CHAPTER 2—GENERAL EMPLOYMENT CONDITIONS

PART 1—GENERAL

Division 1—Working time

Working time

9.(1) This section applies to an employee under an industrial instrument.
   (2) The periods for which an employee is required to work must not exceed—
       (a) 6 days in any 7 consecutive days; or
       (b) 40 hours in any 6 consecutive days; or
       (c) 8 hours in any day.
   (3) An employee must be paid overtime at the rate of at least—
       (a) for a calling in which more than 1 shift is worked in a day—double time; and
       (b) for another calling—time and a half.
(4) If an employee is paid at a higher rate than the minimum rate prescribed in the industrial instrument, the overtime rate must be worked out on the higher rate.

(5) If practicable, an employee is entitled to a rest pause of at least 10 minutes in each 4 hours of working time on a day.

(6) The rest pause—
   (a) is part of the employee’s working time; and
   (b) if continuity of work is necessary—must be taken when it does not interfere with continuity.

(7) This section does not apply if an industrial instrument provides otherwise.

(8) In this section—

   “overtime” means time worked—
   (a) outside any of the periods mentioned in subsection (2); or
   (b) before or after the fixed or recognised times of starting or finishing work on a day in a calling.

Division 2—Sick leave

Entitlement

10. (1) This section does not apply to casual employees or pieceworkers.

(2) An employee is entitled to—
   (a) at least 8 days sick leave on full pay for each completed year of employment with an employer; and
   (b) for each completed period of employment of less than a year—at least 1 day’s sick leave on full pay for each completed 6 weeks of employment with an employer.

(3) However, the employee’s entitlement is conditional on—
   (a) the employee promptly notifying the employer of—
      (i) any illness that will cause the employee to be absent from work; and
(ii) the approximate period for which the employee will be absent; and

(b) if the employee is absent for more than 2 days—

(i) the employee giving the employer a doctor’s certificate about the nature of the illness and the approximate period for which the employee will be absent; or

(ii) the employee giving the employer other evidence of the illness to the employer’s satisfaction.

(4) Subsection (3) does not apply if—

(a) an industrial instrument provides otherwise; or

(b) the employee and employer agree otherwise.

(5) This section does not operate to confer an entitlement or an additional entitlement in relation to employment before the commencement of this section.

Division 3—Annual leave

Entitlement

11.(1) This section does not apply to casual employees or pieceworkers.

(2) For each completed year of employment with an employer, an employee is entitled to—

(a) if the employee is not a shift worker—at least 4 weeks annual leave; or

(b) if the employee is a shift worker—at least 5 weeks annual leave.

(3) Annual leave is exclusive of a public holiday that falls during the leave.

(4) In working out a completed year of employment, the following periods when an employee is absent without pay are not to be taken into account—

(a) a period of more than 3 months when an employee is absent with the employer’s approval;
(b) a period when an employee is absent without the employer’s approval, unless the employee is absent for not more than 3 months because of illness or injury certified to by a doctor.

(5) This section does not operate to confer an entitlement or an additional entitlement in relation to employment before the commencement of this section.

(6) In this section—

“shift worker” means an employee who—

(a) is employed in a calling in which shifts are worked 24 hours a day, 7 days a week; and

(b) works a rotating roster that includes each of the shifts.

Taking annual leave

12.(1) An employee and employer may agree when the employee is to take annual leave.

(2) If the employee and employer can not agree, the employer—

(a) may decide when the employee is to take leave; and

(b) must give the employee at least 14 days written notice of the starting date of the leave.

(3) An employee and employer may agree that the employee take all or any part of the employee’s annual leave before becoming entitled to it.

(4) If the employee takes leave before becoming entitled to it, the employee is only entitled, at the end of the completed year of employment, to the balance of the leave that would be due at the end of the year.

Payment for annual leave

13.(1) Unless an employee and employer otherwise agree, the employer must pay the employee for annual leave in advance.

(2) The employer must pay for the leave—

(a) at the ordinary rate being paid to the employee immediately before the leave is taken; or
(b) if, immediately before taking the leave, the employee is being paid at a higher rate than the ordinary rate—at the higher rate.

Payment for annual leave on termination of employment

14.(1) This section applies if an employee’s employment is terminated by the employee or employer.

(2) If the employee has not taken all the annual leave the employee is entitled to, the employee is presumed to have taken the leave from the day the termination takes effect (the “termination day”).

(3) The employer must immediately pay the employee for the annual leave not taken, including any public holiday that falls in the period the employee is presumed to have taken the leave.

(4) If the employee has been employed for any period of less than 1 year, the employer must pay the employee proportionate annual leave for the period.

(5) The employer must pay the employee at least the ordinary rate being paid to the employee immediately before the termination day, unless an industrial instrument states otherwise.

(6) This section does not apply to an employee who is a transferred employee under section 69.2

Division 4—Public holidays

Public holidays

15.(1) An employee, other than a casual employee or pieceworker, who would ordinarily be required to work on a day on which a public holiday falls is entitled to full pay for the time the employee would ordinarily have been required to perform work on that day.

(2) Subsection (1) applies whether the employee—

(a) works on that day; or

2 Section 69 (Continuity of service—transfer of calling)
(b) does not work on that day because of the holiday.

(3) Subsection (1) does not apply if the employee is rostered off on a public holiday.

(4) If an employee who is bound by an industrial instrument does work on a public holiday, the employer must pay the employee—

(a) for the greater of the hours worked or 4 hours—

(i) if the employee would ordinarily be required to work on a day on which a public holiday falls—at the rate of 1.5 times the hourly rate, in addition to the amount payable under subsection (1); or

(ii) if the employee would not ordinarily be required to work on a day on which a public holiday falls—at the rate of double time and a half; or

(iii) if the employee is a casual employee—at the rate of double time and a half; and

(b) if the employee works outside the employee’s ordinary working hours—at double the rate stated in the instrument for that work.

(5) Subsections (3) and (4) do not apply if an industrial instrument provides otherwise.

(6) Subject to another Act that restricts work or trading hours on particular days of the year, the employee and employer may agree that the employee work on a public holiday at ordinary rates in exchange for another day off on full pay.

(7) The commission may confer on an employee an entitlement to extra annual leave on full pay, instead of extra pay, for work on a public holiday.

(8) In a district in which a holiday is not appointed for an annual agricultural, horticultural or industrial show, the employee and employer must agree on an ordinary working day that is to be treated as a show holiday for all purposes.

(9) An employee, while employed by the employer, is only entitled to leave on full pay for a show holiday once each calendar year.

(10) In this section—

“double time and a half” means 2.5 times the hourly rate.
“ordinary working day” means a day on which the employee would ordinarily be required to perform work.

“ordinary working hours”, for an employee, means the hours between the employee’s ordinary starting time and ordinary finishing time under a relevant industrial instrument.

“show holiday” means—

(a) a public holiday appointed for an annual agricultural, horticultural or industrial show under the Holidays Act 1983, section 4; or

(b) for a district in which a public holiday is not appointed for an annual agricultural, horticultural or industrial show—the day agreed on by the employee and employer under subsection (8).

(2) This division applies to long term casual employees only so far as it relates to maternity leave.

Transfer to a safe job

36.(1) This section applies whenever the present work of a female employee is, because of her pregnancy or breastfeeding, a risk to the health or safety of the employee or of her unborn or newborn child.

(2) The assessment of the risk is to be made on the basis of—

(a) a doctor’s certificate given by the employee to the employer; and
(b) the employer’s obligations under the Workplace Health and Safety Act 1995.

(3) The employer must temporarily adjust the employee’s working conditions or hours of work to avoid exposure to the risk.

(4) If an adjustment is not feasible or can not reasonably be required to be made, the employer must transfer the employee to other appropriate work that—

(a) will not expose her to the risk; and
(b) is, as nearly as possible, comparable in status and remuneration to that of her present work.

(5) If a transfer is not feasible or can not reasonably be required to be made, the employer must grant the employee maternity leave, or any available paid sick leave, for as long as a doctor certifies it is necessary to avoid exposure to the risk.
Special maternity leave and sick leave

37.(1) This section applies if, before an employee starts maternity leave—

(a) the employee’s pregnancy terminates before the expected date of birth, other than by the birth of a living child; or

(b) the employee suffers illness related to her pregnancy.

(2) For as long as a doctor certifies it to be necessary, the employee is entitled to the following types of leave—

(a) unpaid leave ("special maternity leave");

(b) paid sick leave, either instead of, or as well as, special maternity leave.

Special adoption leave

38. An employee who is seeking to adopt a child is entitled to up to 2 days unpaid leave to attend compulsory interviews or examinations as part of the adoption procedure.

Division 2—Carer’s leave

(a) members of the employee’s immediate family when they are ill; or

(b) members of the employee’s household when they are ill.

(2) The employee must, if required by the employer, produce a doctor’s certificate or statutory declaration evidencing that the member is ill with an illness that requires care by another.

(3) An employee can not take carer’s leave if another person has taken leave to care for the same person.

(4) Carer’s leave may be taken for part of a day.
(5) The employee must, if practicable, give the employer—

(a) notice of the intention to take carer’s leave before taking the leave; and

(b) the name of the person requiring care and the person’s relationship to the employee; and

(c) the reason for taking the leave; and

(d) the period that the employee estimates he or she will be absent.

(6) If it is not practicable for the employee to notify the employer of the intention to take carer’s leave before taking the leave, the employee must notify the employer at the first reasonable opportunity.

(7) An employee may take unpaid carer’s leave if the employer agrees.

Division 3—Bereavement leave

Entitlement

40. (1) This section does not apply to casual employees or pieceworkers.

(2) An employee is entitled to at least 2 days bereavement leave on full pay on the death of a member of the person’s immediate family or household in Australia.

(3) The employee must give the employer a copy of the funeral notice or other evidence of the death the employer reasonably requires.

(4) An employee may take unpaid bereavement leave if the employer agrees.

Division 4—Part overrides less favourable conditions

This part overrides less favourable conditions

41. This part has effect despite—

(a) another law of the State; or

(b) an industrial instrument or order; to the extent that the law, instrument or order provides an employee with a benefit that is less favourable to the employee.

PART 3—LONG SERVICE LEAVE

Definitions for pt 3

42. In this part—

“continuous service” of an employee means—

(a) in section 50—to the period of continuous service the employee is taken to have had with an employer under section 50(4); and

(b) elsewhere—the employee’s continuous service with the same employer (whether wholly in the State, or partly in and partly outside the State).

“owner” of a meat works includes a person who carries on the business of the works.

“period between seasons” includes the period between—

(a) the end of 1 season and the start of the next season; and

(b) for a particular employee—the day the employee stops employment in 1 season and the day the employee starts employment in the next season.

“season” means a period (whether falling completely in 1 calendar year or partly in 1 calendar year and partly in the next calendar year) when—

(a) for the sugar industry—

(i) sugar cane is delivered to, and crushed at, a sugar mill; or

7 Section 50 (Entitlement—employees in sugar industry and meat works)
(ii) sugar cane is harvested, or farm work is performed, in the sugar industry; or

(b) for a meat works—stock are delivered to, and slaughtered at, the works.

Division 2—Employees generally

Entitlement

43.(1) This section applies to all employees, other than seasonal employees.

(2) An employee is entitled to long service leave on full pay of—

(a) for the first 15 years continuous service—13 weeks; and

(b) if the employee has completed at least a further 5 years continuous service—another period that bears to 13 weeks the proportion that the employee’s further period of continuous service bears to 15 years.

(3) An employee is entitled to a proportionate payment for long service leave if—

(a) the employee has completed at least 10 but less than 15 years continuous service; and

(b) the employee’s service is terminated by—

(i) the employee’s death; or

(ii) the employee; or

(iii) the employer, for a cause other than serious misconduct.

(4) Long service leave is exclusive of a public holiday that falls during the period of the leave.

(5) An employee who is entitled to long service leave elsewhere than under this Act, is entitled to leave that is at least as favourable as the entitlement under this section.

(6) In this section—
“proportionate payment” means a payment equal to the employee’s full pay for a period that bears to 13 weeks the proportion that the employee’s period of continuous service (stated in years, and a fraction of a year if necessary) bears to 15 years.

Working out continuity of service for service before 23 June 1990

44.(1) This section applies to service of all employees who are not casual employees before 23 June 1990.8

(2) The repealed Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act 1961, sections 17, 18, 19 and 20, applies to—

(a) the determination of the employee’s continuous service before 23 June 1990; and

(b) the calculation of the employee’s entitlement to long service leave in relation to continuous service before 23 June 1990.

Taking long service leave

45.(1) The commission may insert in an industrial instrument provisions—

(a) about the time when, the way in which, and the conditions on which, long service leave may be taken; or

(b) to the effect that leave in the nature of long service leave taken, before the provisions take effect, by an employee bound by the instrument must be deducted from the long service leave that the employee becomes entitled to under the provisions.

(2) An employee and employer may agree when the employee is to take long service leave.

(3) If the employee and employer can not agree, the employer may decide when the employee is to take leave by giving the employee at least 3 months written notice of the date on which the employee must take at least 4 weeks long service leave.

(4) Subsection (3) applies subject to an industrial instrument.

8 In all other circumstances, see part 6 (Continuity of service and employment).
Payment for long service leave

46.(1) The employer must pay the employee for long service leave at the ordinary rate being paid to the employee immediately before the leave is taken.

(2) However, if the employee is, immediately before taking the leave, being paid at a higher rate than the ordinary rate, the employer must pay the employee at the higher rate.

(3) An employer must not reduce an employee’s usual rate, before an employee starts long service leave, with intent to avoid the employer’s obligation under subsection (2).

(4) If satisfied an employer has done so, the commission may order the employer to pay the employee at the usual rate even though the employee was not being paid the usual rate immediately before starting leave.

(5) If, during the employee’s leave—

(a) the ordinary rate is increased above the higher rate—the employer must pay the employee at the increased rate for the part of the leave period that the increased rate applies to; or

(b) the ordinary rate is reduced—the employer may pay the employee at the reduced rate for the part of the leave period that the reduced rate applies to.

(6) In this section—

“usual rate” the rate at which the employee is being paid for ordinary time, being a rate that is higher than the ordinary rate.

Division 3—Casual employees

Continuity of service—additional considerations for casual employees

47.(1) The service of an employee (a “casual employee”) who is employed more than once by the same employer over a period is continuous service with the employer even though—

(a) the employment is broken; or

(b) any of the employment is not full-time employment; or
(c) the employee is employed by the employer under 2 or more employment contracts; or

(d) the employee would, apart from this section, be taken to be engaged in casual employment; or

(e) the employee has engaged in other employment during the period.

(2) However, the continuous service ends if the employment is broken by more than 3 months between the end of 1 employment contract and the start of the next employment contract.

(3) In working out the length of an employee’s continuous service—

(a) the following service must not be taken into account—

(i) service by the employee before 23 June 1990;

(ii) if the employee only obtained the entitlement because of the enactment of the repealed Industrial Relations Reform Act 1994, section 17— the employee’s service between 23 June 1990 and 30 March 1994; and

(b) subject to subsection (2), a period when the employee was not employed by the employer must be taken into account.

(4) This section does not limit any other entitlement to long service leave that an employee may have.

Taking long service leave—alternative provision for casual employees

48.(1) An employer may agree with a casual employee that the entitlement to long service leave may be taken in the form of its full-time equivalent.

Example—

If an employee—

(a) is entitled to be paid for 260 hours long service leave; and

(b) works under an award that provides for a full-time working week of 40 ordinary working hours;

9 Section 17 (Definitions for pt 1)
the employee and the employer may agree that the employee take 6\(\frac{1}{2}\) weeks leave \((260 \div 40 = 6\frac{1}{2})\).

(2) This section applies subject to a provision in an industrial instrument about the employee’s long service leave.

Payment for long service leave

49.(1) The minimum amount payable to a casual employee for long service leave is worked out using the formula—

\text{actual service} \times \frac{13}{52} \times \frac{15}{15} \times \text{hourly rate.}

Example—

An employee who worked 15 600 ordinary working hours over a 15 year period and is being paid an hourly rate of $10 would be entitled to be paid—

\frac{15600 \times 13 \times 10}{52 \times 15} = 260 \times 10 = $2600.

(2) If a dispute arises between an employee who is paid at piecework rates and the employer about the rate the employee should be paid for long service leave, the commission may decide the rate payable.

(3) An employee and employer may agree on the times when, and the way in which, the employee will be paid for long service leave.

(4) The commission may decide any matter relating to payment for long service leave that the employee and employer can not agree on.

(5) An amount payable for long service leave becomes payable at a time agreed between the employee and employer or, if they can not agree, at a time decided by the commission.

(6) In this section—

“actual service” means the total ordinary working hours actually worked by an employee during the employee’s period of continuous service.
“casual employee” means an employee mentioned in section 47(1).

“hourly rate” means the hourly rate for ordinary time payable to the employee—

(a) if the employee takes the long service leave—on the day that the employee starts the leave; or

(b) if the employee’s employment is terminated—on the date that the termination takes effect.

Division 4—Seasonal employees

Entitlement—employees in sugar industry and meat works

50.(1) This section applies to the following seasonal employees—

(a) an employee employed in seasonal employment in the sugar industry; or

(b) an employee employed in or about meat works in seasonal employment by the meat works owner.

(2) The employee is entitled to long service leave on full pay of at least the number of weeks worked out using the following formula—

\text{section 43 entitlement} \times \frac{\text{actual service}}{15}

Example—

An employee who worked half of each year, over a 15 year period, is entitled to half the section 43 entitlement, that is, half of 13 weeks leave or 6\(\frac{1}{2}\) weeks leave \((13 \times 7.5 = 6\frac{1}{2})\).

(3) Service with the employer of an employee engaged in harvesting sugar cane or farm work in the sugar industry before 23 June 1990 must not be taken into account in working out the length of the employee’s continuous service.
A period between seasons when the employee is not employed by the employer must be taken into account in working out the length of an employee’s continuous service if—

(a) in 1 season—the employee’s service with the employer continued until the end of the season or until an earlier day when the employee’s employment was terminated by the employer; and

(b) in the next season—the employee’s service with the same employer started on the season’s opening or on a later day in the season when the employer required the employee to start employment.

If an employee is employed by the employer between seasons, the part of the period between seasons when the employee is employed must be taken into account in working out the length of the employee’s actual service.

An employee who is entitled to long service leave elsewhere than under this Act, is entitled to leave that is at least as favourable as the entitlement under this section.

In this section—

“actual service” means the total ordinary time actually worked by an employee during the employee’s period of continuous service.

“section 43 entitlement” means the entitlement to long service leave of an employee under section 43.

Taking long service leave—employees in sugar industry and meat works

This section applies to the following seasonal employees—

(a) an employee employed in seasonal employment in the sugar industry;

(b) an employee employed in or about meat works in seasonal employment by the meat works owner.

An employee may take long service leave between seasons.

If an employee takes leave between seasons, the leave is taken to have started when the employee last ceased employment with the employer.
Other seasonal employees

52. The commission may decide the entitlement to long service leave of an employee—

(a) who is employed in seasonal employment, but who is not employed—
   (i) in the sugar industry, or
   (ii) in or about meat works; or

(b) who is employed in other periodic employment that is not defined as casual employment by the relevant industrial instrument.

Maximum penalty—40 penalty units.

(2) A person must not enter into an arrangement under which—

(a) an employee or the employer terminates the employee’s service with the employer; and

(a) before taking the leave; or

(b) after starting, but before finishing, the leave.

(2) The employer must pay the employee’s legal personal representative any amount payable for the employee’s entitlement to long service leave that has not been already been paid.

(3) If the employer does not do so, the employee’s legal personal representative or an inspector may recover the amount as unpaid wages.\(^{11}\)

Continuity not broken by service in Reserve Forces

55.(1) An employee’s service in the reserve forces is taken to be continuous service with the employer who employed the employee immediately before the employee starting service with the Forces.

(2) In this section—

“reserve forces” means the Australian Naval Reserve, Australian Army Reserve or Australian Air Force Reserve.

Recognition of certain exemptions

56.(1) This part does not apply to an employer if—

(a) the commission has exempted the employer, under the repealed Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act 1961, from the application of long service leave provisions in that Act or an award; and

(b) the exemption is in force.

(2) On application, the commission may revoke an exemption.

\(^{11}\) See section 399 (Recovery of unpaid wages etc.).
Person may be “employer” and “employee”

57. If in performing duties in a calling a person is an employee, the person is entitled to long service leave as prescribed under this part despite the person being, by definition for this Act, an employer because of—

(a) the person’s engagement in the calling; or

(b) the position the person holds in the calling.

PART 4—REVIEW

Review of general employment conditions

58.(1) On application by the Minister, an organisation or a State peak council, the full bench may review a condition under this chapter.

(2) The full bench must, before 30 June 2000, review an entitlement to long service leave under this chapter.

(3) The full bench may, by a general ruling under section 287, substitute the condition with another condition that is no less favourable.

PART 5—EQUAL REMUNERATION FOR WORK OF EQUAL OR COMPARABLE VALUE

Definition for pt 5

59. In this part—

“equal remuneration for work of equal or comparable value” means equal remuneration for men and women employees for work of equal or comparable value.

12 Section 287 (General rulings)
Orders requiring equal remuneration

60. (1) The commission may make any order it considers appropriate to ensure employees covered by the order receive equal remuneration for work of equal or comparable value.

(2) An order may provide for an increase in remuneration rates, including minimum rates.

Orders only on application

61. The commission may make an order under this part only on application by—

(a) an employee to be covered by the order; or

(b) an organisation whose rules entitle it to represent the industrial interests of employees to be covered by the order; or

(c) a State peak council; or

(d) the Minister; or

Immediate or progressive introduction of equal remuneration

63. The order may introduce equal remuneration for work of equal or comparable value—

(a) immediately; or

(b) progressively, in specified stages.
Employer not to reduce remuneration

64.(1) An employer must not reduce an employee’s remuneration because an application or order has been made under this part.

(2) If an employer purports to do so, the reduction is of no effect.

Part does not limit other rights

65.(1) This part does not limit any right a person or organisation may otherwise have to secure equal remuneration for work of equal or comparable value.

(2) Subsection (1) is subject to section 66.

Applications under this part

66.(1) An application can not be made under this part for an order to secure equal remuneration for work of equal or comparable value for an employee if proceedings for an alternative remedy—

(a) to secure the remuneration for the employee; or

(b) against unequal remuneration for work of equal or comparable value for the employee;

have started under another provision of this Act or under another Act.

(2) Subsection (1) does not prevent an application under this part if the proceedings for the alternative remedy have—

(a) been discontinued by the party who started the proceedings; or

(b) failed for want of jurisdiction.

(3) If an application under this part has been made for an order to secure equal remuneration for work of equal or comparable value for an employee, a person is not entitled to start proceedings for an alternative remedy under a provision or Act mentioned in subsection (1)—

(a) to secure the remuneration for the employee; or

(b) against unequal remuneration for work of equal or comparable value for the employee.
(4) Subsection (3) does not prevent proceedings being started for an alternative remedy if the proceedings under this part have—

(a) been discontinued by the party who started the proceedings; or

(2) An employee is not entitled to claim the benefit of a right or entitlement more than once for the same period of service.

Continuity of service—transfer of calling

(a) the person is employed by the new employer after the transfer; and

13 Chapter 3 (Dismissals)
(b) the employee—
   (i) was dismissed by the former employer within 1 month immediately before the transfer; and
   (ii) is re-employed by the new employer within 3 months after the dismissal.

(3) The transfer of the calling is taken not to break the transferred employee’s continuity of service.

(4) A period of service with the former employer (including service before the commencement of this section) is taken to be a period of service with the new employer.

(5) In this section—
“dismissed” includes stood-down.

   (a) an employee, while employed with the employer, starts an apprenticeship or traineeship; or

      (i) continues to employ an apprentice or trainee (the “employee”) on the completion of the apprenticeship or traineeship; or
      (ii) re-employs the employee within 3 months after completion of the employee’s apprenticeship or traineeship.

Continuity of service—generally

71.(1) Service with a partnership and an employer who was, or becomes, a member of the partnership is taken to be continuous service with the same employer.
(2) An employee’s continuity of service with an employer is not broken if the employee’s service is temporarily lent or let on hire by the employer to another employer.

(3) An employee’s continuity of service with an employer is not broken by an absence, including through illness or injury—
   (a) on paid leave approved by the employer; or
   (b) on unpaid leave approved by the employer.

(4) An employee’s continuity of service with an employer is not broken if—
   (a) the employee’s employment is terminated by the employer or employee because of illness or injury; and

(5) An employee’s continuity of service with an employer is not broken if—
   (a) the employee’s employment is terminated by the employer or employee; and
   (b) the employer re-employs the employee within 3 months after the termination.14

(6) An employee’s continuity of service with an employer is not broken if—

(a) the employee’s employment is interrupted or terminated by the employer because of slackness of trade or business; and
(b) the employer re-employs the employee.

(8) Service with a corporation and any of its subsidiaries is taken to be continuous service with the same employer.

(9) However, a period for which the employee is away from work under subsections (3)(b) to (6) is not service under this part unless—
   (a) this Act or an industrial instrument provides otherwise; or
   (b) the commission directs otherwise.

(10) In this section—
“subsidiary” means a corporation that would be taken to be a subsidiary under the Corporations Law, whether or not the Corporations Law applies in a particular case.

(d) a member of an industrial association, who performs the function of dealing with an employer or principal on behalf of the member and other members of the association, acting in that capacity;

(e) a director or other officer or an employee or agent of a corporation, acting in that capacity.

(2) Evidence that the conduct was engaged in by an entity mentioned in subsection (1) is evidence the conduct was engaged in by the industrial association or corporation.

(3) Evidence that the entity engaged in the conduct for a prohibited reason is evidence the conduct was engaged in by the industrial association or corporation for the prohibited reason.

(b) subject to paragraphs (d) to (f)—all employees who are engaged in the calling to which the award applies; and

(c) all organisations concerned with the calling to which the award applies; and

Section 132 (Exemptions)
Section 234 (Remedies on show cause)
PART 2—COMMISSION’S POWERS

Making, amending and repealing awards

125.(1) The commission may make, amend or repeal an award to provide, among other things, fair and just employment conditions.

(2) The commission may act under subsection (1)—

(a) of its own initiative; or

(b) on application by—

(i) the Minister; or

(ii) an organisation; or

(iii) an employer; or

(iv) a person who satisfies the commission that the person is not an officer of, or acting for, an eligible association.

(3) The commission may make an award that—

(a) revokes or amends a decision; or

(b) declares void or amends labour contracts made before or after the commencement of this Act, subject to the conditions and exemptions the commission considers appropriate; or

(c) gives the retrospective effect the commission considers appropriate, or that is consented to by the parties, to the whole or part of an award, but so that, except with the parties’ consent, the retrospective effect is not made to operate before the day when the commission first took cognisance of the matter; or

(d) directs a copy of an award be exhibited by the employer in a conspicuous and convenient place on the premises of an employer bound by the award.

Content of awards

126. The commission must ensure an award—

(a) does not contain discriminatory provisions; and
(b) is stated in plain English and is easy to understand in structure and content; and

(c) does not contain provisions that are obsolete or need updating; and

(d) provides for secure, relevant and consistent wages and employment conditions; and

(e) provides fair standards for employees in the context of living standards generally prevailing in the community; and

(f) is suited to the efficient performance of work according to the needs of particular enterprises, industries or workplaces; and

(g) takes account of the efficiency and effectiveness of the economy, including productivity, inflation and the desirability of achieving a high level of employment; and

(h) whenever possible—

(i) contains facilitative provisions that allow agreement at the workplace or enterprise level, between employers and employees (including individual employees), on how the award provisions are to apply; and

(ii) contains provisions enabling the employment of regular part-time employees; and

(iii) provides support for training arrangements.

Dispute resolution procedures in each award

127.(1) The commission must ensure an award contains a dispute resolution procedure.

(2) The form of the procedure is to be agreed on by the parties to the award.

(3) However, if the parties cannot agree, the commission must insert an appropriate procedure in the award.

(4) Without limiting subsection (1), the procedure must include—

(a) procedures for consultation at the workplace; and Awards that fix wage rates

128.(1) In fixing wage rates payable to employees in a calling, the commission must fix the rates on the basis that a man and a woman employed by the same employer must receive equal remuneration for work of equal or comparable value without discrimination on the ground of sex.

(2) Despite any other provision of this Act, wage rates fixed by the commission for persons under 21 years may be fixed on a progressive scale based on the wage rates payable to employees 21 years or over in the same calling.

(3) In making an award that fixes the wage rates, the commission must consider the age and experience of the persons under 21 years.

Flow-on of certified agreements

129. The commission may include in an award provisions that are based on a certified agreement only if satisfied the provisions—

(a) are consistent with principles established by the full bench that apply for deciding wages and employment conditions; and

(b) are not contrary to the public interest.

Review of awards

130.(1) The commission may review an award—

(a) of its own initiative; or

(b) on the application of a party to the award.

(2) Without limiting subsection (1), a party may apply to the commission to amend a provision of an award about wages or employment conditions.

(3) The commission must review an award within 3 years after—

(a) it was made; or
(b) if it was made before the commencement of this section—the commencement; or
(c) it was last reviewed under this section.

(4) In reviewing an award, the commission must do what is required by sections 126, 127 and 128.

Review of industrial instruments referred by the Anti-Discrimination Commission

131.(1) The commission must review an industrial instrument referred to it by the Anti-Discrimination Commission on the grounds that it is discriminatory.

(2) The anti-discrimination commissioner is a party to the proceedings.

PART 3—EXEMPTIONS

Exemptions

132.(1) The commission may, of its own initiative or on application by an organisation or employer, by the order by which it makes an award, or by its later order, exempt from the application of the award—
(a) an employer or class of employer, or employee or class of employee, in a locality or in the calling to which the award applies; and
(b) a person who is engaged, whether as employer or employee, in the locality or calling, while the award remains in force.

(2) The commission may give the exemption only if satisfied the exemption—
(a) is in the best interests of the employees and employers concerned; and
(b) is not contrary to the public interest.
PART 4—GENERAL

Enforceability of awards

133. Action can not be commenced to enforce an award until 21 days after the date it is published in the industrial gazette.

Effect of appeals on awards

134. The commission must immediately amend an award to give effect to—

(a) a decision of the Court of Appeal, court or full bench affecting the award on appeal from a decision of the commission; or

(b) a decision of the court affecting the award on a case stated by the commission.

Inconsistency between awards and contracts

135.(1) To the extent of any inconsistency, an award prevails over a contract of service that is—

(a) in force when the award becomes enforceable; or

(b) made while the award continues in force.

(2) The contract is to be interpreted, and takes effect, as if it were amended to the extent necessary to make the area of inconsistency conform to the award.

(3) However, no inconsistency arises only because the contract provides for employment conditions more favourable to the employee than the award.

(3) While an exemption exists, the award does not bind the employer, employee, class, or person, according to the exemption.
PART 5—WAGES AND EMPLOYMENT CONDITIONS FOR APPRENTICES AND TRAINEES

Apprentice’s and trainee’s employment conditions

136.(1) An apprentice or trainee is entitled to the same employment conditions as those fixed by the industrial instrument applicable to employees in the workplace where the apprentice or trainee is employed.

(2) An apprentice is entitled to wages at—

(a) if an industrial instrument applying to employees in the workplace where the apprentice is employed states a rate—the rate stated in the instrument; or

(b) otherwise—the rate fixed by the commission.

(3) If an industrial instrument provides for a tradesperson in a calling to be paid an allowance in addition to wages, an apprentice in the calling is entitled to be paid—

(a) if, under the instrument, the allowance is taken to be part of the tradesperson’s wages—the percentage of the allowance that the apprentice’s wages bear to the tradesperson’s wages; or

(b) if, under the instrument, the allowance is not taken to be part of the tradesperson’s wages—the full allowance.

(4) If an industrial instrument provides for a tradesperson in a calling to be paid an allowance that is assessed as a percentage of the tradesperson’s wages, an apprentice in the calling is entitled to be paid the percentage of the allowance that the apprentice’s wages bear to the tradesperson’s wages.

(5) Subsection (4) applies whether or not, under the instrument, the allowance is taken to be part of the tradesperson’s wages.

(6) In this section—

“industrial instrument” includes an award or agreement under the Workplace Relations Act 1996 (Cwlth).
Order setting minimum wages and conditions

137.(1) The commission may make an order fixing minimum wages and employment conditions for the following employees, whether or not they are employed under an industrial instrument—

(a) apprentices or trainees; or
(b) different classes of apprentices or trainees.

(2) In making an order, the commission may consider any matter it considers relevant, including—

(a) the age, competency, or method of progression through training of the apprentices or trainees; and
(b) an industrial instrument.

(3) Despite section 136, if there is an inconsistency between an order and an industrial instrument, the order prevails to the extent of the inconsistency.

(4) The commission may make an order—

(a) of its own initiative; or
(b) on application by—
   (i) the State Training Council; or
   (ii) an organisation; or
   (iii) a State peak council; or
   (iv) the Minister; or
   (v) another entity with an interest in apprentices or trainees.

(5) In this section—

“industrial instrument” includes an award or agreement under the Commonwealth Act.

Order setting tool allowance

138.(1) The commission may make an order requiring an apprentice’s employer to provide the apprentice with—

(a) tools relevant to the calling the apprentice is engaged in; or
(b) an amount to enable the apprentice to buy the tools (a “tool allowance”).

(2) The order may state—

(a) the particular tools to be provided and the circumstances in which they are to be provided; or

(b) the circumstances in which a tool allowance must be provided.

(3) The commission may make an order—

(a) of its own initiative; or

(b) on application by—

(i) the State Training Council; or

(ii) an organisation; or

(iii) a State peak council; or

(iv) the Minister; or

(v) another entity with an interest in apprentices.

(4) An employer must not contravene an order.

Maximum penalty—40 penalty units.

(5) If a magistrate finds an employer guilty of an offence against subsection (4), the magistrate must, in addition to a penalty the magistrate may impose, order the employer to—

(a) provide the apprentice with the tools required to be provided under the commission’s order; or

(b) pay to the Magistrates Court the amount—

(i) stated in the commission’s order; or

(ii) equivalent to the cost of the tools required to be provided under the commission’s order.

(6) The magistrate may express the order in the alternative so the employer may decide how to comply with it.

(7) The court must pay an amount paid under subsection (5)(b) to the apprentice.
Termination of employment before apprenticeship or traineeship cancelled or completed

139.(1) This section applies despite any other provision of this Act if an employer is training—

(a) an apprentice under an apprenticeship; or

(b) a trainee under a traineeship.

(2) The apprentice’s or trainee’s employment with the employer can not be terminated unless the apprenticeship or traineeship is completed or is cancelled under the Vocational Education, Training and Employment Act 1991, part 3.28

Maximum penalty—40 penalty units.

PART 6—LABOUR MARKET PROGRAMS

Orders for wages and employment conditions

140.(1) The commission may make an order fixing wages and employment conditions for employees who participate in a labour market program.

(2) In making an order, the commission may consider any matter it considers relevant, including—

(a) the objectives of the program; and

(b) any attribute of the participants that affects their ability to get employment, including, for example—

(i) the age and competency of the participants; and

(ii) any disability or incapacity of the participants; and

(c) the kind of work done in the program; and

(d) the experience to be gained by the participants; and

28 Vocational Education, Training and Employment Act 1991, part 3 (Training administration)
(e) any relevant industrial instrument; and
(f) any remuneration or benefit the participants are receiving from the Commonwealth or the State.

(3) The commission may make an order—
(a) of its own initiative; or
(b) on application by—
   (i) the State Training Council; or
   (ii) the Minister.

(4) In this section—
“labour market program” means a labour market program approved by the Minister.

CHAPTER 6—AGREEMENTS

PART 1—CERTIFIED AGREEMENTS

Division 1—Making agreements

Certified agreements

141.(1) A certified agreement may be made about the relationship between an employer and a group of employees (whether all employees, or a category of employees) of the employer.

(2) The certified agreement covers all employees in the group, even if they were employed after the agreement was made.

(3) In this section—
“group of employees” includes—
(a) employees of a single employer; and
(b) employees of a multi-employer; and
(c) employees of an employer who are engaged in a project, including a proposed project; and

(d) employees proposed to be employed in a new business by an employer, other than a multi-employer; and

(e) employees of—
   (i) the State; or
   (ii) an entity established for a public purpose under a law of the State or Commonwealth; or
   (iii) another entity in which the State has a controlling interest.

Who may make certified agreements

142. A certified agreement may be made between—
   (a) on the one hand, the employer; and
   (b) on the other hand—
      (i) 1 or more employee organisations who represent, or are entitled to represent, any employees who are, or are eligible to be, members of the organisation; or
      (ii) the employees at the time the agreement is made.

Proposed parties to be advised when agreement is proposed

143.(1) This section applies when a person (the “proposer”) proposes to make a certified agreement.

   (2) The proposer must advise the following persons, in writing, of the proposer’s intention to begin negotiations for the agreement—
      (a) the other proposed parties to the agreement; and
      (b) for a project agreement—all relevant employee organisations and the commission.

29 See section 167 (Successor employers bound) for what happens on the transfer of a business to a new employer.
(3) The proposer must advise the persons at least 14 days before the negotiations are proposed to begin.

(4) If the agreement proposed is a project agreement, an organisation that receives advice under subsection (2) and wants to be party to the agreement must give written notice of that fact to—

(a) the proposer; and

(b) the commission.

(5) If the agreement proposed is a multi-employer agreement, a person who receives advice under subsection (2) and wants to be party to the agreement must give written notice of that fact to the proposer.

(6) A notice under subsection (4) or (5) must be given within 21 days of the person receiving the advice.

(7) An agreement may only be made within that 21 days if the other proposed parties to the agreement, and all relevant employee organisations, have given a notice under subsection (4) or (5).

(8) In this section——

“multi-employer agreement” means an agreement made with a multi-employer.

“relevant employee organisation” means an employee organisation that—

(a) is bound by an award or industrial agreement that binds the employer, or would bind the employer apart from an award under the Commonwealth Act; or

(b) if there is no award or agreement that binds, or would bind, the employer—is entitled to represent the industrial interests of the relevant employees.

What is to be done when an agreement is proposed

144.(1) This section does not apply to—

(a) a certified agreement to be made with an employee organisation for employees proposed to be employed in a new business; or

(b) a project agreement if the agreement is to be made before the project commences.
(2) When a certified agreement is proposed to be made with an employee organisation or employees, the employer must take reasonable steps to ensure—

(a) at least 14 days before the relevant employees are asked to approve the agreement, each relevant employee has, or has ready access to, the proposed written agreement; and

(b) the terms of the agreement (including the procedures for preventing and settling disputes), and the effect of the terms, are explained to each relevant employee before approval is given; and

(c) for an agreement with employees—each relevant employee is informed that he or she may ask a relevant employee organisation to represent the employee in negotiating with the employer about the agreement.

(3) If a relevant employee does ask a relevant employee organisation to represent the employee, the employer must give the organisation a reasonable opportunity to represent the employee in negotiating with the employer about the agreement before it is made.

(4) Subsection (3) stops applying if, after the request is made—

(a) the relevant employee withdraws the request; or

(b) the employee stops being a relevant employee.

(5) In this section—

“relevant employee organisation” means an employee organisation—

(a) of which a relevant employee is a member; and

(b) that—

(i) is bound by an award or industrial agreement that binds the employer, or would bind the employer apart from an award under the Commonwealth Act; or

(ii) if there is no award or agreement that binds, or would bind, the employer—is entitled to represent the industrial interests of the relevant employees.
Negotiations for project agreements

145.(1) This section applies if more than 1 employee organisation has given notice, under section 143(4), that it wants to be party to a proposed project agreement.

(2) The employer must negotiate with the single bargaining unit, through a person nominated by the single bargaining unit to represent it.

(3) An organisation may withdraw as a party to a proposed project agreement by written notice to—

(a) the other organisations that comprise the single bargaining unit; and

(b) the proposer; and

(c) the commission.

(4) In this section—

“single bargaining unit” means all the employee organisations that have given notice, under section 143(4), that they want to be party to a proposed project agreement.

Negotiations must be in good faith

146. When negotiating the terms of a proposed agreement, the proposed parties to the agreement must negotiate in good faith.

Examples of good faith in negotiating—

- agreeing to meet at reasonable times proposed by another party
- attending meetings that the party had agreed to attend
- complying with negotiation procedures agreed to by the parties
- not capriciously adding or withdrawing items for negotiation
- disclosing relevant information as appropriate for the negotiations
- negotiating with all of the parties.
Peace obligation period to assist negotiations

147.(1) To enable the proposed parties to reach agreement about the terms of the proposed agreement, the proposed parties can not during the peace obligation period—

(a) take industrial action for the purpose of—

(i) supporting or advancing claims made in relation to the proposed agreement; or

(ii) responding to industrial action by the employer or the relevant employees; or

(b) ask the commission to help the parties to make the agreement under section 148.

(2) In this section—

“peace obligation period” means the period of 21 days after the giving of the advice mentioned in section 143(2), ending no earlier than 7 days after the nominal expiry date of any existing certified agreement.

Assistance in negotiating by conciliation

148.(1) This section applies if, after the peace obligation period has ended—

(a) a party who has attempted to negotiate a certified agreement (a “negotiating party”), by a declaration of a breakdown in negotiations, has asked the commission to help the parties to make a certified agreement; or

(b) the commission becomes aware that a negotiating party is engaging in industrial action that—

(i) is threatening, or has caused, significant damage to the economy, community or local community, or part of the economy; or

(ii) is threatening to endanger, or has endangered, the personal health, safety or welfare of the community or part of it.

(2) To help the parties to reach agreement, the commission has the conciliation powers it would have under section 230 if that section applied to certified agreement negotiations instead of to industrial disputes.
Example—

The commission might help the parties to—

• develop and consider options and processes
• negotiate in good faith.

(3) Also, the commission may make orders to—

(a) promote the efficient conduct of negotiations; or
(b) ensure the parties negotiate in good faith; or
(c) otherwise help the parties to negotiate the agreement.

(4) In particular, the commission may order a party to take, or not to take, specified action.

(5) In deciding what orders to make, the commission must consider the conduct of each of the parties.

(6) If 2 or more employee organisations are involved in the negotiations or proposed negotiations, the commission may order that the organisations be represented, for conciliating the matter, by a single person or group of persons authorised by the organisations to represent them (whether generally or for the particular negotiations).

(7) Subsection (6) does not limit subsection (2).

Arbitration if conciliation unsuccessful

149.(1) This section applies if—

(a) the commission considers conciliation has not been successful because industrial action—

(i) has been protracted; or

(ii) is threatening, or has caused, significant damage to—

(A) the economy or local community, or part of the economy; or

(B) a single enterprise; or

(C) employees; or

(iii) is threatening to endanger, or has endangered, the personal health, safety or welfare of the community or part of it; or
(b) the commission considers it is not likely that further conciliation will result in the matter being settled within a reasonable time, considering, among other things, the history of industrial relations in the enterprise or industry to which the proposed agreement is to relate; or

(c) all the negotiating parties consider conciliation has been unsuccessful and ask the commission to determine the matter by arbitration.

(2) To determine the matter by arbitration—

(a) the commission has the arbitration powers that it would have under section 230\(^{30}\) if that section applied to certified agreement negotiations instead of industrial disputes; and

(b) the commission may—

(i) give directions or make orders of an interlocutory nature; or

(ii) order that section 174\(^{31}\) not apply to industrial action organised, or engaged in, by a negotiating party from the making of the order until the commission determines the matter by arbitration.

(3) In exercising the arbitration powers, the commission must consider at least the following—

(a) the matters that are at issue;

(b) the merits of the case;

(c) the interests of the negotiating parties;

(d) the public interest, and to that end must consider—

(i) the objects of this Act; and

(ii) the likely effects of the commission’s determination on the community, economy, industry generally and on the particular enterprise or industry concerned;

\(^{30}\) Section 230 (Action on industrial dispute)

\(^{31}\) Section 174 (Protected industrial action)
(e) the extent to which the negotiating parties have negotiated in good faith.

(4) The full bench may establish principles about the arbitration of certified agreements.

(5) After the principles have been established, the commission must exercise its power to arbitrate in a way that is consistent with the principles.

(6) Unless all the negotiating parties agree, the commission as constituted for the conciliation can not exercise the arbitration powers mentioned in this section.

Determinations made under s 149

150.(1) A determination under section 149 must specify a date, of no later than 3 years after the date on which the determination is made, as its nominal expiry date.

(2) Subject to this section, the determination operates at all times after it commences and can not be amended.

(3) The determination has effect subject to any conditions specified in it.

(4) Before the determination’s nominal expiry date has passed, the commission must not revoke the determination unless satisfied—

(a) the employer and the 1 or more organisations, or a majority of the employees, who are bound by the determination have agreed to the revocation (for example, because they propose to make an agreement under division 132); and

(b) the revocation would not be against the public interest.

(5) After the determination’s nominal expiry date—

(a) the employer, or an organisation, bound by the determination; or

(b) a majority of the employees to whom the determination applies;

32 Division 1 (Making agreements) may give notice to all of the employees, or other employees, to whom the determination applies and persons, or other persons, who are bound by the determination and to the commission, stating that the determination is revoked with effect from a specified day.

(6) The specified day must be at least 28 days after—

(a) the day on which the notice is given; or

(b) if it is given to different persons on different days—the day on which it is last given.

Steps to be repeated if proposed agreement is amended

151.(1) If a proposed agreement is amended for any reason, the steps in section 144(2) and (3) must be taken again for the agreement as amended.

(2) If the agreement is being amended only by adding an employer (a “new employer”) as a party to the agreement, the steps need only be taken in relation to the new employer’s employees.

(3) However, the steps need not be taken if the commission is satisfied the proposed agreement was amended only—

(a) for a formal or clerical reason; or

(b) in another way that does not adversely affect a relevant employee’s interests.

Certificate as to requested representation

152.(1) An employee organisation may apply to the registrar for a certificate stating that an employee has requested the organisation, under section 144, to represent the employee in negotiating with the employer about a proposed agreement.

(2) An employer may apply to the registrar for a certificate stating that the employer need not negotiate with an employee organisation about a proposed agreement because of a circumstance mentioned in section 144(4).

33 Section 144 (What is to be done when an agreement proposed)
(3) A certificate must identify the organisation, the employer and the proposed agreement.

(4) A certificate must not identify any of the employees concerned.

(5) The certificate is, for all purposes of this Act, evidence of the matters stated in it.

Division 2—Certifying agreements

Time for applying for certification

153. An application for the commission to certify an agreement must be made within 21 days after the day on which the agreement is signed by or for all the parties.

Notice of hearing

154. The registrar must, at least 7 days before an application for certification of an agreement is to be heard, place a notice in the registry detailing—

(a) the names of the parties to the agreement; and

(b) the relevant or designated award; and

(c) the hearing date.

Right of employee organisation to be heard

155.(1) All relevant employee organisations are entitled to be heard on an application for the certification of an agreement.

(2) As soon as practicable after the application is made, the commission must notify all relevant employee organisations that—

(a) the application has been made; and

(b) the organisation is entitled to be heard on the application.

(3) This section does not affect another right of an employee organisation, or anyone else, to be heard on or intervene in an application.
(4) In this section—

“relevant employee organisation” means an employee organisation that—

(a) is bound by an award or industrial agreement that binds the employer, or would bind the employer apart from an award under the Commonwealth Act; or

(b) if there is no award or agreement that binds, or would bind, the employer—is entitled to represent the industrial interests of the relevant employees.

Certifying an agreement

156.(1) The commission must certify the agreement if, and must not certify the agreement unless, it is satisfied—

(a) the things required by sections 143, 144 and 145 were done, and in particular, the terms of the agreement were explained in a way that was appropriate, having regard to the persons’ particular circumstances and needs; and

Examples of persons with particular circumstances and needs—

1. Women
2. Persons from a non-English speaking background
3. Young persons
4. Persons with limited literacy or numeracy skills.

(b) the employer did not coerce, or attempt to coerce, an employee—

(i) not to make a request mentioned in section 144(2)(c); or

(ii) to withdraw the request; and

(c) the agreement is in writing and signed by or for all the parties; and

(d) the agreement includes procedures for preventing and settling disputes; and

(e) the agreement specifies a nominal expiry date that is—

34 Sections 143 (Proposed parties to be advised when agreement is proposed), 144 (What is to be done when an agreement is proposed) and 145 (Negotiations for project agreements)
(i) for a project agreement—the date no later than the date on which the project ends; and

(ii) for another agreement—a date no later than 3 years after the date on which the agreement will come into operation; and

(f) the agreement contains, or is accompanied by, information prescribed under a regulation; and

(g) a valid majority of the relevant employees employed at the time approved the agreement; and

(h) the agreement passes the no-disadvantage test; and

(i) for a project agreement—each employee organisation that has given notice of wanting to be party to the agreement under section 143(4), and that has not withdrawn as a party under section 145(3), is a party to the agreement; and

(j) for an agreement to be made with an employee organisation, other than an agreement for a new business—

(i) each employee organisation that is bound by the award or industrial agreement that binds the employer, or would bind the employer apart from an award under the Commonwealth Act, is a party to the agreement; or

(ii) if no award or industrial agreement binds, or would bind, the employer—each employee organisation that is entitled to represent the industrial interests of the relevant employees is a party to the agreement; and

(k) for an agreement for a new business—

(i) the agreement was made before the employment of any of the persons in the new business at the new workplace whose employment will be subject to the agreement; and

(ii) the agreement has been made with 1 or more employee organisations that are entitled to represent the industrial interests of the persons.

(2) Subsection (1)(j) does not apply if the commission is satisfied an employee organisation mentioned in subsection (1)(j)—
When commission to refuse to certify an agreement

157.(1) The commission must refuse to certify an agreement if it considers that a provision of the agreement is inconsistent with—

(a) a provision of—
   (i) chapter 2, part 5; or
   (ii) chapter 3; or
   (iii) chapter 4;35 or

(b) an order by the commission under any of those provisions; or

(c) an injunction granted by the commission under any of those provisions.

(2) The commission must refuse to certify an agreement if satisfied—

(a) the employer has, in connection with negotiating the agreement, contravened—
   (i) section 170; or
   (ii) chapter 4;36 or

(b) the employer has caused an entity to engage, in connection with negotiations for an agreement, in conduct that, had the employer engaged in the conduct, would be a contravention by the employer of—
   (i) section 170; or
   (ii) chapter 4; or

35 Chapter 2, part 5 (Equal remuneration for work of equal or comparable value)
   Chapter 3 (Dismissals)
   Chapter 4 (Freedom of association)

36 Section 170 (Amendment if discrimination between unionists and non-unionists)
   Chapter 4 (Freedom of association)
(c) an entity has, for the employer—
   (i) engaged in conduct mentioned in paragraph (b); or
   (ii) caused another entity to engage in the conduct.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply if the commission is satisfied the contravention or conduct, and its effects, have been fully remedied.

(4) The commission must refuse to certify an agreement if it considers a provision of the agreement is a discriminatory provision.

(5) The commission must refuse to certify an agreement if—
   (a) the agreement applies only to a group or category of employees; and
   (b) the commission considers the agreement defines the group or category in a way that results in other employees not being subject to the agreement, if it would be reasonable for the other employees to be subject to the agreement, having regard to—
      (i) the nature of the work performed by the other employees; and
      (ii) the organisational and operational relationships between the group or category and the other employees; and
   (c) the commission considers it unfair that the other employees are not subject to the agreement.

Other options open to commission instead of refusing to certify agreement

158.(1) If, under section 156 or 157, the commission has grounds to refuse to certify an agreement—
   (a) the commission may accept an undertaking from 1 or more of the persons who made the agreement in relation to the operation of the agreement and, if satisfied the undertaking meets the commission’s concerns, certify the agreement; and
   (b) before refusing to certify the agreement, the commission must give the persons who made the agreement an opportunity to take action that may be necessary to enable the commission to certify the agreement.
(2) If an undertaking is not complied with, the commission, after giving the persons who made the agreement an opportunity to be heard, may—

(a) order the 1 or more persons who gave the undertaking to comply with it; or

(b) terminate the agreement.

(3) If—

(a) after doing the things required or allowed by subsection (1), the commission is still required to refuse to certify the agreement; and the commission may conciliate the industrial matter concerned with a view to helping the persons concerned to take the action necessary to enable the commission to certify the agreement.

(b) it is so required only because of an inconsistency mentioned in section 157(1);

Procedures for preventing and settling disputes

159. The procedures for preventing and settling disputes contained in a certified agreement may, with the commission’s approval, authorise the commission to settle a dispute.37

Division 3—No-disadvantage test

When an agreement passes the no-disadvantage test

160.(1) An agreement passes the no-disadvantage test if it does not disadvantage employees in relation to their employment conditions.

(2) An agreement disadvantages employees only if the commission considers it would result in a reduction in the employees’ entitlements or protections.

(3) Subsection (2) applies subject to section 161 and 162.

(4) Subsection (2) does not apply if the commission considers that, in the

37 Also see section 230 (Action on industrial dispute) for commission’s powers to prevent or settle industrial disputes.
context of the employment conditions considered as a whole, the reduction is not against the public interest.

Example of subsection (4)—

The making of the agreement is part of a reasonable strategy to deal with a short-term crisis in, and to help in the revival of, a business.

(5) If the president considers exceptional circumstances exist, the president may require the registrar to give the commission a report comparing the agreement with the employee’s entitlements or protections.

(6) In this section—

“entitlements or protections” means the entitlements or protections under—

(a) a relevant award, designated award, industrial agreement or order under chapter 5, part 5; or

(b) chapter 2, including as reviewed by a general ruling of the full bench.

Special case—employee eligible for supported wage system

161.(1) This section applies if a certified agreement provides for the payment of wages to an employee who is eligible for the supported wage system at a rate not less than the rate set in accordance with that system for the employee.

(2) The agreement does not disadvantage the employee in relation to the employee’s employment conditions only because of the reduction of the employee’s wages.

Special case—employee undertaking approved apprenticeship or traineeship

162.(1) This section applies if—

(a) a certified agreement provides for the payment of wages to an employee undertaking approved training (a “training employee”) in a particular trade, occupation or work, or a trade, occupation or work similar to the particular trade, occupation or work (the “work”); and
(b) there is a relevant award, designated award or order providing for the payment of wages to employees undertaking benchmark training for the work.

(2) The agreement is taken to disadvantage the training employee in the employee’s employment conditions if the agreement provides for the payment of wages to the employee at a rate less than the rate payable to an employee undertaking benchmark training (the “benchmark employee”) under the relevant award, designated award or order, as adjusted under subsection (3).

(3) For subsection (2), the rate payable to a benchmark employee is to be adjusted to take into account the proportionate difference, as decided by the approving authority, between the productive time of a training employee and the productive time of a benchmark employee.

(4) If the agreement adopts, as the qualification for a wage level, a criterion decided by the approving authority (the “decided criterion”) instead of a specified criterion applying under the relevant award, designated award or order (the “award criterion”), the award is taken, for this section, to have effect as if the decided criterion were substituted for the award criterion.

(5) This section does not apply to a trainee bound by—

(a) the Training Wage Award—State;

(b) the National Training Wage Award 1994.

(6) In this section—

“benchmark training” means training for an apprentice or trainee in a particular trade, occupation or work if the trade, occupation or work is recognised under an award or under an order made under section 137.38

Deciding designated awards

163.(1) This section applies if—

(a) an employer or organisation of employees proposes to make a certified agreement; and

38 Section 137 (Order setting minimum wages and conditions)
(b) there is no relevant award for some or all of the persons to whom the agreement will apply.

(2) The employer or organisation must apply to the commission for a decision under subsection (3).

(3) On application, the commission must decide that an award (regulating employment conditions of employees engaged in a similar kind of work as the person under the proposed agreement) is appropriate for deciding whether the agreement passes the no-disadvantage test.

(4) The commission must inform the employer or organisation in writing of its decision.

Division 4—Effect of certified agreements

When a certified agreement is in operation

164.(1) A certified agreement starts operating when it is certified.

(2) The agreement continues to operate until—

(a) after its nominal expiry date, it is replaced by another certified agreement; or

(b) it is terminated under section 158, 171, 172 or 173.39

Certified agreement’s effect on awards, agreements or orders

165.(1) While a certified agreement operates, it prevails, to the extent of any inconsistency, over an award or industrial agreement or an order made under section 137.

(2) While a project agreement operates, it operates to the exclusion of any other certified agreement or QWA.

39 Section 158 (Other options open to commission instead of refusing to certify agreement), 171 (Other options open to commission instead of refusing to approve amendment of agreement), 172 (Terminating certified agreement on or before its nominal expiry date) or 173 (Terminating agreement after its nominal expiry date)
Persons bound

166.(1) A certified agreement binds—

(a) the employer—

(i) for an agreement made by an organisation of employers for a project—for whom the agreement was made; or

(ii) who made the agreement; and

(b) all persons who are, while the agreement operates, relevant employees; and

(c) if the agreement is made with 1 or more employee organisations—the 1 or more organisations.

(2) For a certified agreement made between the employees and employer, the commission must decide that the agreement also binds an employee organisation if—

(a) before the agreement is certified, the organisation gives the commission and employer notice that it wants to be bound by the agreement; and

(b) the organisation satisfies the commission that—

(i) the organisation has at least 1 member—

(A) whose employment will be subject to the agreement; and

(B) who asked the organisation to give the notice; and

(ii) the organisation—

(A) is bound by an award or industrial agreement that binds the employer, or would bind the employer apart from an award under the Commonwealth Act; or

(B) if there is no award or agreement that binds, or would bind, the employer—is entitled to represent the industrial interests of the relevant employees.

Successor employers bound

167.(1) This section applies if—
(a) an employer is bound by a certified agreement; and
(b) at a later time a new employer becomes the successor (whether or not immediate) of the whole or a part of the business of the employer bound by the agreement.

(2) From the later time—
(a) the new employer is bound by the certified agreement, to the extent it relates to the whole or part of the business; and
(b) the previous employer stops being bound by the certified agreement, to the extent it relates to the whole or part of the business; and
(c) a reference in this part to the employer includes a reference to the new employer, and ceases to refer to the previous employer, to the extent the context relates to the whole or part of the business.

Division 5—Extending, amending or terminating certified agreements

Extending a certified agreement

168.(1) On or before the nominal expiry date of a certified agreement, the following persons may apply to the commission to extend a certified agreement’s nominal expiry date—
(a) if 1 or more organisations are bound by the agreement—the employer and the 1 or more organisations;
(b) otherwise—the employer.

(2) However, the nominal expiry date can not be extended beyond—
(a) for a project agreement—the date on which the project ends; or
(b) for another agreement—3 years after the date on which the agreement came into operation.

(3) The extension has no effect unless the commission approves it.

(4) The commission must approve the extension if, and must not approve the extension unless, satisfied a valid majority of the relevant employees at the time approved the extension.
(5) The extension takes effect when the commission’s approval takes effect.

(6) This section does not apply to—

(a) an agreement made with an employee organisation for employees proposed to be employed in a new business; or

(b) an agreement to which section 160(4)\(^40\) applies.

Amending a certified agreement

169.(1) This section does not apply to an amendment of the parties to the agreement, other than in a multi-employer agreement (a “multi-employer amendment”).

(2) The following persons may apply to the commission to amend a certified agreement—

(a) if 1 or more organisations are bound by the agreement—the employer and the 1 or more organisations;

(b) for a multi-employer amendment—the person who wants to become a party to the agreement (the “new employer”);

(c) otherwise—the employer.

(3) The commission must approve the amendment if, and only if, satisfied—

(a) the amendment has been approved by—

(i) for a multi-employer amendment—

(A) a valid majority of the new employer’s employees whose employment will be subject to the amended agreement; and

(B) the other parties to the agreement, or their representative; or

(ii) for any other amendment—a valid majority of the relevant employees at the time; and

\(^40\) Section 160 (When an agreement passes the no-disadvantage test)
(b) the commission would be required to certify the agreement as amended if it were an agreement whose certification was applied for under this part.

(4) In applying subsection (3)(b)—

(a) a requirement about a majority of persons making or approving the agreement is taken to be satisfied; and

(b) section 158\(^{41}\) is to be disregarded.

(5) The amendment takes effect when the commission’s approval takes effect.

(6) The commission may, on application by a person bound by a certified agreement, amend a certified agreement—

(a) to remove ambiguity; or

(b) to include, omit or amend a term, however specified, that allows an employer to stand-down an employee; or

(c) in another way, if—

(i) the following persons have agreed to the amendment—

(A) for an agreement between the employer and an employee organisation—the employer and organisation;

(B) for an agreement between the employer and employees—the employer and a valid majority of the relevant employees at the time; and

(ii) the commission is satisfied the amendment does not disadvantage the relevant employees; and

(iii) the commission is satisfied exceptional circumstances have arisen in the workplace that necessitate the amendment.

(7) A certified agreement may be amended only under—

(a) this section (including as it applies under section 170); or

\(^{41}\) Section 158 (Other options open to commission instead of refusing to certify agreement)
Amendment if discrimination between unionists and non-unionists

170.(1) This section applies if—
   (a) 1 or more employees whose employment is not subject to the agreement ask the employer to—
      (i) amend the agreement so that their employment is subject to the agreement; and
      (ii) seek the approval of the commission for the amendment under section 169; and
   (b) their employment would be subject to the agreement if—
      (i) they were members of an employee organisation or of a particular employee organisation; or
      (ii) they were not members of an employee organisation or of a particular employee organisation.

   (2) The employer must seek the commission’s approval to amend the agreement in accordance with the request.

   (3) The commission must disregard section 169(3)(a) in deciding whether to approve the amendment.

Other options open to commission instead of refusing to approve amendment of agreement

171.(1) If, for section 170, the commission is not satisfied as required under section 169(3)—
   (a) before refusing to approve the amendment, it must give the persons who amended the agreement an opportunity to take action necessary to enable the commission to approve the amendment; or
(b) it may accept an undertaking from 1 or more of the persons who amended the agreement in relation to the operation of the agreement as amended and, if satisfied the undertaking meets the commission’s concerns, approve the amendment.

(2) If an undertaking is not complied with, the commission, after giving the persons who amended the agreement an opportunity to be heard, may—

(a) order the 1 or more persons who gave the undertaking to comply with the undertaking; or

(b) undo any effect of the amendment; or

(c) terminate the amendment.

Terminating certified agreement on or before its nominal expiry date

172.(1) On or before a certified agreement’s nominal expiry date, the following persons may terminate the agreement by notice—

(a) if 1 or more organisations are bound by the agreement—the employer and the 1 or more organisations;

(b) otherwise—the employer.

(2) The commission must approve the termination if, and only if, satisfied a valid majority of the relevant employees at the time approve its termination.

(3) The termination takes effect when the commission’s approval takes effect.

Terminating agreement after its nominal expiry date

173.(1) After a certified agreement’s nominal expiry date, the following persons may apply to the commission to terminate a certified agreement—

(a) the employer;

(b) a valid majority of the relevant employees;

(c) an employee organisation that is bound by the agreement and that has at least 1 member who is a relevant employee.
(2) If the agreement does not provide for the way it may be terminated after the agreement’s nominal expiry date has passed, the person who intends to apply to terminate it must give all other persons bound by the agreement notice of the intention.

(3) The commission must approve the termination if, and only if, satisfied—

(a) for an agreement that provides that it may be terminated if certain conditions are met—the conditions have been met; or

(b) for an agreement that does not provide for the way it may be terminated—it is in the public interest to terminate the agreement.

(4) The termination takes effect when the commission’s approval takes effect.

Division 6—Industrial action

Protected industrial action

174.(1) This section applies to industrial action that is organised, or engaged in, by a protected person or the employer for the purpose of—

(a) supporting or advancing claims made in relation to a proposed agreement; or

(b) responding to industrial action by the employer or the relevant employees.

(2) An action for the industrial action taken after the peace obligation period does not lie under any law, unless the industrial action has involved or is likely to involve—

(a) personal injury; or

(b) wilful or reckless destruction of, or damage to, property; or

(c) the unlawful taking, keeping or use of property.

(3) However, subsection (2) applies to—

(a) a strike by a protected person, only if the protected person has genuinely tried to reach agreement before the strike starts; and
(b) a lockout by an employer, only if the employer has genuinely tried to reach agreement before the lockout starts.

(4) Despite subsection (2), an action for defamation may be brought in relation to anything that happened during the industrial action.

(5) If the employer lawfully locks out an employee, the employer may refuse to pay the employee remuneration for the period of the lockout.

(6) The employer can not lock out an employee unless the continuity of the employee’s employment, for the purposes prescribed under a regulation, is not affected by the lockout.

(7) In this section—

“protected person” means—

(a) an employee organisation that is a negotiating party; or

(b) an officer or employee of the employee organisation acting in that capacity; or

(c) an employee who is a negotiating party or a member of the employee organisation.

Notice of Industrial Action to be Given

175.(1) Section 174(2) does not apply to industrial action unless the person intending to take the action gives all of the negotiating parties—

(a) if the action is in response to, and is taken after the start of, industrial action by another negotiating party in relation to a proposed agreement—written notice of the intended action; or

(b) otherwise—at least 3 working days written notice of the intended action.

(2) However, an employer who is negotiating an agreement with employees may take other reasonable steps to notify the employees of the intended action, instead of giving a written notice.

(3) A notice must state the nature of the intended action and the day when it will begin.

(4) A notice may be given before the end of the peace obligation period if the intended action does not start before the end of the period.
Secret ballot about taking industrial action

176.(1) This section applies if the commission considers—

(a) industrial action is being taken, or industrial action is threatened or probable, in relation to a proposed certified agreement; and

(b) finding out the relevant employees’ attitudes about the matters giving rise to the industrial action might help—

(i) to stop or prevent the industrial action; or

(ii) to settle the matters.

(2) The commission may order that a vote of employees be taken by secret ballot\(^{42}\) (with or without a provision for absent voting), in accordance with the commission’s directions, to find out their attitudes about the matters.

(3) After an order is made, the organising of, or engaging in, industrial action by the employee organisation or employees is not protected industrial action unless—

(a) the ballot has been taken; and

(b) the industrial action has been approved by a majority of the valid votes cast in the ballot.

(4) The commission must revoke the order if after an order is made, but before the vote is taken, the commission forms the view that the ballot should not proceed because it has satisfied itself that—

(a) the matters have been, or are about to be, settled; or

(b) the industrial action has stopped or been prevented, or is about to stop or be prevented.

(5) In subsection (3)—

“organisation” includes—

(a) a member of the organisation; and

(b) an officer or employee of the organisation acting in that capacity.

\(^{42}\) See section 285 (Conducting a secret ballot)
Industrial action must be properly authorised

177.(1) Section 174 does not apply to industrial action engaged in by members of an employee organisation that is a negotiating party unless, before the industrial action begins—

(a) the industrial action is properly authorised by the organisation’s management committee or someone authorised by the committee to authorise the industrial action; and

(b) if the organisation’s rules state the way industrial action is to be authorised—the industrial action is properly authorised under the rules; and

(c) notice of the giving of the authorisation is given to the registrar.

(2) Industrial action is taken to be properly authorised under an employee organisation’s rules even though a technical breach has happened in authorising the industrial action, if the person who committed the breach acted in good faith.

(3) Examples of a technical breach in authorising industrial action include—

(a) a contravention of the organisation’s rules; and

(b) an error or omission in complying with this Act; and

(c) participation, by a person not eligible to do so, in the making of a decision by a management committee, or by members, of the organisation.

(4) Industrial action is taken to have been properly authorised under an employee organisation’s rules, and to have been authorised before the industrial action began, unless—

(a) the commission declares in proceedings that the industrial action was not properly authorised under the rules; and

(b) the proceedings were brought in the commission within 6 months after the notice was given to the registrar under subsection (1)(c).
(5) So far as an employee organisation’s rules specify the way in which industrial action under this division is to be authorised, the rules do not contravene section 435 unless the way specified contravenes that section.

No protection if certification application not timely

178. Industrial action is not protected by section 174 unless an application to the commission to certify an agreement is made within 21 days after the day when the agreement is signed by or for all the parties.

Employer not to dismiss employee for engaging in protected industrial action

179.(1) An employer must not—

(a) dismiss an employee, injure an employee in his or her employment or change an employee’s position to the employee’s prejudice; or

(b) threaten to dismiss an employee, injure an employee in his or her employment or change an employee’s position to the employee’s prejudice; wholly or partly because the employee is proposing to engage, is engaging, or has engaged, in protected industrial action.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to any of the following actions taken by the employer—

(a) standing-down the employee;

(b) refusing to pay the employee if, under common law, the employer is permitted to do so because the employee has not performed work as directed;

(c) action of the employer that is itself protected industrial action.

43 Section 435 (General restrictions)
(3) In proceedings under section 183 for an alleged contravention of subsection (1), it is to be presumed, unless the employer proves otherwise, that the alleged conduct of the employer was carried out wholly or partly because the employee was proposing to engage, was engaging, or had engaged, in protected industrial action.

Remedies if employee dismissed etc. for engaging in protected industrial action

180.(1) If an employer contravenes section 179(1), the commission may order the employer—

(a) if the contravention was constituted by dismissing an employee—to reinstate the employee to the position the employee occupied immediately before the dismissal or re-employ the employee in a position at least as favourable as that position; and

(b) to pay the employee dismissed, injured or prejudiced, compensation for loss suffered because of the dismissal, injury or prejudice.

(2) The rights of and relating to reinstatement and re-employment that are conferred on an employee by this section do not limit any other rights of the employee.

When industrial action must not be taken

181.(1) This section applies to—

(a) a certified agreement from when it starts operating until its nominal expiry date has passed; and

(b) a determination under section 149 while it operates.

(2) The following persons must not engage in industrial action for the purpose of supporting or advancing claims against the employer in relation to the employment of employees whose employment is subject to the agreement or determination—

Section 183 (Penalties for contravening penalty provisions)

Section 149 (Arbitration if conciliation was unsuccessful)
(a) an employee whose employment is subject to the agreement or determination;

(b) an employee organisation that is bound by the agreement or determination;

(c) an officer or employee of the employee organisation acting in that capacity.

(3) If the employee, organisation or officer does so, the action is not protected industrial action.

(4) The employer must not lock out an employee from his or her employment for the purpose of supporting or advancing the employer’s claims in relation to the employment of employees whose employment is subject to the agreement or determination.

(5) If the employer does so, the lockout is not protected industrial action.

Division 7—Penalty provisions

182. In this division, each of the following is a “penalty provision”—

(a) section 170(2);46

(b) section 179(1);47

(d) section 185 (1) or (3).48

Penalties for contravening penalty provisions

183.(1) A contravention of a penalty provision is not an offence.

(2) However, a magistrate may, by order, impose a penalty on a person who contravenes a penalty provision.

(3) The penalty can not be more than the amount of the monetary value of—

(a) for a corporation—135 penalty units; or

(b) otherwise—27 penalty units.

(4) An application for an order for a contravention of section 170(2) may be made by—

(a) the employees making the request mentioned in section 170; or

(b) an employee organisation of which any of the employees making the request is a member; or

(c) an inspector; or

(d) another person prescribed under a regulation.

(5) An application for an order for a contravention of section 179(1) may be made by—

(7) An application for an order for a contravention of section 185(1) or (3) may be made by—

    (d) an employee organisation of which the person is a member; or
    (e) an inspector; or
    (f) another person prescribed under a regulation.

(8) The magistrate may order that a penalty, or part of a penalty, be paid to any person who may have made the application (other than an officer or employee of the State or a public service officer).

(9) Any part of the penalty that is ordered to be paid to the person must first be paid to the person.

(10) The remainder of the penalty must be paid to the consolidated fund.

Division 8—General

Secret ballot on valid majority

184.(1) This section applies if—
    (a) the commission is required under this part to be satisfied that a valid majority of the persons employed at a particular time whose employment is or will be subject to an agreement have made or terminated the agreement, or given an approval; and
    (b) the commission is not so satisfied.

49 Section 185 (Coercion of persons to make, amend or terminate certified agreements etc.)
(2) The commission may order a vote be taken by secret ballot\(^50\) (with or without a provision for absent voting), in accordance with the commission’s directions, of employees whose employment is or will be subject to the agreement to find out whether they would make or terminate the agreement, or give the approval.

(3) If a majority of the validly cast votes is in favour of making or terminating the agreement, or giving the approval, the commission is taken to be satisfied of the requirement.

(4) Before a vote is taken, the commission may revoke an order under subsection (2) if it becomes satisfied that the requirement of subsection (1)(a) has been met.

Coercion of persons to make, amend or terminate certified agreements etc.

185.(1) A person must not take, or refrain from taking, industrial action or other action with intent to coerce someone else to agree, or not to agree, to—

(a) making, amending or terminating, or extending the nominal expiry date of, an agreement under this part; or

(b) approving anything mentioned in paragraph (a).

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to industrial action that is protected industrial action.

(3) An employer must not coerce, or attempt to coerce, an employee of the employer—

(a) not to make a request mentioned in section 144(2)(c)\(^51\) in relation to an agreement the employer proposes to make; or

(b) to withdraw the request.

Division 6—No-disadvantage test

When does a QWA pass the no-disadvantage test

209.(1) A QWA passes the no-disadvantage test if it does not disadvantage the employee in relation to his or her employment conditions.

(2) A QWA disadvantages the employee in relation to his or her employment conditions only if the commission considers its approval would result in a reduction in the employee’s entitlements or protections.

(3) Subsection (2) applies subject to sections 210 and 211.

(4) If the president considers exceptional circumstances exist, the president may require the registrar to give the commission a report comparing the QWA with the employee’s entitlements or protections.

(5) In this section—

“certified agreement” means a certified agreement that, immediately before the initial day of the QWA, binds the employer.

“entitlements or protections” means the entitlements or protections under—

211.(1) This section applies if—

(b) there is a relevant award, designated award or order providing for the payment of wages to employees undertaking benchmark training for the work.

56 Chapter 5, part 5 (Wages and employment conditions for apprentices and trainees)
57 Chapter 2 (General employment conditions)
(2) The agreement is taken to disadvantage the training employee in the employee’s employment conditions if the QWA provides for the payment of wages to the employee at a rate less than the rate payable to an employee undertaking the benchmark training (the “benchmark employee”) under the relevant award, designated award or order, as adjusted under subsection (3).

(3) For subsection (2), the rate payable to a benchmark employee is to be adjusted to take into account the proportionate difference, as decided by the approving authority, between the productive time of a training employee and the productive time of a benchmark employee.

(4) If the QWA adopts, as the qualification for a wage level, a criterion decided by the approving authority (the “decided criterion”) instead of a specified criterion applying under the relevant award, designated award or order (the “award criterion”), the award is taken, for this section, to have effect as if the decided criterion were substituted for the award criterion.

(a) the Training Wage Award—State;

(b) the National Training Wage Award 1994.

(4) The commission must inform the employer in writing of the commission’s decision.

Division 7—Effect of QWAs

QWA’s effect on awards, certified agreements or orders

213.(1) A QWA, during its period of operation, operates to the exclusion of an award, or an order made under chapter 5, part 5, that would otherwise apply to the employee’s employment.

Division 2—General deregistration provisions

Subdivision 1—Bringing deregistration proceedings

General deregistration grounds

638. The full bench may order the deregistration of an organisation (a “deregistration order”) on any of the following grounds—

(a) achieving the objects of the Act has been prevented by—

(i) the organisation’s or its members’ continued contravention of a commission order or an industrial instrument (an “instrument”); or

(ii) the organisation’s continued failure to ensure its members do not contravene an instrument; or

(iii) any other conduct by the organisation or its members;

(b) the organisation or its members are engaging in industrial action that has prevented or interfered with—

(i) trade or commerce; or

(ii) providing a public service;
(c) the organisation or its members have been, or are, engaging in industrial action that has, is having, or is likely to have a substantial adverse effect on the safety, health or welfare of the community or a part of the community;

(d) the organisation was registered by mistake;

(e) the organisation’s rules—

   (i) do not allow a person who is eligible to become a member of the organisation to join it with reasonable ease; or

   (ii) impose unreasonable conditions on a person’s continuing membership of the organisation; or

   (iii) are harsh or oppressive; or

   (iv) provide for it to end on the happening of an event and the event has happened;

(f) the administration of the organisation’s rules is harsh or oppressive;

(g) a majority of the organisation’s members have agreed to its deregistration;

(h) if the organisation is an employee organisation, it is not free from control by, or improper influence from an employer or an employer association or organisation.

Who may bring deregistration proceedings

639.(1) Each of the following may apply to the full bench for a deregistration order on a ground mentioned in section 638—

   (a) an organisation;

   (b) the Minister;

   (c) the registrar;

   (d) another person given leave by the full bench.

(2) The full bench may give leave only if it considers the person has sufficient interest to make the application.
(3) The full bench may, of its own initiative, bring proceedings for a deregistration order—

(a) on a ground mentioned in section 638(d) or (e)(iv); or

(b) because the organisation has failed to comply with a demarcation dispute undertaking and amendment of its eligibility rules is inappropriate.

(4) The registrar may also apply for a deregistration order on the ground that the organisation is defunct.

Subdivision 2—Deciding deregistration proceedings

Hearing on ground other than industrial conduct

640. If a ground on which the proceedings are based includes a ground other than an industrial conduct ground, the full bench may make a deregistration order if satisfied the ground has been made out.

Hearing on industrial conduct ground

641.(1) This section applies if at the hearing of the application a ground on which the proceedings are based is an industrial conduct ground.

(2) The full bench must make a deregistration order if it—

(a) finds the ground has been made out; and

(b) does not consider the deregistration unjust, after considering—

(i) the significance of the circumstances forming the ground; and

(ii) the action taken by or against the organisation about the ground.

(3) However, if the full bench finds the industrial conduct ground is made out wholly or mainly because of conduct by a section or class of the organisation’s membership, it may instead of making a deregistration order—

(a) order amendments the organisation’s eligibility rules to exclude persons from the section or class from membership eligibility; or
(b) exclude a stated person from the organisation’s membership.

(4) A deregistration order may also prohibit the deregistered organisation from applying for registration before a stated day.

Deferral of deregistration for industrial conduct

642.(1) This section applies if the full bench may make a deregistration order under section 641.

(2) The full bench may defer its decision on making the deregistration order and make an order (a “deferral order”—

(a) suspending to a stated extent, the rights, privileges or capacities of the organisation or all or any of its members as members, under—

(i) this Act; or
(ii) a commission order; or
(iii) an award, certified agreement, EFA or industrial agreement; or

(b) directing how a suspended right, privilege or capacity may be exercised; or

(c) restricting the organisation or its branches in using their funds or property and controlling the funds or property to enforce the restriction.

(3) If a deferral order is made, the full bench must defer its decision on making the deregistration order until—

(a) if a party to the proceedings applies—the court considers it is just to make the decision considering—

(i) evidence given about compliance with the order; and
(ii) other relevant circumstances; or

(b) the order ends.

(4) A deferral order has effect despite the rules of the organisation or its branches.
When deferral order ends

643.(1) A deferral order ends—
   (a) 6 months after it takes effect, if the full bench has not extended the order before that time; or
   (b) if the full bench has extended the order—at the end of the extension; or
   (c) if it is discharged by the full bench.

(2) The full bench may discharge or extend a deferral order only on the application of a party to the deregistration proceedings.

(3) An extension application may only be made before the time mentioned in subsection (1)(a).

Incidental orders or directions

644. If the full bench makes a deregistration order, it may also make—
   (a) an order or direction it considers appropriate to give effect to the deregistration; or
   (b) an order under section 652(2),169 whether or not anyone has applied for the order.

Division 3—Small organisations

Commission may review

645. The commission may review an organisation to inquire whether the organisation is or may be a small organisation.

Deregistration proceedings by commission

646.(1) If the commission considers an organisation is or may be a small organisation, it may bring deregistration proceedings under this division against the organisation.

169 Section 652 (Effect on property)
(2) However, the commission must not bring proceedings under this division more than once a year against the same organisation.

Deciding proceedings

647.(1) The commission must make a deregistration order if satisfied the organisation is a small organisation.

(2) However, the commission may decide not to make the order if satisfied there are special circumstances and the organisation’s continued registration is in the public interest.

Example of ‘special circumstances’—

The organisation is an employee organisation and the commission is satisfied the organisation will in the near future, if its registration is continued, have more than 20 members who are employees.

Division 4—Effects of deregistration

Application and purpose of div 4

648.(1) This division applies on the making of a deregistration order.

(2) The registrar must record the deregistration and date of the order in the register.

Effect on corporate status

650.(1) If the deregistered organisation was a corporation under another law, the deregistered organisation continues to be incorporated, but only under the other law.

   (a) it ceases to be incorporated and becomes an association; and
   (b) its name is taken to be changed to omit the words required to be included in its registered name under section 424(2); and
   (c) its rules continue in force to the extent they can still be carried out or complied with.

No release of liabilities

651. The deregistration does not act to satisfy a liability or penalty incurred by the deregistered organisation or any of its members before the deregistration.

Effect on property

652.(1) If the deregistered organisation was incorporated only because of its registration, property owned by it immediately before the deregistration must be—
   (a) held and used under its rules, to the extent they can still be carried out or complied with; and
   (b) applied for the purposes of the deregistered organisation under its rules.

(2) Despite subsection (1), the full bench may, if an interested person applies, make an order it considers appropriate to satisfy the deregistered organisation’s liabilities from the property.

(3) In this section—
   “rules” of the deregistered organisation means its rules in force immediately before its deregistration.

170 Section 424 (Registered name of organisation that is not a corporation)
Effect on certain instruments

653.(1) If an award, EFA, commission order, certified agreement or industrial agreement (the “instrument”) bound the deregistered organisation and its members before the deregistration—

(a) from the deregistration, the deregistered organisation and its members do not have the right to a benefit under the instrument; and

(b) the instrument ceases to have any effect for the deregistered organisation 21 days after the deregistration.

(2) Despite subsection (1)(b), the commission may make an order it considers appropriate about the effect, if any, of the instrument on the deregistered organisation and its members.
