Part 2 Application of Act4 Application of Act

- (2) The following provisions apply only in relation to a breach of duty happening on or after 2 December 2002—
 - chapter 2, part 1, divisions 1 to 6
 - chapter 2, part 3, division 1
 - section 55.
- (3) Chapter 2, part 2 applies only in relation to a breach of duty happening on or after the commencement of this subsection.
- (4) The following provisions apply in relation to a breach of duty happening on or after the day this Act receives assent—
 - chapter 2, part 4
 - sections 52, 54, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 72.
- (5) Chapter 2, part 5 applies only in relation to a breach of duty happening on or after the commencement of this subsection.
- (6) Sections 64, 65, 66, 67 and 73 apply in relation to personal injuries damages regardless of when the injury happened.

5 Civil liability excluded from Act

This Act does not apply in relation to any civil claim for damages for personal injury if the harm resulting from the breach of duty owed to the claimant is or includes—

- (a) an injury as defined under the WorkCover Queensland Act 1996, other than an injury to which section 36(1)(c) or 37¹ of that Act applies; or

Example for paragraph (a)—

A worker employed under a contract of service with a labour hire company is injured at the premises of a host employer while driving a defective machine. The worker pursues claims for damages for civil liability against the labour hire company, the host employer and the manufacturer of the machine. The worker suffers a number of injuries but only 1 of them is accepted as an injury under the WorkCover Queensland Act 1996, section 34. This Act does not apply to any of the claims for damages.

- (b) an injury as defined under the Workers' Compensation and Rehabilitation Act 2003, other than an injury to which section 34(1)(c) or 35² of that Act applies; or
- (c) an injury that is a dust-related condition; or
- (d) an injury resulting from smoking or other use of tobacco products or exposure to tobacco smoke.

6 Act binds all persons

This Act binds all persons including the State and, to the extent the legislative power of the Parliament permits, the Commonwealth and the other States.

7 Provisions relating to operation of Act

- (1) This Act does not create or confer any cause of civil action for the recovery of damages.
- (2) A provision of this Act that gives protection from civil liability does not limit the protection from liability given by another provision of this Act or by another Act or law.

1 WorkCover Queensland Act 1996, section 36 (Injury while at or after worker attends place of employment) or 37 (Other circumstances)

2 Workers' Compensation and Rehabilitation Act 2003, section 34 (Injury while at or after worker attends place of employment) or 35 (Other circumstances)

- (3) This Act, other than chapter 2, part 2 and chapter 3,³ does not prevent the parties to a contract from making express provision for their rights, obligations and liabilities under the contract (the express provision) in relation to any matter to which this Act applies and does not limit or otherwise affect the operation of the express provision.
- (4) Subsection (3) extends to any provision of this Act even if the provision applies to liability in contract.
- (5) This Act is not a codification of the law relating to civil claims for damages for harm.

Part 3 Interpretation

8 Definitions

The dictionary in schedule 2 defines particular words used in this Act.

Chapter 2 Civil liability for harm

Part 1 Breach of duty

Division 1 General standard of care

9 General principles

- (1) A person does not breach a duty to take precautions against a risk of harm unless—

³ Chapter 2 (Civil liability for harm), part 2 (Proportionate liability) and chapter 3 (Assessment of damages for personal injury)

- (a) the risk was foreseeable (that is, it is a risk of which the person knew or ought reasonably to have known); and
 - (b) the risk was not insignificant; and
 - (c) in the circumstances, a reasonable person in the position of the person would have taken the precautions.
- (2) In deciding whether a reasonable person would have taken precautions against a risk of harm, the court is to consider the following (among other relevant things)—
- (a) the probability that the harm would occur if care were not taken;
 - (b) the likely seriousness of the harm;
 - (c) the burden of taking precautions to avoid the risk of harm;
 - (d) the social utility of the activity that creates the risk of harm.

10 Other principles

In a proceeding relating to liability for breach of duty happening on or after 2 December 2002—

- (a) the burden of taking precautions to avoid a risk of harm includes the burden of taking precautions to avoid similar risks of harm for which the person may be responsible; and
- (b) the fact that a risk of harm could have been avoided by doing something in a different way does not of itself give rise to or affect liability for the way in which the thing was done; and
- (c) the subsequent taking of action that would (had the action been taken earlier) have avoided a risk of harm does not of itself give rise to or affect liability in relation to the risk and does not of itself constitute an admission of liability in connection with the risk.

Division 2 Causation

11 General principles

- (1) A decision that a breach of duty caused particular harm comprises the following elements—
 - (a) the breach of duty was a necessary condition of the occurrence of the harm (factual causation);
 - (b) it is appropriate for the scope of the liability of the person in breach to extend to the harm so caused (scope of liability).
- (2) In deciding in an exceptional case, in accordance with established principles, whether a breach of duty—being a breach of duty that is established but which can not be established as satisfying subsection (1)(a)—should be accepted as satisfying subsection (1)(a), the court is to consider (among other relevant things) whether or not and why responsibility for the harm should be imposed on the party in breach.
- (3) If it is relevant to deciding factual causation to decide what the person who suffered harm would have done if the person who was in breach of the duty had not been so in breach—
 - (a) the matter is to be decided subjectively in the light of all relevant circumstances, subject to paragraph (b); and
 - (b) any statement made by the person after suffering the harm about what he or she would have done is inadmissible except to the extent (if any) that the statement is against his or her interest.
- (4) For the purpose of deciding the scope of liability, the court is to consider (among other relevant things) whether or not and why responsibility for the harm should be imposed on the party who was in breach of the duty.

12 Onus of proof

In deciding liability for breach of a duty, the plaintiff always bears the onus of proving, on the balance of probabilities, any fact relevant to the issue of causation.

Division 3 Assumption of risk

13 Meaning of obvious risk

- (1) For this division, an obvious risk to a person who suffers harm is a risk that, in the circumstances, would have been obvious to a reasonable person in the position of that person.
- (2) Obvious risks include risks that are patent or a matter of common knowledge.
- (3) A risk of something occurring can be an obvious risk even though it has a low probability of occurring.
- (4) A risk can be an obvious risk even if the risk (or a condition or circumstance that gives rise to the risk) is not prominent, conspicuous or physically observable.
- (5) To remove any doubt, it is declared that a risk from a thing, including a living thing, is not an obvious risk if the risk is created because of a failure on the part of a person to properly operate, maintain, replace, prepare or care for the thing, unless the failure itself is an obvious risk.

Examples for subsection (5)—

- 1 A motorised go-cart that appears to be in good condition may create a risk to a user of the go-cart that is not an obvious risk if its frame has been damaged or cracked in a way that is not obvious.
- 2 A bungee cord that appears to be in good condition may create a risk to a user of the bungee cord that is not an obvious risk if it is used after the time the manufacturer of the bungee cord recommends its replacement or it is used in circumstances contrary to the manufacturer's recommendation.

14 Persons suffering harm presumed to be aware of obvious risks

- (1) If, in an action for damages for breach of duty causing harm, a defence of voluntary assumption of risk⁴ is raised by the defendant and the risk is an obvious risk, the plaintiff is taken to have been aware of the risk unless the plaintiff proves, on the balance of probabilities, that he or she was not aware of the risk.

4 'Volenti non fit injuria'

- (2) For this section, a person is aware of a risk if the person is aware of the type or kind of risk, even if the person is not aware of the precise nature, extent or manner of occurrence of the risk.

15 No proactive duty to warn of obvious risk

- (1) A person (defendant) does not owe a duty to another person (plaintiff) to warn of an obvious risk to the plaintiff.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if—
 - (a) the plaintiff has requested advice or information about the risk from the defendant; or
 - (b) the defendant is required by a written law to warn the plaintiff of the risk; or
 - (c) the defendant is a professional, other than a doctor, and the risk is a risk of the death of or personal injury to the plaintiff from the provision of a professional service by the defendant.

Note—

In relation to paragraphs (a) and (b), see section 21 for the duty of a doctor to warn of risk.

- (3) Subsection (2) does not give rise to a presumption of a duty to warn of a risk in the circumstances referred to in that subsection.
- (4) In this section—

a professional has the same meaning as it has in division 5.

16 No liability for materialisation of inherent risk

- (1) A person is not liable in negligence for harm suffered by another person as a result of the materialisation of an inherent risk.
- (2) An inherent risk is a risk of something occurring that can not be avoided by the exercise of reasonable care and skill.

- (3) This section does not operate to exclude liability in connection with a duty to warn of a risk.

Division 4 Dangerous recreational activities

17 Application of div 4

- (1) This division applies only in relation to liability in negligence for harm to a person resulting from a dangerous recreational activity engaged in by the plaintiff.
- (2) This division does not limit the operation of division 3⁵ in relation to a recreational activity.

18 Definitions for div 4

In this division—

dangerous recreational activity means an activity engaged in for enjoyment, relaxation or leisure that involves a significant degree of risk of physical harm to a person.

obvious risk has the same meaning as it has in division 3.

19 No liability for personal injury suffered from obvious risks of dangerous recreational activities

- (1) A person is not liable in negligence for harm suffered by another person as a result of the materialisation of an obvious risk of a dangerous recreational activity engaged in by the person suffering harm.
- (2) This section applies whether or not the person suffering harm was aware of the risk.

5 Division 3 (Assumption of risk)

Division 5 Duty of professionals

20 Definition for div 5

In this division—

a professional means a person practising a profession.

21 Proactive and reactive duty of doctor to warn of risk

(1) A doctor does not breach a duty owed to a patient to warn of risk, before the patient undergoes any medical treatment (or at the time of being given medical advice) that will involve a risk of personal injury to the patient, unless the doctor at that time fails to give or arrange to be given to the patient the following information about the risk—

- (a) information that a reasonable person in the patient's position would, in the circumstances, require to enable the person to make a reasonably informed decision about whether to undergo the treatment or follow the advice;
- (b) information that the doctor knows or ought reasonably to know the patient wants to be given before making the decision about whether to undergo the treatment or follow the advice.

(2) In this section—

patient, when used in a context of giving or being given information, includes a person who has the responsibility for making a decision about the medical treatment to be undergone by a patient if the patient is under a legal disability.

Example—

The responsibility a parent has for an infant child.

22 Standard of care for professionals

(1) A professional does not breach a duty arising from the provision of a professional service if it is established that the professional acted in a way that (at the time the service was provided) was widely accepted by peer professional opinion by a significant number of respected practitioners in the field as competent professional practice.

- (2) However, peer professional opinion can not be relied on for the purposes of this section if the court considers that the opinion is irrational or contrary to a written law.
- (3) The fact that there are differing peer professional opinions widely accepted by a significant number of respected practitioners in the field concerning a matter does not prevent any 1 or more (or all) of the opinions being relied on for the purposes of this section.
- (4) Peer professional opinion does not have to be universally accepted to be considered widely accepted.
- (5) This section does not apply to liability arising in connection with the giving of (or the failure to give) a warning, advice or other information, in relation to the risk of harm to a person, that is associated with the provision by a professional of a professional service.

Division 6 Contributory negligence

23 Standard of care in relation to contributory negligence

- (1) The principles that are applicable in deciding whether a person has breached a duty also apply in deciding whether the person who suffered harm has been guilty of contributory negligence in failing to take precautions against the risk of that harm.
- (2) For that purpose—
 - (a) the standard of care required of the person who suffered harm is that of a reasonable person in the position of that person; and
 - (b) the matter is to be decided on the basis of what that person knew or ought reasonably to have known at the time.

24 Contributory negligence can defeat claim

In deciding the extent of a reduction in damages by reason of contributory negligence, a court may decide a reduction of 100% if the court considers it just and equitable to do so, with the result that the claim for damages is defeated.

Division 7 Enhancement of public safety25 Definition for div 7

In this division—

person in distress includes—

- (a) a person who is injured, apparently injured or at risk of injury; and
- (b) a person who is suffering, or apparently suffering, from an illness.

26 Protection of persons performing duties for entities to enhance public safety

- (1) Civil liability does not attach to a person in relation to an act done or omitted in the course of rendering first aid or other aid or assistance to a person in distress if—
 - (a) the first aid or other aid or assistance is given by the person while performing duties to enhance public safety for an entity prescribed under a regulation that provides services to enhance public safety; and
 - (b) the first aid or other aid or assistance is given in circumstances of emergency; and
 - (c) the act is done or omitted in good faith and without reckless disregard for the safety of the person in distress or someone else.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not limit or affect the Law Reform Act 1995, part 5.⁶

6 Law Reform Act 1995, part 5 (Voluntary aid in emergency)

27 Protection of prescribed entities performing duties to enhance public safety

- (1) Civil liability does not attach to an entity, prescribed under a regulation, that provides services to enhance public safety in relation to an act done or omitted in the course of rendering first aid or other aid or assistance to a person in distress if—
 - (a) the first aid or other aid or assistance is given by the entity while performing duties to enhance public safety; and
 - (b) the first aid or other aid or assistance is given in circumstances of emergency; and
 - (c) the act is done or omitted in good faith and without reckless disregard for the safety of the person in distress or someone else.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not limit or affect the Law Reform Act 1995, part 5.

Part 2 Proportionate liability28 Application of pt 2

- (1) This part applies to either or both of the following claims (apportionable claim)—
 - (a) a claim for economic loss or damage to property in an action for damages arising from a breach of a duty of care;
 - (b) a claim for economic loss or damage to property in an action for damages under the Fair Trading Act 1989 for a contravention of section 38⁷ of that Act.
- (2) For this part, if more than 1 claim of a kind mentioned in subsection (1)(a) or (1)(b) or both provisions is based on the same loss or damage, the claims must be treated as a single apportionable claim.

7 Fair Trading Act 1989, section 38 (Misleading or deceptive conduct—TPA s 52)

- (3) This part does not apply to a claim—
 - (a) arising out of personal injury; or
 - (b) by a consumer.
- (4) Also, this part does not apply to a claim to the extent that an Act provides that liability for an amount payable in relation to the claim is joint and several.
- (5) A provision of this part that gives protection from civil liability does not limit or otherwise affect any protection from liability given by any other provision of this Act or by another Act or law.

29 Definitions for pt 2

In this part—

apportionable claim see section 28(1).

consumer means an individual whose claim is based on rights relating to goods or services, or both, in circumstances where the particular goods or services—

- (a) are being acquired for personal, domestic or household use or consumption; or
- (b) relate to advice given by a professional to the individual for the individual's use, other than for a business carried on by the individual whether solely or as a member of a business partnership.

court, in relation to a claim for damages, means any court by or before which the claim falls to be decided.

defendant includes any person joined as a defendant or other party in the proceeding (except as a plaintiff) whether joined under this part, under rules of court or otherwise.

30 Who is a concurrent wrongdoer

- (1) A concurrent wrongdoer, in relation to a claim, is a person who is 1 of 2 or more persons whose acts or omissions caused, independently of each other, the loss or damage that is the subject of the claim.

- (2) For this part, it does not matter that a concurrent wrongdoer is insolvent, is being wound up, has ceased to exist or has died.

31 Proportionate liability for apportionable claims

- (1) In any proceeding involving an apportionable claim—
- (a) the liability of a defendant who is a concurrent wrongdoer in relation to the claim is limited to an amount reflecting that proportion of the loss or damage claimed that the court considers just and equitable having regard to the extent of the defendant's responsibility for the loss or damage; and
 - (b) judgment must not be given against the defendant for more than that amount in relation to the claim.
- (2) If the proceeding involves both an apportionable claim and a claim that is not an apportionable claim—
- (a) liability for the apportionable claim, to the extent it involves concurrent wrongdoers, is to be decided in accordance with this part; and
 - (b) liability for the other claim, and the apportionable claim to the extent it is not provided for under paragraph (a), is to be decided in accordance with the legal rules, if any, that, apart from this part, are relevant.
- (3) In apportioning responsibility between defendants in a proceeding the court may have regard to the comparative responsibility of any concurrent wrongdoer who is not a party to the proceeding.
- (4) This section applies to a proceeding in relation to an apportionable claim whether or not all concurrent wrongdoers are parties to the proceeding.

32 Onus of parties to identify all relevant parties

- (1) A person (claimant) who makes a claim to which this part applies is to make the claim against all persons the claimant has reasonable grounds to believe may be liable for the loss or damage.

Civil Liability Act 2003

- (2) A concurrent wrongdoer, in relation to a claim involving an apportionable claim, must give the claimant any information that the concurrent wrongdoer has—
 - (a) that is likely to help the claimant to identify and locate any other person (not being a concurrent wrongdoer known to the claimant) who the concurrent wrongdoer has reasonable grounds to believe is also a concurrent wrongdoer in relation to the claim; and
 - (b) about the circumstances that make the concurrent wrongdoer believe the other person is or may be a concurrent wrongdoer in relation to the claim.
- (3) The concurrent wrongdoer must give the information to the claimant, in writing, as soon as practicable after becoming aware of the claim being made or of the information, whichever is the later.
- (4) If the claimant fails to comply with the claimant's obligations under this section, a court may, on a concurrent wrongdoer's application, make orders as it considers just and equitable in the circumstances of the case on the following—
 - (a) apportionment of damages proven to have been claimable;
 - (b) costs thrown away as a result of the failure to comply.
- (5) If a concurrent wrongdoer fails to comply with the concurrent wrongdoer's obligations under this section, a court may on application, if it considers it just and equitable to do so, make either or both of the following orders—
 - (a) an order that the concurrent wrongdoer is severally liable for any award of damages made;
 - (b) an order that the concurrent wrongdoer pay costs thrown away as a result of the failure to comply.
- (6) However if, as a result of information given by a concurrent wrongdoer under subsection (2), the claimant joins another party to the proceeding for the claim, and that party is found not to be liable to the claimant, the court may make orders about costs as it considers just and equitable in the circumstances of the case.

32A Contribution not recoverable from concurrent wrongdoer

Subject to this part, a concurrent wrongdoer against whom judgment is given under this part in relation to an apportionable claim—

- (a) can not be required to contribute to the damages recovered or recoverable from another concurrent wrongdoer for the apportionable claim, whether or not the damages are recovered or recoverable in the same proceeding in which the judgment is given; and
- (b) can not be required to indemnify the other concurrent wrongdoer.

32B Subsequent actions

- (1) In relation to an apportionable claim, nothing in this part prevents a plaintiff who has previously recovered judgment against a concurrent wrongdoer for an apportionable part of any loss or damage from bringing another action against any other concurrent wrongdoer for that loss or damage.
- (2) However, in any proceeding in relation to the other action, the plaintiff can not recover an amount of damages that, having regard to any damages previously recovered by the plaintiff in relation to the loss or damage, would result in the plaintiff receiving compensation for loss or damage that is greater than the loss or damage actually suffered by the plaintiff.

32C Joining non-party concurrent wrongdoer in the action

- (1) Subject to subsection (2), the court may give leave for any 1 or more persons who are concurrent wrongdoers in relation to an apportionable claim to be joined as defendants in a proceeding in relation to that claim.
- (2) The court is not to give leave for the joinder of any person who was a party to any previously concluded proceeding in relation to the apportionable claim.

32D What if a concurrent wrongdoer is fraudulent

Despite sections 31 and 32A,⁸ a concurrent wrongdoer in a proceeding in relation to an apportionable claim who is found liable for damages and against whom a finding of fraud is made is severally liable for the damages awarded against any other concurrent wrongdoer to the apportionable claim.

32E What if a concurrent wrongdoer intends to cause loss or damage

Despite sections 31 and 32A, a concurrent wrongdoer in a proceeding in relation to an apportionable claim who is found to have intended to cause the loss or damage suffered, and is found liable for damages, is severally liable for the damages awarded against any other concurrent wrongdoer to the apportionable claim.

32F What if a concurrent wrongdoer is proved to have engaged in misleading or deceptive conduct under the Fair Trading Act

Despite sections 31 and 32A, a concurrent wrongdoer in a proceeding in relation to an apportionable claim who contravenes the Fair Trading Act 1989, section 38 is severally liable for the damages awarded against any other concurrent wrongdoer to the apportionable claim.

32G Liability for contributory negligence not affected

In apportioning responsibility as between concurrent wrongdoers, the court is to exclude the proportion of the damage or loss in relation to which the plaintiff is contributorily negligent under any relevant law.

⁸ Sections 31 (Proportionate liability for apportionable claims) and 32A (Contribution not recoverable from concurrent wrongdoer)

32H Concurrent wrongdoer may seek contribution from person not a party to the original proceeding

Nothing in this part prevents a concurrent wrongdoer from seeking, in another proceeding, contribution from someone else in relation to the apportionable claim.

32I Part not to affect other liability

Nothing in this part—

- (a) prevents a person from being held vicariously liable for a proportion of any apportionable claim for which another person is liable; or
- (b) prevents a person from being held jointly and severally liable for the damages awarded against another person as agent of the person; or
- (c) prevents a partner from being held jointly and severally liable with another partner for that proportion of an apportionable claim for which the other partner is liable; or
- (d) prevents a court from awarding exemplary or punitive damages against a defendant in a proceeding.

33 Court may give directions

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of this part in relation to a claim for damages.
- (2) To the extent a matter about the court's procedure is not provided for by rules of court, the matter may be dealt with by a direction under subsection (3).
- (3) On application by a party, the court may give directions about the way a matter not dealt with by the rules is to proceed.

36 Proceedings against public or other authorities based on breach of statutory duty

- (1) This section applies to a proceeding that is based on an alleged wrongful exercise of or failure to exercise a function of a public or other authority.
- (2) For the purposes of the proceeding, an act or omission of the authority does not constitute a wrongful exercise or failure unless the act or omission was in the circumstances so unreasonable that no public or other authority having the functions of the authority in question could properly consider the act or omission to be a reasonable exercise of its functions.

37 Restriction on liability of public or other authorities with functions of road authorities

- (1) A public or other authority is not liable in any legal proceeding for any failure by the authority in relation to any function it has as a road authority—
 - (a) to repair a road or to keep a road in repair; or
 - (b) to inspect a road for the purpose of deciding the need to repair the road or to keep the road in repair.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if at the time of the alleged failure the authority had actual knowledge of the particular risk the materialisation of which resulted in the harm.
- (3) In this section—road see the Transport Operations (Road Use Management) Act 1995, schedule 4.

organised includes directed or supervised.

volunteer means a person who—

- (a) does community work on a voluntary basis; or
- (b) donates food in the circumstances mentioned in section 39(3).

- (2) For the purposes of this division—
 - (a) community work done by a person under an order of a court is not to be regarded as work done on a voluntary basis; and
 - (b) community work for which a person receives remuneration by way of reimbursement of the person's reasonable expenses in doing the work is to be regarded as work done on a voluntary basis.

39 Protection of volunteers

- (1) A volunteer does not incur any personal civil liability in relation to any act or omission done or made by the volunteer in good faith when doing community work—
 - (a) organised by a community organisation; or

- (b) as an office holder of a community organisation.
- (2) A person does not incur any personal civil liability in relation to any act or omission done or made by the person, when donating food in the circumstances mentioned in subsection (3), giving rise to harm resulting from the consumption of the food.

 - (d) if the food only remained safe to consume for a particular period of time after it left the person's possession—that the person informed the community organisation of the time limit.
- (4) In this section—

possession includes control.

40 Liability not excluded for criminal acts

This division does not confer protection from personal liability on a volunteer in relation to an act or omission of the volunteer if it is established (on the balance of probabilities) that at the time of the act or omission the volunteer was engaged in conduct that constitutes an offence.

41 Liability of intoxicated volunteer not excluded

The protection from personal liability conferred on a volunteer by this division in connection with any community work does not apply if the volunteer—

- (a) was intoxicated when doing the work; and
- (b) failed to exercise due care and skill when doing the work.

42 Liability of volunteer not excluded if acting outside scope of activities or contrary to instructions

This division does not confer protection on a volunteer from personal liability in relation to an act or omission of a volunteer if the volunteer knew or ought reasonably to have known that he or she was acting—

Part 4 Exclusion from claiming damages because of particular behaviour

Division 1 Criminal behaviour

45 Criminals not to be awarded damages

- (1) A person does not incur civil liability if the court is satisfied on the balance of probabilities that—
 - (a) the breach of duty from which civil liability would arise, apart from this section, happened while the person who suffered harm was engaged in conduct that is an indictable offence; and
 - (b) the person's conduct contributed materially to the risk of the harm.
- (2) Despite subsection (1), the court may award damages in a particular case if satisfied that in the circumstances of the case, subsection (1) would operate harshly and unjustly.
- (3) If the court decides to award damages under subsection (2), the court must assess damages on the basis that the damages to which the injured person would be entitled, apart from this section, are to be reduced, on account of the injured person's conduct, by 25% or a greater percentage decided by the court to be appropriate in the circumstances of the case.
- (4) It does not matter whether the person whose conduct is alleged to constitute an indictable offence has been, will be or is or was capable of being proceeded against or convicted of an indictable offence.
- (5) If the person has been dealt with for the offence, it does not matter whether the person was dealt with on indictment or summarily.

Division 2 Intoxication

46 Effect of intoxication on duty and standard of care

- (1) The following principles apply in relation to the effect that a person's intoxication has on the duty and standard of care that the person is owed—
 - (a) in deciding whether a duty of care arises, it is not relevant to consider the possibility or likelihood that a person may be intoxicated or that a person who is intoxicated may be exposed to increased risk because the person's capacity to exercise reasonable care and skill is impaired as a result of being intoxicated;
 - (b) a person is not owed a duty of care merely because the person is intoxicated;
 - (c) the fact that a person is or may be intoxicated does not of itself increase or otherwise affect the standard of care owed to the person.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not affect a liability arising out of conduct happening on licensed premises.
- (3) In this section—
licensed premises see the Liquor Act 1992, section 4.

47 Presumption of contributory negligence if person who suffers harm is intoxicated

- (1) This section applies if a person who suffered harm was intoxicated at the time of the breach of duty giving rise to a claim for damages and contributory negligence is alleged by the defendant.
- (2) Contributory negligence will, subject to this section, be presumed.
- (3) The person may only rebut the presumption by establishing on the balance of probabilities—
 - (a) that the intoxication did not contribute to the breach of duty; or
 - (b) that the intoxication was not self-induced.

- (4) Unless the person rebuts the presumption of contributory negligence, the court must assess damages on the basis that the damages to which the person would be entitled in the absence of contributory negligence are to be reduced, on account of contributory negligence, by 25% or a greater percentage decided by the court to be appropriate in the circumstances of the case.
- (5) If, in the case of a motor vehicle accident, the person who suffered harm was the driver of a motor vehicle involved in the accident and the evidence establishes—
 - (a) that the concentration of alcohol in the driver's blood was 150mg or more of alcohol in 100mL of blood; or
 - (b) that the driver was so much under the influence of alcohol or a drug as to be incapable of exercising effective control of the vehicle;the minimum reduction prescribed by subsection (4) is increased to 50%.

48 Presumption of contributory negligence if person who suffers harm relies on care and skill of person known to be intoxicated

- (1) This section applies to a person who suffered harm (plaintiff) who—
 - (a) was at least 16 years at the time of the breach of duty giving rise to the harm; and
 - (b) relied on the care and skill of a person who was intoxicated at the time of the breach of duty (defendant); and
 - (c) was aware, or ought reasonably to have been aware, that the defendant was intoxicated.
- (2) If the harm suffered by the plaintiff was caused through the negligence of the defendant and the defendant alleges contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiff, contributory negligence will, subject to this section, be presumed.
- (3) The plaintiff may only rebut the presumption if the plaintiff establishes, on the balance of probabilities, that—

- (a) the defendant's intoxication did not contribute to the breach of duty; or
 - (b) the plaintiff could not reasonably be expected to have avoided relying on the defendant's care and skill.
- (4) Unless the plaintiff rebuts the presumption of contributory negligence, the court must assess damages on the basis that the damages to which the plaintiff would be entitled in the absence of contributory negligence are to be reduced, on account of contributory negligence, by 25% or a greater percentage decided by the court to be appropriate in the circumstances of the case.
- (5) The common law defence of voluntary assumption of risk⁹ does not apply to a matter to which this section applies.

49 Additional presumption for motor vehicle accident

- (1) This section applies to a plaintiff and defendant mentioned in section 48.
- (2) If—
- (a) the breach of duty giving rise to the harm suffered by the plaintiff was a motor vehicle accident; and
 - (b) the plaintiff was a passenger in the motor vehicle; and
 - (c) the motor vehicle was driven by the defendant; and
 - (d) either—
 - (i) the concentration of alcohol in the defendant's blood was 150mg or more of alcohol in 100mL of blood; or
 - (ii) the defendant was so much under the influence of alcohol or a drug as to be incapable of exercising effective control of the vehicle;
- the minimum reduction prescribed by section 48(4) is increased to 50%.
- (3) The plaintiff is taken, for this section, to rely on the care and skill of the defendant.

9 'Volenti non fit injuria'

following sterilisation procedure or contraceptive procedure or advice*49A Failed sterilisation procedures

Examples of sterilisation procedures—

Tubal ligation and vasectomy.

- (2) A court can not award damages for economic loss arising out of the costs ordinarily associated with rearing or maintaining a child.

49B Failed contraceptive procedure or contraceptive advice

- (2) A court can not award damages for economic loss arising out of the costs ordinarily associated with rearing or maintaining a child.

Chapter 3 Assessment of damages for personal injury

Part 1 Preliminary

50 Application of ch 3

Subject to section 5,¹⁰ this chapter applies only in relation to an award of personal injury damages.

- (c) loss of expectation of life; or
- (d) disfigurement.

injury means personal injury.

Part 2 Exemplary and similar damages

52 Exemplary, punitive or aggravated damages can not be awarded

- (1) A court can not award exemplary, punitive or aggravated damages in relation to a claim for personal injury damages.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a claim for personal injury damages if the act that caused the personal injury was—

10 Section 5 (Civil liability excluded from Act)

- (c) if it appears the plaintiff has failed to take steps to mitigate damages by not following the suggestions—reduce the plaintiff’s damages to an appropriate extent reflecting the failure if, in all the circumstances, the court considers that the plaintiff’s failure to follow the suggestions was not reasonable.
- (5) Subsection (4) does not apply in assessing damages for personal injury if leave to start the proceeding was given under the Personal Injuries Proceedings Act 2002, section 43(1) and was not stayed under section 43(3) of that Act because section 43(4) of that Act applied.

- (6) In this section—

defendant means a person against whom a claim for personal injury damages is made whether or not a proceeding for the claim has been started.

plaintiff means an injured person making a claim for personal injury damages whether or not a proceeding for the claim has been started.

54 Damages for loss of earnings

- (1) In making an award of damages for loss of earnings, including in a dependency claim, the maximum award a court may make is for an amount equal to the limit fixed by subsection (2).
- (2) The limit is an amount equal to the present value of 3 times average weekly earnings per week for each week of the period of loss of earnings.
- (3) In this section—

present value means the value when the award is made.

55 When earnings can not be precisely calculated

- (1) This section applies if a court is considering making an award of damages for loss of earnings that are unable to be precisely calculated by reference to a defined weekly loss.
- (2) The court may only award damages if it is satisfied that the person has suffered or will suffer loss having regard to the person's age, work history, actual loss of earnings, any permanent impairment and any other relevant matters.

- (3) If the court awards damages, the court must state the assumptions on which the award is based and the methodology it used to arrive at the award.
- (4) The limitation mentioned in section 54(2) applies to an award of damages under this section.

56 Damages for loss of superannuation entitlements

- (1) The maximum amount of damages that may be awarded to an employee for economic loss due to the loss of employer superannuation contributions is the relevant percentage of damages payable (in accordance with this part) for the deprivation or impairment of the earning capacity on which the entitlement to the contributions is based.
- (2) The relevant percentage is the percentage of earnings that is the minimum percentage required by a written law to be paid on the employee's behalf as employer superannuation contributions.

57 Discount rate to be applied in calculating the present value of future loss or gratuitous services

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) a person is to be compensated for future loss; or
 - (b) damages are to be awarded for gratuitous services;and an actuarial multiplier is to be used to calculate the present value of future loss or gratuitous services.
- (2) A discount rate of 5% is to be applied in deciding the actuarial multiplier.

58 Damages for loss of consortium or loss of servitium

- (1) A court must not award damages for loss of consortium or loss of servitium unless—
 - (a) the injured person died as a result of injuries suffered; or

- (b) general damages for the injured person are assessed (before allowing for contributory negligence) at $30000 or more.
- (2) The court must not assess damages for loss of servitium above the limit fixed by subsection (3).
- (3) The limit is 3 times average weekly earnings per week.

59 Damages for gratuitous services

- (1) Damages for gratuitous services are not to be awarded unless—
 - (a) the services are necessary; and
 - (b) the need for the services arises solely out of the injury in relation to which damages are awarded; and
 - (c) the services are provided, or are to be provided—
 - (i) for at least 6 hours per week; and
 - (ii) for at least 6 months.
- (2) Damages are not to be awarded for gratuitous services if gratuitous services of the same kind were being provided for the injured person before the breach of duty happened.
- (3) Damages are not to be awarded for gratuitous services replacing services provided by an injured person, or that would have been provided by the injured person if the injury had not been suffered, for others outside the injured person's household.
- (4) In assessing damages for gratuitous services, a court must take into account—
 - (a) any offsetting benefit the service provider obtains through providing the services; and
 - (b) periods for which the injured person has not required or is not likely to require the services because the injured person has been or is likely to be cared for in a hospital or other institution.

60 Interest

- (1) A court can not order the payment of interest on awards for general damages.
- (2) Interest awarded on damages compensating past monetary loss—
 - (a) must not be more than interest at the appropriate rate; and
 - (b) must be related in an appropriate way to the period over which the loss was incurred.
- (3) The appropriate rate is the rate for 10 year Treasury bonds published by the Reserve Bank of Australia under ‘Interest rates and yields—capital market’ as at the beginning of the quarter in which the award of interest is made.

Example of calculation of interest for this section—

Suppose that past monetary loss consists of medical expenses that have been incurred at a uniform rate over a particular period. The interest to be awarded would be calculated under the following formula—

$$A = am/100 \times p \times 0.5$$

where—

A is the amount of the award of interest.

a is a percentage rate decided by the court subject to the limit fixed in subsection (2).

m is the aggregate of the medical expenses.

p is the period over which the medical expenses have been incurred (expressed in years).

61 Assessment by court of injury scale

- (1) If general damages are to be awarded by a court in relation to an injury arising after 1 December 2002, the court must assess an injury scale value as follows—
 - (a) the injured person’s total general damages must be assigned a numerical value (injury scale value) on a scale running from 0 to 100;
 - (b) the scale reflects 100 equal gradations of general damages, from a case in which an injury is not severe enough to justify any award of general damages to a

- case in which an injury is of the gravest conceivable kind;
- (c) in assessing the injury scale value, the court must—
 - (i) assess the injury scale value under any rules provided under a regulation; and
 - (ii) have regard to the injury scale values given to similar injuries in previous proceedings.
- (2) If a court assesses an injury scale value for a particular injury to be more or less than any injury scale value prescribed for or attributed to similar particular injuries under subsection (1)(c), the court must state the factors on which the assessment is based that justify the assessed injury scale value.

62 Calculation of general damages

The general damages must be calculated in relation to an injury arising after 1 December 2002 as follows—

- (a) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 5 or less—by multiplying the scale value by $1000;
- (b) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 10 or less but more than 5—by adding to $5000 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 5 by $1200;
- (c) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 15 or less but more than 10—by adding to $11000 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 10 by $1400;
- (d) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 20 or less but more than 15—by adding to $18000 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 15 by $1600;
- (e) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 25 or less but more than 20—by adding to $26000 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 20 by $1800;
- (f) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 30 or less but more than 25—by adding to $35000 an amount

- calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 25 by $2000;
- (g) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 35 or less but more than 30—by adding to $45000 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 30 by $2200;
 - (h) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 40 or less but more than 35—by adding to $56000 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 35 by $2400;
 - (i) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 50 or less but more than 40—by adding to $68000 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 40 by $2580;
 - (j) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 60 or less but more than 50—by adding to $93800 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 50 by $2760;
 - (k) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 70 or less but more than 60—by adding to $121400 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 60 by $2940;
 - (l) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 80 or less but more than 70—by adding to $150800 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 70 by $3120;
 - (m) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 90 or less but more than 80—by adding to $182000 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 80 by $3300;
 - (n) if the scale value of the injury is assessed as 100 or less but more than 90—by adding to $215000 an amount calculated by multiplying the number by which the scale value exceeds 90 by $3500.

67 Offer of structured settlement—legal costs

- (1) The Uniform Civil Procedure Rules 1999, chapter 9, part 5¹¹ extends to an offer of compromise by way of a structured settlement on a claim for personal injury damages.
- (2) In that case, the court is to have regard to the cost to the defendant of the proposed structured settlement as compared to the lump sum payment of damages when deciding whether a reasonable offer of compromise has been made.

Chapter 4 Miscellaneous

Part 1 Expressions of regret

68 Application of pt 1

This part applies only in relation to a claim for personal injury damages.

69 Definition for pt 1

In this part—

liability includes the following—

- (a) fault;
- (b) negligence.

70 Purpose of pt 1

The purpose of this part is to allow an individual to express regret about an incident that may give rise to an action for personal injury damages without being concerned that the expression of regret may be construed or used as an admission of liability on a claim or in a proceeding based on a claim arising out of the incident.

11 Uniform Civil Procedure Rules 1999, chapter 9 (Ending proceedings early), part 5 (Offer to settle)

71 Meaning of expression of regret

An expression of regret made by an individual in relation to an incident alleged to give rise to an action for damages is any oral or written statement expressing regret for the incident to the extent that it does not contain an admission of liability on the part of the individual or someone else.

72 Expressions of regret are inadmissible

An expression of regret made by an individual in relation to an incident alleged to give rise to an action for damages at any time before a civil proceeding is started in a court in relation to the incident is not admissible in the proceeding.

Example—

Suppose a patient attended a health service and was diagnosed as suffering from gall stones. Removal of the gall bladder was recommended for treatment of the condition. The procedure was attempted, but there was an adverse outcome.

A health care provider stated that the provider was sorry that there was an adverse outcome.

The statement is inadmissible in any future proceeding against the health care provider in relation to a personal injury allegedly arising out of the procedure.

Part 2 Jury trials

73 Exclusion of jury trial

A proceeding in a court based on a claim for personal injury damages must be decided by the court sitting without a jury.
