   (b) the volunteer is at the service outlet only to help with the care of the person.

(8) Despite anything else in this section—
(a) an NDIS non-government service provider is engaging a person at a service outlet of the provider if a regulation provides that the provider is engaging the person; and

(iv) a final sexual offender order.

109 Person may apply for review of part 5 reviewable decision

(1) A person who is not a disqualified person may apply, within the prescribed period and as otherwise provided under the QCAT Act, to the tribunal for a review of a part 5 reviewable decision about the person.

(2) If a person applies under subsection (1) to have a part 5 reviewable decision reviewed, the tribunal may not—

(a) stay the operation of the decision; or

(b) grant an injunction in the proceeding for the review.

(3) To remove any doubt, it is declared that there is no review or appeal under this Act in relation to a decision of the chief executive to issue, or refuse to cancel, a negative notice or negative exemption notice about a person other than because of a part 5 reviewable decision.

Note—

There is also no review or appeal under this Act in relation to a decision of the chief executive to refuse an eligibility application. See section 101(7).
(4) This section does not limit section 113.

109A Stay of operation of particular decisions on application for review

(1) This section applies to a decision of QCAT, on an application for a review of a part 5 reviewable decision under section 109, to set aside an exceptional case decision.

(2) QCAT’s decision does not take effect until—
   (a) the end of the period within which an appeal against QCAT’s decision may be started; or
   (b) if an appeal against QCAT’s decision is started—the appeal is decided or withdrawn.

(3) This section applies despite the QCAT Act, sections 145 and 152.

(4) In this section—

   exceptional case decision means a decision of the chief executive as to whether or not there is an exceptional case for a person if, because of the decision, the chief executive—

   (a) issued a negative notice or negative exemption notice to the person; or

   (b) refused to cancel the person’s negative notice or negative exemption notice.

110 Effect of applicant for a review becoming a disqualified person

(1) This section applies if a disqualified person made an application under section 109 before the person became a disqualified person.

(2) The application and any proceeding in relation to the application must be dismissed—

   (a) if a proceeding in relation to the application is before a court—by the court; or
(b) otherwise—by the tribunal, even if the dismissal would be contrary to a direction of the Court of Appeal.

(3) Any appeal by the person from a decision of the tribunal on the application must be dismissed.

Subdivision 2 Provisions about investigative information

111 Police commissioner may decide that information about a person is investigative information

(1) The police commissioner may decide under this section that information about a person (the investigated person) is investigative information if—

(a) there is or was evidence of acts or omissions that, at the time of the acts or omissions, constituted a schedule 6 or 7 offence (the alleged offence) by the investigated person against a person (the complainant); and

(b) the police investigated the alleged offence and the investigated person was formally notified about the investigation, including—

(i) by participating in an interview, or by being asked to participate in an interview, about the alleged offence; or

(ii) by otherwise being given an opportunity to answer allegations about the alleged offence; and

(c) there was sufficient evidence available that was capable of establishing each element of the alleged offence but a decision was made not to charge the investigated person because—

(i) the complainant died before the charge was brought; or

(ii) either or both of the following applied—

(A) the complainant was unwilling to proceed;
(B) an adult who, at the relevant time, was the complainant’s parent or guardian decided that, in the interests of the complainant, the matter should not proceed.

(2) Evidence of acts or omissions includes information from a third party if the complainant did not make a formal complaint at or about the time of the investigation.

(3) For this section, a schedule 6 or 7 offence is—

(a) an offence against a provision of an Act mentioned in schedule 6 or 7, column 1, subject to any qualification relating to the provision mentioned opposite in column 3; or

(b) an offence of counselling or procuring the commission of an offence of a kind mentioned in paragraph (a); or

(c) an offence of attempting, or of conspiring, to commit an offence of a kind mentioned in paragraph (a); or

(d) an offence that has, as an element, intention to commit an offence of a kind mentioned in paragraph (a); or

(e) an offence that, at the time it was committed, was an offence of a kind mentioned in paragraph (a); or

(f) an offence under a law of another jurisdiction that, if it had been committed in Queensland, would have constituted an offence mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (e).

Note—

Column 2 in schedules 6 and 7 is included for information purposes only and states a section heading for the provision mentioned opposite in column 1.

(4) For subsection (3), it is immaterial if a provision mentioned in schedule 6 or 7, column 1, for an Act has been amended from time to time or that the provision was previously numbered with a different number.
112 Delegation by police commissioner of power under s 111 restricted

Despite the Police Service Administration Act 1990, section 4.10, the police commissioner may not delegate the police commissioner’s powers under section 111 other than to a police officer of at least the rank of superintendent.

113 Decision by police commissioner that information is investigative information

(1) This section applies if—

(a) the police commissioner decides that information about a person is investigative information; and

(2) The person may appeal to a Magistrates Court about the decision that information, given to the chief executive as investigative information, is investigative information.

(3) However, an appeal under subsection (2) may only be made within 28 days after the person is given notice of the relevant event.

(4) The chief executive and police commissioner must be given a copy of the notice of appeal.
(5) The tribunal does not have jurisdiction to review a decision of the police commissioner that information about a person is investigative information or that information that is investigative information may be given to the chief executive.

114 Court to decide matters afresh

(1) A Magistrates Court hearing an appeal under section 113 is to decide afresh whether information given to the chief executive as investigative information about a person is investigative information.

(2) A person who is the relevant complainant under section 111 must not be asked or called on by the investigated person under that section to give evidence in person before the court.

(3) Subsection (2) does not prevent documentary evidence being tendered and received in evidence by the court.

(4) After hearing an appeal under section 113, the court may confirm or set aside the decision and the clerk of the court is to give the appellant notice of the decision.

(5) For subsection (4), the court must have regard to the matters the police commissioner was required to have regard to under this Act when the police commissioner made the decision.

115 Consequence of decision on appeal

(1) This section applies if a Magistrates Court hears and decides an appeal against the police commissioner’s decision under section 111 that information given to the chief executive about a person is investigative information.

(2) If the court sets aside the decision appealed against, the person may—

(a) if the person was issued a negative notice or negative exemption notice on the basis of the information—apply under section 82 to cancel the negative notice or negative exemption notice issued to the person on the grounds that the decision to issue the notice was based on wrong information; or
(b) if the person’s eligibility application was refused on the basis of the information—apply under section 107 for the chief executive to revoke the refusal on the grounds the refusal was based on wrong information.

(3) If the court confirms the decision appealed against—

(a) the person who appealed the decision may apply, within 28 days after receiving the notice under section 114(4) and as otherwise provided under the QCAT Act, to the tribunal for a review of a decision of the chief executive if—

(i) the person is not a disqualified person; and

(ii) the decision is a part 5 reviewable decision as defined under section 108; and

(b) the notice under section 114(4) must state how, and the period within which, the person may apply for the review.

(4) If a person applies under subsection (3)(a) to have a decision reviewed, the tribunal may not—

(a) stay the operation of the decision; or

(b) grant an injunction in the proceeding for the review.

(5) In this section—

(issue)—

(a) in relation to a negative notice—includes substitute a negative notice after cancelling a positive notice; and

(b) in relation to a negative exemption notice—includes substitute a negative exemption notice after cancelling a positive exemption notice.

117 Chief executive may obtain information from police commissioner

(1) This section applies to a person mentioned in section 116.

(2) The chief executive may ask the police commissioner for information, or for access to the police commissioner’s records, to enable the chief executive to learn what police information exists, if any, in relation to the person.

(3) For subsection (2), the chief executive’s request may include the following information—

(a) the person’s name and any other name that the chief executive believes the person may use or may have used;

(4) If there is police information about the person, the chief executive may ask the police commissioner for a brief description of the circumstances of a conviction, charge or investigative information mentioned in the police information.
(5) The police commissioner must comply with a request under this section unless the police commissioner is, under subsection (11), told not to provide the information.

(6) However, the duty imposed on the police commissioner to comply with a request applies only to information in the police commissioner’s possession or to which the police commissioner has access.

(7) If the police commissioner gives the chief executive information under this section about a person who is or has been a relevant disqualified person, the information must include the following information about the person—

(a) that the person is or has been a relevant disqualified person;

(b) if the person is or has been subject to a disqualification order—the duration and details of the disqualification order;

(c) if the person is or has been subject to an offender prohibition order—

(i) a brief description of the conduct that gave rise to the order; and

(ii) the duration and details of the order, including whether it is or was a temporary offender prohibition order or a final offender prohibition order.

(8) If the police commissioner gives the chief executive information under this section about a person who is or has been the subject of an application for a disqualification order or named as the respondent for an application for an offender prohibition order, and the order was not made, the information must include the following information about the person—

(a) that the person is or has been the subject of an application for a disqualification order or named as the respondent for an application for an offender prohibition order and the order was not made;

(c) the reasons why the order was not made;

(d) if the application was for an offender prohibition order and the magistrate or court hearing the application decided not to make an offender prohibition disqualification order for the person—the reasons why the offender prohibition disqualification order was not made.

(9) The police commissioner need not disclose investigative information about the person to the chief executive under this section if the police commissioner is reasonably satisfied that giving the information may do any of the following—

(b) enable the existence or identity of a confidential source of information, in relation to the enforcement or administration of the law, to be ascertained;

(c) endanger a person’s life or physical safety;

(d) prejudice the effectiveness of a lawful method or procedure for preventing, detecting, investigating or dealing with a contravention or possible contravention of the law.

(10) If the police commissioner gives investigative information about the person to the chief executive under this section, the police commissioner must give notice, in the approved form, to the person that—

(a) the police commissioner has decided that information about the person is investigative information; and

(b) investigative information has been given to the chief executive.

(11) If the chief executive decides that information requested under subsection (2) about the person is no longer required, the chief executive must tell the police commissioner not to provide the information.

(12) Information given to the police commissioner under this section must not be accessed or disclosed for any purpose except for a purpose under this part or any other purpose relevant to law enforcement.

(13) Information given to the police commissioner under this section must not be used for any purpose except for a purpose under this part.

(14) However, subsections (12) and (13) do not apply to information the police commissioner obtained before the chief executive gave the information to the police commissioner under this section.

(15) To remove any doubt, it is declared that, despite the Youth Justice Act 1992, part 9, the police commissioner may disclose information to which that part applies to the chief executive for complying with a request under subsection (2) or (4).

118 Obtaining information from director of public prosecutions

(1) This section applies to a person mentioned in section 116.

(2) If the chief executive becomes aware that the person has been charged with or convicted of an offence, the chief executive may, by notice, ask the director of public prosecutions for the following—

(4) The director of public prosecutions may comply with a request under subsection (2) if the director reasonably believes the statement, copy or summary may help the chief executive in making a screening decision about the person.

(5) However, the director of public prosecutions must not give the chief executive a copy or written summary of evidentiary material about the offence that relates only to a person other than the person about whom the request is made.

Example of evidential material for subsection (5)— a report by an expert about a person other than the person about whom the request is made

(6) The director of public prosecutions must not give information, or a document containing information, to the chief executive under this section if the director is reasonably satisfied that giving the information may do any of the following—

(b) enable the existence or identity of a confidential source of information, in relation to the enforcement or administration of the law, to be ascertained;

(c) endanger a person’s life or physical safety;

(d) prejudice the effectiveness of a lawful method or procedure for preventing, detecting, investigating or dealing with a contravention or possible contravention of the law;

(e) prejudice a prosecution or another matter before a court.

(7) The giving of information, or a document containing information, under this section by the director of public prosecutions is authorised despite any other Act or law, including a law imposing an obligation to maintain confidentiality about the information.

Note—

See section 227 for restrictions on disclosing or giving access to information or documents obtained under this part.
(8) Without limiting subsection (7), this section applies despite the Director of Public Prosecutions Act 1984, section 24A.

(9) In this section—

evidentiary material, about an offence, means material compiled in the course of the investigation or prosecution of the offence, including, for example, the following—

(2) The notice must state the following—

(a) the person’s name;

(b) that the person is subject to a sexual offender order;

(c) any other information the chief executive (corrective services) reasonably considers is necessary for the chief executive to perform a function or exercise a power under this part.

(3) The chief executive (corrective services) and the chief executive may enter into a written arrangement by which notices are given under subsection (1).
(4) Without limiting subsection (3), the arrangement may provide for giving the notices electronically.

(5) However, if notices under subsection (1) are to be given electronically and, under an Act, there is a limitation on who may access the information mentioned in the notices or the purposes for which that information may be used, the arrangement must provide for the limitation.

(6) The disclosure of information by the chief executive (corrective services) under this section is authorised despite any other Act or law, including a law imposing an obligation to maintain confidentiality about the information.

Note—

See section 227 for restrictions on disclosing or giving access to information or documents obtained under this part.

(i) charged with or convicted of a serious offence; or

(ii) charged with or convicted of an offence (other than a serious offence) relating to or involving a person with a disability; and

(b) the chief executive reasonably believes it is necessary to consider a report about the person’s mental health prepared under this section for deciding whether or not there is an exceptional case for the person.

(2) For subsection (1)(b), the chief executive may form the reasonable belief only if—

(a) in relation to the charge or conviction mentioned in subsection (1)(a)—

(1) The chief executive may, by notice, ask the person—

(b) to give the chief executive consent to obtain a report about the person’s mental health from the registered health practitioner who conducts the examination.

(2) The notice given under subsection (1) must state the following—

(e) that, under section 55(2)(c), the chief executive must have regard to the report about the person’s mental health prepared under this subdivision in deciding whether or not there is an exceptional case for the person;

(f) that the person may withdraw the person’s consent to employment screening under this part or, if the person is an applicant for an eligibility declaration, the person’s eligibility application;

(g) that, if the person fails to undergo the examination, and any further examination required by the registered health practitioner, or to give the consent mentioned in subsection (1)(b), either—

(i) the person’s consent to screening under this part may be withdrawn under section 132(4), or the person’s eligibility application may be withdrawn under section 105, by the chief executive giving notice of the withdrawal under that section; or

(ii) the chief executive may decide whether or not there is an exceptional case for the person in the absence of a report about the person’s mental health.

(3) If the person does not comply with the chief executive’s request under subsection (1), the chief executive may decide whether or not there is an exceptional case for the person in the absence of a report about the person’s mental health.
122 Nominated registered health practitioner to conduct examination

The chief executive may nominate a registered health practitioner to conduct an examination under this subdivision only if the chief executive is reasonably satisfied the health practitioner has the necessary qualifications, expertise or experience to conduct the examination.

123 Registered health practitioner obtaining information from Mental Health Court

(1) This section applies if—

(a) the person (charged person) has been charged with, but not convicted of—

(i) a serious offence; or

(ii) an offence (other than a serious offence) relating to or involving a person with a disability; and

(b) the matter of the charged person’s mental state relating to the offence has been referred to the Mental Health Court; and

(c) the chief executive is reasonably satisfied that it may be necessary or desirable for a registered health practitioner conducting an examination of the charged person under this subdivision to have regard to information mentioned in subsection (2) for preparing a report about the person’s mental health.

(2) The chief executive may, by notice, ask the charged person to give the Mental Health Court consent to give the registered health practitioner the following information—

(a) the court’s decision in relation to the reference;
(b) the court’s reasons for its decision;
(c) a copy or written summary of any expert’s report about the person received in evidence by the court, including, for example, a medical report, psychiatrist’s report or expert report that accompanied the reference;
(d) transcripts of any hearing conducted for the reference that the court has directed may be given to a party to the hearing or another person.

(3) The notice must state the following—

(a) the reasons for the chief executive’s request;
(b) that, if the charged person fails to give the consent, the person’s consent to screening under this part may be withdrawn by the chief executive giving the person notice of the withdrawal.

(4) If the charged person gives the consent, the Mental Health Court may give the information mentioned in subsection (2) to the chief executive for giving it to the registered health practitioner.

(5) However, information or documents given under this section must not include—

(a) any record of material given to the court under the Mental Health Act 2016, section 163, or of how the material was taken into account; or mentioned in paragraph (a) into account or not taking the material into account; or

(c) the content of an expert report about a person other than the charged person; or
(d) information about a person other than the charged person the Mental Health Court reasonably considers is not relevant to the registered health practitioner preparing a report about the charged person’s mental health.

(a) prejudice an investigation or a matter before the Mental Health Court;
(b) prejudice the investigation of a contravention or possible contravention of the law in a particular case;
(c) enable the existence or identity of a confidential source of information, in relation to the enforcement or administration of the law, to be ascertained;

(e) prejudice a prosecution or another matter before another court;
(f) endanger a person’s life or physical safety;
(g) adversely affect a person’s mental health.

(7) If the chief executive is given information under this section to give to the registered health practitioner, the chief executive—

(a) must give the information to the registered health practitioner as soon as possible; and
(b) must not use the information for any purpose other than giving it to the registered health practitioner.

(8) The giving of information under this section by the Mental Health Court is authorised despite any other Act or law, including a law imposing an obligation to maintain confidentiality about the information.

Note—
See sections 125 and 227 for restrictions on disclosing or giving access to information or documents obtained under this section.

(9) Without limiting subsection (8)—
(a) information may be given under this section even if the information can not be disclosed to the charged person under a confidentiality order under the Mental Health Act 2016, section 696; and
(b) this section applies in relation to an expert’s report despite the Mental Health Act 2016, section 160.

(10) A decision of the Mental Health Court not to give an expert report about the charged person under this section does not prevent the chief executive applying under the Mental Health Act 2016, section 160(2) for leave of the court to give the report to the registered health practitioner.

124 Registered health practitioner obtaining information from Mental Health Review Tribunal

(1) This section applies if—

(2) The chief executive may, by notice, ask the charged person to give the Mental Health Review Tribunal consent to give the registered health practitioner the following information—
(a) the tribunal’s decision on the review;

(d) transcripts of any hearing conducted for the review that the tribunal has directed may be given to a party to the hearing or another person.

(3) The notice must state the following—

(a) the reasons for the chief executive’s request;

(b) that, if the charged person fails to give the consent, the person’s consent to screening under this part may be withdrawn by the chief executive giving the person notice of the withdrawal.

(4) If the person gives the consent, the Mental Health Review Tribunal may give the information mentioned in subsection (2) to the chief executive for giving it to the registered health practitioner.

(5) However, information or documents given under this section must not include—

(a) any record of material given to the Mental Health Review Tribunal under the Mental Health Act 2016, section 155 or 742, or of how the material was taken into account; or

(b) the Mental Health Review Tribunal’s reasons for taking material mentioned in paragraph (a) into account or not taking the material into account; or

(c) the content of an expert report about a person other than the charged person; or

(d) information about a person other than the charged person the Mental Health Review Tribunal reasonably considers is not relevant to the registered health practitioner preparing a report about the charged person’s mental health.

(6) Also, the Mental Health Review Tribunal must not give information, or a document containing information, under this section if the tribunal is reasonably satisfied that giving the information may do any of the following—

(a) prejudice a matter before the tribunal;

(b) prejudice the investigation of a contravention or possible contravention of the law in a particular case;

(c) enable the existence or identity of a confidential source of information, in relation to the enforcement or administration of the law, to be ascertained;

(d) prejudice the effectiveness of a lawful method or procedure for preventing, detecting, investigating or dealing with a contravention or possible contravention of the law;

(e) prejudice a prosecution or another matter before a court;

(f) endanger a person’s life or physical safety;

(g) adversely affect a person’s mental health.

(7) If the chief executive is given information under this section to give to the registered health practitioner, the chief executive—

(a) must give the information to the registered health practitioner as soon as possible; and

(b) must not use the information for any purpose other than giving it to the registered health practitioner.

(8) The giving of information under this section by the Mental Health Review Tribunal is authorised despite any other Act or law, including a law imposing an obligation to maintain confidentiality about the information.

Note—

See sections 125 and 227 for restrictions on disclosing or giving access to information or documents obtained under this section.
(9) Without limiting subsection (8), information may be given under this section even if the information can not be disclosed to the charged person under a confidentiality order under the Mental Health Act 2016, section 722.

125 Use of information obtained from Mental Health Court or Mental Health Review Tribunal

(1) This section applies if the chief executive gives a registered health practitioner information or a document about a person given to the commissioner—

(a) by the Mental Health Court under section 123; or

(b) by the Mental Health Review Tribunal under section 124.

(2) The registered health practitioner must not—

(a) make a record of the information or information in the document; or

(b) disclose the information or information in the document to anyone; or

(c) give anyone access to the document; or

(d) include any details of the information, or information in the document, in the report about the person’s mental health prepared under this subdivision.

(3) The giving of a report under this section by a registered health practitioner is authorised despite any other Act or law, including a law imposing an obligation to maintain confidentiality about the examination.

Note—
See section 227 for restrictions on disclosing or giving access to information or documents obtained under this part.

(b) prepare the report.

Subdivision 5 Obtaining other information about person’s mental health

128 Chief executive may obtain particular information from Mental Health Court

(1) This section applies if—

(a) the chief executive is deciding whether or not there is an exceptional case for a person (charged person) who has been charged with, but not convicted of—

(i) a serious offence; or
(ii) an offence (other than a serious offence) relating to or involving a person with a disability; and
(b) the matter of the charged person’s mental state relating to the offence has been referred to the Mental Health Court; and

(3) The Mental Health Court may comply with the request if the court reasonably considers the requested information may help the chief executive in deciding whether or not there is an exceptional case for the charged person.

(4) However, the information or documents given to the chief executive for complying with the request must not include—

(a) any record of material given to the court under the Mental Health Act 2016, section 163, or of how the material was taken into account; or

(8) A decision of the Mental Health Court not to give the chief executive an expert report about the charged person under this section does not prevent the chief executive applying under the Mental Health Act 2016, section 160(2) for leave of the court to give the report to the chief executive.

129 Chief executive may obtain particular information from Mental Health Review Tribunal

(1) This section applies if—

(d) transcripts of any hearing conducted for the review that the tribunal has directed may be given to a party to the hearing or another person.

(3) The Mental Health Review Tribunal may comply with the request if the tribunal reasonably considers the requested information may help the chief executive in deciding whether or not there is an exceptional case for the charged person.

(4) However, the information or documents given to the chief executive for complying with the request must not include—

(a) any record of material given to the Mental Health Review Tribunal under the Mental Health Act 2016, section 155 or 742, or of how the material was taken into account; or

(ii) is the least restrictive way of ensuring the safety of the adult or others; and

Note—

Some other requirements must also be complied with for the relevant service provider to be authorised to use the restrictive practice. See section 151 (for containment or seclusion) or 166 (for use of other restrictive practices).

(4) Also, use of a restrictive practice may be authorised if—

(a) the restrictive practice is used in the course of providing respite services or community access services to the adult; or guardian for a restrictive practice matter, for an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, means a guardian for a restrictive practice (general) matter, or a guardian for a restrictive practice (respite) matter, for the adult.

guardian for a restrictive practice (respite) matter, for an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, means a guardian for a restrictive practice (respite) matter appointed for the adult under the GAA, chapter 5B.

harm to a person means—

(a) physical harm to the person; or

(b) a serious risk of physical harm to the person; or

(c) damage to property involving a serious risk of physical harm to the person.

informal decision-maker, for an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, means a member of the adult’s support network, other than a paid carer for the adult within the meaning of the GAA.
least restrictive, for use of a restrictive practice in relation to an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, means use of the restrictive practice—

(a) ensures the safety of the adult or others; and

(b) having regard to paragraph (a), imposes the minimum limits on the freedom of the adult as is practicable in the circumstances.

mechanical restraint see section 147.

model positive behaviour support plan means a plan of that name prepared by the chief executive and published on the department’s website.

multidisciplinary assessment see section 148(4).

physical restraint, of an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, means the use, for the primary purpose of controlling the adult’s behaviour, of any part of another person’s body to restrict the free movement of the adult in response to the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others.

Note—

Harm to a person includes physical harm to the person and a serious risk of physical harm to the person. See section 144, definition harm.

positive behaviour support plan see section 150.

relevant decision-maker (respite), for an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, means—

(a) a guardian for a restrictive practice (respite) matter for the adult; or

(b) for a restrictive practice other than chemical restraint used under section 167, if there is no guardian for a restrictive practice (respite) matter for the adult—an informal decision-maker for the adult.

respite/community access plan see section 181(2).

respite services means disability services that are—
Disability Services Act 2006
Part 6 Positive behaviour support and restrictive practices

(a) respite services provided to an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability who does not receive disability services other than respite services or community access services from a relevant service provider; and

(b) funded as respite services by the department or the Commonwealth.

restricting access, of an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, means restricting the adult’s access, at a place where the adult receives disability services, to an object in response to the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others to prevent the adult using the object to cause harm to the adult or others.

Examples—

• if an adult has a history of using knives to cause harm to others, locking a drawer in which knives are kept to prevent the adult using the knives to cause harm

• if an adult has Prader-Willi syndrome, restricting the adult’s access to a particular cupboard or particular parts of the fridge to prevent the adult eating in a way that is likely to harm the adult

Note—

Harm to a person includes physical harm to the person and a serious risk of physical harm to the person. See section 144, definition harm.

restrictive practice means any of the following practices used to respond to the behaviour of an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability that causes harm to the adult or others—

(a) containing or secluding the adult;

(b) using chemical, mechanical or physical restraint on the adult;

(c) restricting access of the adult.

Note—

Harm to a person includes physical harm to the person and a serious risk of physical harm to the person. See section 144, definition harm.

seclude an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability means physically confine the adult alone, at any time of the day or night, in a room or area from which free exit is prevented in response to the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others.

Note—

Harm to a person includes physical harm to the person and a serious risk of physical harm to the person. See section 144, definition harm.

short term approval means an approval given by—

(a) the public guardian under the GAA, chapter 5B, part 4;

or

(b) the chief executive under section 178.

145 Meaning of chemical restraint

(1) Chemical restraint, of an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, means the use of medication for the primary purpose of controlling the adult’s behaviour in response to the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others.

Note—

Harm to a person includes physical harm to the person and a serious risk of physical harm to the person. See section 144, definition harm.

(2) However, the following are not chemical restraint—

(a) using medication for the proper treatment of a diagnosed mental illness or physical condition;

(b) using medication, for example a sedative, prescribed by a medical practitioner to facilitate or enable the adult to receive a single instance of health care under the GAA.

Example of when subsection (2)(b) applies— sedating an adult before attending a dentist appointment is not chemical restraint

(3) To remove any doubt, it is declared that an intellectual or cognitive disability is not a physical condition.

(4) In this section—

diagnosed, for a mental illness or physical condition, means a doctor confirms the adult has the illness or condition.
146 Meaning of contain

(1) Contain an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability means physically prevent the free exit of the adult from premises where the adult receives disability services, other than by excluding the adult, in response to the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others.

Note—

Harm to a person includes physical harm to the person and a serious risk of physical harm to the person. See section 144, definition harm.

(2) However, the adult is not contained if—

(a) the adult is an adult with a skills deficit under part 8, division 2; and

(b) the adult’s free exit from the premises is prevented by the locking of gates, doors or windows under that part.

(3) In this section—

premises includes the land around a building or other structure, but does not include a vehicle.

147 Meaning of mechanical restraint

(1) Mechanical restraint, of an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, means the use, for the primary purpose of controlling the adult’s behaviour, of a device in response to the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others to—

(a) restrict the free movement of the adult; or

(b) prevent or reduce self-injurious behaviour.

Note—

Harm to a person includes physical harm to the person and a serious risk of physical harm to the person. See section 144, definition harm.

(2) However, the following are not mechanical restraint—
(a) using a device to enable the safe transportation of the adult;

Examples of devices used to enable safe transportation—
  - a cover over a seat belt buckle
  - a harness or strap

(b) using a device for postural support;

(c) using a device to prevent injury from involuntary bodily movements, such as seizures;

(d) using a surgical or medical device for the proper treatment of a physical condition;

(e) using bed rails or guards to prevent injury while the adult is asleep.

Division 2
Important concepts for using restrictive practices

148 Assessment of an adult

(1) Before a restrictive practice can be used in relation to an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, the adult must be assessed.

(2) However, an assessment is not required if the restrictive practice is used—

(a) under a short term approval; or

(b) in the course of providing respite services or community access services to the adult.

Note—

Although an assessment is not required for using restrictive practices in the course of providing respite services or community access services to the adult, relevant service providers must comply with division 5.

(3) For this part, an assessment of an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability is an assessment by 1 or more persons, as provided for under subsections (4) to (6), for the following purposes—

(a) making findings about the nature, intensity, frequency and duration of the behaviour of the adult that causes harm to the adult or others;

(b) developing theories about the factors that contribute to the adult’s behaviour mentioned in paragraph (a);

Examples of factors that might contribute to the behaviour—

- biological factors, such as genetic predispositions
- psychological or cognitive factors, such as low communication skills
- social factors, such as the adult’s surroundings
- medical conditions

(c) making recommendations about appropriate strategies for—

(i) meeting the adult’s needs and improving the adult’s capabilities and quality of life; and

(ii) reducing the intensity, frequency and duration of the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others; and

(iii) managing the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others to minimise the risk of harm.

(4) For containing or secluding an adult under section 151, the adult must be assessed by 2 or more appropriately qualified persons who have qualifications or experience in different disciplines (a multidisciplinary assessment).

(5) For using chemical, mechanical or physical restraint under section 166 on an adult, the adult must be assessed by at least 1 appropriately qualified person.

(6) For restricting access of an adult under section 166, the adult must be assessed by the relevant service provider proposing to restrict the adult’s access.
149 Who is appropriately qualified to assess an adult

For assessing an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, a person is appropriately qualified if the person has the qualifications or experience appropriate to conduct the assessment.

Examples of who might be appropriately qualified persons—behaviour analysts, medical practitioners, psychologists, psychiatrists, speech and language pathologists, occupational therapists, registered nurses, social workers

150 What is a positive behaviour support plan

(1) A positive behaviour support plan, for an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, is a plan that describes the strategies to be used to—

(a) meet the adult’s needs; and

(b) support the adult’s development of skills; and

(c) maximise opportunities through which the adult can improve their quality of life; and

(d) reduce the intensity, frequency and duration of the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others.

(2) A positive behaviour support plan, for an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, must include at least each of the following—

(a) in relation to previous behaviour of the adult that has caused harm to the adult or others, a description of—

(i) the intensity, frequency and duration of the behaviour; and

(ii) the consequences of the behaviour; and

(iii) the early warning signs and triggers for the behaviour, if known;

(b) the positive strategies that must be attempted before using a restrictive practice, including the community access arrangements in place for the adult;
(c) for each restrictive practice proposed to be used in relation to the adult—

(i) the circumstances in which the restrictive practice is to be used; and

(ii) a demonstration of why use of the restrictive practice is the least restrictive way of ensuring the safety of the adult or others; and

(iii) the procedure for using the restrictive practice, including observations and monitoring, that must happen while the restrictive practice is being used; and

(iv) any other measures that must happen while the restrictive practice is being used that are necessary to ensure—

(A) the adult’s proper care and treatment; and

(B) the adult is safeguarded from abuse, neglect and exploitation; and

(v) a description of the anticipated positive and negative effects on the adult of using the restrictive practice; and

(vi) the intervals at which use of the restrictive practice will be reviewed by the relevant service provider using the restrictive practice;

(d) for seclusion—the maximum period for which seclusion may be used at any 1 time and the maximum frequency of the seclusion;

(e) for chemical restraint—

(i) the name of the medication to be used and any available information about the medication, including, for example, information about possible side effects; and

(ii) the dose, route and frequency of administration, including, for medication to be administered as and when needed, the circumstances in which the medication may be administered, as prescribed by the adult’s treating doctor; and

(iii) if the adult’s medication has previously been reviewed by the adult’s treating doctor—the date of the most recent medication review; and

(iv) the name of the adult’s treating doctor;

(f) for mechanical or physical restraint—the maximum period for which the restraint may be used at any 1 time.

(3) For subsection (2)(c)(vi), use of a restrictive practice must be reviewed—

(a) for a restrictive practice not used under a containment or seclusion approval—at least once during each 12-month period; or

(b) for a restrictive practice used under a containment or seclusion approval—when required by the chief executive, and at least once during the period of the approval.

Division 3 Containment and seclusion

Subdivision 1 Requirements for containing or secluding an adult

150A Authorisation of containment or seclusion

A relevant service provider is authorised under this part to contain or seclude an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability if—

(a) for an adult who must be assessed under section 148—the assessment has been carried out; and

(b) the relevant service provider may contain or seclude the adult under sections 151 to 154; and
(c) for an adult who is the subject of a containment or seclusion approval—any change to the adult’s positive behaviour support plan has been made by the chief executive under subdivision 3.

151 Containing or secluding an adult under containment or seclusion approval

(1) A relevant service provider may contain or seclude an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability if—

(a) the containment or seclusion is necessary to prevent the adult’s behaviour causing harm to the adult or others; and

(b) the containment or seclusion is the least restrictive way of ensuring the safety of the adult or others; and

(c) the containment or seclusion complies with—

(i) a containment or seclusion approval; and

(ii) if the containment or seclusion approval is not given as an interim order under the GAA, section 80ZR—a positive behaviour support plan for the adult developed by the chief executive under this division; and

(d) the relevant service provider complies with section 165.

(2) For subsection (1)(c)(ii), the adult is not contained or secluded in compliance with the positive behaviour support plan if the relevant service provider does not implement the positive strategies stated in the plan.

(3) It is not necessary to obtain the adult’s consent to the containment or seclusion of the adult under this section.

152 Containing or secluding an adult for respite services or community access services

(1) A relevant service provider may contain or seclude an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability in the course of providing respite services or community access services to the adult if—

(a) the containment or seclusion is necessary to prevent the adult’s behaviour causing harm to the adult or others; and

(b) the containment or seclusion is the least restrictive way of ensuring the safety of the adult or others; and

(c) before containing or secluding the adult, the relevant service provider complies with the requirements under division 5; and

(d) the containment or seclusion complies with—

(i) the consent of a guardian for a restrictive practice (respite) matter for the adult; and

(ii) a respite/community access plan for the adult; and

(e) the relevant service provider complies with section 165.

(2) For subsection (1)(d)(ii), the adult is taken not to be contained or secluded in compliance with the respite/community access plan if the relevant service provider does not implement the positive strategies stated in the plan.

(3) This section does not apply if the adult is the subject of a containment or seclusion approval.

153 Containing or secluding an adult under short term approval

(1) A relevant service provider may contain or seclude an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability if—

(a) there is an immediate and serious risk of harm to the adult or others; and

(b) the containment or seclusion is necessary to prevent the adult’s behaviour causing harm to the adult or others; and

(c) the containment or seclusion is the least restrictive way of ensuring the safety of the adult or others; and
Disability Services Act 2006
Part 6 Positive behaviour support and restrictive practices

[154]

(d) the containment or seclusion complies with a short term approval given by the public guardian under the GAA, chapter 5B, part 4; and
(e) the relevant service provider complies with section 165.

(2) It is not necessary to obtain the adult’s consent to the containment or seclusion of the adult under this section.

154 Containing or secluding an adult before decision on short term approval

(1) A relevant service provider may contain or seclude an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability if—

(a) the relevant service provider has asked the public guardian, in writing, for an approval under the GAA, chapter 5B, part 4 to contain or seclude the adult and the request has not been decided; and

(b) the containment or seclusion—

(i) is necessary to prevent the adult’s behaviour causing harm to the adult or others; and

(ii) is the least restrictive way of ensuring the safety of the adult or others; and

(c) a positive behaviour support plan or a respite/community access plan for the adult is being implemented; and

(d) the relevant service provider complies with section 165.

(2) However, the relevant service provider may only contain or seclude the adult until the earlier of the following—

(a) the relevant service provider is given notice about the public guardian’s decision on the request;

(b) 30 days after the relevant service provider asks for the short term approval.

(3) It is not necessary to obtain the adult’s consent to the containment or seclusion of the adult under this section.
Subdivision 2 Multidisciplinary assessment and development of positive behaviour support plan

155 Application of sdiv 2

This subdivision applies if—

(a) a relevant service provider notifies the chief executive that the relevant service provider wishes to contain or seclude an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, other than in the course of providing respite services or community access services to the adult; and

(b) the adult is not the subject of a containment or seclusion approval.

Notes—

1 Under the GAA, chapter 5B, a relevant service provider other than the department must apply for a containment or seclusion approval jointly with the chief executive.

2 If the adult is the subject of an existing containment or seclusion approval, see subdivision 3 for changing the adult’s positive behaviour support plan.

156 Chief executive to decide whether multidisciplinary assessment of adult will be conducted

(1) The chief executive must decide whether a multidisciplinary assessment of the adult will be conducted.

(2) The chief executive may decide a multidisciplinary assessment of the adult will be conducted if the chief executive considers it may be necessary for the relevant service provider to contain or seclude the adult to safeguard the adult or others from harm.

(3) In deciding whether a multidisciplinary assessment of the adult will be conducted, the chief executive must consult with, and consider the views of, the following entities—

(a) the adult;
(b) if the adult has a guardian or informal decision-maker—the guardian or informal decision-maker;

(c) each relevant service provider providing disability services to the adult;

(d) if the chief executive is aware the adult is subject to a forensic order, treatment support order or treatment authority under the Mental Health Act 2016—the authorised psychiatrist responsible for treating the adult under that Act;

(e) if the chief executive is aware the adult is a forensic disability client—a senior practitioner responsible for the care and support of the adult under the Forensic Disability Act 2011;

(f) any other person considered by the chief executive to be integral to the chief executive’s decision.

Example—
a family member who is part of the adult’s support network, a key health care provider or an advocate for the adult

(4) Despite subsection (3)(b), the chief executive is not required to consult with a person who is an informal decision-maker for the adult if—

(a) the chief executive is not, and could not reasonably be expected to be, aware the person is an informal decision-maker for the adult; or

(b) after taking all reasonable steps, the chief executive cannot locate the person.

157 Notice of decision not to conduct assessment

If the chief executive decides a multidisciplinary assessment of the adult will not be conducted, the chief executive must give the following entities a decision notice about the decision—

(a) the relevant service provider;

(b) the adult;
Disability Services Act 2006
Part 6 Positive behaviour support and restrictive practices

[158] Development of positive behaviour support plan following assessment

(1) This section applies if a multidisciplinary assessment of the adult is conducted.

(2) The chief executive must develop a positive behaviour support plan for the adult if, having regard to the findings, theories and recommendations of the persons who assessed the adult, the chief executive is satisfied—

(a) the adult’s behaviour has previously resulted in harm to the adult or others; and

(b) it is necessary for the relevant service provider to contain or seclude the adult to safeguard the adult or others from harm; and

(c) containing or secluding the adult is the least restrictive way of ensuring the safety of the adult or others.

(3) The positive behaviour support plan must provide for the use of any restrictive practice, including chemical, mechanical or physical restraint or restricting access, that is—

(a) when the plan is developed, proposed to be used in relation to the adult by any relevant service provider; and

(b) based on the recommendations of the persons who assessed the adult.

(4) In developing the positive behaviour support plan, the chief executive must—

(a) have regard to a model positive behaviour support plan; and

(b) consult with, and consider the views of, each entity that was consulted under section 156(3).
(5) If the positive behaviour support plan provides for the use of chemical restraint, the chief executive must—

(a) consult the adult’s treating doctor; and

(b) inform the adult’s treating doctor about—

(i) the findings and theories of the persons who conducted the multidisciplinary assessment about the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others, including the factors contributing to the behaviour; and

(ii) the strategies, including other restrictive practices, proposed to be used for—

(A) meeting the adult’s needs and improving the adult’s capabilities and quality of life; and

(B) reducing the intensity, frequency and duration of the adult’s behaviour that causes harm to the adult or others.

(6) If the chief executive is not required to develop a positive behaviour support plan for the adult under subsection (2), the chief executive must give the following entities a decision notice about the decision not to develop the plan—

(a) the relevant service provider;

(b) the adult;

(c) a guardian or informal decision-maker for the adult who was consulted under section 156(3).

159 Participation of psychiatrist or senior practitioner in development of plan

(1) This section applies if—

(a) the chief executive is aware the adult is—

(i) subject to a forensic order, treatment support order or treatment authority under the Mental Health Act 2016; or

(ii) a forensic disability client; and
(b) the chief executive develops a positive behaviour support plan for the adult under this division.

(2) The chief executive must ensure a following person is given the opportunity to participate in the development of the positive behaviour support plan—

(a) for an adult mentioned in subsection (1)(a)(i)—the authorised psychiatrist responsible for treating the adult under the Mental Health Act 2016;

(b) for an adult mentioned in subsection (1)(a)(ii)—a senior practitioner responsible for the care and support of the adult under the Forensic Disability Act 2011.

Subdivision 3 Changing a positive behaviour support plan

160 Application of sdiv 3

This subdivision applies if an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability is the subject of a containment or seclusion approval.

161 Who may change positive behaviour support plan

The positive behaviour support plan for the adult may be changed only by the chief executive.

162 When chief executive must decide whether positive behaviour support plan should be changed

The chief executive must decide whether a change to the adult’s positive behaviour support plan should be made if—

(a) a relevant service provider asks the chief executive, in writing, to make a change to the plan; or

(b) the chief executive becomes aware the adult is subject to a forensic order, treatment support order or treatment authority under the Mental Health Act 2016.
Examples of when a relevant service provider might ask for a change—

- A new relevant service provider wants to use a restrictive practice in relation to the adult, including chemical, mechanical or physical restraint or restricting access.

- The relevant service provider to which the containment or seclusion approval applies wants to change a detail stated in the positive behaviour support plan for the adult.

- The containment or seclusion approval is about to expire and the relevant service provider to which the approval applies wishes to apply for a new approval.

Requirements for chief executive’s decision about whether change should be made

1. The chief executive may decide a change should be made to the adult’s positive behaviour support plan only if satisfied the change would not—

   (a) increase the risk of the adult’s behaviour causing harm to the adult or others; or

   (b) decrease the extent to which the adult’s needs are met or the adult’s capabilities and quality of life are improved.

2. For deciding whether a change should be made, the chief executive may arrange for all or part of a multidisciplinary assessment to be conducted, or consult any of the entities listed in section 156(3), as the chief executive considers appropriate in the circumstances.

3. However, if the chief executive is deciding whether a change should be made because the adult is subject to a forensic order, treatment support order or treatment authority under the Mental Health Act 2016, the chief executive must consult the authorised psychiatrist responsible for treating the adult under that Act.

4. Also, if the chief executive is deciding whether a change should be made because the adult is a forensic disability client, the chief executive must consult a senior practitioner responsible for the care and support of the adult under the Forensic Disability Act 2011.
(5) Subsection (2) applies subject to any order or direction of the tribunal.

164 Action of chief executive after deciding whether change should be made

(1) If the chief executive decides a change to the adult’s positive behaviour support plan should be made, the chief executive must decide whether the change requires a GAA application to be made.

(2) The change requires the making of a GAA application if it—
   (a) is inconsistent with the terms of an existing containment or seclusion approval; or
   Examples—
   • The existing containment or seclusion approval approves seclusion for periods of not more than 15 minutes. The change is to increase the maximum period to 30 minutes.
   • The existing containment or seclusion approval applies to relevant service provider A. The change is for relevant service provider B to use a restrictive practice in relation to the adult.
   • The existing containment or seclusion approval is for seclusion. The change is for the additional use of mechanical restraint.
   (b) is requested because an existing containment or seclusion approval is about to expire and the relevant service provider proposes to apply for a further approval.

(3) If the change does not require the making of a GAA application, the chief executive must make the change and give a copy of the amended plan to the following—
   (a) the tribunal;
   (b) the adult;
   (c) if the adult has a guardian or informal decision-maker—the guardian or informal decision-maker;
(d) the relevant service provider to which an existing containment or seclusion approval applies.

(4) However, the chief executive is not required to give a copy of the amended plan to a person who is an informal decision-maker for the adult if—

(a) the chief executive is not, and could not reasonably be expected to be, aware the person is an informal decision-maker for the adult; or

(b) after taking all reasonable steps, the chief executive can not locate the person.

(5) As soon as practicable after making the decision mentioned in subsection (1), the chief executive must give a prescribed notice to—

(a) if the chief executive was required to decide whether a change should be made because of a request made by a relevant service provider—the relevant service provider; or

Note—

If the chief executive decides the change should not be made and the relevant service provider is dissatisfied with the decision, the relevant service provider could apply to the tribunal under the GAA, section 80ZA for review of the existing containment or seclusion approval.

(b) if the chief executive was required to decide whether a change should be made because the adult is subject to a forensic order, treatment support order or treatment authority under the Mental Health Act 2016, or is a forensic disability client—

(i) the relevant director; and

(ii) the relevant service provider to which an existing containment or seclusion approval applies.

(6) In this section—

GAA application means an application to the tribunal for—

(a) the giving of a new containment or seclusion approval; or
(b) review of an existing containment or seclusion approval.

prescribed notice means a notice stating the chief executive’s decisions about—

(a) whether a change should be made to the positive behaviour support plan for the adult; and

(b) if the chief executive decides a change should be made—whether the change requires the making of a GAA application.

relevant director means—

(a) if the adult is a forensic disability client—the director of forensic disability; or

(b) otherwise—the chief psychiatrist.

Subdivision 4 General requirements for containment or seclusion

165 Relevant service provider to ensure adult’s needs are met

A relevant service provider containing or excluding an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability must ensure the adult is given each of the following—

(a) sufficient bedding and clothing;

(b) sufficient food and drink;

(c) access to adequate heating and cooling;

(d) access to toilet facilities;

(e) the adult’s medication as prescribed by a doctor.
Division 4  Use of restrictive practices other than containment or seclusion

Subdivision 1  Requirements for using chemical, mechanical or physical restraint, or restricting access

165A  Authorisation of chemical, mechanical or physical restraint or restricting access

A relevant service provider is authorised under this part to use chemical, mechanical or physical restraint on, or restrict access of, an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability if—

(a) for an adult who must be assessed under section 148—the assessment has been carried out under that section; and

(b) the relevant service provider may use the restrictive practice under sections 166 to 171; and

(c) for an adult in relation to whom subdivision 2 applies—any change to the adult’s positive behaviour support plan is made by the relevant service provider under section 174.

166  Using chemical, mechanical or physical restraint, or restricting access, with consent of guardian etc.

(1) A relevant service provider may use chemical, mechanical or physical restraint on, or restrict access of, an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability if—

(a) use of the restrictive practice is necessary to prevent the adult’s behaviour causing harm to the adult or others; and

(b) use of the restrictive practice is the least restrictive way of ensuring the safety of the adult or others; and
(c) either—

(i) if the adult is the subject of a containment or seclusion approval—use of the restrictive practice complies with—

(A) the approval; and

(B) if the containment or seclusion approval is not given as an interim order under the GAA, section 80ZR—a positive behaviour support plan for the adult developed by the chief executive under division 3; or

(ii) otherwise—use of the restrictive practice complies with—

(A) a positive behaviour support plan for the adult developed by the relevant service provider under this division; and

(B) the consent of a relevant decision-maker for the adult.

(2) For subsection (1)(c), the restrictive practice is not used in compliance with a positive behaviour support plan if the relevant service provider does not implement the positive strategies stated in the plan.

(3) In this section—

relevant decision-maker, for an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability, means—

(a) a guardian for a restrictive practice (general) matter for the adult; or

(b) for restricting access of the adult, if there is no guardian for a restrictive practice (general) matter for the adult—an informal decision-maker for the adult.
167 Using chemical, mechanical or physical restraint, or restricting access, for respite services or community access services

(1) A relevant service provider may use chemical, mechanical or physical restraint on, or restrict access of, an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability in the course of providing respite services or community access services to the adult if—

(a) use of the restrictive practice is necessary to prevent the adult’s behaviour causing harm to the adult or others; and

(b) use of the restrictive practice is the least restrictive way of ensuring the safety of the adult or others; and

(c) before using the restrictive practice, the relevant service provider complies with the requirements under division 5; and

(d) use of the restrictive practice complies with—

(i) the consent of a relevant decision-maker (respite) for the adult; and

(ii) a respite/community access plan for the adult.

(2) It is not necessary to obtain the adult’s consent to the use of a restrictive practice under this section.

171 Using chemical, mechanical or physical restraint, or restricting access, before decision on short term approval

(1) A relevant service provider may use chemical, mechanical or physical restraint on, or restrict access of, an adult with an intellectual or cognitive disability if—

(a) the relevant service provider has asked the chief executive, in writing, for an approval under section 178 to use the restrictive practice in relation to the adult and the request has not been decided; and

174 Changing a positive behaviour support plan

(1) A positive behaviour support plan that provides for use of chemical, mechanical or physical restraint may be changed by the relevant service provider only if—
