iii) if action is not taken under subparagraph (i) or (ii)—payment of the amount specified in the reminder notice and further costs may be enforced under this division; and

- (d) specify where and how the notice under paragraph (c)(i) may be given, or payment may be made, to the administering authority; and
- (e) include the information that may be prescribed by regulation.

(3) The time specified in the reminder notice for taking the action mentioned in subsection (2)(c)(i) or (ii) must be at least 28 days after the notice is served on the alleged offender.

(4) The amount specified in the reminder notice to be the amount owing for the alleged offence must be the total of the unpaid infringement notice penalty and the amount prescribed by regulation for the cost of serving the notice.

Enforcement procedure

980.(1) If—

- (a) a reminder notice has been served on an alleged offender; and
- (b) the amount specified in the notice to be the amount owing for the alleged offence has not been paid to the administering authority within the time specified in the notice; and
- (c) written notice requiring the alleged offence to be dealt with by a court has not been given to the administering authority within that time;

an authorised person may notify the SETONS clerk.

(2) The notice (the “enforcement notice”) must—

- (a) be in the approved form; and
- (b) be accompanied by the enforcement notice filing fee prescribed by regulation; and
- (c) specify the alleged offender and the alleged offence; and
- (d) state that—
 - (i) an infringement notice was, on a specified day, served on the alleged offender for the alleged offence; and

Justices Act 1886

- (ii) a reminder notice was, on a specified day, served on the alleged offender for the alleged offence; and
- (iii) at the time of the giving of the enforcement notice—
 - (A) the time specified in the reminder notice as the time within which the amount owing for the alleged offence should be paid had elapsed; and
 - (B) the amount specified in the reminder notice to be the amount owing for the alleged offence has not been paid; and
 - (C) written notice that the alleged offender required the alleged offence to be dealt with by a court has not been given to the administering authority; and
 - (D) a proceeding has not been started (other than under this division) against the alleged offender for the alleged offence; and
 - (E) a proceeding under this division against the alleged offender for the alleged offence has not been withdrawn under section 98W (Withdrawal from acting under this division).

(3) If a limit is imposed by law on the time within which a prosecution for the alleged offence may be started, an enforcement notice must not be given for the alleged offence after the time.

(4) On the giving of an enforcement notice—

- (a) the amount owing for the alleged offence is the total of—
 - (i) the amount specified in the reminder notice that is unpaid; and
 - (ii) the amount of the enforcement notice filing fee; and
 - (iii) the amount prescribed by regulation for the giving of the enforcement notice; and
- (b) the amount mentioned in paragraph (a) may be paid only to the SETONS clerk or the clerk's agent.

(5) The SETONS clerk must enter the enforcement notice in a register kept by the SETONS clerk.

(6) After the giving of the enforcement notice, a proceeding may not be started in a court except under this division against the alleged offender for the alleged offence.

Enforcement orders

98P.(1) On registering an enforcement notice, the SETONS clerk must order (the “enforcement order”) that—

- (a) the alleged offender pay to the SETONS clerk the amount owing for the alleged offence within a specified time; and
- (b) in default of payment—
 - (i) if the alleged offender is an individual—the person be imprisoned for—
 - (A) the period prescribed by regulation; or
 - (B) if there is not a prescribed period—the number of days worked out using the following formula (rounded upwards to the nearest number)—

$$\text{number of days} = \frac{\text{amount then remaining unpaid}}{\text{amount of 1 penalty unit}} \quad ; \text{ or}$$

- (ii) if the alleged offender is not an individual—the amount be levied under a warrant to seize property of the person.
- (2) The enforcement order is taken—
- (a) to be an order of the court prescribed by regulation; and
 - (b) for the purposes only of the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, to have been made after a conviction has been recorded.

(3) The time specified in the order under subsection (1)(a) must be at least 7 days after the alleged offender is served with notice of the order.

(4) The prescribed period under subsection (1)(b)(i)(A) must not be more than the maximum period of imprisonment a court could impose on a person on conviction for the alleged offence in default of payment of a penalty equal to the amount owing for the alleged offence.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (2), the prescribed court is taken to have jurisdiction to have made the enforcement order.

Notice of enforcement order

98Q.(1) On the making of an enforcement order, the SETONS clerk must notify the alleged offender of the enforcement order by certified mail.

(2) The notice (the “enforcement order notice”) must—

- (a) be in the approved form; and
- (b) specify the alleged offence and the infringement notice; and
- (c) inform the alleged offender—
 - (i) an enforcement order has been made for the payment by the alleged offender of an amount for the alleged offence; and
 - (ii) within the time specified in the notice—
 - (A) the amount must be paid as specified in the notice; or
 - (B) if the alleged offender wishes to have the alleged offence dealt with by a court—an election to have the alleged offence dealt with by a court must be made under section 98V (Election for court hearing); and
 - (iii) if payment is not made, an election is not made and an application for a fine option order is not made—a warrant may be issued for the alleged offence.

Applications for time to pay

98R.(1) A person against whom an enforcement order is made may apply to the SETONS clerk in the approved form for—

- (a) an extension of the time to pay the amount payable under the order; or
- (b) permission for payment to be made by instalments.

(2) An application may not be made after the issue of a warrant under section 98S (Issue of warrants) for the enforcement order.

(3) The SETONS clerk may order that the enforcement order be amended by—

- (a) extending the time to pay the amount payable under the order; or
- (b) permitting payment to be made by specified instalments.

(4) The SETONS clerk must notify the alleged offender of the amendment.

Issue of warrants

98S.(1) If—

- (a) the amount specified in an enforcement order has not been paid as required by the order; and
- (b) an election has not been made under section 98V (Election for court hearing); and
- (c) the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 56 (Notice to offender of right to apply for fine option order) (if it applies) has been complied with;

the SETONS clerk may—

- (d) if the alleged offender is an individual—issue a warrant of commitment against the person; or
- (e) if the alleged offender is not an individual—issue a warrant of execution against the property of the person.

(2) The warrant—

- (a) must be in the approved form; and
- (b) be directed to all police officers; and
- (c) has effect as a warrant issued by a justice.

(3) On the issue of the warrant, the amount owing for the alleged offence is—

- (a) the amount that was outstanding before the warrant was issued; and
- (b) the amount of the execution fee prescribed by regulation.

Effect of proceedings under this division

98T.(1) If—

- (a) the amount owing for the alleged offence is paid in full under this division; or

(b) a warrant is executed under this division for the alleged offence; the proceedings that may be brought against, and the penalties that may be imposed on, the alleged offender for the alleged offence are limited to proceedings and penalties that could be brought or imposed if the alleged offender had already been convicted of, and punished for, the alleged offence.

(2) Subject to section 98P(2)(b) (Enforcement orders), the making of the enforcement order is not a conviction for the alleged offence.

(3) Payment of an amount under this division for the alleged offence is not an admission for the purposes of any proceeding, whether civil or criminal, arising out of the event for which the infringement notice was issued.

(4) Subsection (3) may be displaced, wholly or partly, by an express provision of another Act.

(5) Section 177 (Remission of penalty) applies to an enforcement order in the same way as it applies to a conviction.

Fine option orders

98U. The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, part 4 (Fines), division 2 (Fine option orders) applies (with any necessary changes and any changes prescribed by regulation) to an enforcement order as if—

- (a) the following amounts were a fine—
 - (i) the infringement notice penalty for the infringement notice offence specified in the order;
 - (ii) the amounts prescribed under sections 98N(4) (Reminder notices) and 98O(2)(b) and (4)(a)(iii) (Enforcement procedure) specified in the order; and
- (b) if a warrant is issued under section 98S (Issue of warrants)—the amount prescribed under section 98S(3)(b) were also a fine that the alleged offender has been ordered to pay under the order; and
- (c) the order were an original order made by the court prescribed for the purpose of section 98P(2)(a) (Enforcement orders); and
- (d) the SETONS clerk were the clerk of that court.

Election for court hearing

98V.(1) After an enforcement order is made for an alleged offence, but before—

- (a) the amount outstanding under this division is paid; or
- (b) a warrant under this division is issued;

the alleged offender may elect, by written notice given to the SETONS clerk, to have a complaint of the alleged offence dealt with by a court.

(2) On the making of the election—

- (a) any order issued under this division for the alleged offence ceases to have effect; and
- (b) the SETONS clerk must notify—
 - (i) the alleged offender; and
 - (ii) the authorised person who gave the enforcement notice;that this division no longer applies to the alleged offence.

(3) On the giving of the notices under subsection (2)(b), the provisions of this Act (other than this division) apply to the alleged offence.

Withdrawal from acting under this division

98W.(1) If—

- (a) a reminder notice has been served for an infringement notice; and
- (b) a warrant under this division has not been issued for the alleged offence; and
- (c) the alleged offence has not been dealt with by a court;

an authorised person may (whether or not payment has been made of the amount owing for the alleged offence) withdraw from acting under this division in relation to the alleged offence.

(2) The withdrawal must be effected by—

- (a) serving on the alleged offender a notice in the approved form; and
- (b) refunding any amount paid by the alleged offender for the alleged offence; and

- (c) if an enforcement notice has been given for the offence—giving to the SETONS clerk a copy of the notice.
- (3) After the action required by subsection (2) has been taken—
 - (a) any notice or enforcement order under this division for the alleged offence ceases to have effect; and
 - (b) if a prosecution has started for the alleged offence—the proceeding is, by the operation of this section, discontinued.

Division 4—Miscellaneous

Delegation by administering authority

98X.(1) An administering authority may delegate its powers under this part to a person.

(2) If the person to whom the powers are delegated is the chief executive of a department of government or another person prescribed by regulation, the chief executive or other person may subdelegate the powers to another person.

PART 5—PROCEEDINGS IN CASE OF INDICTABLE OFFENCES

Division 1—Procedure on presentation of information

Certificate where information is presented

99. Where an information is presented in the Supreme Court or a District Court against any person then at large, whether the person is bound by any undertaking as to bail to appear to answer to the same, or is not so bound, the person acting as clerk of arraigns at such court shall at any time after the end of the sessions at which the information was presented, if such person has not already appeared and pleaded to the information, grant to the prosecutor upon the prosecutor's application a certificate of the information having been presented.

Warrant thereon

100. Upon production of such certificate to any justice for any jurisdiction or place in which the offence is in the information alleged to have been committed, or in which the person informed against is supposed or suspected to be, such justice shall issue the justice's warrant to apprehend such person, and to cause the person to be brought before justices, to be dealt with according to law.

Committal of person who has been apprehended

101. Upon its being proved on oath before justices that a person apprehended under a warrant issued under section 100 or issued by order of a judge of the Supreme Court, or of a District Court, is identical with the person who has been informed against, the justices shall, without further inquiry or examination commit the person to be dealt with according to law by the court in which the information concerned has been presented and, in the meantime, may commit that person to gaol or grant the person bail and the provisions of this part relating to the committal to gaol of a defendant committed by justices to be tried for an indictable offence shall apply with respect to a person committed to a court under this section who, for this purpose, shall be deemed to be a person charged before the justices with the offence with which the person has been charged in the information presented against the person.

Detainer of prisoner in gaol

102. If the person so informed against is at the time of such application and production of the certificate to the justice confined in any gaol for any other offence than that charged in the information, the justice, upon proof upon oath that the person so informed against and the person so confined are one and the same, shall issue the justice's warrant directed to the keeper of the gaol in which the person so informed against is then confined, commanding the keeper of the gaol to detain such person in the keeper's custody until the person is lawfully removed therefrom for the purpose of being tried upon the information, or until the person is otherwise removed or discharged out of the keeper's custody by due course of law.

Division 2—Procedure for private complaint

Application of provisions

102A. Sections 102A to 102G apply to and in relation to a private complaint charging a person with an indictable offence, including an indictable offence a charge of which may be dealt with summarily, other than a private complaint charging a person with an offence of which injury to the person or property of the complainant is an element, and do not apply to or in relation to any other private complaint.

Service of summons and particulars on private complaint

102B.(1) Proceedings shall not be had upon a private complaint unless the summons issued thereon has been served on the defendant at least 14 days before the date on which it is sought to have the proceedings.

(2) When the matter of a private complaint is first before justices on a date when proceedings thereon may be had in accordance with law, the defendant may apply to the justices for an order that the complainant shall furnish to the defendant in writing particulars of the charge in the complaint whereupon, without prejudice to their exercising the power conferred by section 102G, the justices may make such an order and, if the case require it, shall adjourn the matter of the complaint for a period of 14 days at the least.

(2A) If the complainant or the complainant's representative is not present when such order is made, an advice thereof signed by the clerk of the court at the place where the order is made shall be sent by post to the complainant at the complainant's address last known to the clerk.

(3) If, forthwith upon the making of an order under subsection (2) or within 14 days of the day on which the order is made or within such further time as may be allowed by justices in a particular case, the complainant does not furnish in writing to the defendant particulars that in the justices' opinion are sufficient, the justices shall order that the private complaint be struck out and may award to the defendant such costs as to them seem just.

(3A) Such costs awarded shall constitute a debt due and owing by the complainant to the defendant and may be recovered by the defendant by action in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(4) Where a private complaint has been struck out pursuant to subsection (3), no further proceedings shall be had upon a private complaint charging the same offence.

Application for dismissal of frivolous or vexatious complaints

102C.(1) At any time before evidence is led as to the facts of a charge contained in a private complaint the defendant may make application for an order of a stipendiary magistrate that the complaint be dismissed on the ground that it is—

- (a) an abuse of process; or
- (b) frivolous; or
- (c) vexatious.

(1A) Such application may be made orally to the stipendiary magistrate before whom is the matter of the complaint, or in writing lodged with the clerk of the court at the place where the complaint is filed.

(1B) Upon receipt of such an application the clerk of the court shall refer the same to a stipendiary magistrate at the place where the application is lodged or at the nearest place at which a stipendiary magistrate attends and shall inform the complainant and the defendant of the place and time appointed for hearing the matter of the application, by advice signed by the clerk and given to each of them or sent by post to the address of each of them last known to the clerk.

(1C) Where an application is made orally under subsection (1A) in the absence of the complainant, the clerk of the court at the place where the application is made shall inform the complainant of the place and time appointed for hearing the matter of the application by advice signed by the clerk of the court and given to the complainant or sent by post to the complainant at the complainant's address last known to the clerk.

(2) Where an application under subsection (1) is made the complainant shall be required to give security, in such manner and in such amount as the stipendiary magistrate to whom the application is made or referred may order, that the complainant will pay to the defendant such costs incurred by the defendant on the application as the stipendiary magistrate who determines the matter of the application may order the complainant to pay.

(2A) If a complainant ordered to give security for costs does not comply with the order within the time specified therein or, if no time is specified, within a reasonable time the stipendiary magistrate before whom the matter of the application is brought shall order that the complaint to which the application relates be struck out.

(3) Upon the hearing of an application made under subsection (1)—

- (a) the matter shall be heard in camera;
- (b) the stipendiary magistrate shall consider all relevant evidence led before the stipendiary magistrate, and all relevant written material duly exhibited or otherwise produced before the stipendiary magistrate, and the submissions made before the stipendiary magistrate by the complainant and the defendant or either of them;
- (c) the onus shall be on the defendant to prove on the balance of probabilities the ground on which the application is made.

(4) An application made under subsection (1) may be heard and disposed of in the absence of the complainant or the defendant.

(5) If upon an application made under subsection (1) the stipendiary magistrate dismisses a private complaint or orders that a private complaint be struck out pursuant to subsection (2A) the stipendiary magistrate may award to the defendant such costs as to the stipendiary magistrate seem just and reasonable but, if the stipendiary magistrate does not dismiss the complaint or order it to be struck out as aforesaid, the stipendiary magistrate may award to the complainant such costs as to the stipendiary magistrate seem just.

(6) Such costs awarded shall constitute a debt due and owing by the person against whom they are awarded to the person to whom they are awarded and may be recovered by action in a court of competent jurisdiction.

Appeal to Supreme Court from magistrate's decision

102D.(1) A person aggrieved by the decision of a stipendiary magistrate upon an application made under section 102C to dismiss a private complaint or to refuse the application may appeal from that decision to a judge of the Supreme Court in chambers by way of application made by originating summons.

(2) An appeal under subsection (1)—

(a) shall be instituted within 28 days after the date when the stipendiary magistrate's decision is pronounced; and

(b) shall be by way of hearing de novo;

and the decision of the judge in such an appeal shall be final.

(3) Where an appeal under subsection (1) is instituted the appellant shall be required to give security, in such manner and in such amount as a judge of the Supreme Court may order, that the appellant will pay to the respondent such costs incurred by the respondent on the appeal as the judge who determines the matter of the appeal may order the appellant to pay.

(3A) If an appellant ordered to give security for costs does not comply with the order within the time specified therein or, if no time is specified, within a reasonable time the judge before whom the appeal is brought shall order that the appeal be struck out.

(4) Upon an appeal the judge may order that the order in respect of which the appeal is made be affirmed or reversed and may make such order as to costs as to the judge seems just.

(4A) Such costs awarded shall constitute a debt due and owing by the person against whom they are awarded to the person to whom they are awarded and may be recovered by action in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(5) Save as is prescribed by this section no appeal shall lie in respect of any order made in any proceeding relating to a private complaint pursuant to section 102B or 102C or this section.

Further proceedings on a dismissed or struck out complaint prohibited

102E.(1) If there is made, upon an application made under section 102C(1) or upon an appeal from a decision therein duly instituted under section 102D, an order having the effect that a private complaint be dismissed or if a stipendiary magistrate orders that a private complaint be struck out pursuant to section 102C(2A), the complaint shall be taken to be dismissed at the time when the order takes effect as prescribed by subsection (2) or, as the case may be, shall be taken to be struck out, and no further proceedings shall be had upon a private complaint charging the same offence by the same defendant.

(2) An order referred to in subsection (1) having the effect that a private complaint be dismissed—

- (a) if it be that of a stipendiary magistrate and no appeal is duly instituted under section 102D—shall take effect upon the expiration of the time limited by that section for instituting an appeal;
- (b) if it be that of a stipendiary magistrate and an appeal is duly instituted under section 102D—shall abide the determination of the appeal or, as the case may be, shall take effect upon the appeal being struck out, whichever event occurs;
- (c) if it be that of a judge of the Supreme Court—shall take effect according to the rules of the Supreme Court.

Publication prohibited

102F.(1) A person shall not allude to the making or existence of a private complaint against any person or to any proceeding taken or to be taken in relation to a private complaint against any person in—

- (a) any newspaper, magazine, book, pamphlet, or other paper intended for public distribution; or
- (b) any report, commentary or speech broadcast publicly by radio, television or other means; or
- (c) any speech delivered publicly;

until it is established that the complaint will not be dismissed on a ground referred to in section 102C(1).

Maximum penalty—4 penalty units or 6 months imprisonment.

(2) Where a contravention against subsection (1) is committed by a corporation, a person who at the time of the contravention is a director or member of the governing body of the corporation or the manager or an officer concerned in the management of the business in Queensland of the corporation (including, where the publication in question is in a newspaper or magazine, the editor thereof) shall be deemed to have committed a like contravention and shall be liable therefor unless the person proves that the contravention occurred without the person's knowledge and that the person exercised all due diligence to prevent the contravention.

(3) Nothing in subsection (1) shall render any person liable to a penalty on account of the publication of matter referred to therein in a recognised series of law reports.

Dismissal for want of prosecution

102G.(1) If the complainant under a private complaint does not proceed with due diligence to prosecute the complaint, the justices may order that the complaint be struck out for want of prosecution and may award to the defendant such costs as to them seem just and reasonable.

(1A) Such costs awarded shall constitute a debt due and owing by the complainant to the defendant and may be recovered by the defendant by action in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(2) Where a private complaint has been struck out pursuant to subsection (1), no further proceedings shall be had upon a private complaint charging the same offence.

Division 3—Warrant of committal

Disobedience of summons

103.(1) When a person charged with an indictable offence, and against whom a summons has been issued, does not appear before the justices at the time and place mentioned in the summons, and it is made to appear to the justices by oath or by deposition as provided in section 56 with respect to the service of a summons, that the summons was duly served upon the person a reasonable time before the time therein appointed for appearing to it, then such justices, upon oath being made before them substantiating the matter of the complaint to their satisfaction, may issue their warrant to apprehend the defendant and to bring the defendant before justices to answer the complaint and to be further dealt with according to law.

(2) This section does not apply where the person charged with an indictable offence is so charged upon a private complaint and the charge is one that cannot be dealt with summarily or that can be dealt with summarily without the defendant's consent.

Division 4—Defendant's appearance on private complaint

Defendant's appearance upon private complaint

103A.(1) Where a person is charged upon a private complaint with an indictable offence and the charge is one that cannot be dealt with summarily or that can be dealt with summarily without the defendant's consent, and a summons has been issued against the defendant—

- (a) the defendant is not required to appear in person in answer to the summons until the justices or any of them before whom the matter of the complaint is heard are or is satisfied that the evidence is sufficient to put the defendant upon trial for an indictable offence;
- (b) the defendant is entitled to appear at the hearing of the matter of complaint by the defendant's counsel or solicitor until the defendant is required pursuant to this section to appear in person.

(2) If the justices before whom a matter of complaint referred to in subsection (1) is heard or any of them are or is satisfied that the evidence is sufficient to put the defendant upon trial for an indictable offence such justices or justice may order that the defendant appear in person at the further hearing of the matter of complaint at a time and place specified in the order and may if necessary adjourn the hearing to such time and place.

(2A) Notice of the making of an order for the personal appearance of the defendant shall be sufficiently given to the defendant if—

- (a) the order is made in the presence of the defendant's counsel or solicitor; or
- (b) a copy of the order is served on the defendant in the same manner as is provided for the service of a summons.

(2B) Any person who serves a copy of an order made under subsection (2) may attend before any justice having jurisdiction in the State or part of the Commonwealth in which such copy order is served and depose on oath and in writing endorsed on a copy of the order to the service thereof.

(2C) Such deposition shall upon production to a justice be sufficient proof of service of the copy of the order on the defendant.

(3) If at the time and place specified in an order made pursuant to subsection (2) the defendant so required to appear in person fails to appear the justices then present, upon being satisfied that notice of the making of the order has been sufficiently given to the defendant, shall issue their warrant to apprehend the defendant and to cause the defendant to be brought before justices to be dealt with according to law.

Division 5—Examination of witnesses

Proceedings upon an examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence

104.(1) The examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence—

- (a) may be conducted by a single justice;
- (b) subject to the provisions of section 40, shall be conducted in the presence and hearing of the defendant, if the defendant is required to be present, and of the defendant's counsel and solicitor (if any).

(2) When, upon such an examination all the evidence to be offered on the part of the prosecution has been adduced and the evidence, in the opinion of the justices then present, is not sufficient to put the defendant upon trial for any indictable offence, the justices shall order the defendant, if the defendant is in custody, to be discharged as to the charge the subject of that examination, but if in the opinion of such justices (or if there be more justices than 1 then present, in the opinion of any 1 of such justices) the evidence is sufficient to put the defendant upon trial for an indictable offence then the justices or 1 of them shall—

- (a) save, with respect to a particular defendant, in relation to evidence given during the absence of that defendant pursuant to the provisions of section 104A, cause to be read to the defendant the deposition of the witnesses who may have given evidence at the examination in the defendant's absence;
- (b) address to the defendant the following words or words to like effect—

‘You will have an opportunity to give evidence on oath before us and to call witnesses. But first I am going to ask you whether you wish to say anything in answer to the charge. You need not say anything unless you wish to do so and you are not obliged to enter any plea; and you have nothing to hope from any promise, and nothing to fear from any threat that may have been held out to induce you to make any admission or confession of guilt. Anything you say will be taken down and may be given in evidence at your trial. Do you wish to say anything in answer to the charge or enter any plea?’

(3) Whatever the defendant may say in answer to the words addressed to the defendant pursuant to subsection (2) shall be reduced to writing and read to the defendant and shall thereupon be signed by the justices and by the defendant, if the defendant so desires, and shall be kept with the depositions of the witnesses and shall, if the defendant is committed to be tried or for sentence, be transmitted with such depositions in accordance with the provisions of section 126.

(4) If the defendant desires to offer evidence with respect to the charge the subject of the examination the justices shall hear and receive all admissible evidence tendered on behalf of the defendant which tends to show whether or not the defendant is guilty of the offence with which the defendant is charged.

(5) Where upon the examination the defendant is committed for trial, the justices shall warn the defendant that the defendant may not be permitted at that trial to give evidence of an alibi or to call witnesses in support of an alibi unless the defendant gives to the crown solicitor written notice in the prescribed form of that alibi and of those witnesses within the time prescribed by the Criminal Code, section 590A.

Defendant may be excused from certain attendances

104A.(1) The justices or justice may, in connection with the examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence as referred to in section 104, upon application made by a defendant appearing before the justices or justice together with 1 or more other defendants, or made by the defendant's counsel or solicitor on the defendant's behalf, excuse the defendant from attendance during the taking of any evidence for the prosecution.

(2) In considering the application, the justices or justice shall have regard to—

- (a) the evidence being led;
- (b) the defendant or defendants against whom the evidence is admissible;
- (c) any other matter considered by the justices or justice to be relevant to the merits of the application.

(3) The justices or justice, in excusing the defendant from attendance during the taking of any evidence for the prosecution, may grant bail to the defendant or enlarge the undertaking of the defendant as to bail on such conditions as the justices or justice thinks fit under, subject to and in accordance with the provisions of the Bail Act 1980.

Statement may be put in evidence at trial

105. Afterwards upon the trial of the defendant any such statement made by the defendant may, if necessary, be given in evidence against the defendant without further proof thereof, if the same purports to be signed by the justice or justices by or before whom it purports to have been taken, unless it is proved that it was not in fact signed by the justice or justices by whom it purports to be signed.

Saving

106. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the prosecutor in any case from giving in evidence any admission or confession or other statement of the defendant made at any time, which by law would be admissible as evidence against such person.

Procedure upon a consideration of all the evidence

108.(1) If upon a consideration of all the evidence adduced upon an examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence (including any answer made by the defendant to the words addressed to the defendant pursuant to section 104(2)) the justices are of the opinion that the evidence is not sufficient to put the defendant upon the defendant's trial for any indictable offence, the justices shall order the defendant, if the defendant is in custody, to be discharged as to the charge the subject of the examination but if the justices are of the opinion that the evidence is sufficient to put the defendant upon trial for an indictable offence they shall, subject to section 113, order the defendant to be committed to be tried for the offence before a court of competent jurisdiction, and in the meantime shall by their warrant commit the defendant to gaol, to be there safely kept until the defendant is delivered by due course of law or granted bail.

(2) If, having regard to the length of time which should elapse before a court of competent jurisdiction next sits at a place to which the defendant would in the absence of this subsection be committed to be tried, the justices are of the opinion—

- (a) that it would be just that the trial of the defendant should be held at some other place before a court of competent jurisdiction, the justices may, with the prior consent in writing of the defendant (which consent shall be kept with the depositions of the witnesses), order the defendant to be committed to be tried for the offence at such other place before such a court;
- (b) that, by reason of the expense likely to be incurred in the keeping or preservation of any exhibit tendered in evidence upon the examination of witnesses and to be, or proposed to be, tendered in evidence at the trial of the defendant, the trial of the defendant should be held at some other place before a court of competent jurisdiction, the justices may order the defendant to be committed to be tried for the offence at such other place before such a court.

One justice

109. But if there is only 1 justice present, and the evidence is such as neither to raise a strong or probable presumption of guilt nor to warrant the dismissal of the charge, such justice shall order the defendant to be remanded from time to time until the defendant can be taken before 2 or more justices.

Justices need not be present during whole examination

110. A justice or justices may make or join in making an order of committal or dismissal although the justice or justices had not or have not been present during the whole time during which the examinations have been taken.

Use of tendered statements in lieu of oral testimony in committal proceedings

110A.(1) The provisions of this section are additional to and not in derogation of any other provisions of this Act in relation to proceedings in the case of indictable offences.

(2) Justices conducting proceedings with a view to determining whether a defendant should be committed for trial or sentence in relation to an indictable offence may, subject to the provisions of this section being satisfied, admit as evidence written statements of witnesses tendered to them by the prosecution or the defence without those witnesses appearing before them to give evidence or make statements.

(3) Written statements so admitted as evidence shall be deemed to be evidence given or statements made upon an examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence under section 104 and they shall be admissible as evidence to the like extent as oral evidence to the like effect by the persons making the written statements.

(4) Written statements shall not be admitted where the defendant or, where there is more than 1 defendant, 1 of the defendants is not represented by counsel or a solicitor.

(5) A written statement shall not be admitted unless—

- (a) the prosecution and the defence agree to its admission;
- (b) a copy of it is made available, by or on behalf of the party proposing to tender it, to the other party or parties;
- (c) it is signed by the person making it and contains—
 - (i) a declaration by the person under the Oaths Act 1867; or
 - (ii) a written acknowledgment by the person; that it is true to the best of the person's knowledge and belief and that the person made the statement knowing that, if it were admitted as evidence, the person may be liable to prosecution for stating in it anything that the person knew was false;

- (d) the other party does not object or, as the case may be, none of the other parties objects, before the written statement is admitted in evidence, to the statement being so admitted pursuant to this section.

(6) Subject to this section, where—

- (a) all the evidence before justices (whether for the prosecution or the defence), without reference to other evidence by way of exhibits, consists of written statements admitted in accordance with this section; and
- (b) counsel or the solicitor for the defendant consents to the defendant being committed for trial or, as the case may be, for sentence without consideration of the contents of the written statements;

the justices, without determining whether the evidence is sufficient to put the defendant upon trial for an indictable offence, shall formally charge the defendant and, with necessary adaptations, the provisions of section 104 shall apply and, subject thereto, the justices shall order the defendant to be committed for trial or, as the case may be, for sentence.

(7) Where some of the evidence before justices consists of written statements admitted in accordance with this section and some of the evidence is evidence given orally by witnesses upon their examination under this part, the justices shall, when all the evidence to be offered on the part of the prosecution is before them, consider such evidence and determine whether it is sufficient to put the defendant upon trial for an indictable offence, whereupon the provisions of this part shall apply as in the case of an examination of witnesses where there are no written statements admitted pursuant to this section.

(8) A written statement may be admitted as evidence by justices pursuant to this section subject to agreement between the prosecution and the defence that the person making the statement shall be present when the written statement is tendered to be cross-examined by the other party or parties, as the case requires, and in any such case the justices shall consider both the written and the oral evidence in respect of that person.

(9) Notwithstanding that a written statement made by any witness is admissible by virtue of this section as part of the prosecution case or as part of the defence case, whether it has been admitted in the proceedings before justices or not, the justices may require that witness to attend before them and to give evidence, and in respect of those proceedings the justices shall consider all the evidence, oral and written (and exhibits (if any)), whether counsel or the solicitor for the defendant has consented to a committal for trial or sentence or not, and determine whether such evidence is sufficient to put the defendant upon trial for an indictable offence, whereupon the provisions of this part shall apply as in the case of an examination of witnesses where there are no written statements admitted pursuant to this section.

(10) Where all the evidence before justices consists of written statements admitted in accordance with this section and counsel or the solicitor for the defendant does not consent to the defendant being committed for trial or for sentence, the justices, after hearing any submissions the prosecution and the defence desire to make, shall determine whether the evidence is sufficient to put the defendant upon trial for an indictable offence, whereupon the provisions of this part shall apply as in the case of an examination of witnesses where there are no written statements admitted pursuant to this section.

(11) A written statement admitted in accordance with this section shall, on being so admitted by the justices, be signed by the justices.

(12) A written statement admitted in accordance with this section shall have effect as if it is the deposition of the witness whose statement it is, and it may be used at the trial of the defendant in the same manner, to the same extent and for the same purpose as a deposition may be used.

(13) A written statement admitted in accordance with this section may, when the defendant has been committed by justices to be tried for an indictable offence, without further proof be read as evidence on the trial of the defendant, whether for the offence for which the defendant has been committed for trial or for any other offence for which an indictment shall be presented, arising out of the same transaction or set of circumstances as the offence for which the defendant has been committed for trial, and whether or not combined with other circumstances, if—

- (a) the written statement purports to be signed in manner prescribed by the person making it and by the justices before whom it purports to have been tendered as evidence; and
- (b) the condition mentioned in section 111(3)(a), read with the words ‘written statement’ substituted for the word ‘deposition’ where twice occurring, is satisfied.

(13A) The provisions of the Criminal Law Amendment Act 1892, section 4 apply for the purposes of this subsection as though the reference to ‘depositions’ or ‘deposition’ is a reference to ‘written statements’ or ‘written statement’ referred to in this section.

(14) If a written statement admitted in accordance with this section refers to any other document as an exhibit, the copy given to any other party to the proceedings under subsection (5) shall be accompanied by a copy of that document or by such information as may be necessary in order to enable the party to whom it is given to inspect that document or a copy thereof.

(15) Any document or object referred to as an exhibit and identified in a written statement admitted in accordance with this section shall be treated as if it had been produced as an exhibit and identified during the proceedings by the maker of the statement.

Depositions of persons dead, absent etc.

111.(1) When a defendant has been committed by justices to be tried for any indictable offence, the deposition of any person taken before justices, or the transcription of the record of evidence given by any person before justices where the evidence is recorded under the Recording of Evidence Act 1962 and the transcription is certified to as correct in accordance with that Act, with respect to the transaction or set of circumstances out of which has arisen the charge on which the defendant has been committed to be tried may, if the conditions mentioned in subsection (3) are satisfied in the case of the deposition and if the conditions mentioned in subsection (3)(a) and (b) are satisfied in the case of the transcription, without further proof be read as evidence on the trial of that person, whether for the offence for which the person has been committed for trial or for any other offence for which an indictment shall be presented, arising out of the same transaction or set of circumstances as the offence for which the person has been committed for trial, and whether or not combined with other circumstances.

(2) Moreover, when any person has been charged before justices with an indictable offence of a sexual nature alleged to have been committed on a child under the age of 12 years, and has been committed for trial, the deposition of such child or of any other child under the age of 12 years, or the transcription of the record of the evidence or statement given or made by such child or of any other child under the age of 12 years where the evidence or statement is recorded under the Recording of Evidence Act 1962 and the transcription is certified to as correct in accordance with that Act, may, in the discretion of the judge of trial and if the conditions mentioned in subsection (3)(b) and (c) are satisfied in the case of the deposition and if the condition mentioned in subsection (3)(b) is satisfied in the case of the transcription, without further proof be read as evidence on the trial of that person, whether for the offence for which the person has been committed for trial or for any other offence for which an indictment shall be presented, arising out of the same transaction or set of circumstances as the offence for which the person has been committed for trial, and whether or not combined with other circumstances.

(3) The conditions mentioned in subsections (1) and (2) are the following—

- (a) the deposition or the transcription of the record of evidence must be the deposition or the transcription of the record of evidence either of a witness whose attendance at the trial is not required by the accused person, in accordance with the provisions of the Criminal Law Amendment Act 1892, section 4 and which accused person has duly signed the statement in the manner provided by the said section 4 and the schedule to that Act, or of a witness who is proved at the trial by the oath of a credible witness to be dead or insane, or so ill as not to be able to travel, or to be kept out of the way by means of the procurement of the accused or on the accused's behalf;

- (b) it must be proved at the trial, either by a certificate purporting to be signed by the justices before whom the deposition purports to have been taken or before whom the evidence or statement was given or made or by the clerk of the court or any person acting as such, or by the oath of a credible witness, that the deposition was taken or the evidence or statement was given or made in the presence of the accused unless the accused was excluded from the proceeding whereat such deposition was taken or such evidence or statement was given or made pursuant to the provisions of section 40 or, where the deposition, evidence or statement was taken, given or made in a case where and at a time when the accused was not required to be present in person, that the same was taken, given or made in the presence of the accused's counsel or solicitor and that the accused or the accused's counsel or solicitor had the full opportunity of cross-examining the witness;
- (c) the deposition must purport to be signed by the justices before whom it purports to have been taken.

(4) However, the provisions of this section shall not have effect in any case in which it is proved that the deposition, or, where the proof required by subsection (3)(b) is given by means of a certificate, that the certificate was not in fact signed by the justices or clerk of the court or person acting as such by whom it purports to have been signed.

Division 6—Defendant admitting guilt

Procedure if defendant pleads guilty

113.(1) If the defendant, upon being addressed by the justices pursuant to section 104(2) says that he or she is guilty of the charge the justices, instead of committing the defendant to be tried, shall order the defendant to be committed for sentence before some court of competent jurisdiction, and, in the meantime shall, by their warrant, commit the defendant to gaol to be there safely kept until the defendant is delivered by due course of law or granted bail.

(4) If, having regard to the length of time which should elapse before a court of competent jurisdiction next sits at a place to which the defendant would in the absence of this subsection be committed for sentence, the justices are of the opinion—

- (a) that it would be just that the defendant should be sentenced for the offence at some other place before a court of competent jurisdiction, the justices may, with the prior consent in writing of the defendant (which consent shall be kept with the depositions of the witnesses), order the defendant to be committed for sentence for the offence at such other place before such court;
- (b) that, by reason of the expense likely to be incurred in the keeping or preservation of any exhibit tendered in evidence upon the examination of witnesses and to be, or proposed to be, tendered as an exhibit upon the appearance of the defendant for sentence, the defendant should be sentenced for the offence at some other place before a court of competent jurisdiction, the justices may order the defendant to be committed for sentence for the offence at such other place before such court.

Division 7—Corporation charged with indictable offence

Committal proceedings where defendant is a corporation

113A.(1) Where a corporation is charged with an indictable offence, it may appear before the justices by a representative at the time and place mentioned in the summons issued against it.

(2) A representative may on behalf of a corporation—

- (a) make a statement before the justices in answer to the charge;
- (b) enter a plea to the charge;

and any statement so made or plea so entered shall for all purposes be taken to be a statement made or plea entered by the corporation.

(3) Where a representative appears, any requirement of this Act that anything shall be done in the presence of the defendant, or shall be read or said to the defendant, shall be construed as a requirement that that thing shall be done in the presence of the representative or read or said to the representative.

(4) Where a representative does not appear—

- (a) any requirement referred to in subsection (3) shall not apply; and
- (b) the justices may nevertheless, if upon a consideration of all the evidence adduced upon an examination of witnesses in relation to the offence they are of the opinion that the evidence is sufficient to put the corporation upon its trial for an indictable offence, order the corporation to be committed to be tried for the offence before a court of competent jurisdiction.

(5) Justices may commit a corporation for trial or for sentence notwithstanding their inability to exercise their powers of committal to gaol or granting bail following such committal.

(6) Where a representative does not appear and justices order the corporation to be committed for trial, the clerk of the court at which the corporation has been so committed shall forthwith give to the corporation a notice in writing of such committal containing particulars in relation thereto.

(6A) The notice may be given to the corporation by leaving it at or sending it by post to the registered office of the corporation or to any place at which it trades or carries on business.

(7) In this section—

“representative” means a person appointed by the corporation to represent it for the purposes of this section, but a person so appointed is not, by virtue only of being so appointed, qualified to act on behalf of the corporation before justices for any other purpose.

(8) A representative need not be appointed under the seal of the corporation, and a statement in writing purporting to be signed by a managing director of the corporation or by any other person (by whatever name called) having, or being 1 of the persons having, the management of the affairs of the corporation to the effect that the person named in the statement has been appointed as the representative of the corporation for the purposes of this section shall be admissible without further proof as prima facie evidence that that person has been so appointed.

Division 8—Action on committal for trialTransmission of undertaking as to bail

121. When an undertaking as to bail has been taken by a person authorised in that behalf, other than the committing justices and the clerk of the court at the place where the commitment was ordered, such person shall forthwith transmit the undertaking to the committing justices, or 1 of them, or to the clerk aforesaid, who shall transmit it with the depositions in accordance with the provisions of section 126.

Notice to witness

123.(1) Where justices commit a defendant for trial for an indictable offence, the clerk of the court at which the defendant has been so committed shall forthwith give to each witness who has been examined before the justices and to each maker of a written statement whose statement was admitted as evidence in accordance with section 110A a notice in the prescribed form requiring each of them to attend at the court to which the defendant has been committed and to give evidence at the defendant's trial.

(2) A notice referred to in subsection (1)—

- (a) may be served personally on or sent by post to the person to whom it is addressed at the person's address last known to the clerk of the court;
- (b) shall have effect as if it were a summons to the witness issued out of the court that the witness is by the notice required to attend.

Transmission of depositions

126.(1) When a defendant is committed to be tried or for sentence the committing justices shall, as soon as practicable after such committal, transmit, or cause to be transmitted, all informations, depositions, statements, undertakings as to bail and copies of notices to witnesses relating to such committal, in the following manner—

- (a) when the committal is to a court to be held within the northern or far northern district—to a crown prosecutor stationed in that district;

(b) in all other cases—to the Attorney-General or director of public prosecutions.

(2) In this section—

“far northern district” means the far northern district of the Supreme Court.²

Duty of Attorney-General etc.

127. The Attorney-General, director of public prosecutions, and crown prosecutor shall, respectively, after such transmission and before the day of trial, have and be subject to the same duties and liabilities in respect of the said several documents upon a certiorari directed to them respectively, or upon a rule or order directed to them in lieu of that writ, as the justices would have had and been subject to upon a certiorari to them if such documents had not been so transmitted.

Authority of judge

128. The said officers respectively, and any officer prosecuting for them respectively, shall, at any time after the opening of the court at the sittings or sessions at which the trial is to be had, or the sentence passed, deliver the said documents, or any of them, to the proper officer of the court, if and when the presiding judge so directs.

Recommittal in case of error

129.(1) If in any case a defendant is committed to take the defendant’s trial or for sentence before a court which has not jurisdiction to try the case or pass sentence upon the defendant, or before which the defendant ought not to be committed to take the defendant’s trial or for sentence, or the judge whereof is by reason of interest or otherwise incapacitated from trying the case or passing sentence, the committing justices or any other justices may at any time before the time appointed for holding such court direct the defendant and the warrant of commitment (if any) to be brought before them, whether the defendant has been granted bail or not, and may, upon production of the depositions and without further evidence, cancel the warrant or commitment, and may commit the defendant afresh to take the defendant's trial or for sentence before another and the proper court, and may, in a proper case, grant the defendant bail or enlarge the defendant's bail, if the defendant has been already granted bail, or if the defendant is brought before the court at the time appointed for holding the same, the court may, notwithstanding such defect of jurisdiction or incapacity, remand the defendant to take the defendant's trial or for sentence before another and the proper court, and may, in a proper case, grant the defendant bail or enlarge the defendant's bail if the defendant has been already granted bail.

(2) Where a fresh commitment or remand has been so made, the justices or any other justices or the court may give fresh notices to the witnesses to appear and give evidence at the court to which the defendant is so committed or remanded and for that purpose section 123 shall apply as if the notices had been given in accordance with that section.

Division 9—Examination of witnesses in another court district

Examination by justices for an offence committed in another Magistrates Court district

132. When a person is charged before justices with an indictable offence alleged to have been committed in a place situated elsewhere than within the Magistrates Courts district within which the justices are then sitting but within the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court the justices shall receive such evidence in proof of the charge as shall be produced before them and if, in their opinion, such evidence is sufficient on which to commit the defendant to be tried, or for sentence, for any indictable offence the justices may—

- (a) commit the defendant to be tried, or for sentence, as the case may require, for the indictable offence established by such evidence in the opinion of the justices and shall commit the defendant to gaol or grant the defendant bail and give to each witness the notice prescribed by section 123 to be given; or
- (b) proceed in accordance with the provisions of section 133.

Remand to another place

133.(1) If, in any such case as is referred to in section 132, the evidence is not, in the opinion of the justices, sufficient on which to commit the defendant to be tried, or for sentence, for any indictable offence or, if the justices elect to proceed in accordance with the provisions of this section notwithstanding the sufficiency of the evidence, the justices—

- (a) may adjourn the hearing to the place where the offence is alleged to have been committed or where any of the witnesses to be examined are, or to a place convenient to any such place; and
- (b) shall order that each witness be given the notice prescribed by section 123 with such adaptations as are necessary.

(1A) Section 123 shall apply and extend to notices given to witnesses pursuant to subsection (1) as if they were notices given under that section.

(2) When justices have adjourned a hearing pursuant to the provisions of this section they may—

- (a) by warrant order the defendant to be taken before justices at the place to which the hearing has been adjourned; or
- (b) grant the defendant bail.

(3) When a warrant is issued pursuant to subsection (2), the justices shall deliver the complaint, or a copy thereof and every deposition, statement, undertaking as to bail taken and notice to witness given in relation to the proceeding to the police officer who first has custody of the warrant to be delivered by the police officer or any other police officer to the justices before whom the hearing is resumed at the place to which the hearing has been adjourned.

(4) When the defendant is granted bail pursuant to subsection (2), the justices shall deliver the complaint, or a copy thereof, and every deposition, statement, undertaking as to bail taken and notice to witness given in relation to the proceedings to the clerk of the court at the place where they conducted the examination of witnesses in relation to an indictable offence to be by the clerk of the court transmitted by post to the justices before whom the hearing is to be resumed at the place to which the hearing has been adjourned.

Effect of depositions, undertakings as to bail and notices to witnesses taken, given or ordered to be given elsewhere than at place of committal

134.(1) Every deposition, undertaking as to bail and notice to witness delivered to justices in accordance with section 133 shall be deemed to have been taken, given or ordered to have been given in the case as if they had been taken, given or ordered to have been given by or before the justices who commit the defendant to be tried or for sentence or pursuant to their order and shall, together with such depositions, undertakings as to bail and notices to witnesses as are taken, given or ordered to be given in the matter of the charge against the defendant by or before such last mentioned justices or pursuant to their order, be transmitted to the proper officer at the time and in the manner provided by this Act where the defendant is committed for trial or for sentence on a charge of an indictable offence.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), if such lastmentioned justices are of opinion that the evidence is not sufficient on which to commit the defendant to be tried or for sentence and order that the defendant be discharged as to the charge the subject matter of the examination, then every undertaking as to bail and notice to witness so taken or given and delivered shall be of no force or effect.

PART 6—PROCEEDINGS IN CASE OF SIMPLE OFFENCES AND BREACHES OF DUTY*Division 1—VenueWhere summary cases to be heard

139.(1) Subject to the provisions of any other Act in that behalf, a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty shall be heard and determined—

- (a) at a place appointed for holding Magistrates Courts within the district within which the offence or breach of duty was committed; or

- (b) at a place appointed for holding Magistrates Courts within the district within 35 km of the boundary of which the offence or breach of duty was committed; or
- (c) where the offence or breach of duty has occurred in or on or in relation to any vehicle or a vessel (other than an aircraft) in the course of a journey and the evidence to be adduced on behalf of the complainant does not disclose with certainty in which district the offence or breach of duty has occurred—at a place appointed for holding Magistrates Courts within any of the districts through which, or any part of which, such vehicle or vessel has passed in the course of such journey; or
- (d) where the offence or breach has occurred in or on or in relation to an aircraft in the course of a flight which commenced and is scheduled to terminate within Queensland and the evidence to be adduced on behalf of the complainant does not disclose with certainty over which district the offence or breach occurred—at a place appointed for holding Magistrates Courts within any district over which, or any part of which, such aircraft has passed in the course of such flight.

(2) Where a complaint for a simple offence or breach of duty is before a Magistrates Court at any place at which that complaint may lawfully be heard and determined and it appears to the court, either of its own motion or upon the submission of the complainant or defendant made in writing to or by appearance before the court, that the hearing would more conveniently take place at another place in Queensland, the court may, before any evidence is adduced, adjourn the hearing to such other place and to a time to be then stated or to be determined as hereinbefore in this Act provided.

(2A) The resumed hearing may proceed and the complaint may be heard and determined before a Magistrates Court at such other place constituted in accordance with this Act by such justices as may then be there.

(2B) Where a complaint for a simple offence or breach of duty is partly heard before a Magistrates Court at any place at which that complaint may lawfully be heard and determined, the court may adjourn the hearing to such other place in Queensland as shall be consented to by the complainant and the defendant and to such time as it thinks fit.

(2C) The hearing of the complaint may continue and the complaint determined before a Magistrates Court at such other place constituted in accordance with this Act.

(2D) The court, on adjourning the hearing as aforesaid, may commit the defendant in the meantime or grant the defendant bail.

(2E) Upon such adjournment, the defendant and every witness summoned to give evidence and who has not been discharged by the court from further attendance, shall be bound to attend at such time and place accordingly.

(2F) Upon an adjournment under this subsection the clerk of the court at the place where such adjournment was ordered shall forthwith transmit by post to the clerk of the court at the place whence the hearing has been adjourned the complaint, the summons issued thereon and all other documents relevant to the complaint which the clerk of the court has in the clerk's possession.

(3) When a defendant fails to appear to answer a complaint for a simple offence or breach of duty and a warrant is issued for the purpose of apprehending the defendant and bringing the defendant before the court, the matter may, with the defendant's consent, be dealt with before a Magistrates Court at a place within the district in which the defendant is apprehended under the warrant.

Adjournment to different place

140.(1) When 2 or more places are appointed for holding Magistrates Courts in a district, and in any other case in which a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty may lawfully be heard and determined at any 1 of 2 or more places then, if, at the hearing of the complaint at 1 of such places, it appears to the justices, either of their own motion or upon the submission of the complainant or defendant made in writing to or by appearance before the justices, that the hearing would more conveniently take place or the decision be more conveniently given at another of such places, the justices may adjourn the hearing or, as the case may require, the giving of the decision to such other place, and may commit the defendant in the meantime or grant the defendant bail.

(1A) Upon such adjournment, the defendant and, in the case of an adjournment of the hearing, every witness summoned to give evidence and who has not been discharged by the court from further attendance, shall be bound to attend at such time and place accordingly.

(2) Where 2 or more places are appointed for holding Magistrates Courts in a district and the clerk of the court at 1 such place receives a notification in writing purporting to be given by a defendant or by a solicitor acting on the defendant's behalf that the defendant wishes to plead guilty in respect of a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty appointed by the summons to be heard at that place without appearing before the court and the defendant does not appear at the time and place appointed for the hearing or adjourned hearing of the complaint, that clerk of the court, if the clerk of the court considers that the hearing of the complaint would more conveniently take place at another place for holding a court in that district, shall refer the matter to justices constituting a court in that district, and the justices may proceed to hear and determine the case in another such place in the district in the absence of the defendant in like manner as if the defendant had appeared and pleaded guilty.

(2A) The clerk of the court receiving the notification in the first instance shall, on the decision being made by justices and communicated to the clerk of the court to hear and determine the case at another place in the district, forthwith transmit such notification together with the complaint, the summons issued thereon and all other documents relevant to the complaint that the clerk of the court has in his or her possession to the clerk of the court at such other place.

(2B) Sections 142 and 146A apply subject to subsections (2) and (2A) in a case to which the subsections apply.

(3) Where 2 or more places are appointed for holding Magistrates Courts in a district and a defendant does not appear at 1 such place at the time appointed by the summons for appearance there for the hearing and determining of a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty, the hearings there may be adjourned pursuant to this Act and thereafter justices may proceed ex parte to hear and determine the case at another place in the district appointed for holding a court as fully and effectually as if they were hearing and determining the case at the first mentioned place in the first instance.

(4) Where the defendant has not so appeared at the first mentioned place at the time appointed, the justices may proceed ex parte as aforesaid without any further notification to the defendant.

(5) The clerk of the court at the firstmentioned place shall, on the decision being made by justices and communicated to the clerk of the court to hear and determine the case at another place in the district, forthwith transmit the complaint, the summons issued thereon and all other documents relevant to the complaint that the clerk of the court has in his or her possession to the clerk of the court at the other place in the district where the case is to be heard and determined, and any witness summoned to give evidence and who has not been discharged by the court from further attendance shall be bound to attend at such other place at the time appointed accordingly.

(6) Section 142 applies subject to this section and section 142(6) applies as if a hearing and determination ex parte under this subsection is a hearing and determination ex parte under section 142(1)(a).

Division 2—Default by complainant or defendant

Dismissal or adjournment in absence of complainant

141. If upon the day and at the place appointed by the summons for hearing and determining a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty the defendant attends voluntarily in obedience to the summons, or is brought before the justices by virtue of a warrant, and the complainant (having had notice of such day and place) does not appear personally or by counsel, or solicitor, the justices shall dismiss the complaint, unless for some reason they think proper to adjourn the hearing of the same to some other day, in which case they may adjourn the hearing accordingly, upon such terms as they think fit, and may commit the defendant in the meantime or may grant the defendant bail.

Proceedings in absence of defendant

142.(1) If at the time and place so appointed the defendant does not appear when called, and proof is made to the justices upon oath, or by deposition made in the way hereinbefore prescribed, of due service of the summons upon the defendant a reasonable time before the time appointed for the defendant's appearance the justices may—

- (a) proceed ex parte to hear and determine the case as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if the defendant had personally appeared before them in obedience to the said summons; or

- (b) upon oath being made before them substantiating the matter of the complaint to their satisfaction, issue their warrant to apprehend the defendant and to bring the defendant before justices to answer the complaint and to be further dealt with according to law; or
- (c) upon the written plea of guilty of the defendant and upon being satisfied that the requirements of section 146A have been complied with in all respects, proceed as prescribed by that section; or
- (d) because of the absence of any witness or any other reasonable cause, adjourn the hearing to a time and place to be then stated or to be determined as hereinbefore in this Act provided before a court constituted in accordance with this Act by such justices as may then be present.

(2) When the justices proceed as prescribed by subsection (1)(a) or (c) they shall not—

- (a) order that the defendant be disqualified either absolutely or for any period from holding or obtaining any licence, registration, certificate, permit or other authority under any Act or order that any licence, registration, certificate, permit or other authority held by the defendant under any Act be cancelled or suspended; or
- (b) order that the defendant be imprisoned (not being imprisonment in default of payment of any penalty, compensation, sum of money or costs adjudged to be paid by the decision of the justices);

unless the justices have first adjourned or further adjourned the hearing of the complaint to a time and place appointed by the justices to enable the defendant to appear for the purpose of making submissions on the question of such disqualification, cancellation or suspension or penalty, as the case may be.

(3) The clerk of the court shall forthwith after any adjournment under subsection (2) give notice in writing to the defendant informing the defendant of—

Justices Act 1886

- (a) the time and place to which the hearing is adjourned; and
- (b) the purpose of the adjournment; and
- (c) the defendant's right to be heard at the adjourned hearing.

(3A) Such notice may be given by service thereof upon the defendant personally or by post at the address of the defendant last known to the clerk of the court.

(4) If at any time and place to which the hearing is adjourned pursuant to subsection (2)—

- (a) the defendant does not appear; and
- (b) it is proved that the notice in writing prescribed by subsection (3) was given to the defendant a reasonable time before the adjourned hearing;

the justices then present may proceed as prescribed by subsection (1)(a) or (c) as if subsection (2) had not been enacted.

(5) A document purporting to be a duplicate original or a copy of a notice given to the defendant under this section and endorsed with a certificate purporting to be signed by the person by whom the document was served upon the defendant personally or, where the document was served by post, by the clerk of the court to the effect that—

- (a) the document is a duplicate original or copy of the notice given to the defendant named therein; and
- (b) the document was served upon the defendant personally, or, as the case may be, was posted to the address appearing therein which was the address of the defendant last known to the clerk; and
- (c) where the document was served by post—in the ordinary course of post the notice would be delivered on the date specified in such endorsement;

shall be evidence that the notice was given to the defendant named therein according to the certificate so endorsed and, where the document was served by post, that the address appearing therein is the address of the defendant last known to the clerk.

(6) Where a case is, at any place, heard and determined ex parte under subsection (1)(a), any Magistrates Court at that place, upon application made in that behalf by the clerk of the court or the complainant or by the defendant or on the defendant's behalf by counsel or solicitor within 28 days after such determination, may, for such reason as it thinks proper, grant a rehearing of the complaint upon such terms and subject to the payment of such costs as it thinks fit.

(7) When a rehearing is granted—

- (a) the conviction or order made upon the first hearing shall, subject to the provisions of subsection (8), forthwith cease to have effect;
- (b) the court may proceed with the rehearing forthwith or may set down the rehearing for a later date;
- (c) on such rehearing, the court shall have the same powers and shall follow the same procedures as if the rehearing were an original hearing.

(8) If the clerk of the court, the complainant or the defendant, as the case may be, does not appear at the time and place for which the rehearing is set down, the court may, if it thinks fit, without rehearing the case, direct that the original conviction or order be restored when it shall be restored to effect accordingly and shall be deemed to be of effect on and from the date it was first pronounced.

Permissible procedure in absence of defendant in certain cases

142A.(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of this Act or any other Act it shall be lawful to adopt in respect of a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty made by a public officer or a police officer the procedure prescribed by this section.

(2) Every step or proceeding to be taken in carrying out such procedure and the making of any order in the course thereof shall be subject to the provisions of this Act (other than of this section) and the provisions of the Decentralisation of Magistrates Courts Act 1965 except so far as the provisions of this section are inconsistent with the other provisions of this Act or, as the case may be, the provisions of that Act.

(4) Where—

- (a) a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty is made by a public officer or a police officer; and

- (b) a summons issued upon the complaint is served at least 14 days before the date on which the defendant is required by such summons to appear or a notice of adjournment is given to the defendant a reasonable time before the date fixed for the hearing of the complaint if the hearing is adjourned; and
- (c) the defendant does not appear at the time and place fixed for the hearing of the complaint;

the court before which the complaint comes for hearing, whether on the return date or an adjourned date, may, if it is satisfied that the facts as alleged in or annexed to or served with the complaint or summons according to law constitute such a simple offence or breach of duty and that reasonably sufficient particulars thereof are set out in or annexed to or served with the complaint or summons as aforesaid, deal with and determine the matter of the complaint as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if the said facts and particulars had been established by evidence under oath before it and as if the defendant had personally appeared before it in obedience to the said summons.

(5) In dealing with and determining a complaint pursuant to subsection (4) the court may take into account any information considered by it to be relevant brought to its notice by or on behalf of the complainant or defendant in relation to the circumstances of the matter of the complaint and the imposition of a penalty.

(6) If in respect of a proceeding under subsection (4) the court considers that—

- (a) the defendant should be imprisoned otherwise than by way of default; or
- (b) any licence, registration, certificate, permit or other authority held by the defendant under any Act should be cancelled or suspended; or
- (c) the defendant should be disqualified from holding or obtaining any licence, registration, certificate, permit or other authority under any Act;

it shall not deal further with the complaint in such proceeding unless it has first adjourned or further adjourned the hearing of the complaint to a time and place appointed by it to enable the defendant to appear for the purpose of making submissions on the question of such penalty, disqualification, cancellation or suspension, as the case may be.

(7) The clerk of the court shall forthwith after any adjournment of a hearing under this section give notice in writing to the defendant informing the defendant of—

- (a) the time and place to which the hearing is adjourned; and
- (b) the purpose of the adjournment; and
- (c) the defendant's right to be heard at the adjourned hearing.

(7A) Such notice may be given by service thereof upon the defendant personally or by post at the address of the defendant last known to the clerk of the court.

(8) If at any time and place to which a hearing is adjourned under this section—

- (a) the defendant does not appear; and
- (b) it is proved that the notice in writing prescribed by subsection (7) was given to the defendant a reasonable time before the adjourned hearing;

the court may proceed as prescribed by subsection (4) and, if the hearing is adjourned pursuant to subsection (6), may proceed as prescribed by subsection (4) as if subsection (6) had not been enacted.

(9) A document purporting to be a duplicate original or a copy of a notice given to the defendant under this section and endorsed with a certificate purporting to be signed by the person by whom the document was served upon the defendant personally or, where the document was served by post, by the clerk of the court to the effect that—

- (a) the document is a duplicate original or copy of the notice given to the defendant named therein; and
- (b) the document was served upon the defendant personally or, as the case may be, was posted to the address appearing therein which was the address of the defendant last known to the clerk; and
- (c) where the document was served by post, in the ordinary course of post the notice would be delivered on the date specified in such endorsement;

shall be evidence that the notice was given to the defendant named therein according to the certificate so endorsed and, where the document was served by post, that the address appearing therein is the address of the defendant last known to the clerk.

(10) The clerk of the court shall forthwith upon the determination of the matter of a complaint pursuant to this section send by post to the defendant at the defendant's address last known to the clerk an advice of the minute or memorandum of the conviction or order made and signed under section 150.

(10A) The advice shall set forth a statement to the effect of the provisions of subsections (11) to (12B).

(11) A warrant of commitment or execution shall not issue until after the expiration of 28 days from the date of the conviction or order.

(12) Upon the determination of the matter of a complaint in accordance with the provisions of this section, the court at the place of determination, upon application made in that behalf by the clerk of the court or the complainant or by the defendant or on the defendant's behalf by counsel or solicitor within 28 days after such determination may, for such reason as it thinks proper, grant a rehearing of the complaint upon such terms and subject to the payment of such costs as it thinks fit.

(12A) When a rehearing is granted—

- (a) the conviction or order made in the first instance shall, subject to subsection (12B), forthwith cease to have effect;
- (b) the court may proceed with the rehearing forthwith or may set down the rehearing for a later date;
- (c) on such rehearing, the court shall have and may exercise all the powers and procedures that it has in the case of an original hearing.

(12B) If the clerk of the court, the complainant or the defendant, as the case may be, does not appear at the time and place for which the rehearing is set down, the court may, if it thinks fit, without rehearing the case, direct that the original conviction or order be restored whereupon it shall be restored to have effect accordingly and shall be deemed to be of effect on and from the date it was first pronounced.

(13) The jurisdiction of the court under this section other than with respect to an adjournment may be exercised only by a stipendiary magistrate.

(14) For the purposes of this section, a complaint that purports to have been laid by a public officer or by a police officer, shall, until the contrary is proved, be presumed to have been so laid.

(15) In this section—

“public officer” does not include—

- (a) an officer of the public service of the Commonwealth; or
- (b) an officer or employee of a statutory body that represents the Crown in right of the Commonwealth.

Or justices may adjourn the case

143.(1) When the justices upon the non-appearance of the defendant issue their warrant, they shall adjourn the hearing of the complaint until the defendant is apprehended, and if the defendant is afterwards apprehended under such warrant, the defendant shall be detained in safe custody and shall be brought, as soon as practicable, before a court to be dealt with according to law.

(2) The complainant shall be given reasonable notice of the time and place at which the defendant will be brought before such court.

Division 3—Hearing

Both parties appearing

144. If both parties appear either personally or by counsel or solicitor, then the justices may proceed to hear and determine the complaint.

Defendant to be asked to plead

145.(1) When the defendant is present at the hearing the substance of the complaint shall be stated to the defendant and the defendant shall be asked how he or she pleads.

(2) If the defendant pleads guilty, the Magistrates Court shall convict the defendant or make an order against the defendant or deal with the defendant in any other manner authorised by law.

Where defendant pleads not guilty

146.(1) If the defendant pleads not guilty then the court may—

- (a) proceed to hear the complainant and the complainant's witnesses, and the defendant and the defendant's witnesses, and the complainant and such witnesses as the complainant may examine in reply if the defendant has given evidence other than as to the defendant's general character and, upon consideration of all the evidence adduced, determine the matter and shall convict the defendant or make an order against the defendant or dismiss the complaint as justice may require; or
- (b) upon good reason appearing therefor, before any evidence is adduced, adjourn the hearing.

(2) A hearing may be adjourned pursuant to subsection (1) from time to time provided no evidence has been adduced before any court in respect of the complaint.

(3) When a hearing is adjourned pursuant to subsection (1) the provisions of section 88 shall, with all necessary adaptations, apply thereto.

(4) The hearing so adjourned may proceed at the time and place to which it is adjourned before a court constituted in accordance with this Act by such justices as may then be present, notwithstanding that the defendant has pleaded to the complaint.

Proceeding at the hearing on defendant's confession in absentia

146A.(1) This section applies if a summons has been issued requiring a person to appear before a Magistrates Court or justices to answer a complaint, other than a complaint of—

- (a) an offence that is also triable on indictment; or
- (b) an offence for which the defendant is liable to be sentenced to imprisonment for a term of more than 1 year; or

Justices Act 1886

- (c) an offence prescribed by regulation for the purposes of this paragraph; or
- (d) an offence in relation to which another Act requires the court or justices to proceed in a way different from that provided by this section.

(2) Where the clerk of the court receives a notification in writing purporting to be given by the defendant or by a solicitor acting on the defendant's behalf that the defendant wishes to plead guilty without appearing before the court and the defendant does not appear at the time and place appointed for the hearing or adjourned hearing of the complaint, then—

- (a) the justices may proceed to hear and determine the case in the absence of the defendant in like manner as if the defendant had appeared and pleaded guilty; or
- (b) if the justices decide not to proceed as aforesaid, they shall adjourn or further adjourn the hearing for the purpose of dealing with the complaint as if the notification aforesaid had not been given.

(2A) However—

- (a) if at any time before the hearing the clerk of the court receives an intimation in writing purporting to be given by or on behalf of the defendant that the defendant wishes to withdraw the notification aforesaid, the justices shall deal with the complaint as if this section had not been passed;
- (b) before accepting the plea of guilty and convicting the defendant in the defendant's absence under subsection (2), the justices shall cause the aforesaid notification, including any submission received with the notification which the defendant wishes to be brought to the attention of the justices with a view to mitigation of penalty, to be read out before the court and shall require a statement with respect to the facts relating to the offence to be made by or on behalf of the complainant.

(3) Section 142(1)(b) shall not apply to an adjournment by reason of the requirements of subsection (2)(b).

(3A) In relation to such an adjournment, the adjourned hearing shall not be resumed at the appointed time and place unless the justices are satisfied that the defendant has had adequate notice thereof.

(3B) The defendant shall be deemed to have had adequate notice of the adjourned hearing if notice thereof has been given to the defendant as a notice of adjournment may be given for the purposes of section 142 under subsection (3) of that section, and subsections (3) and (5) of that section shall, with and subject to all necessary adaptations, apply accordingly.

(4) Where justices convict a person in the person's absence under subsection (2) for an offence upon conviction wherefore the justices may, whether or not they impose a penalty, order the defendant to pay any fee, charge or other sum of money whatsoever to any person or authority, then—

- (a) upon proof to the satisfaction of the justices, on oath or in the prescribed manner, that there has been served upon the defendant with the summons, or a reasonable time before the time appointed for the appearance of the defendant, a notice informing the defendant that if the defendant is convicted of the offence referred to in the summons application will be made to the court to order the defendant to pay the amount stated in the notice of such fee, charge or other sum of money; and
- (b) upon being satisfied that the amount or any part of the amount stated in such notice, should have been, but has not been, paid by the defendant to such person or authority in respect of such fee, charge or other sum of money;

the justices may, in addition to the penalty (if any) imposed for the offence, order the defendant to pay such unpaid amount or part.

(5) A person who serves a notice referred to in subsection (4) may serve such notice in the same manner as is provided for the service of a summons by this Act and may attend before any justice having jurisdiction in the State or part of the State or part of the Commonwealth in which such notice was served, and depose, on oath and in writing endorsed on the notice, to the service thereof.

(6) Such deposition shall upon production to the justices by whom the case is heard and determined be sufficient proof of the service of the notice on the defendant.

Payment to clerk of the court of money recoverable in a summary way

146B.(1) Any person summoned under this Act to answer a complaint that the person has failed to pay a sum of money allegedly payable by the person under any Act and recoverable, whether with or without the addition of a further sum by way of penalty, by complaint in a summary way under this Act, may pay to a clerk of the court a sum of money in answer to such complaint together with the costs incurred by the complainant up to the time of payment.

(2) Notice of the payment to a clerk of the court shall be communicated by the defendant to the complainant by post or by causing it to be delivered at the complainant's usual or last known place of residence or business, and such sum of money shall be paid to the complainant, but if the complainant elects to proceed, and does not recover a further sum (including an additional sum (if any) by way of penalty) in the proceedings than is paid to a clerk of the court, the complainant shall pay to the defendant the costs incurred by the defendant in the proceedings after the payment, and an order shall thereupon be made by the justices for the payment of the costs by the complainant.

(3) Where the defendant is desirous of paying money to a clerk of the court it shall, together with court fees and the solicitor's costs—

- (a) in the case of a summons served not less than 7 clear days before the return day thereof—be paid 4 clear days before such return day; or
- (b) in the case of a summons served less than 7 clear days before the return day thereof—be paid before such return day.

(4) Solicitor's costs payable to a clerk of the court under this section shall be according to the scale prescribed by regulations made under this Act and, in so far as not so prescribed, shall be according to the scale prescribed by the Magistrates Courts Rules.

(5) However, at any time before the return day the defendant may pay money into court with such costs as aforesaid and give notice thereof to the complainant and where money is so paid in less than 4 clear days before the return day in the case of a summons served not less than 7 days before the return day it shall be lawful for the court to order the defendant to pay such costs as the complainant shall have reasonably incurred in preparing for hearing before the notice of such payment was received by the complainant.

Justices may proceed to hearing in absence of both or either of the parties

147. If at the time or place to which a hearing or further hearing is adjourned, either or both of the parties does not or do not appear personally or by counsel or solicitor, the justices then present may proceed to such hearing or further hearing as if such party or parties were present, or if the complainant does not appear the justices may dismiss the complaint with or without costs.

Power of justices to reopen proceedings and rectify orders

(2) Where justices record a conviction or make an order that is based on or contains an error of fact, those justices or any other justices may, on the application of a party to the proceedings or a clerk of the court reopen the proceedings and after giving the parties an opportunity of being heard, set aside the conviction or vacate or vary the order in either case to conform with the facts.

(3) The powers conferred by subsection (2) include power to set aside a conviction or vacate or vary an order where the justices are satisfied that—

- (a) the conviction or order has been recorded or made against the wrong person;
- (b) the summons issued upon the complaint originating the proceedings that resulted in the conviction or order did not come to the knowledge of the defendant;
- (c) the defendant in the proceedings that resulted in the conviction or order has been previously convicted of the offence the subject of the complaint originating those proceedings; or
- (d) the conviction or order recorded or made against the person was incorrectly ordered or made because of someone's deceit.

(4) The justices may, upon the hearing of an application pursuant to this section, take evidence orally or by affidavit.

(5) An application pursuant to subsection (2) shall be made within 28 days after the date of the conviction or order or such further time as the justices allow upon application made at any time in that behalf.

Conduct of summary proceedings regulated

148. The practice before justices upon the hearing of a complaint of a simple offence or breach of duty shall, in respect of the examination and cross-examination of witnesses and the right of addressing the justices upon the case in reply or otherwise, be in accordance as nearly as may be with the practice for the time being of the Supreme Court upon the trial of an issue of fact in an action at law.

Division 4—Dismissal

Dismissal of complaint

149. If the justices dismiss a complaint, they may, if required so to do, and if they think fit, make an order of dismissal, and give the defendant a certificate thereof, which certificate shall upon production and without further proof be a bar to any subsequent complaint for the same matter against the same person.

Minute of decision to be made and advice thereof sent by post

150.(1) When justices convict or make an order, a minute or memorandum of the conviction or order shall be made and signed by them and where neither the person convicted or against whom the order was made nor the person's counsel, solicitor or agent was present when the conviction was pronounced or the order made, an advice thereof signed by the clerk of the court by which the conviction was pronounced or the order made shall be sent by post to the person convicted or against whom the order was made at the person's address last known to that clerk.

(2) A minute or memorandum made pursuant to this section shall not form part of the warrant of commitment or execution.

(3) In a case provided for by this section a warrant of commitment or execution shall not issue until after the expiration of 28 days from the date of the conviction or order, unless the adjudicating justices otherwise direct.

Division 5—Convictions and orders

Formal convictions and orders

151. The conviction or order shall afterwards, if required, be drawn up by the justices in proper form, and they shall cause the same to be lodged with the clerk of the court, to be by the clerk of the court filed among the records of the court.

Formal record of conviction not necessary, except for special purposes

152. Provided that it shall not be necessary for justices formally to draw up a conviction or order or any other record of a decision, unless the same is demanded by a party to the proceedings for the purpose of an appeal against the decision, or is required for the purpose of a return to a writ of habeas corpus or other writ from the Supreme Court.

No certiorari order

153. No conviction shall be quashed for want of form or be removed by certiorari order (within the meaning of the Judicial Review Act 1991) or otherwise into the Supreme Court, and no warrant of commitment on a conviction shall be held void by reason of any formal defect therein, provided it is therein alleged that the party has been duly convicted and there is a good and valid conviction to sustain it.

Division 6—Supply of copies of record

Copies of record

154.(1) When in any proceeding before justices an order is made, or the justices commit the defendant to be tried or for sentence, or discharge the defendant, the person having custody of the record of the proceeding shall upon—

- (a) the application in writing of any person who, in the person's opinion, has a sufficient interest in the proceeding or in securing a copy of the record thereof or of the part of such record applied for; and
- (b) payment of the amount of the prescribed fee;

subject to this section, supply to the applicant a copy of the complaint relevant to the proceeding, the depositions taken therein, any order made therein (including an order for the committal or discharge of the defendant), any documentary exhibit therein other than a photograph, or, as the case may require, a copy of such of them as the applicant applies for.

(2) Save where the application is made by or on behalf of a person who feels aggrieved by a conviction or order of any justice or justices in connection with the institution of an appeal against that conviction or order, or where the Minister otherwise determines, a person shall not be entitled under this section to a copy of—

- (a) any part of the record of a proceeding in the Childrens Court; or
- (b) any part of the record of a proceeding which has been made whilst persons have been excluded from the court, room or place wherein the proceeding was conducted by order of justices under section 70 or 71.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not be construed to prejudice the provisions of the Criminal Code, sections 705 and 706.

Division 8—Costs

Costs on conviction or order

157. In all cases of summary convictions and orders including such a conviction for an indictable offence, the justices making the same may, in their discretion, order by the conviction or order that the defendant shall pay to the complainant such costs as to them seem just and reasonable.

Costs on dismissal

158.(1) When justices instead of convicting or making an order dismiss the complaint, they may by their order of dismissal order that the complainant shall pay to the defendant such costs as to them seem just and reasonable.

(2) When a complaint is before a Magistrates Court which the court has not jurisdiction to hear and determine the court shall order the complaint to be struck out for want of jurisdiction and may order that the complainant pay to the defendant such costs as to the court seem just and reasonable.

Exercise of discretion in relation to an award of costs

158A.(1) Despite section 158(1), justices who dismiss a complaint may make an order for costs in favour of a defendant against a complainant who is a police officer or public officer only if the justices are satisfied that it is proper that the order for costs should be made.

(2) In deciding whether it is proper to make the order for costs, the justices must take into account all relevant circumstances, including, for example—

- (a) whether the proceeding was brought and continued in good faith; and
- (b) whether there was a failure to take appropriate steps to investigate a matter coming to, or within, the knowledge of a person responsible for bringing or continuing the proceeding; and
- (c) whether the investigation into the offence was conducted in an appropriate way; and
- (d) whether the order of dismissal was made on technical grounds and not on a finding that there was insufficient evidence to convict or make an order against the defendant; and
- (e) whether the defendant brought suspicion on himself or herself by conduct engaged in after the events constituting the commission of the offence; and
- (f) whether the defendant unreasonably declined an opportunity before a charge was laid—
 - (i) to explain the defendant's version of the events; or
 - (ii) to produce evidence likely to exonerate the defendant; and the explanation or evidence could have avoided a prosecution;

and

- (g) whether the defendant conducted the defence in a way that prolonged the proceeding unreasonably; and
- (h) whether the defendant was acquitted on a charge, but convicted on another.

(3) If an order for costs under section 158 is made against a complainant who is a police officer or public officer (within the meaning of this subsection), the clerk of the court is to give to the defendant a certificate signed by the clerk showing the amount of costs awarded.

(4) Subject to subsection (5), the defendant is entitled to be paid by the State the amount shown in the certificate within 2 months after payment is claimed.

(5) If an appeal against an order for costs is made under section 222—

- (a) payment of the amount shown in the certificate is stayed until the appeal is decided; and
- (b) payment is to be made of the amount (if any) ordered or confirmed by further order made on the appeal.

(6) In subsection (3)—

“public officer” does not include—

- (a) an officer or employee of the public service of the Commonwealth; or
- (b) an officer or employee of a statutory body that represents the Crown in right of the Commonwealth; or
- (c) an officer or employee of a local government.

The sum allowed for costs to be specified in the conviction or order

159. The sum so allowed for costs shall in all cases be specified in the conviction or order or order of dismissal, or order striking out a complaint for want of jurisdiction.

Costs how recoverable

160. The sum allowed for costs in a conviction or order by which a penalty or sum of money is adjudged to be paid shall be recoverable in the same manner and under the same warrants as the penalty or sum of money adjudged to be paid by the conviction or order is recoverable.

Division 9—Enforcement of decisionsMode of enforcement where no express provision made

161. When any decision adjudges or requires the payment of a penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs and when the Act by virtue of which such decision is made does not expressly provide—

- (a) that the amount of such penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs is to be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the person liable to make such payment, or by execution; or
- (b) that such person in default of payment of such penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs either immediately or within a time to be fixed by the adjudicating justices is to be imprisoned for any period not exceeding the period stated in such Act;

then the adjudicating justices shall in their discretion either direct that the amount of such penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs shall be recoverable by execution against the goods and chattels of the person liable to make such payment or in the alternative direct that in default of payment of such penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs either immediately or within a time to be fixed by them such person shall be imprisoned for any period not exceeding the period prescribed by the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992.

Mode of levying penalties, moneys or costs

161A. When the adjudicating justices in their discretion direct that the amount of the penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs adjudged or required to be paid under a decision shall be recoverable by execution and also when the Act by virtue of which a decision adjudging or requiring the payment of a penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs is made expressly provides that the amount of such penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs is to be levied by distress or execution, then the amount of such penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs shall be recoverable by execution against the goods and chattels of the person liable to make such payment and a warrant of execution may be issued for the purpose of levying the same.

Power to detain until return of warrant

162. When a justice issues a warrant of execution the justice may suffer the person against whom such warrant of execution is issued to go at large, or the justice may verbally or by writing order such person to be kept and detained in safe custody until return is made to the warrant of execution, unless such person gives sufficient security by recognisance or otherwise to the satisfaction of the justice for the person's appearance at the time and place appointed for the return of the warrant of execution.

Commitment in default of execution

163. In any case in which a warrant of execution may be issued under the provisions hereinbefore contained, if at the time and place appointed for the return of the warrant the officer who has the execution of the same, returns that the officer could find no goods or chattels, or no sufficient goods or chattels, whereon the officer could levy the sum therein mentioned together with the costs of or occasioned by levying the same, the justice before whom the same is returned may order the person against whom such warrant of execution is issued to be imprisoned for a period as prescribed by the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, unless the sum adjudged to be paid and all costs and charges of the execution, and also, if the justice thinks fit so to order, the costs and charges of taking and conveying such person to gaol (the amount thereof being ascertained and stated in the warrant of commitment), are sooner paid.

When court may order imprisonment in default of execution

163A. In all cases where the decision adjudges or requires the payment of a penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs, and the same is, in pursuance of this Act, recoverable by execution against the goods and chattels of the person liable to make such payment, the adjudicating justices may, as part of such decision, further order that in default of sufficient distress to satisfy the sum adjudged to be paid and the costs and charges of execution, the person liable to make such payment shall be imprisoned for a period as prescribed by the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, unless the sum adjudged to be paid and all costs and charges of the execution, and also, if the justices think fit so to order, the costs and charges of taking and conveying the said person to prison (the amount thereof being ascertained and stated in the said decision), are sooner paid.

Payment by instalments of, or security taken for payment of, money

164.(1) When by a decision any sum or costs is or are adjudged to be paid the justices may do all or any of the following things, namely—

- (a) allow time for the payment of the sum or costs;
- (b) direct payment of the sum or costs to be made by instalments;
- (c) direct that the person liable to pay the sum or costs shall be at liberty to give, to the satisfaction of such person as shall be specified by the justices, security, with or without a surety or sureties, for the payment of the sum or costs, or of any instalment thereof, and such security may be given and enforced in manner provided by this Act.

(2) When a sum or costs is or are directed to be paid by instalments and default is made in the payment of any 1 instalment the same proceedings may be taken as if the original decision had adjudged the payment of all the instalments then remaining unpaid and default had been made therein.

(3) The justices directing the payment of a sum or costs or of an instalment of a sum or costs may direct such payment to be made at such time or times, and in such place or places, and to such person or persons, as may be specified, and every person to whom any such sum or costs or instalment is or are paid, if the person is not the clerk of the court, shall as soon as may be pay over or account for the same to the clerk of the court.

Power to issue or postpone warrant

166A.(1) Notwithstanding anything in this Act or any other Act, the clerk of the court at the place where a decision was made or a justice at that place authorised by that clerk shall issue a warrant of execution for any sum adjudged to be paid by a decision or shall issue a warrant of commitment for nonpayment of such sum or for default of sufficient distress to satisfy such sum as soon as practicable after the expiration of the time (if any) allowed by the court for the payment of the sum adjudged to be paid and no sooner.

(2) The clerk of the court or justice may if the clerk of the court or justice deems it expedient so to do and upon application in writing made by any party to the proceedings postpone the issue of the warrant for such time and on such conditions (if any) as seem just.

(3) This section shall apply in a case provided for by section 150 subject to the provisions of that section.

Commitment where execution would be ruinous

167. If it appears to the justices that the issue of a warrant of execution would be ruinous or injurious to the person against whom a decision is made or the person's family, or if it appears to such justices by the confession of the person against whom a decision is made or otherwise that the person has no goods or chattels whereon to levy the penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs, then such justices, instead of issuing a warrant of execution, may order such person to be imprisoned for a period as prescribed by the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, unless the sum and costs (if any), or the costs adjudged to be paid, and also, if the justices think fit so to order, the costs and charges of taking and conveying such person to gaol (the amount thereof being ascertained and stated in the warrant of commitment), are sooner paid.

To whom payments to be made

169. In every warrant of execution the person to whom it is directed shall be thereby ordered to pay the amount of the sum and costs to be levied thereunder to the clerk of the court, and if any person convicted of any penalty or ordered by justices to pay any sum of money or costs pays the same to any other person, such other person shall forthwith pay the same to such clerk of the court.

Effect thereof

171. By virtue of such warrant the sum therein mentioned as payable, and costs, or so much thereof as has not been before levied or paid, shall and may be levied by the person bringing such warrant or by the person to whom it was originally directed, by execution against the goods and chattels of the person against whom it is issued.

Procedure on execution

172. With respect to warrants of execution issued by justices, the following provisions shall have effect—

- (a) the warrant shall be executed by seizure and sale of the goods and chattels of the person against whom the warrant is issued, and shall be executed by or under the direction of a police officer;
- (b) except so far as the person against whom the execution is issued otherwise consents in writing, the goods and chattels seized shall be sold by public auction, and 5 clear days, at the least, shall intervene between the making of the levy and the sale, of which due and public notice shall be given, except in the case of perishable goods, which may be sold at the expiration of 24 hours from seizure after such notice as is practicable; but where written consent is so given, the sale may be made in accordance with such consent;
- (c) subject as aforesaid, the goods and chattels seized shall be sold within the period fixed by the warrant, and if no period is so fixed, then within the period of 14 days from the date of making the levy, unless the sum for which the warrant was issued, together with the charges of the execution, are sooner paid;
- (d) subject to any directions to the contrary given by the warrant of execution, where household goods are seized, the goods shall not, except with the consent, in writing, of the person against whom the execution is issued, be removed from the house until the day of sale, but so much of the goods as is, in the opinion of the person executing the warrant, sufficient to satisfy the execution shall be impounded by affixing to the articles impounded a conspicuous mark, and any person who removes any goods so marked, or defaces or removes such mark, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 1 penalty unit;

- (e) when a person charged with the execution of a warrant of execution wilfully retains from the produce of any goods sold to satisfy the execution or otherwise exacts, any greater costs and charges than those to which the person is for the time being entitled by law, or makes any improper charge, the person shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding 1 penalty unit, and the justices before whom the person is convicted may order the person to pay any sum so retained, exacted, or improperly charged, to the person entitled thereto;
- (f) a written account of the costs and charges incurred in respect of the execution of any warrant of execution shall be sent by the police officer charged with the execution of the warrant, as soon as practicable, to the clerk of the court, and the person against whom the warrant was issued may, at any time within 1 month after the levy, inspect such account without fee or reward, at any reasonable time, and take a copy of such account;
- (g) the police officer charged with the execution of a warrant of execution shall cause the goods and chattels seized under it to be sold, and may deduct out of the amount realised by such sale all costs and charges actually incurred in effecting such sale, and shall render to the owner the overplus (if any) after retaining the amount of the sum for which the warrant was issued, and the proper costs and charges of the execution of the warrant;
- (h) when a person pays or tenders to the police officer charged with the execution of a warrant of execution the sum mentioned in such warrant, or produces the receipt for the same of the clerk of the court and also pays the amount of the costs and charges of the execution up to the time of such payment or tender, the officer shall not execute the warrant.

Mitigation of punishment by justices

173.(1) Subject as in this Act mentioned and notwithstanding any enactment to the contrary, when justices have authority under this Act or under any other Act, whether past or future, to impose imprisonment or to impose a fine for an offence punishable on summary conviction, such justices may, in the case of imprisonment, reduce the prescribed period thereof, and in the case of a fine, if it is imposed as in respect of a first offence, may reduce the prescribed amount thereof.

(2) Where in a case when either imprisonment or fine is imposed there is prescribed a requirement for the defendant to enter into the defendant's recognisance and to find sureties for keeping the peace, or being of good behaviour, and observing some other condition, or to do any of such things, the justices may dispense with any such requirement or any part thereof.

(3) Where justices have authority under an Act other than this Act, whether past or future, to impose imprisonment for an offence punishable on summary conviction, and have not authority to impose a penalty for that offence, they may notwithstanding, when adjudicating on that offence, if they think that the justice of the case will be better met by a fine than by imprisonment, impose a penalty not exceeding 165 penalty units, and not being of such an amount as will subject the offender under the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, in default of payment of the penalty, to any greater term of imprisonment than that to which the person is liable under the Act authorising the imprisonment.

Police officer to execute warrant of commitment when full sum not tendered 174A.(1) When a person tenders to the police officer charged with the execution of a warrant of commitment for nonpayment of the amount of any penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs adjudged or required to be paid by a decision the sum mentioned in such warrant together with the amount of the costs and charges (if any) therein also mentioned such police officer shall accept the sum so tendered.

(2) If the sum mentioned in such warrant together with the amount of the costs and charges (if any) therein also mentioned is paid to such police officer the police officer shall not execute the warrant but if part only of such sum is tendered the police officer shall execute such warrant according to the directions thereby given.

Transfer of jurisdiction as to enforcement of fines etc.

175.(1) When any decision adjudges or requires the payment of any penalty or compensation or sum of money or costs and it appears that the person liable to make such payment does not reside at or near the place where such decision was made the clerk of the court at such place may if the clerk of the court considers that any act or acts for the enforcement of such decision can more conveniently be performed at some other place appointed for holding Magistrates Courts prepare and sign a certificate in duplicate called a 'transfer of fine certificate' and transmit to the clerk of the court at such other place such transfer of fine certificate and the duplicate thereof together with the minute or memorandum of the decision aforesaid.

(2) Where it appears at any time to a clerk of the court to whom a transfer of fine certificate has been transmitted that any act or acts for the enforcement of such decision can more conveniently be performed at some other place appointed for holding Magistrates Courts such clerk of the court may prepare and sign a further transfer of fine certificate, in triplicate, and transmit to the clerk of the court at such other place such certificate and the duplicate thereof together with a minute or memorandum of the decision aforesaid and shall thereupon transmit forthwith to the clerk of the court at the place where the decision aforesaid was made the triplicate of such certificate.

(3) Every transfer of fine certificate shall include particulars of the minute or memorandum of the decision aforesaid and shall state the acts (if any) performed to enforce the said decision and the amount still required to be paid in satisfaction of such decision and when such certificate has been signed by the clerk of the court it shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated.

(4) When a clerk of the court receives a transfer of fine certificate the clerk of the court shall forthwith sign the memorandum of receipt endorsed on the duplicate certificate and transmit the same to the clerk of the court from whom the certificate has been received.

(5) As from the date of the transmission of a transfer of fine certificate all acts for the enforcement of such decision which if such a certificate had not been transmitted could have been performed at some other place shall (unless a further transfer of fine certificate is signed and transmitted as hereinbefore provided) be performed at the place to which such certificate has been transmitted and not otherwise.

(6) However, any payment received by a clerk of the court by virtue of a transfer of fine certificate shall be forthwith transmitted by the clerk of the court to and shall be accounted for by the clerk of the court at the place where such decision was made.

(7) Where such decision is enforced by virtue of a transfer of fine certificate the clerk of the court at the place where such decision is so enforced shall report the result of such enforcement to the clerk of the court at the place where such decision was made.

Allocation of part payments

175A. Subject to any direction contained in the Act under which the complaint was made any sum received by a clerk of the court under a decision shall be applied—

- (a) in the first place, in the repayment to the complainant (or in the case of an order of dismissal or other order in favour of the defendant, to the defendant) of any court fees paid by the complainant or defendant; and
- (b) in the second place, in the payment of any court fees which have been ordered to be paid and have not already been paid by the complainant or defendant as aforementioned; and
- (c) in the third place, in the payment of any costs and charges of taking and conveying the person making payment to prison (if previously ascertained and stated in the decision); and
- (d) in the fourth place, in payment or repayment of any witnesses' expenses payable under the decision; and
- (e) in the fifth place, in payment of any professional costs payable under the decision; and
- (f) in the sixth place, in payment of any other fees or costs payable under the decision; and
- (g) in the seventh place, in payment of any compensation restitution or damages adjudged by the decision to be paid; and

- (h) in the eighth place, in payment of any sum directed by the decision to be paid and, subject to such direction (if any) in the manner in which fines, penalties, or forfeitures are to be duly appropriated.

Remission of penalty

177. The Governor may remit the whole or any part of any fine, penalty, forfeiture, or costs imposed by a conviction, whether any part thereof is payable to any person other than Her Majesty or not, and upon such remission the conviction shall cease to have effect either wholly or partially as the case may be.

Power to withhold fines payable to informers

178. The justices may adjudge that no part of a penalty, or such part only of a penalty as they think fit, shall be paid to an informer, not being a party aggrieved, unless by the Act on which the conviction is founded it is expressly directed that a moiety or other fixed portion of the penalty shall be paid to the informer.

PART 6A—USE OF VIDEO LINK FACILITIES

Purpose of part

178A. The purpose of this part is to provide for the use of video link facilities for certain proceedings before a Magistrates Court.

Definitions for part

178B. In this part—

“detainee” means—

- (a) for section 178C(1)—someone who is in custody at a correctional institution; and

- (b) otherwise—someone who is—
 - (i) in custody at a correctional institution; and
 - (ii) a party to a proceeding.

“proceeding” for a provision of this part, other than section 178C(1), means a proceeding to which section 178C(1) applies.

Use of video link facilities in proceedings

178C.(1) This section applies to a proceeding if—

- (a) a detainee is entitled or required to be present before a Magistrates Court for the proceeding; and
- (b) the proceeding is about an offence with which the detainee is charged, including a proceeding for the detainee’s bail or remand; and
- (c) video link facilities are available linking the correctional institution where the detainee is in custody and the court.

(2) A proceeding for the detainee’s bail or remand must be conducted using the video link facilities, unless the court, in the interests of justice, otherwise orders.

(3) In a proceeding, other than a proceeding for the detainee’s bail or remand, the court may order the proceeding be conducted using video link facilities only if all parties consent.

(4) The video link facilities may only be used to link the proceeding before the court at the place the court is sitting with the detainee, or the detainee and the detainee’s representative, at the correctional institution.

Detainee taken to be before the court

178D.(1) A person present at the part of the correctional institution used for the conduct of a proceeding, when the proceeding is being conducted, is taken to be in the presence of the Magistrates Court for all purposes.

(2) The part of the correctional institution used for the proceeding is taken to be part of the court for the conduct of the proceeding.

(3) Any entitlement of, or requirement for, the detainee under any law or court order to be present before the court in the proceeding is taken to be satisfied by the detainee's use of video link facilities for the proceeding.

Way video link facilities must be operated

178E.(1) Video link facilities, when used for a proceeding, are to be operated in a way that ensures two-way audio and visual communication between the detainee and the Magistrates Court.

(2) If video link facilities fail during a proceeding, the court may adjourn the proceeding or make another appropriate order, as if the detainee were still in the presence of the court.

Facilities for private communication

178F.(1) A Magistrates Court and the correctional institution must make facilities available for private communication between the detainee and the detainee's representative in a proceeding if the representative is at the place where the court is sitting.

(2) A communication between the detainee and the detainee's representative is as confidential and as inadmissible in any proceeding as it would be if it took place between the detainee and the detainee's representative while in each other's presence.

(3) Subsection (2) does not limit any other protection applying to the communication.

Variation or revocation of order

178G. A Magistrates Court may, at any time, vary or revoke an order made under section 178C.

PART 7—RECIPROCAL ENFORCEMENT OF FINES AGAINST BODIES CORPORATE

Meaning of terms

179. In this part—

“fine” includes a pecuniary penalty, pecuniary forfeiture, pecuniary compensation and fees, charges and costs payable under a conviction or order of a court in the exercise of summary jurisdiction.

“reciprocating court” means a court of a reciprocating State or Territory declared by regulation to be a reciprocating court.

“reciprocating State or Territory” means a State or Territory declared by regulation to a reciprocating State or Territory.

Reciprocating States and Territories and reciprocating courts

180.(1) The Governor in Council may declare another State or a Territory, being a State or Territory having laws providing for enforcement in that State or Territory of a fine payable under a conviction or order of a Magistrates Court or other court having a summary jurisdiction in Queensland against a body corporate in that State or Territory, to be a reciprocating State or Territory for the purposes of the enforcement in Queensland of a fine payable under a conviction or order of a court having summary jurisdiction in the other State or in the Territory against a body corporate in Queensland.

(2) The Governor in Council may declare a court having summary jurisdiction in a reciprocating State or Territory to be a reciprocating court for the purposes of the enforcement in Queensland of a fine payable under a conviction or order of that court against a body corporate in Queensland.

Enforcement by Magistrates Court

181.(1) Where, under a conviction or order of a reciprocating court made in the exercise of its summary jurisdiction, a fine is payable by a body corporate having or appearing to have property in Queensland, and the clerk of a Magistrates Court at or near to a place where the body corporate has or appears to have property receives a request in writing from the clerk or other corresponding officer of that reciprocating court for the enforcement of the conviction or order accompanied by—

- (a) a certified copy of the conviction or order; and
- (b) a certificate under the hand of the clerk or corresponding officer making the request certifying the amount of the fine outstanding under the conviction or order;

the clerk shall—

- (c) register the conviction or order in the Magistrates Court by filing in the court a certified copy of the conviction or order; and
- (d) note the date of the registration on the copy.

(2) Upon the registration of a conviction or order under subsection (1)—

- (a) the conviction or order shall for the purposes of this part be deemed to be a conviction or order of a Magistrates Court requiring payment by the body corporate of the amount of the fine stated in the certificate referred to in subsection (1) as outstanding; and
- (b) the clerk shall for the purposes of this part issue a warrant of execution for the purpose of recovering the amount of the fine required to be paid by levying against the goods and chattels of the body corporate; and
- (c) the warrant so issued shall be deemed to be a warrant of execution issued by a justice under this Act and the provisions of this Act shall, with all necessary adaptations, apply and extend accordingly with respect to the enforcement of that warrant.

(3) Where the clerk receives, subsequent to the request for the enforcement of the conviction or order, a notification from the clerk or other corresponding officer of the reciprocating court of payment by or on behalf of the body corporate of an amount in satisfaction in whole or in part of the amount of the fine outstanding, the clerk shall—

- (a) note the particulars of such payment on the certified copy of the conviction or order filed in the court; and
- (b) arrange for the return of the warrant issued pursuant to subsection (2) if it is unexecuted, and—

- (i) withdraw it if the amount of the fine has been paid in full; or
- (ii) if part of the amount of the fine remains outstanding, amend the amount stated in the warrant to show the amount still outstanding, and thereafter the warrant shall be enforced in respect of such altered amount.

(4) A sum of money paid to or received by a clerk of a Magistrates Court in satisfaction in whole or in part of a fine payable under a conviction or order enforced under subsection (2) shall be remitted forthwith to the clerk or other corresponding officer of the reciprocating court by which the conviction or order was made.

Enforcement by reciprocating court

182. A sum of money paid to or received by a clerk of a Magistrates Court in Queensland from a reciprocating court in satisfaction in whole or in part of a fine payable under a conviction or order of the Magistrates Court enforced by the reciprocating court shall be paid to or received by and applied by the clerk of the Magistrates Court as if the sum had been paid to the clerk of the Magistrates Court by the body corporate by which the fine was payable in satisfaction in whole or in part of the fine.

PART 9—APPEALS FROM THE DECISIONS OF JUSTICES

Division 1—Appeal to a judge of District Courts

Appeal to a single judge

222.(1) When any person feels aggrieved as complainant, defendant, or otherwise by any order made by any justices or justice in a summary manner upon a complaint for an offence or breach of duty such person may appeal as hereinafter provided to a District Court judge³ whose determination shall be final between the parties to the appeal.

(1A) However, if the order the subject of the proposed appeal is an order of justices dealing summarily with an indictable offence, a complainant aggrieved by the decision may appeal under this section only against sentence or an order for costs.

(2) Every such appeal shall be made under and subject to the following rules and conditions—

- (a) the appellant shall—
 - (i) within 1 calender month after the decision serve on the person concerned in upholding such decision and on the clerk of the court at the place where the decision was given a notice of appeal in the approved form stating the grounds of the appeal and where the appellant wants the appeal to be heard and decided under the District Courts Act 1967; and
 - (ii) within 7 days after service of the notice on the other party and the clerk of the court, enter into a recognisance before a justice for the amount and with the sureties (if any) the justice may require, to appear on the hearing of the appeal and to abide the decision of the judge and pay the costs the judge may order;
- (b) the clerk of the court must immediately send a copy of the notice of appeal and the complaint, depositions and other proceedings before the justices to the registrar of the court stated in the notice;
- (c) the said registrar shall give to the appellant and to the person concerned in upholding such decision 10 days notice of the day on which the appeal is to be heard;
- (d) subject to subsection (2D), if the appellant is in custody under the order appealed against—any justice may order the appellant's release upon the appellant entering into the recognisance and the appeal shall not operate as a stay of execution unless and until the appellant enters into such recognisance;

- (e) except where the sole ground of appeal is that the fine penalty forfeiture or punishment is excessive or inadequate, as the case may be—no appeal shall lie under this section where the defendant pleaded guilty or admitted the truth of the complaint.

(2A) However, if the appellant can not give notice under subsection (2)(a), through no fault of the appellant's, the appellant may apply to a District Court judge for an order extending time for service of the notice and, if necessary, for substituted service.

(2B) A District Court judge may make the orders in relation to an application under subsection (2A) the judge considers appropriate.

(2C) For subsection (2)(a)(i) or (2)(c), if the appellant is a person aggrieved as defendant, it is sufficient if the appellant or the registrar, as the case requires, gives the notice to—

- (a) if the complainant was a police officer—the commissioner of the police service; or
- (b) if the complainant was an officer of a department of government—the chief executive of the department.

(2D) Subsection (2)(d) does not apply if the appellant is in custody on summary conviction by justices for an indictable offence.⁴

(3) Where by any Act a person summarily convicted or against whom an order is made by justices is entitled to appeal to a judge of the Supreme Court or District Court, the appeal shall lie to a judge of District Courts in the same manner as if it were an appeal pursuant to the provisions of this section.

Appeal generally a rehearing on the evidence

223.(1) An appeal under section 222 is by way of rehearing on the evidence (“original evidence”) given in the proceeding before the justices.

(2) However, a District Court may give leave to adduce fresh, additional or substituted evidence (“new evidence”) if the court is satisfied there are special grounds for giving leave.

- (3) If the court gives leave under subsection (2), the appeal is—
- (a) by way of rehearing on the original evidence; and
 - (b) on the new evidence adduced.

Power to adjourn appeal

224. The judge may at any time adjourn the hearing of the appeal for such time and upon such terms and conditions as the judge may think fit.

Right of appellant to be present

224A.(1) An appellant is entitled to be present on the hearing of the appellant's appeal, unless it is on a ground involving a question of law alone.

(2) Subsection (1) applies even if the appellant is in custody.

(3) On an appeal, or application for leave to appeal, on a ground involving a question of law alone, and on any proceeding preliminary or incidental to an appeal, the appellant is entitled to be present only with the leave of a District Court.

(4) The power of a District Court to pass any sentence may be exercised even though the appellant is not present.

Powers of judge on hearing appeal

225. Upon the hearing of any appeal the judge may by the judge's order confirm, quash, set aside, vary, increase or reduce the conviction order sentence or adjudication appealed against or make such other order in the matter as the judge may think just and may by such order exercise any power which the justices might have exercised and such order shall have the like effect and may be enforced in the like manner as if it had been made by justices.

Costs

226. The judge may make such order as to costs to be paid by either party as the judge may think just.

Judge may state case

227. The judge may state in the form of a special case for the opinion of Court of Appeal any question or questions of law arising upon the facts of the case and his or her judgment shall be affirmed amended altered or reversed and such order made as to costs as the Court of Appeal upon the hearing of such special case shall direct.

Appeal not to be defeated for defect in notice etc. if amendable

228.(1) No appeal shall be defeated merely by reason of any defect whether of substance or of form in any notice of appeal or in the statement of the grounds of appeal.

(2) If the judge is of the opinion that any such notice or statement is capable of amendment and ought to be amended the judge may amend the same accordingly upon such terms as to payment of costs to the other party or postponement of the hearing of the appeal to another day or both payment of costs and postponement as the judge may think just.

Failure to prosecute appeal

229.(1) If any appellant makes default in prosecuting the appeal without delay or in taking any necessary steps in the presentation thereof any other party may apply to a judge in chambers by summons served on such appellant for an order discharging the notice of appeal and the judge shall make such order as shall be just with regard to the subject matter of the application and to costs.

(2) If the appellant fails to appear on the day on which the appeal is to be heard the judge may upon proof of notice of the hearing having been given to both parties estreat the recognisance entered into by the appellant or order the forfeiture of the deposit lodged by way of security in lieu of such recognisance and order the appellant to pay to the other party such costs as the judge may think just.

Memorandum of judge's determination

230. Upon the determination of an appeal the registrar shall forthwith send to the proper clerk of the court a memorandum of the determination of the judge and such memorandum or a copy thereof certified as correct by the said clerk of the court shall be sufficient evidence of such determination for all purposes.

Enforcement of decision

231.(1) If upon the hearing of the appeal the judge by the judge's order confirms varies increases or reduces the conviction order sentence or adjudication appealed against such conviction order sentence or adjudication may be enforced (subject to any variation increase or reduction made therein) by any justices or justice as if no appeal had been brought unless the judge by the judge's order gives any direction as to the enforcement of such conviction order sentence or adjudication.

(2) If the appellant has entered into a recognisance the judge may if the judge thinks fit direct that such recognisance be put in suit or if the appellant has made a deposit by way of security in lieu of such recognisance the judge may direct that the money so deposited be applied so far as it will extend in payment of any moneys the appellant is required to pay on the enforcement of the said conviction order or adjudication and the residue (if any) of the amount so deposited be repaid to the appellant.

(3) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (2), where an appellant is required consequent upon the order of the judge to serve a term of imprisonment or the unexpired portion of a term of imprisonment, the judge shall, as part of the judge's order upon the appeal, direct that a warrant be issued to arrest the appellant and commit the appellant to gaol.

(4) A warrant directed to be issued in accordance with subsection (3) shall be issued by the registrar of the court.

Costs of appeal

232.(1) If upon any appeal the judge orders either party to pay costs such order shall direct such costs to be paid to the registrar to be paid over to the party entitled to the same and shall state within what time such costs are to be paid.

(2) If such costs are not paid within the time so limited the registrar upon the application of the party entitled to such costs or of any person on the party's behalf and on payment of the prescribed fee shall grant to the party so applying a certificate that such costs have not been paid.

(3) Upon production of such certificate to any justice, the payment of such costs may be enforced in the same manner as is hereinbefore provided for enforcing the payment of costs awarded by justices or by putting the recognisance (if any) in suit or in both of such modes.

(4) No order as to costs may be made on—

- (a) the hearing or determination of an appeal in relation to an indictable offence that was dealt with summarily by justices; or
- (b) any proceeding preliminary or incidental to an appeal mentioned in paragraph (a).

Division 2—General provisions

Control of Supreme Court over summary convictions

233.(1) No person brought before the Supreme Court, or a judge thereof, on habeas corpus shall be discharged from custody by reason of any defect or error in a warrant of commitment of any justices exercising a summary jurisdiction, unless such justices, or 1 of them, and the prosecutor or other party interested in supporting the warrant have received reasonable and sufficient notice of the intention to apply for such discharge.

(2) Such notice shall require them to transmit or cause to be transmitted to the court or judge the conviction or order (if any) on which the commitment was founded, together with the depositions and complaint (if any) intended to be relied on in support of such conviction or order, or certified copies thereof.

Amendment

234. If any such conviction or order, complaint, and depositions, or certified copies, are so transmitted, and the offence charged or intended to be charged thereby appears to have been established, and the judgment of the justices thereupon to have been in substance warranted, and the defects or errors appear to be defects of form only, or mistakes not affecting the substantial merits of the proceedings before the justices, the court or judge shall allow the warrant of commitment, and may allow the conviction or order also, to be forthwith amended in all necessary particulars in accordance with the facts, and the person committed shall thereupon be remanded to the person's former custody.

In cases of certiorari order

235. The like proceedings as mentioned in sections 233 and 234 shall be had and the like amendments may and shall be allowed to be made in respect of every order brought before the court or a judge by certiorari order (within the meaning of the Judicial Review Act 1991) and after amendment in any such case the order may be enforced in the proper manner, and shall in all respects and for all purposes be regarded and dealt with as if it had been drawn up originally as amended.

Notice dispensed with 236.(1) The notice hereby prescribed may be given either before or after the issue of the writ of habeas corpus or a certiorari order (within the meaning of the Judicial Review Act 1991).

(2) However, when copies of the conviction or order and depositions are produced at the time of applying for the writ, the court or judge may dispense with such notice.

Power of court or judge to grant bail

237.(1) When any person committed to gaol by virtue of a summary conviction or order is brought up by writ of habeas corpus, and the court or judge postpones the final decision of the case, such court or judge may grant the person bail.

(2) If the judgment of the court or judge is against any person so brought up, the court or judge may remand the person to the person's former custody, there to serve the rest of the term for which the person was committed.

Respecting the amendment of convictions etc.

238. Whenever the facts or evidence appearing by the depositions in substance support the adjudication of the justices, then if such adjudication does not extend beyond the complaint, and if such facts or evidence would have justified the justices in making any necessary allegation or finding omitted in such adjudication, or in the formal conviction or order, or any warrant issued in pursuance of such adjudication, the powers of amendment conferred by the foregoing provisions of this part may be exercised, and when in a conviction there is some excess which may (consistently with the merits of the case) be corrected, the conviction shall be amended accordingly, and shall stand good for the remainder, and all amendments shall be subject to such order as to costs and otherwise as the court or judge thinks fit.

Want of summons or complaint

239. When the person convicted, or against whom an order has been made, or any person whose goods have been condemned or directed to be sold as forfeited, was present at the hearing of the case, the conviction or order shall be sustained, although there may have been no complaint or summons or amendment thereof, unless the person objected at the hearing that there was no complaint or summons or amendment thereof.

Distribution of penalty

240. No conviction or order shall be defeated for the want of any distribution, or for a wrong distribution of the penalty or forfeiture.

Absconding appellant may be arrested

241. If any person who has been convicted summarily of an offence or against whom an order has been made by justices on the breach of a statutory duty appeals against such conviction or order and it is made to appear upon oath to any justice that such person—

- (a) is under a recognisance to appear on the hearing of the appeal and to abide the decision of the court or a judge thereon; and
- (b) is about to leave, or has left, Queensland;

such justice may issue the justice's warrant for the apprehension of such person and upon such person being brought before the justice may either release the person on a recognisance with a surety or sureties sufficient in the opinion of such justice to secure the appearance of the appellant to abide the decision of the said court or judge or commit the person to gaol if such justice is satisfied that the ends of justice would otherwise be defeated.

PART 10—MISCELLANEOUS

Forms

265.(1) The chief executive may approve forms for use under the Act.

(2) A form approved by the chief executive is the prescribed or approved form for its purpose.

Regulations

266.(1) The Governor in Council may make regulations for the purposes of this Act.

(2) A regulation may make provision with respect to—

- (a) the matters for which fees, costs and charges are payable under this Act, the amounts of the fees, costs and charges, the persons who are liable to pay fees, costs and charges, when fees, costs and charges are payable, and the recovery of any unpaid amount of fees, costs and charges; and
- (b) prescribing offences for contraventions of a regulation, and fixing a maximum penalty of a fine of 2 penalty units for such a contravention; and
- (c) for a camera-detected offence under the Traffic Act 1949—an infringement notice penalty for a corporation up to 5 times the amount payable by an individual for the offence under an infringement notice under part 4A.

(3) The power conferred by this section to make a regulation providing for the imposition of fees may be exercised by providing for all or any of the following matters—

- (a) specific fees;
- (b) maximum or minimum fees;
- (c) scales of fees;
- (d) the reduction, waiver or refund of fees.

(4) The power to make a regulation about costs includes power to provide for a scale of costs.

PART 11—VALIDATIONS, SAVINGS AND TRANSITIONAL

Transitional—provision for Courts Reform Amendment Act 1997

273.(1) This section applies if, immediately before the commencement of the Courts Reform Amendment Act 1997, section 61(1)⁵—

- (a) an application for an order to review under section 209 was made but not decided; or
- (b) an order for review under section 209 was granted but not finally dealt with.

(2) The application, and any order to review made on the application, mentioned in subsection (1)(a) or an order to review mentioned in subsection (1)(b) may be dealt with as if part 9, division 1 had not been repealed by the Courts Reform Amendment Act 1997, section 61(1).

(3) This section expires 2 years after it commences.

⁵ Section 61 (Amendment of pt 9 (Appeals from the decisions of justices))

Validation—acting clerks of the court

274.(1) This section⁶ applies to the performance of a function or the exercise of a power or jurisdiction on or after 1 January 1990 that, under this Act or another Act or law, may be performed or exercised only by a clerk of the court.

(2) The performance of the function or the exercise of the power or jurisdiction by a person under the authority of an administrative or other arrangement of the State or a department of the State to perform the functions and exercise the powers and jurisdiction of a clerk of the court, is taken to be as validly performed or exercised as it would have been if the person had been appointed a clerk of the court under section 22C⁷ to the place where the function was performed or the power or jurisdiction was exercised.

(3) This section expires the day after it commences.

Validation—clerks of the court, metropolitan district

275.(1) This section⁶ applies to the following—

- (a) the performance of a function or the exercise of a power or jurisdiction on or after the relevant day that, under this Act or another Act or law, may be performed or exercised only by a clerk of the court at a place within the metropolitan district;*
- (b) the continuation of the appointment of a person who, immediately before the relevant day, held office as a clerk of the court at a place within the metropolitan district as a clerk of the court for the place;*
- (c) any purported appointment by the Governor in Council, on or after the relevant day, of a person to the office of clerk of the court at a place within the metropolitan district.*

(2) For subsection (1)(a) and to remove any doubt, it is declared that the performance of the function or the exercise of the power or jurisdiction by a person under the authority of a purported appointment as a clerk of the court at a place within the metropolitan district is taken to be as validly performed or exercised as it would have been if it had been performed or exercised by a validly appointed clerk of the court for the place.

⁷ Section 22C (Appointment of clerks of the court)

(3) Subsection (2) has effect only for the performance of functions and the exercise of powers and jurisdiction by the person during the period the person purportedly held the office of clerk of the court at the place.

(4) For subsection (1)(b) and to remove any doubt, it is declared that a person who, immediately before the relevant day, held office as a clerk of the court at a place within the metropolitan district is taken to have continued to hold office as a clerk of the court for the place after the relevant day despite the amendments of the Decentralisation of Magistrates Courts Act 1965 made by the Justice Legislation (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1992.

(5) For subsection (1)(c) and to remove any doubt, it is declared that a purported appointment by the Governor in Council, on or after the relevant day, of a person as a clerk of the court at a place within the metropolitan district is taken to be, and to always have been, valid.

(6) This section does not limit section 274.

(7) In this section—

“purported appointment” means a purported appointment made—

(a) by the Governor in Council; or

(b) under an administrative or other arrangement of the State or a department of the State.

“relevant day” means 14 August 1992.

(8) This section expires the day after it commences.

8 Provisions that have not commenced and are not incorporated into reprint

The following provisions are not incorporated in this reprint because they had not commenced before the reprint date (see Reprints Act 1992, s 5(c)).

Courts Reform Amendment Act 1997 No. 38 ss 60 and 66 read as follows—

Insertion of new s 158B

60. After section 158A—

insert—

‘Costs for division

‘158B.(1) In deciding the costs that are just and reasonable for this division, the justices may award costs only—

- (a) for an item allowed for this division under a scale of costs prescribed under a regulation; and
- (b) up to the amount allowed for the item under the scale.

‘(2) However, the justices may allow a higher amount for costs if the justices are satisfied that the higher amount is just and reasonable having regard to the special difficulty, complexity or importance of the case.’.

Insertion of new s 232A

66. Part 9, division 1 (as renumbered), after section 232—

insert—

‘Costs for division

‘232A.(1) In deciding the costs that are just for this division, the judge may award costs only—

- (a) for an item allowed for this division under a scale of costs prescribed under a regulation; and
- (b) up to the amount allowed for the item under the scale.

‘(2) However, the judge may allow a higher amount for costs if the judge is satisfied that the higher amount is just having regard to the special difficulty, complexity or importance of the appeal.’.
