Value of sale of plant etc.

55. For the purpose of determining profit in any year if the holder of a mining claim, mining lease or other authority under the Act or any other Act relating to mining has property in plant, machinery, buildings, structures or other assets and disposes of any item thereof, the following provisions are to apply—

- (a) if there is no sale value of the item—the unrecouped value (if any) thereof may be claimed as expenditure;
- (b) if the sale value exceeds the unrecouped value—the difference in the values is to be regarded as income;
- (c) if the sale value is less than the unrecouped value—the difference in the values is to be treated as expenditure;
- (d) if the sale value exceeds the cost value—the difference in the values is to be treated as capital gain and is not subject to the payment of royalty.
