Dates shown on reprints

Reprints dated at last amendment All reprints produced on or after 1 July 2002, authorised (that is, hard copy) and unauthorised (that is, electronic), are dated as at the last date of amendment. Previously reprints were dated as at the date of publication. If an authorised reprint is dated earlier than an unauthorised version published before 1 July 2002, it means the legislation was not further amended and the reprint date is the commencement of the last amendment.

If the date of an authorised reprint is the same as the date shown for an unauthorised version previously published, it merely means that the unauthorised version was published before the authorised version. Also, any revised edition of the previously published unauthorised version will have the same date as that version.

Replacement reprint date If the date of an authorised reprint is the same as the date shown on another authorised reprint it means that one is the replacement of the other.

Division 3 Reasonable steps

Subdivision 1 Reasonable steps defence

8 What is the reasonable steps defence

If, under this regulation, a person has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence in relation to an offence against a provision of this regulation, it is a defence to a charge for an offence against the provision if the person charged establishes that—

- (a) the person did not know, and could not reasonably be expected to have known, of the contravention concerned; and
- (b) either—
 - (i) the person took all reasonable steps to prevent the contravention; or
 - (ii) there were no steps the person could reasonably be expected to have taken to prevent the contravention.

Subdivision 2 Deciding whether person took reasonable steps

9 Matters court may consider for deciding whether person took all reasonable steps

- (1) This section applies in relation to—
 - (a) proceedings for an offence against a provision of part 2 that may be committed by a person failing to take all reasonable steps; and
 - (b) proceedings for an offence against a provision of this regulation if, under this regulation, the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence.

[s 10]

Note—

See also sections 33 and 34.

- (3) For applying the matters mentioned in section 57DB(1)(a) to (k) of the Act to the proceedings, a reference in section 57DB(1)(a) to (k) of the Act to a contravention is taken to be a reference to the contravention constituting the offence to which the proceedings relate.

Part 3 Requirements relating to work time and rest time

Division 1 Key concepts for this part

Subdivision 1 Concepts relating to work time and rest time

37 What is a driver's work and rest hours option

- (1) The work and rest hours option of a driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is the maximum work requirements and minimum rest requirements applying to the driver under this regulation.
- (2) The work and rest hours option may be—
 - (a) the standard work and rest arrangements, which—
 - (i) apply to drivers of fatigue regulated heavy vehicles operating other than under a BFM accreditation, AFM accreditation, work and rest hours exemption or work and rest hours alternative compliance scheme; and

[s 38]

- (ii) are known as ‘standard hours’; or
- (b) the BFM work and rest arrangements, which—
 - (i) apply to drivers of fatigue regulated heavy vehicles operating under a BFM accreditation; and
 - (ii) are known as ‘BFM hours’; or
- (c) the AFM work and rest arrangements, which—
 - (i) apply to drivers of fatigue regulated heavy vehicles operating under an AFM accreditation; and
 - (ii) are known as ‘AFM hours’; or
- (d) the maximum periods of work and minimum periods of rest applying to drivers of fatigue regulated heavy vehicles operating under a work and rest hours exemption; or
- (e) the maximum periods of work and minimum periods of rest applying to drivers of fatigue regulated heavy vehicles operating under a work and rest hours alternative compliance scheme.

38 What is work time

For the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle, work time is any time the driver spends working in relation to the vehicle.

Note—

See definition work in schedule 4 of the Act for the meaning of work in relation to a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle.

39 What is rest time

For the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle, rest time is any time that is not work time for the driver.

40 What is a work and rest change

A work and rest change for the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is—

- (a) a change from work time to rest time; or
- (b) a change from rest time to work time; or
- (c) a change from being a solo driver to being a driver who is a party to a two-up driving arrangement; or
- (d) a change from being a driver who is a party to a two-up driving arrangement to being a solo driver.

Subdivision 2 Counting time

41 Counting periods of less than 15 minutes

- (1) A period of work time of less than 15 minutes counts as 15 minutes work time.

Examples for subsection (1)—

- A period of working for 14 minutes counts as 15 minutes work time.
- A period of working for 17 minutes counts as 30 minutes work time.
- A period of working for 53 minutes counts as 1 hour work time.

- (2) A period of rest time is counted in blocks of time of no less than 15 minutes.

Examples for subsection (2)—

- A period of not working for only 14 minutes does not count as rest time, because 14 minutes is less than 15 minutes.
- A period of not working for 17 minutes counts as 15 minutes rest time, because 17 minutes is more than 15 minutes, but is less than 2 lots of 15 minutes (30 minutes).
- A period of not working for 53 minutes counts as 45 minutes rest time, because 53 minutes is more than 3 lots of 15 minutes (45 minutes), but is less than 4 lots of 15 minutes (60 minutes).

[s 42]

42 Time must be counted after rest time ends

When counting time in a period, the time must not be counted from within rest time, but instead must be counted forward from—

- (a) if 1 or more major rest breaks are relevant to the period—the end of a relevant major rest break; or
- (b) in any other case—the end of a relevant period of rest time.

Example—

An authorised officer intercepts the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle on a Friday and inspects the driver's work diary. The driver works under standard hours. The officer examines the work diary entries for the previous Monday. The entries show that the driver completed 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time at 7a.m. on that day, started work at that time, worked until 12.15p.m. that day, had 1 hour of rest time, then worked until 7.15p.m. that day.

For the purposes of deciding the number of hours worked by the driver on the Monday, the officer must start counting from the rest period that finished at 7a.m. Adding the periods 7a.m. to 12.15p.m. and 1.15p.m. to 7.15p.m. results in a total of 11¼ hours worked that day.

The officer might also decide to calculate the number of continuous hours worked in the second work period that day. This requires the counting to start at the end of the rest period that finished at 1.15p.m. and results in a total of 6 continuous hours.

43 Period must be counted by reference to time zone of driver's base

If the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle undertakes a journey and is in a different time zone from the time zone of the driver's base at the time when a period of time is relevant for the purposes of this regulation, the period must be counted by reference to the time zone of the driver's base.

Example—

If, for the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle with a base in Queensland, it is necessary to work out the hours of night work time while the driver is in Western Australia on a journey, the hours of night work time are the hours between midnight and 6a.m. in the Queensland time zone (being the time zone in which the driver's base is situated), even though the hours equate to 10p.m. and 4a.m. in Western Australia (Eastern Standard Time).

44 Counting time spent within participating zone

In applying this part to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle, any time spent by the driver in another jurisdiction within the participating zone must be treated in the same way as it would have been treated if the time had been spent in this jurisdiction.

45 Counting time spent outside participating zone

- (1) This section applies to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle if the driver drives a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle into this jurisdiction from another jurisdiction within the non-participating zone.
- (2) If, within the last 7 days, the driver has spent any work time inside the participating zone, any time spent by the driver in the other jurisdiction within the non-participating zone must be treated in the same way as it would have been treated if the time had been spent in this jurisdiction.
- (3) If, within the last 7 days, the driver spent work time only in the non-participating zone—
 - (a) any time spent by the driver in the other jurisdiction within the non-participating zone before the start of the driver's last major rest break before entering this jurisdiction must be disregarded; and
 - (b) any time spent by the driver in the other jurisdiction within the non-participating zone after the start of the last major rest break mentioned in paragraph (a) must be—
 - (i) taken into account; and
 - (ii) treated in the same way as it would have been treated if the time had been spent in this jurisdiction.

Division 2 Standard work and rest arrangements

46 Purpose of div 2

This division sets out the maximum work requirements and minimum rest requirements applying to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle if the driver is not operating under a BFM accreditation, AFM accreditation, work and rest hours exemption or work and rest hours alternative compliance scheme (the standard hours).

47 Options about standard hours for solo driver of a bus

The solo driver of a bus may operate under either, but not both, of the following—

- (a) the standard hours under section 48;
- (b) the standard hours under section 49.

48 Standard hours—solo drivers

- (1) Schedule 1, table 1 sets out the standard hours for the solo driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle.
- (2) In any period stated in column 1, the solo driver—
 - (a) must not work for more than the work time stated in column 2; and
 - (b) must have the rest of the period off work, with at least the rest time stated in column 3.

Example—

If the solo driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle starts work at midday on Monday, after a 2 day break, the minimum rest times the driver might have to comply with under standard hours for the solo driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle are as follows—

- 15 continuous minutes rest time before 5.30p.m.
- another 15 continuous minutes rest time before 8p.m. (making a total of 30 minutes rest time since midday)

- another continuous 30 minutes rest time before 11p.m. (making a total of 60 minutes rest time since midday)
- another 7 continuous hours rest time before midday on Tuesday.

The driver could do the same hours through to Saturday, but would have to take a break from midday Sunday until midday Monday, that is 24 continuous hours stationary rest time.

The driver could continue the same pattern for a second week, through until the second Saturday, if the driver has had a night's rest time (that is 7 continuous hours rest time between 10p.m. and 8a.m.) on 4 nights, including 2 consecutive nights, during the fortnight ending on midday on the second Sunday.

This example assumes that the driver has remained in the same time zone during the entire period described.

Maximum penalty—

- (a) for a minor risk breach—20 penalty units; or
 - (b) for a substantial risk breach—40 penalty units; or
 - (c) for a severe risk breach—60 penalty units; or
 - (d) for a critical risk breach—80 penalty units.
- (3) A contravention of subsection (2) for any period stated in column 1 is a breach of the risk category stated in column 4 for the circumstances of the contravention.
- (4) In this section, a reference to a column by number is a reference to the column of that number in schedule 1, table 1.
- (5) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (2), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See part 1, division 3 for the reasonable steps defence.

49 Standard hours—solo drivers of buses

- (1) Schedule 1, table 2 sets out the standard hours for the solo driver of a bus.
- (2) In any period stated in column 1, the solo driver of a bus—

[s 50]

- (a) must not work for more than the work time stated in column 2; and
- (b) must have the rest of the period off work, with at least the rest time stated in column 3.

Maximum penalty—

- (a) for a minor risk breach—20 penalty units; or
 - (b) for a substantial risk breach—40 penalty units; or
 - (c) for a severe risk breach—60 penalty units; or
 - (d) for a critical risk breach—80 penalty units.
- (3) A contravention of subsection (2) for any period stated in column 1 is a breach of the risk category stated in column 4 for the circumstances of the contravention.
 - (4) In this section, a reference to a column by number is a reference to the column of that number in schedule 1, table 2.
 - (5) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (2), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See part 1, division 3 for the reasonable steps defence.

50 Standard hours—two-up drivers

- (1) Schedule 1, table 3 sets out the standard hours for the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle who is a party to a two-up driving arrangement.
- (2) In any period stated in column 1, the driver—
 - (a) must not work for more than the work time stated in column 2; and
 - (b) must have the rest of the period off work, with at least the rest time stated in column 3.

Maximum penalty—

- (a) for a minor risk breach—20 penalty units; or

- (b) for a substantial risk breach—40 penalty units; or
 - (c) for a severe risk breach—60 penalty units; or
 - (d) for a critical risk breach—80 penalty units.
- (3) A contravention of subsection (2) for any period stated in column 1 is a breach of the risk category stated in column 4 for the circumstances of the contravention.
- (4) In this section, a reference to a column by number is a reference to the column of that number in schedule 1, table 3.
- (5) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (2), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See part 1, division 3 for the reasonable steps defence.

51 Defence relating to short rest breaks

- (1) This section applies if, at a particular time, the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is required, under section 48, 49 or 50, to take a short rest break.

Examples of when this section applies—

The driver is required to take 15 continuous minutes rest time because—

- (a) the driver has worked for 5¼ hours; or
 - (b) the driver has worked for 7½ hours and has only taken 15 continuous minutes rest time during that period; or
 - (c) the driver has worked for 10 hours and has only taken 3 lots of 15 continuous minutes rest time during that period.
- (2) For proceedings for an offence against section 48, 49 or 50 relating to the driver failing to take the short rest break, it is a defence for the driver to prove that—
- (a) at the time the driver was required to take the short rest break, there was no suitable rest place; and
 - (b) the driver took the short rest break—

[s 52]

- (i) at the next suitable rest place available after that time on the forward route of the driver's journey; and
- (ii) no later than 45 minutes after the time the driver was required to take the short rest break.

Example of when the defence applies—

The driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle fails to take a short rest break after 5¼ hours of work time because there was no suitable rest place when the driver was scheduled to take the short rest break. Instead, the driver takes a short rest break after 5½ hours work at another place down the road.

- (3) In this section—

short rest break means rest time of less than 1 hour.

Division 3 BFM work and rest arrangements

52 Purpose of div 3

This division sets out the maximum work requirements and minimum rest requirements applying to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle operating under and complying with a BFM accreditation (the BFM hours).

53 BFM hours—solo drivers

- (1) Schedule 2, table 1 sets out the BFM hours for a solo driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle.
- (2) In any period stated in column 1, the solo driver—
 - (a) must not work for more than the work time stated in column 2; and
 - (b) must have the rest of the period off work, with at least the rest time stated in column 3.

Maximum penalty—

- (a) for a minor risk breach—20 penalty units; or

- (b) for a substantial risk breach—40 penalty units; or
 - (c) for a severe risk breach—60 penalty units; or
 - (d) for a critical risk breach—80 penalty units.
- (3) A contravention of subsection (2) for any period stated in column 1 is a breach of the risk category stated in column 4 for the circumstances of the contravention.
- (4) In this section, a reference to a column by number is a reference to the column of that number in schedule 2, table 1.
- (5) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (2), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See part 1, division 3 for the reasonable steps defence.

54 Defence for solo drivers relating to split rest breaks

- (1) This section applies if, at a particular time, the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is required under section 53 to take 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time in a period of 24 hours.
- (2) For proceedings for an offence against section 53 relating to the driver failing to take the 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time, it is a defence for the driver to prove that—
- (a) at the time the driver was required to take the 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time, the driver was driving under BFM hours as a solo driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle; and
 - (b) during the period of 24 hours for which the 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time was required to be taken, the driver took 6 continuous hours of stationary rest time and 2 continuous hours of stationary rest time (a split rest break); and
 - (c) the driver had not taken a split rest break in the previous 24 hour period.

[s 55]

Example of when the defence applies—

The driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle stops work to take 7 continuous hours of stationary rest time, but can not sleep, so the driver takes only 2 continuous hours of stationary rest time and then drives on for a further 2 hours and takes a further 6 continuous hours of stationary rest time at another place down the road.

55 BFM hours—two-up drivers

- (1) Schedule 2, table 2 sets out the BFM hours for the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle who is a party to a two-up driving arrangement.
- (2) In any period stated in column 1, the driver—
 - (a) must not work for more than the work time stated in column 2; and
 - (b) must have the rest of the period off work, with at least the rest time stated in column 3.

Maximum penalty—

- (a) for a minor risk breach—20 penalty units; or
 - (b) for a substantial risk breach—40 penalty units; or
 - (c) for a severe risk breach—60 penalty units; or
 - (d) for a critical risk breach—80 penalty units.
- (3) A contravention of subsection (2) for any period stated in column 1 is a breach of the risk category stated in column 4 for the circumstances of the contravention.
- (4) In this section, a reference to a column by number is a reference to the column of that number in schedule 2, table 2.
- (5) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (2), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See part 1, division 3 for the reasonable steps defence.

Division 4 AFM hours

56 AFM hours

- (1) The accreditation certificate for an AFM accreditation sets out the maximum work requirements and minimum rest requirements applying to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle operating under and complying with the accreditation (the AFM hours).
- (2) In any period stated in the AFM accreditation, the driver—
 - (a) must not work for more than the maximum work time stated in the AFM hours; and
 - (b) must have at least the minimum rest time stated in the AFM hours.

Maximum penalty—

- (a) for a minor risk breach—20 penalty units; or
 - (b) for a substantial risk breach—40 penalty units; or
 - (c) for a severe risk breach—60 penalty units; or
 - (d) for a critical risk breach—80 penalty units.
- (3) A contravention of subsection (2) for any period stated in the AFM accreditation and stated in schedule 3, part 2, table 1, column 1 is a breach of the risk category stated in schedule 3, part 2, table 1, column 2 for the circumstances of the contravention.
- (4) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (2), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See part 1, division 3 for the reasonable steps defence.

[s 57]

57 AFM outer limits

- (1) Schedule 3, part 1, table sets out the AFM outer limits for the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle operating under AFM hours.
- (2) In any period stated in schedule 3, part 1, table, column 1, the driver—
 - (a) must not work for more than the maximum work time stated in schedule 3, part 1, table, column 2 for the period; and
 - (b) must have at least the minimum rest time stated in schedule 3, part 1, table, column 3 for the period.

Maximum penalty—

- (a) for a minor risk breach—20 penalty units; or
 - (b) for a substantial risk breach—40 penalty units; or
 - (c) for a severe risk breach—60 penalty units; or

- (3) A contravention of subsection (2) for any period stated in schedule 3, part 2, table 2, column 1 is a breach of the risk category stated in schedule 3, part 2, table 2, column 2 for the circumstances of the contravention.
- (4) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (2), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See part 1, division 3 for the reasonable steps defence.

Division 5 Changing work and rest hours option

58 Driver may change work and rest hours option

- (1) The driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle may drive under only 1 work and rest hours option at any 1 time.

- (2) However, the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle may change from 1 work and rest hours option to a different work and rest hours option.

59 Driving under new work and rest hours option after change

- (1) The driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle must not drive the vehicle after changing from 1 work and rest hours option to a different work and rest hours option unless—
 - (a) if the change is from standard hours or BFM hours, either the driver—
 - (i) is in compliance with all the maximum work requirements and minimum rest requirements under the work and rest hours option to which the driver has changed; or
 - (ii) has had a reset rest break; and

Examples for paragraph (a)—

- 1 If the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is changing from BFM hours to standard hours and the minimum rest requirements applying under standard hours requires the driver to have longer rest time than is required under BFM hours, the driver may start driving under standard hours only if the driver has had the longer rest time or a reset rest break.
 - 2 If the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is changing from BFM hours to standard hours and the minimum rest requirements applying under standard hours requires the driver to take rest time earlier than is required under BFM hours, the driver may start driving under standard hours only if the driver has had the earlier rest time or a reset rest break.
- (b) if the change is from AFM hours, a work and rest hours exemption or a work and rest hours alternative compliance scheme, the driver has had a reset rest break; and

[s 60]

- (c) the driver complies with all other requirements of the work and rest hours option to which the driver has changed.

Example of other requirements for paragraph (c)—

If the driver is changing to BFM hours or AFM hours, the driver must be inducted into the relevant operator's BFM or AFM fatigue management system.

Maximum penalty—40 penalty units.

- (2) If the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle has had a reset rest break between changing from 1 work and rest hours option to a different work and rest hours option, the period to which the new work and rest hours option applies must be counted forward from the end of the reset rest break.
- (3) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See part 1, division 3 for the reasonable steps defence.

- (4) In this section—

reset rest break means a period of rest time of at least 48 hours continuous rest.

Part 4 Requirements about record keeping

Division 1 Key concepts for this part

60 What is 200km work and 200+km work

- (1) The driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is engaged in 200km work if the driver is driving in an area with a radius of 200km or less from the driver's base.

- (2) The driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is engaged in 200+km work if the driver is driving in an area with a radius of more than 200km from the driver's base.

 - (b) under schedule 4 of the Act, definition garage address, paragraph (b)(ii), the vehicle has more than 1 garage address because the vehicle has 2 or more registered operators.
- (2) For this regulation, the base of the driver is the home address of the vehicle's registered operator whose name is listed first on the registration certificate for the vehicle's registration.

62 Who is a driver's record keeper

The following person is the record keeper for the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle—

- (a) if the driver is operating under a BFM accreditation or AFM accreditation of an operator of the vehicle—the operator;
- (b) otherwise—
 - (i) for an employed driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle—the driver's employer; or
 - (ii) for a self-employed driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle—the driver.

63 Person engaged to undertake particular functions must be notified of offences

- (1) This section applies if the record keeper for the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle engages or proposes to engage

[s 63]

another person to carry out, for the record keeper, any of the following functions of the record keeper under this regulation—

- (a) a function under any of the following provisions—
 - (i) section 85(2);
 - (ii) section 86(2);

 - (viii) section 100(3);
 - (ix) section 101(2);
 - (b) the function of operating or maintaining an electronic work diary used or to be used by the driver.
- (2) The record keeper must, before or when the other person is engaged, give the other person written notification of the following—
- (a) the carrying out of the function is subject to a provision of this regulation that creates an offence;
 - (b) that if the engaged person carries out the function, the engaged person is liable for an offence against the provision;
 - (c) the provision that creates the offence and the maximum penalty for the offence.

Maximum penalty—80 penalty units.

- (3) The written notification required under subsection (2) may be included in the written agreement setting out the terms of the engagement.

64 Person engaged to operate or maintain electronic work diary must have appropriate systems and procedures

- (1) The record keeper for the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle must not engage another person to operate or maintain an electronic work diary used or to be used by the driver unless the record keeper is satisfied the other person has appropriate systems and procedures for ensuring—
- (a) the person can comply with sections 92 and 93; and
 - (b) the electronic work diary can not be tampered with while the work diary is being operated or maintained by the other person.

Maximum penalty—80 penalty units.

- (2) In a proceeding for an offence against subsection (1), the person charged has the benefit of the reasonable steps defence for the offence.

Note—

See part 1, division 3 for the reasonable steps defence.

65 What is a driver's record location

The record location of the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is—

- (a) if the driver's record keeper has advised the driver of the place that is the driver's record location—the place advised; or
- (b) otherwise—the driver's base.

[s 66]

Division 2 Work diary requirements

Subdivision 1 Requirement to carry work diary

66 Application of sdiv 1

This subdivision applies if the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle—

- (a) is engaged in 200+km work; or
- (b) was engaged in 200+km work in the last 28 days; or
- (c) is driving under BFM hours or AFM hours; or
- (d) was driving under BFM hours or AFM hours in the last 28 days; or
- (e) is driving under a work and rest hours exemption; or
- (f) was driving under a work and rest hours exemption in the last 28 days.

67 Meaning of work diary for sdiv 1

- (1) In this subdivision, a reference to a work diary in relation to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is a reference to the following—
 - (a) if the driver has used only 1 or more written work diaries in the last 28 days—
 - (i) the written work diary the driver is currently using; and
 - (ii) any filled up written work diary the driver has used during the last 28 days;
 - (b) if the driver has used only an electronic work diary in the last 28 days—
 - (i) the electronic work diary the driver is currently using; and

- (ii) printouts of the information no longer stored in the electronic work diary the driver is currently using and relating to any period during the last 28 days; and
 - (iii) printouts of the information in any other electronic work diary the driver has used in the last 28 days that relates to any period during the last 28 days and is not recorded in the electronic work diary the driver is currently using;
- (c) if the driver has used a combination of a written work diary and an electronic work diary in the last 28 days—
 - (i) the written work diary, or electronic work diary, the driver is currently using; and
 - (ii) each written work diary the driver has used during the last 28 days; and

- (2) If the driver has made a supplementary record in the last 28 days—
 - (a) a reference in this subdivision to the driver's work diary is taken to include a reference to the supplementary record; and
 - (b) for this subdivision, the supplementary record is taken to be a part of the work diary.

[s 68]

68 Driver of fatigue regulated heavy vehicle must carry work diary

- (1) The driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle must, while driving the vehicle, keep in the vehicle the driver's work diary containing, for the last 28 days, the information required to be recorded under subdivision 2.

Notes—

- 1 For the requirement to record particular information in a supplementary record if the work diary of the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle is filled up, destroyed, lost, stolen or, for an electronic diary, is malfunctioning, see section 80.
- 2 Under section 49 of the Act, an authorised officer may require the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle to produce for inspection the driver's work diary.

Maximum penalty—80 penalty units.

- (2) Subsection (1) applies irrespective of the number of days in the last 28 days on which the driver spent working in relation to a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle.
- (3) It is a defence to an offence against subsection (1) relating to the driver failing to keep a work diary containing particular information if the driver proves—
- (a) the information was recorded in a work diary that, at the time of the offence, has been destroyed, lost or stolen; or
 - (b) the information was—
 - (i) recorded in an electronic work diary; and
 - (ii) destroyed or lost as a result of a malfunction of the electronic work diary before the information was given to a record keeper or recorded in any other way.

Subdivision 2 Information required to be included in work diary

69 Purpose of sdiv 2

This subdivision states the information the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle must record in the driver's written or electronic work diary for each day on which the driver—

- (a) engages in 200+km work; or
- (b) works under BFM hours or AFM hours; or
- (c) works under a work and rest hours exemption.

70 How information requirements apply to a day

- (1) In this subdivision, the requirement to record information for a day continues to apply for each period of work time and rest time the driver has on that day.
- (2) However, if the driver stops working on a day and starts a major rest break that will continue until the end of the day, the driver may stop recording information for the day when the driver stops working and starts the major rest break.

71 Information to be recorded immediately after starting work

- (1) Immediately after starting work on a day, the driver must record—
 - (a) the day of the week and date; and
 - (b) the driver's name; and
 - (c) the driver's current driver licence number, and the jurisdiction in which the licence was issued; and
 - (d) whether the driver is working under—
 - (i) standard hours (including whether the driver is working under standard hours for solo drivers of a bus); or

[s 71]

- (ii) BFM hours; or
- (iii) AFM hours; or
- (iv) a work and rest hours exemption; and
- (e) if the driver is working under BFM hours—the accreditation number for the BFM accreditation of the operator of the vehicle; and
- (f) if the driver is working under AFM hours—the accreditation number for the AFM accreditation of the operator of the vehicle; and
- (g) the address of the driver's base, unless the driver has previously recorded the address in relation to the work and it is still current; and
- (h) the address of the driver's record location, unless the driver has previously recorded the address and it is still current; and
- (i) the time zone of the driver's base.

Maximum penalty—80 penalty units.

- (2) For proceedings for an offence against this section relating to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle failing to record information before starting to engage in 200+km work on a day, it is a defence for the driver to prove that at the time of the offence—
 - (a) the driver was unaware that the driver would be engaging in 200+km work on the day; and
 - (b) the driver recorded the information in the driver's written or electronic work diary as soon as practicable after becoming aware that the driver would be engaging in 200+km work on the day.
- (3) In this section—

accreditation number, for a BFM accreditation, means—

- (a) for a bus accreditation recognised (in whatever way) under a corresponding fatigue law as a BFM accreditation under the law—the number identifying the bus accreditation for the purposes of the law under which the bus accreditation was granted; or

- (b) for another BFM accreditation—the number identifying the accreditation given to the holder of the accreditation under section 137 or a corresponding fatigue law.

accreditation number, for an AFM accreditation, means the number identifying the accreditation given to the holder of the accreditation under section 146 or a corresponding fatigue law.

72 Information to be recorded immediately before or after work and rest change

- (1) Immediately before or after each work and rest change on a day, the driver must record—
 - (a) the nature of the work and rest change; and
 - (b) the work time or rest time spent anywhere by the driver since the last work and rest change; and
 - (c) the time and place of the work and rest change; and
 - (d) the odometer reading at the time of the work and rest change; and
 - (e) the registration number for each fatigue regulated heavy vehicle that the driver drives; and
 - (f) if the driver is or becomes a party to a two-up driving arrangement on the day—the following information about the other driver in the two-up driving arrangement—
 - (i) the other driver's name;
 - (ii) the other driver's driver licence number;
 - (iii) unless the driver is recording information in an electronic work diary the driver shares with the other driver, the security or other identifying number of the other driver's work diary and the name of the participating jurisdiction that issued the work diary.

[s 73]

Maximum penalty—80 penalty units.

Subdivision 3 How information must be recorded in work diary

75 Purpose of sdiv 3

This subdivision states how the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle must record information in the driver's work diary.

 - (b) has a mechanism that readily indicates to the driver of the fatigue regulated heavy vehicle to which it is fitted

- or in which it is used that the system is or is not properly functioning; and
- (c) is capable of accurately monitoring and recording the work times and rest times of the driver of the fatigue regulated heavy vehicle to which it is fitted or in which it is used, and of recording any other information the driver is required under this regulation to record in a work diary; and

121 Steps after decision to refuse application

If the chief executive decides not to grant an application for approval of an electronic recording system, the chief executive must give the applicant an information notice for the decision.

122 Effect of approval

- (1) An approval of an electronic recording system granted under this subdivision covers any system that is identical to the system that was given to the chief executive for approval.
- (2) The conditions imposed on the approval under section 119 apply to each identical system that is covered by the approval.

recording system unless the person knows, or reasonably ought to know, that the device is not, or is not a part of, an approved electronic recording system.

Example for subsection (2)—

A record keeper for the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle gives the driver a device to which an electronic work diary label is attached for recording information required to be included in the driver's work diary under this regulation. The driver may rely on the label as indicating the device is, or a part of, an approved electronic recording system meaning the driver may record the required information in the device on the basis that it is an electronic work diary. However, the driver may not rely on the label if the driver knows, or reasonably ought to know the device is not, or is not a part of, an approved electronic recording system.

126 Prohibition on using device as electronic work diary if it is not an approved electronic recording system

- (1) A person must not use as an electronic work diary for this regulation any device that has attached to it an electronic work diary label if the person knows, or reasonably ought to know, that the device is not, or does not form part of, an approved electronic recording system to which the label relates.

- (2) Instead of cancelling the approval, the chief executive may, by written notice to the holder of the approval, permit the continued use of an electronic recording system the subject of the approval—

- (a) for a stated period or indefinitely; and
 - (b) on stated conditions.
- (3) If the chief executive decides to permit the continued use only for a stated period or subject to stated conditions, the written notice under subsection (2) must be or include an information notice for the decision.
- (4) For subsection (2)—
- (a) the approval is taken to be continued under this section; and
 - (b) an electronic recording system the subject of the approval continues to be an approved electronic recording system.
- (5) However, only an electronic recording system the subject of the approval that is being used as an electronic work diary on the day the chief executive makes a decision under subsection (2) is covered by the approval.
- (6) Also, an electronic recording system covered by the approval is an approved electronic recording system only if it is being used in compliance with the conditions stated in the notice.

 - (b) must notify in writing each person to whom the holder has supplied an electronic recording system the subject of the approval that—
 - (i) the approval has been cancelled; and
 - (ii) any electronic work diary label relating to the approval on an electronic recording system still in the person's possession must be removed.

Maximum penalty—80 penalty units.

- (3) If, under subsection (2)(b), a person is notified that the approval has been cancelled, the person must notify in writing each other person to whom the person has supplied an electronic recording system the subject of the approval that—

- (2) The maximum periods of work stated in the exemption must be the same as, or equivalent to, maximum driving times and maximum work times applying to drivers under the repealed regulation, part 2.
- (3) The exemption—
 - (a) must be granted for a period of 6 months starting at the commencement; and
 - (b) may be subject to conditions the chief executive considers appropriate.
- (4) The exemption may be granted before the commencement.
- (5) Despite subsection (4), the exemption takes effect at the commencement and applies for 6 months after the commencement.
- (6) The exemption is taken to be a class work and rest hours exemption for the provisions of this regulation other than section 59.

[s 192]

- (7) However, subsection (6) does not require the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle who does not engage in 200+km work to comply with part 4 of this regulation until 14 days after the commencement.
- (8) Also, the application of part 4 in relation to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle driving under the exemption is subject to section 196.
- (9) The gazette notice is not subordinate legislation.

Note—

These provisions deal with the tabling in, and disallowance by, the Legislative Assembly of subordinate legislation.

192 BFM hours apply to particular drivers

- (1) This section applies to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle who is registered as a driver participant in the TFMS or a corresponding TFMS.

Note—

 - 2 See section 209 for the continued application of particular provisions of the repealed regulation to a person registered as a participant in the TFMS after the commencement.
- (3) Subsection (2) stops applying to the driver if the driver starts operating under a 2008 regulation arrangement.
 - (4) For applying this regulation to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle driving under subsection (2), other than for section 59, the driver is taken to be operating under the work and rest hours option known as BFM hours as if the driver was operating under a BFM accreditation.
 - (5) Part 4 applies in relation to the driver of a fatigue regulated heavy vehicle driving under subsection (2) as if—
 - (a) the driver was operating under a BFM accreditation; and
 - (b) the requirement under section 71(1)(e) to record the accreditation number of the BFM accreditation of the operator of the vehicle were a requirement to record—

- (8) In this section—

driver TFMS requirements means—

- (a) the requirement applying under the repealed regulation, section 29; and

- (3) For applying this regulation to the driver of a fatigue regulated driver driving under subsection (2)—
 - (a) the driver's work and rest hours option is taken to be the alternative work and rest hours applying under the scheme; and
 - (b) other than for section 59, the driver is taken to be operating under maximum periods of work and minimum periods of rest applying to drivers of fatigue regulated heavy vehicles operating under a work and rest hours alternative compliance scheme.
- (4) Subsections (2) and (3) stop applying to the driver if the driver starts operating under a 2008 regulation arrangement.
- (5) In this section—

alternative work and rest hours, applying under an alternative compliance scheme for the repealed regulation, part 2, means the maximum driving times, maximum work times and minimum rest times applying to a person subject to the scheme that are different to the maximum driving times, maximum work times and minimum rest times that would otherwise apply to the person under the repealed regulation, part 2.

- (3) From the end of the relevant rest period, the driver must start operating under the new arrangement.
- (4) For the changeover day, the driver is taken to have complied with the new arrangements for the day only if the driver has complied with—

233 Effect of review or appeal decision that person be given exemption

If the effect of the review decision or appeal decision is that the person to whom the exemption decision relates be given the exemption, the chief executive must—

- (a) if the exemption is a regulated hours exemption—grant the person a work and rest hours exemption under part 5, division 6 of this regulation as if the application for the regulated hours exemption were an application for a work and rest hours exemption made under the part; or
- (b) if the exemption is a driving records exemption—grant the person a work diary exemption under part 5, division 6 of this regulation, as if the application for the driving records exemption were an application for a work diary exemption made under the part.

234 Effect of review or appeal decision that person not be given exemption

- (1) If the review decision or appeal decision is a confirmation of the exemption decision, despite the repeal of the repealed regulation—
 - (a) the application for the exemption continues to be an application to be dealt with under the repealed regulation; and
 - (b) any further decision about the application must be made under the repealed regulation; and
 - (c) for a review decision—the person in relation to whom the review decision is made may appeal against the review decision under the repealed regulation.

Note—

Section 223(4) provides for the appeal of a review decision mentioned in paragraph (c).

- (2) For subsection (1), the repealed regulation continues to have effect as if this regulation had not been made.

235 Effect of appeal decision returning matter to chief executive

- (1) If the court making the appeal decision returns the application for exemption to the chief executive with directions—
 - (a) the application must be dealt with under the repealed regulation; and
 - (b) the chief executive must follow the court's directions to the extent possible; and
 - (c) if the chief executive decides that the person should be given the exemption, the chief executive must—
 - (i) if the exemption is a regulated hours exemption—grant the person a work and rest hours exemption under part 5, division 6 of this regulation, as if the application for the regulated hours exemption were an application for a work and rest hours exemption made under the part; or

[s 236]

- (ii) if the exemption is a driving records exemption—grant the person a work diary exemption under part 5, division 6 of this regulation, as if the application for the driving records exemption were an application for a work diary exemption made under the part.
- (2) For subsection (1), the repealed regulation continues to have effect as if this regulation had not been made.

Subdivision 5 Effect of decisions about imposition of condition on exemption

236 Application of sdiv 5

- (1) This subdivision applies to the following—
 - (a) a decision made after the commencement (review decision) on an application for review of an exemption condition decision;
 - (b) a decision made after the commencement (appeal decision) on an appeal against a decision of the chief executive confirming an exemption condition decision.
- (2) In this section—

exemption condition decision means a decision of the chief executive to impose a condition on an exemption given to a person under the repealed regulation, section 95.

237 Effect of review or appeal decision that condition not be imposed on exemption

If the effect of the review decision or appeal decision is that the exemption to which the exemption condition decision relates must not be subject to the condition, or be subject to different conditions, the chief executive must, under this regulation, amend the exemption as continued under section 216 to remove the condition or amend the conditions imposed on the exemption in accordance with the review decision.

238 Effect of review or appeal decision that condition be imposed on exemption

- (1) If the review decision or appeal decision is a confirmation of the exemption condition decision, despite the repeal of the repealed regulation—
 - (a) the decision to impose the condition continues to be a decision to be dealt with under the repealed regulation; and
 - (b) any further decision about the decision to impose the condition must be made under the repealed regulation; and
 - (c) for a review decision—the person in relation to whom the review decision is made may appeal against the review decision under the repealed regulation.

Note—

Section 223(4) provides for the appeal of a review decision mentioned in paragraph (c).

- (2) For subsection (1), the repealed regulation continues to have effect as if this regulation had not been made.

239 Effect of appeal decision returning matter to chief executive

- (1) If the court making the appeal decision returns the matter to the chief executive with directions—
 - (a) the matter must be dealt with under the repealed regulation; and
 - (b) the chief executive must follow the court's directions to the extent possible; and
 - (c) if the chief executive decides that the exemption should not be subject to the condition, or be subject to different conditions, the chief executive must, under this regulation, amend the exemption as continued under section 216 to remove the condition or amend the conditions imposed on the exemption in accordance with the appeal decision.

[s 240]

- (2) For subsection (1), the repealed regulation continues to have effect as if this regulation had not been made.
