(3) In a hearing conducted pursuant to subsection (1), unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the District Court or the judge—

- (a) that unnecessary delay would be caused by a trial in a Magistrates Court; or

- (b) that either by reason of the probable cost of trial in a Magistrates Court, or by reason of the questions of law involved in the proceedings, or because there is reason to believe that a fair trial can not be had in a Magistrates Court, the case ought to be tried in the District Court;

it or the judge may order the proceedings pending in the District Court to be remitted to a Magistrates Court.

(4) Where a District Court or a judge thereof makes an order under subsection (3) remitting proceedings to a Magistrates Court, the registrar of that District Court shall transmit to the registrar of the Magistrates Court to which the proceedings are remitted a copy of the order and a copy of the plaint, pleadings or other documents filed by the parties in the registry of the District Court in relation to the proceedings.

(1) Where there is now or hereafter pending in a Magistrates Court an action, the plaintiff may at any time apply to a District Court or a judge thereof for an order to transfer the action to a District Court on the ground that there is reasonable ground for supposing that the relief or remedy

(2) If, on any such application the judge is satisfied that there is reasonable ground as aforesaid, the judge shall make an order that the action be transferred to a District Court.

80 Transfer of certain actions from Magistrates Court to District Court at defendant's instance

(1) Where there is now or hereafter pending in a Magistrates Court any action wherein the relief or remedy sought is one which would also be available if the action were transferred to a District Court, the defendant may make application to a District Court or a judge thereof to transfer the action to a District Court.

(2) The judge shall not grant the application unless the judge is satisfied that some important question of law or fact is likely to arise.

81 Procedure where proceedings beyond jurisdiction are commenced in Magistrates Court

(1) Where any proceedings are now or hereafter pending in a Magistrates Court in which a Magistrates Court has no jurisdiction, that Magistrates Court shall, unless it is given jurisdiction by an agreement made under the provisions of the rules under the Magistrates Courts Act 1921 order that the proceedings (save proceedings which are not within the jurisdiction of a District Court) be transferred to a District Court.

(2) However, where, on the application of any defendant, it appears to the Magistrates Court that the plaintiff or 1 of the plaintiffs knew or ought to have known that a Magistrates Court had no jurisdiction in the proceedings, the Magistrates Court may, if it thinks fit, instead of ordering that the proceedings be transferred as aforesaid, order that they be struck out.

82 Plaintiff's right to transfer action from District Court to Supreme Court

(1) Where there is now or hereafter pending in a District Court an action, the plaintiff may at any time apply to the Supreme Court or a judge thereof for an order to transfer the action to the Supreme Court, on the ground that there is reasonable ground for supposing that the relief or remedy sought is not available in the District Court.

(2) If, on any such application, the Court or judge is satisfied that there is reasonable ground as aforesaid, it or the judge shall make an order that the action be transferred to the Supreme Court.

83 Transfer of certain actions from District Court to Supreme Court at defendant's instance

(1) Where there is now or hereafter pending in a District Court any action, the defendant may make application to the Supreme Court or a judge thereof to transfer the action to the Supreme Court.

85 Procedure where proceedings beyond jurisdiction are commenced in District Court

(1) Where any proceedings are now or hereafter pending in a District Court in which a District Court has no jurisdiction, that court shall, unless it is given jurisdiction by an agreement made under the provisions of section 72, order that the proceedings be transferred to the Supreme Court.

(2) However, where, on the application of any defendant, it appears to a District Court that the plaintiff or 1 of the plaintiffs knew or ought to have known that a District Court had no jurisdiction in the proceedings, a District Court may, if it thinks fit, instead of ordering that the proceedings be transferred as aforesaid, order that they be struck out.

86 Jurisdiction as to counterclaims

(1) Where, in any action now or hereafter pending in a District Court, any counterclaim or set-off and counterclaim which involves matter beyond the jurisdiction of a District Court has been filed by any defendant, any party to the action may, within 14 days after the filing of the said counterclaim or set-off and counterclaim, apply to a judge of the Supreme Court for an order that the whole proceedings, or the proceedings on the said counterclaim or set-off and counterclaim be transferred to the Supreme Court.

(2) On any such application the judge of the Supreme Court may, as the judge thinks fit, order either—

- (a) that the whole proceedings be transferred to the Supreme Court; or
- (b) that the whole proceedings be heard and determined in a District Court; or
- (c) that the proceedings on the counterclaim or set-off and counterclaim be transferred to the Supreme Court and that the proceedings on the plaintiff's claim and the defence thereto other than the set-off (if any) be heard and determined in a District Court.

(3) However, where an order is made under subsection(2)(c), and judgment on the claim is given for the plaintiff, execution thereon shall, unless the Supreme Court or a judge thereof at any time otherwise orders, be stayed until the proceedings transferred to the Supreme Court have been determined.

(4) Where the Supreme Court makes any order under the provisions of this section, the registrar shall forward to the registrar of the District Court a copy of the order so made.
