Part 2 Land Court

Division 1 Establishment and jurisdiction

4 Establishment of Land Court

- (1) A specialised judicial tribunal called the Land Court is established.
- (2) The court is a court of record.
- (3) The court has a seal that must be judicially noticed.

5 Jurisdiction of Land Court

- (1) The Land Court has the jurisdiction given to it under this Act or another Act.

Note—

Various Acts confer jurisdiction on the Land Court. See the Acts Interpretation Act 1954, section 49A.

- (2) If jurisdiction for a proceeding is expressly conferred on the court under this Act or another Act, the jurisdiction is exclusive.
- (3) Subsection (2) does not limit parts 3 and 4.
- (4) The jurisdiction of the Land Court can not be ousted only because a proceeding before it is about claims or interests of an equitable nature or involves making a decision about title to land.

6 No distinction between Land Court and chambers

- (1) The distinction between the Land Court and chambers is abolished.
- (2) The business of the court, wherever it is conducted, is taken to be conducted in court.

Division 2 General powers

7 Land Court to be guided by equity and good conscience

In the exercise of its jurisdiction, the Land Court—

- (a) is not bound by the rules of evidence and may inform itself in the way it considers appropriate; and
- (b) must act according to equity, good conscience and the substantial merits of the case without regard to legal technicalities and forms or the practice of other courts.

7A Land Court has power of the Supreme Court

- (1) The Land Court has, for exercising jurisdiction conferred under this Act or another Act, all the powers of the Supreme Court, and may in a proceeding before the Land Court, in the same way and to the same extent as may be done by the Supreme Court in a similar proceeding—
 - (a) grant any relief or remedy; and
 - (b) make any order, including an order for attachment or committal because of disobedience to an order; and
 - (c) give effect to every ground of defence or matter of set-off, whether equitable or legal.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), the Land Court has, in a proceeding before it, power to grant relief—
 - (a) under a declaration of rights of the parties; or
 - (b) under an injunction, whether interim, interlocutory or final, in the proceeding; or
 - (c) by staying the proceeding or a part of the proceeding; or
 - (d) by appointing a receiver including an interim receiver.
- (3) The Land Court may order that a record of, or information about, a proceeding before the Land Court must not be made available to the public.
- (4) Without limiting the things the Land Court may have regard to in deciding whether to make an order under subsection (3), the Land Court may have regard to Aboriginal tradition and Island custom.
- (5) Subsection (1) has effect subject to—

 - (f) commits any other contempt of the court.
- (2) A member has the same power to punish for a contempt mentioned in subsection (1) as a Supreme Court judge has for contempt of the Supreme Court.
- (3) If the contempt is in the face of the court, a bailiff or other court officer acting under the court's order may, using necessary and reasonable help and force, take the person committing the contempt into custody and detain the person until the court rises.
- (4) Before the court rises, the court may—
