Criminal Code Act 1899

An Act to establish a Code of Criminal Law

Preamble

Whereas it is desirable to declare, consolidate, and amend the Criminal Law;

Be it enacted and declared by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of Queensland in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows—

1 Short title

This Act may be cited as the Criminal Code Act 1899.

2 Establishment of Code—schedule 1

- (1) On and from 1 January 1901, the provisions contained in the Code of Criminal Law set forth in schedule 1 (the Code) shall be the law of Queensland with respect to the several matters therein dealt with.
- (2) The said Code may be cited as the Criminal Code.

3 Saving

However—

- (a) the repeal of any statute or part of a statute set forth in the schedules shall not affect the construction of any other statute, or of any other part of the same statute, whether as regards the past or the future;
- (b) when any enactment not mentioned in the schedules has been repealed, confirmed, revived, or perpetuated, by any enactment hereby repealed, such repeal, confirmation, revival, or perpetuation, shall not be affected by the repeal effected by this Act;

- (c) this Act shall not affect the validity, invalidity, effect, or consequences, of anything already done or suffered, or any existing status or capacity, or any right, title, obligation, or liability, civil or criminal, already acquired, accrued, or incurred, or any remedy or proceeding in respect thereof, or any release or discharge of or from any debt, penalty, obligation, liability, claim, or demand, or any indemnity, or the proof of any past act or thing; and any action, prosecution, or other proceeding, begun before the coming into operation of the Code, may, subject to the provisions of the Code, be continued as if this Act had not been passed; and any action, prosecution, or other proceeding, in respect of anything done or omitted to be done before the coming into operation of the Code, may, subject to the provisions of the Code, be brought, taken, and prosecuted, in the same manner as if this Act had not been passed;
- (d) this Act shall not, except as expressly therein declared, affect any principle or rule of law or equity, or established jurisdiction, or form or course of pleading, practice, or procedure, notwithstanding that the same respectively may have been in any manner affirmed, recognised or derived, by, in, or from, any enactment hereby repealed;
- (e) this Act shall not revive or restore any jurisdiction, duty, liability, right, title, privilege, restriction, exemption, usage, practice, procedure, form of punishment, or other matter or thing, not now existing or in force.

4 Construction of statutes, statutory rules, and other instruments

From and after the coming into operation of the Code, the following rules shall apply with respect to the construction of statutes, statutory rules, by-laws, and other instruments, that is to say—

- (a) when in any statute, statutory rule, by-law, or other instrument, public or private, the term felony is used, or reference is made to an offence by the name of felony, it shall be taken that reference is intended to an offence which is a crime under the provisions of the Code;
- (b) when in any statute, statutory rule, by-law, or other instrument, public or private, the term murder is used, it shall be taken that reference is intended to the crimes of wilful murder and murder and each of them;
- (c) when in any statute, statutory rule, by-law, or other instrument, public or private, the term larceny is used, it shall be taken that reference is intended to the crime of stealing;
- (d) when in any statute, statutory rule, by-law, or other instrument, public or private, reference is made to any offence by any specific name, it shall be intended that reference is intended to the offence which, under the provisions of the Code, is constituted by the act or omission that would heretofore have constituted the offence referred to;
- (e) when in any statute, statutory rule, by-law, or other instrument, public or private, reference is made to any of the statutory provisions hereby repealed, it shall be taken that reference is intended to the corresponding provisions or substituted provisions of the Code.

5 Provisions of Code exclusive with certain exceptions

From and after the coming into operation of the Code, no person shall be liable to be tried or punished in Queensland as for an indictable offence except under the express provisions of the Code or some other statute law of Queensland, or under the express provisions of some statute of the United Kingdom which is expressly applied to Queensland, or which is in force in all parts of the Sovereign's dominions not expressly excepted from its operation, or which authorises the trial and punishment in Queensland of offenders who have at places not in Queensland committed offences against the laws of the United Kingdom.

6 Civil remedies

- (1) When by the Code any act is declared to be lawful, no action can be brought in respect thereof.
- (2) A person who suffers loss or injury in, or in connection with, the commission of an indictable offence of which the person is found guilty has no right of action against another person for the loss or injury.
- (3) Subsection (2) applies whether or not a conviction is recorded for the offence.
- (4) Except as aforesaid, the provisions of this Act shall not affect any right of action which any person would have had against another if this Act had not been passed, nor shall the omission from the Code of any penal provision in respect of any act or omission which before the time of the coming into operation of the Code constituted an actionable wrong affect any right of action in respect thereof.

7 Offender may be prosecuted under Code or other statute

When an offender is punishable under the provisions of the Code, and also under the provisions of some other statute, the offender may be prosecuted and convicted under the provisions either of the Code or of such other statute, so that the offender is not twice punished for the same offence.

8 Contempt of court

Nothing in this Act or in the Code shall affect the authority of courts of record to punish a person summarily for the offence commonly known as ‘contempt of court’, but so that a person can not be so punished and also punished under the provisions of the Code for the same act or omission.

2 Definition of offence

An act or omission which renders the person doing the act or making the omission liable to punishment is called an offence.

3 Division of offences

- (1) Offences are of 2 kinds, namely, criminal offences and regulatory offences.
- (2) Criminal offences comprise crimes, misdemeanours and simple offences.
- (3) Crimes and misdemeanours are indictable offences; that is to say, the offenders can not, unless otherwise expressly stated, be prosecuted or convicted except upon indictment.
- (4) A person guilty of a regulatory offence or a simple offence may be summarily convicted by a Magistrates Court.
- (5) An offence not otherwise designated is a simple offence.

4 Attempts to commit offences

- (1) When a person, intending to commit an offence, begins to put the person's intention into execution by means adapted to its fulfilment, and manifests the person's intention by some overt act, but does not fulfil the person's intention to such an extent as to commit the offence, the person is said to attempt to commit the offence.
- (2) It is immaterial, except so far as regards punishment, whether the offender does all that is necessary on the offender's part for completing the commission of the offence, or whether the complete fulfilment of the offender's intention is prevented by circumstances independent of his or her will, or whether the offender desists of his or her own motion from the further prosecution of the offender's intention.
- (3) It is immaterial that by reason of circumstances not known to the offender it is impossible in fact to commit the offence.

- (4) The same facts may constitute one offence and an attempt to commit another offence.

5 Arrest without warrant

- (1) The expression the offender may be arrested without warrant means that the provisions of this Code relating to the arrest of offenders or suspected offenders without warrant are applicable to the offence in question, either generally or subject to such conditions (if any) as to time, place, or circumstance, or as to the person authorised to make the arrest, as are specified in the particular case.
- (2) Except when otherwise stated, the definition of an offence as a crime imports that the offender may be arrested without warrant.
- (3) The expression the offender can not be arrested without warrant means that the provisions of this Code relating to the arrest of offenders or suspected offenders without warrant are not applicable to the crime in question, except subject to such conditions (if any) as to time, place, or circumstance, or as to the person authorised to make the arrest as are specified in the particular case.

6 Meaning of engage in penile intercourse

- (1) Penile intercourse is the penetration, to any extent, of the vagina, vulva or anus of a person by the penis of another person.
- (2) A person engages in penile intercourse with another person if—
 - (a) the person penetrates, to any extent, the vagina, vulva or anus of another person with the person's penis; or
 - (b) the person's vagina, vulva or anus is penetrated, to any extent, by the penis of another person.

6A Meaning of emergency vehicle and related matters

(1) In this Code—

emergency vehicle means—

- (a) a motor vehicle being used by an emergency worker in the course of their duties; or
- (b) a motor vehicle ordinarily used by emergency workers in the course of their duties.

(2) For a proceeding against a person (the first person) for an offence involving an emergency vehicle, the first person is taken to know a motor vehicle is an emergency vehicle, unless the first person proves otherwise, if—

- (a) the vehicle bears the insignia of an emergency services entity or is otherwise clearly marked as a type of emergency vehicle; or
- (b) the vehicle is displaying flashing blue and red lights or a flashing blue light; or
- (c) a person who is inside, or emerges from, the vehicle identifies themselves to the first person as a type of emergency worker.

(3) Subsection (2) does not limit the circumstances in which a person may know, or a person ought reasonably to know, a vehicle is an emergency vehicle.

(4) In this section—

emergency services entity means any of the following entities of Queensland, the Commonwealth or another State—

- (a) a police service;
- (b) an ambulance service;
- (c) a fire brigade, fire service or State emergency service.

Chapter 2 Parties to offences

7 Principal offenders

- (1) When an offence is committed, each of the following persons is deemed to have taken part in committing the offence and to be guilty of the offence, and may be charged with actually committing it, that is to say—
 - (a) every person who actually does the act or makes the omission which constitutes the offence;
 - (b) every person who does or omits to do any act for the purpose of enabling or aiding another person to commit the offence;
 - (c) every person who aids another person in committing the offence;
 - (d) any person who counsels or procures any other person to commit the offence.
- (2) Under subsection (1)(d) the person may be charged either with committing the offence or with counselling or procuring its commission.
- (3) A conviction of counselling or procuring the commission of an offence entails the same consequences in all respects as a conviction of committing the offence.
- (4) Any person who procures another to do or omit to do any act of such a nature that, if the person had done the act or made the omission, the act or omission would have constituted an offence on the person's part, is guilty of an offence of the same kind, and is liable to the same punishment, as if the person had done the act or made the omission; and the person may be charged with doing the act or making the omission.

8 Offences committed in prosecution of common purpose

When 2 or more persons form a common intention to prosecute an unlawful purpose in conjunction with one another, and in the prosecution of such purpose an offence is committed of such a nature that its commission was a probable consequence of the prosecution of such purpose, each of them is deemed to have committed the offence.

9 Mode of execution immaterial

- (1) When a person counsels another to commit an offence, and an offence is actually committed after such counsel by the person to whom it is given, it is immaterial whether the offence actually committed is the same as that counselled or a different one, or whether the offence is committed in the way counselled, or in a different way, provided in either case that the facts constituting the offence actually committed are a probable consequence of carrying out the counsel.
- (2) In either case the person who gave the counsel is deemed to have counselled the other person to commit the offence actually committed by the other person.

10 Accessories after the fact

A person who receives or assists another who is, to the person's knowledge, guilty of an offence, in order to enable the person to escape punishment, is said to become an accessory after the fact to the offence.

10A Interpretation of ch 2

- (1) Under section 7, a person's criminal responsibility extends to any offence that, on the evidence admissible against him or her, is either the offence proved against the person who did the act or made the omission that constitutes that offence or any statutory or other alternative to that offence.
- (2) Under section 8, a person's criminal responsibility extends to any offence that, on the evidence admissible against him or her, is a probable consequence of the prosecution of a common intention to prosecute an unlawful purpose, regardless of what offence is proved against any other party to the common intention.

- (3) This section does not limit any other provision of this chapter.

Chapter 3 Application of criminal law

11 Effect of changes in law

- (1) A person can not be punished for doing or omitting to do an act unless the act or omission constituted an offence under the law in force when it occurred; nor unless doing or omitting to do the act under the same circumstances would constitute an offence under the law in force at the time when the person is charged with the offence.
- (2) If the law in force when the act or omission occurred differs from that in force at the time of the conviction, the offender can not be punished to any greater extent than was authorised by the former law, or to any greater extent than is authorised by the latter law.

12 Application of Code as to offences wholly or partially committed in Queensland

- (1) This Code applies to every person who does an act in Queensland or makes an omission in Queensland, which in either case constitutes an offence.
- (2) Where acts or omissions occur which, if they all occurred in Queensland, would constitute an offence and any of the acts or omissions occur in Queensland, the person who does the acts or makes the omissions is guilty of an offence of the same kind and is liable to the same punishment as if all the acts or omissions had occurred in Queensland.
- (3) Where an event occurs in Queensland caused by an act done or omission made out of Queensland which, if done or made in Queensland, would constitute an offence, the person who does the act or makes the omission is guilty of an offence of the same kind and is liable to the same punishment as if the act or omission had occurred in Queensland.

- (3A) It is a defence to prove that the person did not intend that the act or omission should have effect in Queensland.
- (4) Where an event occurs out of Queensland caused by an act done or omission made in Queensland, which act or omission would constitute an offence had the event occurred in Queensland, the person who does the act or makes the omission is guilty of an offence of the same kind and is liable to the same punishment as if the event had occurred in Queensland.
- (5) This section does not extend to a case where the only material event that occurs in Queensland is the death in Queensland of a person whose death is caused by an act done or an omission made out of Queensland at a time when the person was out of Queensland.

13 Offences enabled, aided, procured or counselled by persons out of Queensland

- (1) Any person who while out of Queensland—
 - (a) does or omits to do an act for the purpose of enabling or aiding another person to commit an offence that is actually committed in Queensland; or
 - (b) aids another person in committing an offence that is actually committed in Queensland; or
 - (c) counsels or procures another person to commit an offence that is actually committed in Queensland;is guilty of an offence of the same kind and is liable to the same punishment as if the person had committed the offence in Queensland.
- (2) Any person who while out of Queensland procures another to do or omit to do in Queensland an act of such a nature that, if the person had done the act or made the omission in Queensland, the person would have been guilty of an offence is guilty of an offence of the same kind and is liable to the same punishment as if the person had done the act or made the omission in Queensland.

14 Offences procured in Queensland to be committed out of Queensland

Any person who while in Queensland procures another to do an act or make an omission at a place not in Queensland of such a nature that, if the person had done the act or made the omission in Queensland, the person would have been guilty of an offence, and that, if the person had done the act or made the omission, the person would have been guilty of an offence under the laws in force in the place where the act or omission is done or made, is guilty of an offence of the same kind, and is liable to the same punishment, as if the act had been done or the omission had been made in Queensland, but so that the punishment does not exceed that which the person would have incurred under the laws in force in the place where the act was done or the omission was made, if the person had done the act or made the omission.

15 Defence Force

Officers and other members of the Australian Defence Force are, while on duty or in uniform, subject to the special laws relating to that Force, but are not exempt from the provisions of this Code.

16 Person not to be twice punished for same offence

A person can not be twice punished either under the provisions of this Code or under the provisions of any other law for the same act or omission, except in the case where the act or omission is such that by means thereof the person causes the death of another person, in which case the person may be convicted of the offence of which the person is guilty by reason of causing such death, notwithstanding that the person has already been convicted of some other offence constituted by the act or omission.

17 Former conviction or acquittal

It is a defence to a charge of any offence to show that the accused person has already been tried, and convicted or acquitted upon an indictment on which the person might have been convicted of the offence with which the person is charged, or has already been acquitted upon indictment, or has already been convicted, of an offence of which the person might be convicted upon the indictment or complaint on which the person is charged.

Note—

See sections 678B, 678BA and 678C for when this section does not apply to the charge mentioned in those sections.

Chapter 4 Royal prerogative of mercy

18 Royal prerogative of mercy

This Code does not affect the Royal prerogative of mercy.

Chapter 5 Criminal responsibility

22 Ignorance of the law—bona fide claim of right

- (1) Ignorance of the law does not afford any excuse for an act or omission which would otherwise constitute an offence, unless knowledge of the law by the offender is expressly declared to be an element of the offence.

- (2) But a person is not criminally responsible, as for an offence relating to property, for an act done or omitted to be done by the person with respect to any property in the exercise of an honest claim of right and without intention to defraud.
- (3) A person is not criminally responsible for an act or omission done or made in contravention of a statutory instrument if, at the time of doing or making it, the statutory instrument was not known to the person and had not been published or otherwise reasonably made available or known to the public or those persons likely to be affected by it.
- (4) In this section—publish—
 - (a) in relation to a statutory instrument that is subordinate legislation—means notify in accordance with section 47 (Notification) of the Statutory Instruments Act 1992; and
 - (b) in relation to a statutory instrument that is not subordinate legislation—means publish in the gazette.

23 Intention—motive

- (1) Subject to the express provisions of this Code relating to negligent acts and omissions, a person is not criminally responsible for—
 - (a) an act or omission that occurs independently of the exercise of the person's will; or
 - (b) an event that—
 - (i) the person does not intend or foresee as a possible consequence; and
 - (ii) an ordinary person would not reasonably foresee as a possible consequence.

Note—

Parliament, in amending subsection (1)(b) by the Criminal Code and Other Legislation Amendment Act 2011, did not intend to change the circumstances in which a person is criminally responsible.

- (1A) However, under subsection (1)(b), the person is not excused from criminal responsibility for death or grievous bodily harm that results to a victim because of a defect, weakness, or abnormality.
- (2) Unless the intention to cause a particular result is expressly declared to be an element of the offence constituted, in whole or part, by an act or omission, the result intended to be caused by an act or omission is immaterial.
- (3) Unless otherwise expressly declared, the motive by which a person is induced to do or omit to do an act, or to form an intention, is immaterial so far as regards criminal responsibility.

24 Mistake of fact

- (1) A person who does or omits to do an act under an honest and reasonable, but mistaken, belief in the existence of any state of things is not criminally responsible for the act or omission to any greater extent than if the real state of things had been such as the person believed to exist.
- (2) The operation of this rule may be excluded by the express or implied provisions of the law relating to the subject.

25 Extraordinary emergencies

Subject to the express provisions of this Code relating to acts done upon compulsion or provocation or in self-defence, a person is not criminally responsible for an act or omission done or made under such circumstances of sudden or extraordinary emergency that an ordinary person possessing ordinary power of self-control could not reasonably be expected to act otherwise.

26 Presumption of sanity

Every person is presumed to be of sound mind, and to have been of sound mind at any time which comes in question, until the contrary is proved.

27 Insanity

- (1) A person is not criminally responsible for an act or omission if at the time of doing the act or making the omission the person is in such a state of mental disease or natural mental infirmity as to deprive the person of capacity to understand what the person is doing, or of capacity to control the person's actions, or of capacity to know that the person ought not to do the act or make the omission.
- (2) A person whose mind, at the time of the person's doing or omitting to do an act, is affected by delusions on some specific matter or matters, but who is not otherwise entitled to the benefit of subsection (1), is criminally responsible for the act or omission to the same extent as if the real state of things had been such as the person was induced by the delusions to believe to exist.

28 Intoxication

- (1) The provisions of section 27 apply to the case of a person whose mind is disordered by intoxication or stupefaction caused without intention on his or her part by drugs or intoxicating liquor or by any other means.
- (2) They do not apply to the case of a person who has, to any extent intentionally caused himself or herself to become intoxicated or stupefied, whether in order to afford excuse for the commission of an offence or not and whether his or her mind is disordered by the intoxication alone or in combination with some other agent.
- (3) When an intention to cause a specific result is an element of an offence, intoxication, whether complete or partial, and whether intentional or unintentional, may be regarded for the purpose of ascertaining whether such an intention in fact existed.

29 Immature age

- (1) A person under the age of 10 years is not criminally responsible for any act or omission.
- (2) A person under the age of 14 years is not criminally responsible for an act or omission, unless it is proved that at the time of doing the act or making the omission the person had capacity to know that the person ought not to do the act or make the omission.

30 Judicial officers

Except as expressly provided by this Code, a judicial officer is not criminally responsible for anything done or omitted to be done by the judicial officer in the exercise of the officer's judicial functions, although the act done is in excess of the officer's judicial authority, or although the officer is bound to do the act omitted to be done.

31 Justification and excuse—compulsion

- (1) A person is not criminally responsible for an act or omission, if the person does or omits to do the act under any of the following circumstances, that is to say—
 - (a) in execution of the law;
 - (b) in obedience to the order of a competent authority which he or she is bound by law to obey, unless the order is manifestly unlawful;
 - (c) when the act is reasonably necessary in order to resist actual and unlawful violence threatened to the person, or to another person in the person's presence;
 - (d) when—

[s 34]

- (i) the person does or omits to do the act in order to save himself or herself or another person, or his or her property or the property of another person, from serious harm or detriment threatened to be inflicted by some person in a position to carry out the threat; and
 - (ii) the person doing the act or making the omission reasonably believes he or she or the other person is unable otherwise to escape the carrying out of the threat; and
 - (iii) doing the act or making the omission is reasonably proportionate to the harm or detriment threatened.
- (2) However, this protection does not extend to an act or omission which would constitute the crime of murder, or an offence of which grievous bodily harm to the person of another, or an intention to cause such harm, is an element, nor to a person who has by entering into an unlawful association or conspiracy rendered himself or herself liable to have such threats made to the person.
- (3) Whether an order is or is not manifestly unlawful is a question of law.

34 Offences by partners and members of companies with respect to partnership or corporate property

A person who, being a member of a co-partnership, corporation, or joint stock company, does or omits to do any act with respect to the property of the co-partnership, corporation, or company, which, if the person were not a member of the co-partnership, corporation, or company, would constitute an offence, is criminally responsible to the same extent as if the person were not such member.

36 Application of rules

- (1) The provisions of this chapter apply to all persons charged with any criminal offence against the statute law of Queensland.
- (2) Except for sections 22(3), 29 and 31, this chapter does not apply to regulatory offences.

Part 2 Offences against public order

Chapter 7 Sedition

44 Definition of sedition

An intention to effect any of the following purposes, that is to say—

- (a) to bring the Sovereign into hatred or contempt;
- (b) to excite disaffection against the Sovereign or the Government or Constitution of the United Kingdom or of Queensland as by law established, or against either House of Parliament of the United Kingdom or of Queensland, or against the administration of justice;
- (c) to excite the Sovereign's subjects to attempt to procure the alteration of any matter in the State as by law established otherwise than by lawful means;
- (d) to raise discontent or disaffection amongst the Sovereign's subjects;
- (e) to promote feelings of ill will and enmity between different classes of the Sovereign's subjects; is a sedition intention, unless it is justified by the provisions of section 45.

[s 45]

45 Innocent intentions

It is lawful for any person—

- (a) to endeavour in good faith to show that the Sovereign has been mistaken in any of the Sovereign's counsels; or
- (b) to point out in good faith errors or defects in the government or Constitution of the United Kingdom or of Queensland as by law established, or in legislation, or in the administration of justice, with a view to the reformation of such errors or defects; or
- (c) to excite in good faith the Sovereign's subjects to attempt to procure by lawful means the alteration of any matter in the State as by law established; or
- (d) to point out in good faith in order to their removal any matters which are producing or have a tendency to produce feelings of ill will and enmity between different classes of the Sovereign's subjects.

46 Definition of sedition enterprises etc.

- (1) A sedition enterprise is an enterprise which is undertaken in order to the carrying out of a seditious intention.
- (2) Seditious words are words expressive of a seditious intention.
- (3) In this Code—
sedition writing includes anything intended to be read, and any sign or visible representation, which is expressive of a seditious intention.

51 Unlawful drilling

- (1) Any person who—

- (a) in contravention of the directions under a regulation, trains or drills any other person to the use of arms or the practice of military exercises, movements, or evolutions; or
 - (b) is present at any meeting or assembly of persons held in contravention of the directions of any such proclamation, for the purpose of there training or drilling any other person to the use of arms or the practice of military exercises, movements, or evolutions;
- is guilty of a crime, and is liable to imprisonment for 7 years.
- (2) Any person who, at any meeting or assembly held in contravention of the directions under a regulation, is trained or drilled to the use of arms or the practice of military exercises, movements, or evolutions, or who is present at any such meeting or assembly for the purpose of being so trained or drilled, is guilty of a misdemeanour, and is liable to imprisonment for 2 years.
- (2A) The offender may be arrested without warrant.
- (3) A prosecution for any of the offences defined in this section must be begun within 6 months after the offence is committed.

52 Sedition

- (1) Any person who—
 - (a) conspires with any person to carry into execution a seditious enterprise; or
 - (b) advisedly publishes any seditious words or writing;is guilty of a misdemeanour, and is liable to imprisonment for 3 years.
- (2) If the person has been previously convicted of any such offence the person is guilty of a crime, and is liable to imprisonment for 7 years.
- (3) A prosecution for any of the offences defined in this section must be begun within 6 months after the offence is committed.

[s 52A]

- (4) A person can not be convicted of any of the offences defined in this section upon the uncorroborated testimony of 1 witness.

Chapter 7A Serious vilification and prohibited symbols

52A Offence of serious racial, religious, sexuality, sex characteristics or gender identity vilification

- (1) A person must not, by a public act, knowingly or recklessly incite hatred towards, serious contempt for, or severe ridicule of, a person or group of persons on the ground of the race, religion, sexuality, sex characteristics or gender identity of the person or members of the group in a way that includes—
- (a) threatening physical harm towards, or towards any property of, the person or group of persons; or
 - (b) inciting others to threaten physical harm towards, or towards any property of, the person or group of persons.

Maximum penalty—3 years imprisonment.

- (2) In this section—

public act—

- (a) includes—
 - (i) any form of communication to the public, including by speaking, writing, printing, displaying notices, broadcasting, telecasting, screening or playing of tapes or other recorded material, or by electronic means; and
 - (ii) any conduct that is observable by the public, including actions, gestures and the wearing or display of clothing, signs, flags, emblems or insignia; but

- (b) does not include the distribution or dissemination of any matter by a person to the public if the person does not know, and could not reasonably be expected to know, the content of the matter.

52B Circumstances of aggravation for particular offences

- (1) It is a circumstance of aggravation for a prescribed offence that the offender was wholly or partly motivated to commit the offence by hatred or serious contempt for a person or group of persons based on—
 - (a) in relation to a person—the race, religion, sexuality, sex characteristics or gender identity of the person, or presumed race, religion, sexuality, sex characteristics or gender identity of the person; or
 - (b) in relation to a group of persons—the race, religion, sexuality, sex characteristics or gender identity shared, or presumed to be shared, by the members of the group.
- (2) In this section—

prescribed offence means an offence against any of the following sections—

- (a) section 69;
- (b) section 75;
- (c) section 207;
- (d) section 335;
- (e) section 339;
- (f) section 359;
- (g) section 359E;
- (h) section 469.

52C Prohibited symbols

- (1) A prohibited symbol is a symbol or image—

- (a) prescribed by regulation for this section; or
 - (b) that so nearly resembles a symbol referred to in paragraph (a) that it is likely to be confused with or mistaken for that symbol.
- (2) A regulation under subsection (1)(a)—
 - (a) must prescribe the symbol or image as a graphic representation of the symbol or image; and
 - (b) may not prescribe the symbol or image by describing a class of symbols or images.
- (3) The Minister may recommend to the Governor in Council the making of a regulation under subsection (1)(a) only if the Minister is satisfied the symbol or image—
 - (a) is widely known by the public as being solely or substantially representative of an ideology of extreme prejudice against a relevant group; or
 - (b) is widely known by members of a relevant group as being solely or substantially representative of an ideology of extreme prejudice against that group.
- (4) Also, the Minister must, before making the recommendation, consult with each of the following persons about the proposed recommendation—
 - (a) the chairperson of the Crime and Corruption Commission;
 - (b) the Human Rights Commissioner under the Anti-Discrimination Act 1991;
 - (c) the commissioner of the police service under the Police Service Administration Act 1990.
- (5) In this section—
relevant group means a group of persons who identify with each other on the basis of an attribute or characteristic that is, or is based on, the race, religion, sexuality, sex characteristics or gender identity of the persons.

52D Display, distribution or publication of prohibited symbols

- (1) A person who publicly distributes, publishes or publicly displays a prohibited symbol in a way that might reasonably be expected to cause a member of the public to feel menaced, harassed or offended, commits an offence, unless the person has a reasonable excuse.

Maximum penalty—70 penalty units or 6 months imprisonment.

- (2) Without limiting what may be a reasonable excuse for subsection (1), a person has a reasonable excuse if—

(a) any of the following apply—

- (i) the person engaged in the conduct that is alleged to constitute the offence for a genuine artistic, religious, educational, historical, legal or law enforcement purpose;
- (ii) the person engaged in the conduct that is alleged to constitute the offence for a purpose that is in the public interest;

Examples for subparagraph (ii)—

- publication of a fair and accurate report of an event or matter of public interest
- a genuine political or other genuine public dispute or issue carried on in the public interest

- (iii) the person engaged in the conduct that is alleged to constitute the offence in opposition to the ideology represented by the prohibited symbol; and

(b) the person's conduct was, in the circumstances, reasonable for that purpose.

- (3) An evidential burden is placed on the defendant in relation to showing a reasonable excuse for subsection (1).

- (4) For subsection (1), a person publicly displays a prohibited symbol if the person—

(a) displays the symbol—

[s 53]

- (i) in a place that the public is entitled to use, is open to members of the public or is used by the public, whether or not on payment of money; or
 - (ii) in a place the occupier of which allows, whether or not on payment of money, members of the public to enter; or
- (b) displays the symbol in a way that is visible from a place mentioned in paragraph (a).
- (5) To remove any doubt, it is declared that, for subsection (1)—
 - (a) the offence is committed at the time when the person distributes, publishes or displays the prohibited symbol; and
 - (b) it is irrelevant whether or not a member of the public has seen the prohibited symbol because of the distribution, publication or display.

Chapter 8 Offences against the executive and legislative power

53 Evidence of proceedings in the Assembly allowed for prosecution

- (1) Despite the Parliament of Queensland Act 2001, section 8, evidence of anything said or done during proceedings in the Assembly may be given in a proceeding against a person for an offence under this chapter to the extent necessary to prosecute the person for the offence.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not limit the Parliament of Queensland Act 2001, section 36.
- (3) In this section—

proceedings in the Assembly see the Parliament of Queensland Act 2001, section 9 and schedule.

54 Interference with Governor or Ministers

- (1) Any person who—
- (a) does any act with intention to interfere with the free exercise by the Governor of the duties or authority of the Governor's office; or
 - (b) does any act with intention to interfere with the free exercise by a member of the Executive Council of the duties or authority of the member's office as a member of the Executive Council or as a Minister of State;
- is guilty of a misdemeanour, and is liable to imprisonment for 3 years.
- (2) The offender may be, and it is hereby declared that the offender always was liable to be, arrested without warrant.

54A Demands with menaces upon agencies of government

- (1) Any person who demands that anything be done or omitted to be done or be procured by—
- (a) the Government of Queensland or a person in the employment of the Crown in right of Queensland, in performance of the duties of the person's employment or otherwise in the person's official capacity; or
 - (b) the Governor, in his or her role of Governor; or
 - (c) a Minister of the Crown, in his or her office as Minister or as a member of the Executive Council of Queensland; or
 - (d) a government corporation, in discharge of its functions conferred by law, or a person in the employment of a government corporation, in performance of the duties of the person's employment or otherwise in the person's official capacity;
- with threats of detriment of any kind to be caused to any person aforesaid or any other person or to the public or any member or members of the public or to property, by the offender or by any other person, if the demand is not complied with is guilty of a crime and is liable to imprisonment for 14 years.

- (2) A person is not criminally responsible for an act referred to in subsection (1) if the detriment is threatened to himself or herself only or to property of which the person is the sole owner.
- (3) It is immaterial to the commission of an offence defined in this section that—
 - (a) the demand or threat is made by means of a medium ordinarily used for disseminating information to the public and not to a particular person; or
 - (b) the threat does not specify the detriment that is to be caused or the person or persons to whom or the property to which it is to be caused.
- (4) If the carrying out of the threat would be likely to cause—
 - (a) loss of life or serious personal injury to any person; or
 - (b) substantial economic loss—
 - (i) to the Crown; or
 - (ii) to a government corporation; or
 - (iii) in any industrial or commercial activity whether conducted by a public authority or as a private enterprise;

the offender is liable to imprisonment for life and if, in addition, the offender or another person on the offender's behalf has carried out the threat and thereby caused a consequence specified in this subsection or has by some overt act begun to prepare for the carrying out of the threat, the offender is liable to imprisonment for life, which can not be mitigated or varied under this Code or any other law or is liable to an indefinite sentence under part 10 of the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992.

- (5) A prosecution for an offence defined in this section shall not be commenced without the consent of the Attorney-General.
- (6) For the purposes of this section—detriment includes destruction of or damage to—

- (a) flora or fauna protected by or under an Act; or
- (b) any place, thing or living creature or plant that by reason of its cultural, educational, environmental, historical, recreational, religious or scientific significance is of substantial public interest or concern; and, in the absence of proof that any such item destroyed or damaged was or is the property of a particular person, shall be deemed to be detriment to the Crown.

government corporation means any body corporate or corporation sole constituted by or under an Act that represents the Crown or that is declared under a regulation to be a government corporation for the purposes of this section.

55 Interference with the Legislature

- (1) Any person who, by force or fraud, intentionally interferes or attempts to interfere with the free exercise by the Legislative Assembly of its authority, or with the free exercise by any member of the Legislative Assembly of the member's duties or authority as such member, or as a member of a committee of the Legislative Assembly is guilty of a misdemeanour, and is liable to imprisonment for 3 years.
- (2) The offender may be, and it is hereby declared that the offender always was liable to be, arrested without warrant.

56 Disturbing the Legislature

- (1) A person who, while the Legislative Assembly is in session, intentionally—
- (a) disturbs the Assembly; or

[s 56A]

- (b) commits any disorderly conduct in the immediate view and presence of the Assembly, tending to interrupt its proceedings or to impair the respect due to its authority; commits a misdemeanour.

Maximum penalty—3 years imprisonment.

- (2) A person may be arrested without warrant.

56A Disturbance in House when Parliament not sitting

- (1) Any person creating or joining in any disturbance in Parliament House or within the precincts thereof at any time other than during an actual sitting of Parliament therein or at the office or residence of the Governor or of any member of the Legislative Assembly or of the Executive Council shall be guilty of an offence and—
 - (a) if the person created or joined in such disturbance in Parliament House or within the precincts thereof—may be apprehended without warrant on the verbal order of the Speaker or, in the Speaker’s absence, of the clerk of the Parliament, or of the person for the time being discharging the duties of the office of the clerk of the Parliament, and may be kept in custody by any officer of Parliament or by any police officer; or
 - (b) if the person created or joined in such disturbance at the office or residence of the Governor or of any member of the Legislative Assembly or of the Executive Council—may be apprehended without warrant on the verbal order of the Governor or, as the case may be, member of the Legislative Assembly or of the Executive Council concerned, and may be kept in custody by any police officer.
- (2) Such person may be so kept in custody until the person can be dealt with in the manner following, that is to say—
 - (a) every such person shall, as soon as reasonably may be, be brought before a magistrate without formal written complaint and there and then charged with such offence and summarily dealt with according to law;

- (b) any such person on summary conviction shall be liable to a fine of 100 penalty units or imprisonment for a term not exceeding 2 years.

56B Going armed to Parliament House law enforcement officer includes an inspector under any of the following Acts—

 - (a) the Classification of Computer Games and Images Act 1995;
 - (b) the Classification of Films Act 1991;
 - (c) the Classification of Publications Act 1991.

228I Producing or supplying child abuse object

- (1) A person who produces or supplies a child abuse object commits a crime.
Maximum penalty—
 - (a) if the production or supply is for a commercial purpose—20 years imprisonment; or
 - (b) otherwise—14 years imprisonment.
- (2) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q also states a circumstance of aggravation for an offence against this section.
- (3) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.
- (4) In this section—produce includes—
 - (a) prepare, manufacture or package; and

[s 228J]

- (b) offer to produce; and
- (c) do or offer to do any act in preparation for or furtherance of, or for the purpose of, an act of producing.

supply includes—

- (a) give, distribute, sell or transport; and
- (b) offer to supply; and
- (c) do or offer to do any act in preparation for or furtherance of, or for the purpose of, an act of supply.

228J Possessing child abuse object

- (1) A person who knowingly possesses a child abuse object commits a crime.

Maximum penalty—14 years imprisonment.

- (2) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q states a circumstance of aggravation for an offence against this section.
- (3) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.

228K Defence for ss 228I and 228J

- (1) It is a defence for a person charged with an offence against section 228I or 228J to prove that—
 - (a) the person engaged in the conduct that is alleged to constitute the offence for a genuine artistic, educational, legal, medical, scientific or public benefit purpose; and
 - (b) the person's conduct was, in the circumstances, reasonable for that purpose.
- (2) Whether conduct was engaged in for a purpose mentioned in subsection (1)(a) is a question of fact.

229 Knowledge of age immaterial

Except as otherwise expressly stated, it is immaterial, in the case of any of the offences defined in this chapter committed with respect to a person under a specified age, that the accused person did not know that the person was under that age, or believed that the person was not under that age.

229A Threats to distribute intimate image or prohibited visual recording

- (1) A person commits a misdemeanour if—
- (a) the person makes a threat to another person to distribute an intimate image or prohibited visual recording of the other person—
 - (i) without the other person’s consent; and
 - (ii) in a way that would cause the other person distress reasonably arising in all the circumstances; and
 - (b) the threat is made in a way that would cause the other person fear, reasonably arising in all the circumstances, of the threat being carried out.

Examples of circumstances for subsection (1)—

- the circumstances surrounding the threat
- the relationship, if any, between the person who makes the threat and the other person

Maximum penalty—3 years imprisonment.

- (2) A person commits a misdemeanour if—
- (a) the person makes a threat to another person (person A) to distribute an intimate image or prohibited visual recording of another person (person B)—
 - (i) without person B’s consent; and
 - (ii) in a way that would cause either person A or person B distress reasonably arising in all the circumstances; and

[s 229AA]

- (b) the threat is made in a way that would cause person A fear, reasonably arising in all the circumstances, of the threat being carried out.

Examples of circumstances for subsection (2)—

- the circumstances surrounding the threat
- the relationship, if any, between the person who makes the threat and person A or person B

Maximum penalty—3 years imprisonment.

- (3) For subsections (1) and (2) it is immaterial whether—
- (a) the intimate image or prohibited visual recording exists or does not exist; or
- (b) the person who makes the threat intends to cause, or actually causes, the fear mentioned in the subsection.
- (4) For subsections (1)(a)(i) and (2)(a)(i), a child under the age of 16 years is incapable of giving consent.
- (5) In this section—

consent means consent freely and voluntarily given by a person with the cognitive capacity to give the consent.

229AA Rectification order—offence against s 223, 227A, 227B or 229A

- (1) If a person is convicted of an offence against section 223(1), 227A(1) or (2), 227B(1) or 229A(1) or (2) the court may order the person to take reasonable action to remove, retract, recover, delete or destroy an intimate image or prohibited visual recording involved in the offence within a stated period.
- (2) A person who fails to comply with an order made under subsection (1) commits a misdemeanour.

Maximum penalty—2 years imprisonment.

229B Repeated sexual conduct with a child

- (1) Any adult who maintains an unlawful sexual relationship with a child under the age of 16 years commits a crime.
Maximum penalty—life imprisonment.
- (2) An unlawful sexual relationship is a relationship that involves more than 1 unlawful sexual act over any period.
- (3) For an adult to be convicted of the offence of maintaining an unlawful sexual relationship with a child, all the members of the jury must be satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that the evidence establishes that an unlawful sexual relationship with the child involving unlawful sexual acts existed.
- (4) However, in relation to the unlawful sexual acts involved in an unlawful sexual relationship—
 - (a) the prosecution is not required to allege the particulars of any unlawful sexual act that would be necessary if the act were charged as a separate offence; and
 - (b) the jury is not required to be satisfied of the particulars of any unlawful sexual act that it would have to be satisfied of if the act were charged as a separate offence; and
 - (c) all the members of the jury are not required to be satisfied about the same unlawful sexual acts.
- (5) If the child was at least 12 years when the crime was alleged to have been committed, it is a defence to prove the adult believed on reasonable grounds the child was at least the age of 16 years.
- (6) An adult can not be prosecuted for the crime without a Crown Law Officer's consent.
- (6A) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q states a circumstance of aggravation for the crime.
- (7) An adult may be charged in 1 indictment with—
 - (a) the offence of maintaining an unlawful sexual relationship with a child (the maintaining offence); and

[s 229B]

- (b) 1 or more other offences of a sexual nature alleged to have been committed by the adult in relation to the child in the course of the alleged unlawful sexual relationship (the other offence or offences).
- (8) The adult charged in 1 indictment as mentioned in subsection (7) may be convicted of and punished for any or all of the offences charged.
- (9) However, if the adult is—
 - (a) charged in 1 indictment as mentioned in subsection (7); and
 - (b) sentenced to imprisonment for the maintaining offence and for the other offence or offences;

the court imposing imprisonment may not order that the sentence for the maintaining offence be served cumulatively with the sentence or sentences for the other offence or offences.

Note—

See the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 155 (Imprisonment to be served concurrently unless otherwise ordered).

- (9A) The heading of this section—
 - (a) is not part of this section, despite the Acts Interpretation Act 1954, section 14; and
 - (b) is not intended to affect the interpretation or operation of this section.

Note—

Parliament, in amending the heading of this section by the Domestic and Family Violence Protection (Combating Coercive Control) and Other Legislation Amendment Act 2023 did not intend to change the nature or scope of this offence or the requirements for establishing an offence against this section.

- (10) In this section—offence of a sexual nature means an offence defined in section 210 (other than section 210(1)(e) or (f)), 215, 222, 349, 350 or 352.

unlawful sexual act means an act that constitutes, or would constitute (if it were sufficiently particularised), an offence of a sexual nature.

Note—

See sections 746 and 747 in relation to—

- (a) the application of this section in relation to acts done before 3 July 1989; and
- (b) the application of this section during the period 3 July 1989 to 30 April 2003.

229BB Failure to protect child from child sexual offence

- (1) An accountable person commits a crime if—
 - (a) the person knows there is a significant risk that another adult (the alleged offender) will commit a child sexual offence in relation to a child; and
 - (b) the alleged offender—
 - (i) is associated with an institution; or
 - (ii) is a regulated volunteer; and
 - (c) the child is under the care, supervision or control of an institution; and
 - (d) the child is either—
 - (i) under 16 years; or
 - (ii) a person with an impairment of the mind; and
 - (e) the person has the power or responsibility to reduce or remove the risk; and
 - (f) the person wilfully or negligently fails to reduce or remove the risk.

Maximum penalty—5 years imprisonment.

- (2) For subsection (1), it does not matter that the knowledge was gained by the accountable person during, or in connection with, a religious confession.

(3) For this section, an adult is associated with an institution if the adult—

- (a) owns, or is involved in the management or control of, the institution; or
- (b) is employed or engaged by the institution; or
- (c) works as a volunteer for the institution; or
- (d) engages in an activity in relation to the institution for which a working with children authority under the Working with Children (Risk Management and Screening) Act 2000 is required; or
- (e) engages in the delivery of a service to a child who is under the care, supervision or control of the institution.

(4) In this section—

accountable person means an adult who is associated with an institution, other than a regulated volunteer.

institution means an entity, other than an individual, that—

- (a) provides services to children; or
- (b) operates a facility for, or engages in activities with, children under the entity's care, supervision or control.

Examples of institutions—schools, government agencies, religious organisations, hospitals, child care centres, licensed residential facilities, sporting clubs, youth organisations regulated volunteer means an adult who is taken to be a volunteer employed or engaged in regulated employment at a person's home, residence or household under any of the following provisions of the Working with Children (Risk Management and Screening) Act 2000, schedule 1—

- (a) section 4(2) or (3);
- (b) section 9(2);
- (c) section 14(2).

229BC Failure to report belief of child sexual offence committed in relation to child

- (1) This section applies to an adult if—
- (a) the adult gains information that causes the adult to believe on reasonable grounds, or ought reasonably to cause the adult to believe, that a child sexual offence is being or has been committed against a child by another adult; and
 - (b) at the relevant time, the child is or was—
 - (i) under 16 years; or
 - (ii) a person with an impairment of the mind.
- (2) If, without reasonable excuse, the adult fails to disclose the information to a police officer as soon as reasonably practicable after the belief is, or ought reasonably to have been, formed, the adult commits a misdemeanour.
- Maximum penalty—3 years imprisonment.
- (3) For subsection (1), it does not matter that the information was gained by the adult during, or in connection with, a religious confession.
- (4) Without limiting what may be a reasonable excuse for subsection (2), an adult has a reasonable excuse if—
- (a) the adult believes on reasonable grounds that the information has already been disclosed to a police officer; or
 - (b) the adult has already reported the information under any of the following provisions, or believes on reasonable grounds that another person has done or will do so—
 - (i) the Child Protection Act 1999, chapter 2, part 1AA;
 - (ii) the Education (General Provisions) Act 2006, chapter 12, part 10;
 - (iii) the Youth Justice Act 1992, part 8 or 9; or

[s 230A]

- (c) the adult gains the information after the child becomes an adult (the alleged victim), and the adult reasonably believes the alleged victim does not want the information to be disclosed to a police officer; or
- (d) both of the following apply—
 - (i) the adult reasonably believes disclosing the information to a police officer would endanger the safety of the adult or another person, other than the alleged offender, regardless of whether the belief arises because of the fact of the disclosure or the information disclosed;
 - (ii) failure to disclose the information to a police officer is a reasonable response in the circumstances.
- (5) An adult who, in good faith, discloses information mentioned in subsection (1)(a) to a police officer is not liable civilly, criminally or under an administrative process for making the disclosure.
- (6) In this section—relevant time, in relation to the child sexual offence mentioned in subsection (1)(a), means the time that the adult—

 - (a) believes to be the time of commission of the offence; or
 - (b) ought reasonably to believe to be the time of commission of the offence.

Chapter 25 Cruelty to animals

242 Serious animal cruelty

- (1) A person who, with the intention of inflicting severe pain or suffering, unlawfully kills, or causes serious injury or prolonged suffering to, an animal commits a crime.

Maximum penalty—7 years imprisonment.

- (2) An act or omission that causes the death of, or serious injury or prolonged suffering to, an animal is unlawful unless it is authorised, justified or excused by—

- (a) the Animal Care and Protection Act 2001; or
- (b) another law, other than section 458 of this Code.

- (3) In this section—

serious injury means—

- (a) the loss of a distinct part or an organ of the body; or
- (b) a bodily injury of such a nature that, if left untreated, would—
 - (i) endanger, or be likely to endanger, life; or
 - (ii) cause, or be likely to cause, permanent injury to health.

Part 5 Offences against the person and relating to marriage and parental rights and duties

Chapter 26 Assaults and violence to the person generally—justification and excuse

245 Definition of assault

- (1) A person who strikes, touches, or moves, or otherwise applies force of any kind to, the person of another, either directly or indirectly, without the other person's consent, or with the other person's consent if the consent is obtained by fraud, or who by any bodily act or gesture attempts or threatens to apply force of any kind to the person of another without the other person's consent, under such circumstances that the person making the attempt or threat has actually or apparently a present ability to effect the person's purpose, is said to assault that other person, and the act is called an assault.
- (2) In this section—
applies force includes the case of applying heat, light, electrical force, gas, odour, or any other substance or thing whatever if applied in such a degree as to cause injury or personal discomfort.

[s 246]

246 Assaults unlawful

- (1) An assault is unlawful and constitutes an offence unless it is authorised or justified or excused by law.
- (2) The application of force by one person to the person of another may be unlawful, although it is done with the consent of that other person.

247 Execution of sentence

It is lawful for a person who is charged by law with the duty of executing or giving effect to the lawful sentence of a court to execute or give effect to that sentence.

248 Execution of process

It is lawful for a person who is charged by law with the duty of executing the lawful process of a court, and who is required to arrest or detain another person under such process, and for every person lawfully assisting a person so charged, to arrest or detain that other person according to the terms of the process.

249 Execution of warrants

It is lawful for a person who is charged by law with the duty of executing a lawful warrant issued by any court or justice or other person having jurisdiction to issue it, and who is required to arrest or detain another person under such warrant, and for every person lawfully assisting a person so charged, to arrest or detain that other person according to the directions of the warrant.

250 Erroneous sentence or process or warrant

If the sentence was passed, or the process was issued, by a court having jurisdiction under any circumstances to pass such a sentence or to issue such process, or if the warrant was issued by a court or justice or other person having authority under any circumstances to issue such a warrant, it is immaterial whether the court or justice or person had or had not authority to pass the sentence or issue the process or warrant in the particular case; unless the person executing the same knows that the sentence or process or warrant was in fact passed or issued without authority.

251 Sentence or process or warrant without jurisdiction

A person who executes or assists in executing any sentence, process, or warrant, which purports to be passed or issued by a court, justice, or other person, and who would be justified, under the provisions of sections 247 to 250, in executing the same if it had been passed or issued by a court, justice, or person having authority to pass or issue it, is not criminally responsible for any act done in such execution, notwithstanding that the court, justice, or person, had no authority to pass the sentence or issue the process or warrant, if in such execution the person acted in good faith and in the belief that the sentence, process, or warrant, was that of a court, justice, or other person, having such authority.

252 Arrest of wrong person

- (1) A person who, being duly authorised to execute a warrant to arrest one person, arrests another person, believing in good faith and on reasonable grounds that the person arrested is the person named in the warrant, is not criminally responsible for doing so to any greater extent than if the person arrested had been the person named in the warrant.
- (2) Any person who lawfully assists in making such an arrest, believing that the person arrested is the person named in the warrant, or who, being required by the warrant to receive and detain the person named in it, receives and detains the person so arrested, is not criminally responsible for doing so to any greater extent than if the person arrested had been the person named in the warrant.

253 Irregular process or warrant

When any process or warrant is bad in law by reason of some defect in substance or in form apparent on the face of it, a person who, in good faith and believing that it is good in law, acts in the execution of the process or warrant, is not criminally responsible for anything done in such execution to any greater extent than if the process or warrant were good in law.

254 Force used in executing process or in arrest

It is lawful for a person who is engaged in the lawful execution of any sentence, process, or warrant, or in making any arrest, and for any person lawfully assisting the person, to use such force as may be reasonably necessary to overcome any force used in resisting such execution or arrest.

255 Duty of persons arresting

- (1) It is the duty of a person executing any process or warrant to have it with him or her, if reasonably practicable, and to produce it if required.
- (2) It is the duty of a person arresting another, whether with or without warrant, to give notice, if practicable, of the process or warrant under which the person is acting or of the cause of the arrest.
- (3) A failure to fulfil either of the aforesaid duties does not of itself make the execution of the process or warrant or the arrest unlawful, but is relevant to the inquiry whether the process or warrant might not have been executed or the arrest made by reasonable means in a less forcible manner.

257 Other cases of preventing escape from arrest

- (1) When a person who is not a police officer is proceeding lawfully to arrest, without warrant, another person for an offence which is such that the offender may be arrested without warrant, and when any person is proceeding lawfully to arrest another person for any cause other than such an offence, and, in either case, the person sought to be arrested takes to flight in order to avoid arrest, it is lawful for the person seeking to arrest the other person to use such force as may be reasonably necessary to prevent the other person's escape.
- (2) But this section does not authorise the use of force which is intended or is likely to cause death or grievous bodily harm.

258 Preventing escape or rescue after arrest

- (1) When any person has lawfully arrested another person for any offence, it is lawful for the person to use such force as the person believes, on reasonable grounds, to be necessary to prevent the escape or rescue of the person arrested.
- (2) But, if the offence is not a crime which is such that the offender may be arrested without warrant, this section does not authorise the use of force which is intended or is likely to cause death or grievous bodily harm.
- (3) This section does not limit the powers a police officer has under the Police Powers and Responsibilities Act 2000.

260 Preventing a breach of the peace

It is lawful for any person who witnesses a breach of the peace to interfere to prevent the continuance or renewal of it, and to use such force as is reasonably necessary for such prevention and is reasonably proportioned to the danger to be apprehended from such continuance or renewal, and to detain any person who is committing or who is about to join in or to renew the breach of the peace for such time as may be reasonably necessary in order to give the person into the custody of a police officer.

261 Suppression of riot

It is lawful for any person to use such force as is necessary to suppress a riot, and is reasonably proportioned to the danger to be apprehended from its continuance.

262 Suppression of riot by magistrates

It is lawful for a justice to use or order to be used such force as the justice believes, on reasonable grounds, to be necessary in order to suppress a riot, and is reasonably proportioned to the danger which the justice believes, on reasonable grounds, is to be apprehended from its continuance.

263 Suppression of riot by person acting under lawful orders

- (1) It is lawful for any person acting in good faith in obedience to orders, not manifestly unlawful, given by a justice for the suppression of a riot, to use such force as the person believes, on reasonable grounds, to be necessary for carrying such orders into effect.
- (2) Whether any particular order so given is or is not manifestly unlawful is a question of law.

264 Suppression of riot by person acting without order in case of emergency

When any person, whether subject to military law or not, believes, on reasonable grounds, that serious mischief will arise from a riot before there is time to procure the intervention of a justice, it is lawful for the person to use such force as the person believes, on reasonable grounds, to be necessary for the suppression of the riot, and as is reasonably proportioned to the danger which the person believes, on reasonable grounds, is to be apprehended from its continuance.

265 Riot—persons subject to military law

- (1) It is lawful for a person who is bound by military law to obey the lawful commands of the person's superior officer to obey any command given to the person by his or her superior officer in order to the suppression of a riot, unless the command is manifestly unlawful.
- (2) Whether any particular command is or is not manifestly unlawful is a question of law.

266 Prevention of crimes and offences for which an offender may be arrested without warrant—prevention of violence by particular persons

It is lawful for any person to use such force as is reasonably necessary in order to prevent the commission of an offence which is such that the offender may be arrested without warrant; or in order to prevent any act from being done as to which the person believes, on reasonable grounds, that it would, if done, amount to any such offence; or in order to prevent a person whom the person believes, on reasonable grounds, to be an involuntary patient under the Mental Health Act 2016 or a forensic disability client under the Forensic Disability Act 2011 from doing violence to any person or property.

267 Defence of dwelling

It is lawful for a person who is in peaceable possession of a dwelling, and any person lawfully assisting him or her or acting by his or her authority, to use force to prevent or repel another person from unlawfully entering or remaining in the dwelling, if the person using the force believes on reasonable grounds—

[s 268]

- (a) the other person is attempting to enter or to remain in the dwelling with intent to commit an indictable offence in the dwelling; and
- (b) it is necessary to use that force.

268 Provocation

- (1) The term provocation, used with reference to an offence of which an assault is an element, means and includes, except as hereinafter stated, any wrongful act or insult of such a nature as to be likely, when done to an ordinary person, or in the presence of an ordinary person to another person who is under the person's immediate care, or to whom the person stands in a conjugal, parental, filial, or fraternal, relation, or in the relation of master or servant, to deprive the person of the power of self-control, and to induce the person to assault the person by whom the act or insult is done or offered.
- (2) When such an act or insult is done or offered by one person to another, or in the presence of another to a person who is under the immediate care of that other, or to whom the latter stands in any such relation as aforesaid, the former is said to give to the latter provocation for an assault.
- (3) A lawful act is not provocation to any person for an assault.
- (4) An act which a person does in consequence of incitement given by another person in order to induce the person to do the act, and thereby to furnish an excuse for committing an assault, is not provocation to that other person for an assault.
- (5) An arrest which is unlawful is not necessarily provocation for an assault, but it may be evidence of provocation to a person who knows of the illegality.

269 Defence of provocation

- (1) A person is not criminally responsible for an assault committed upon a person who gives the person provocation for the assault, if the person is in fact deprived by the provocation of the power of self-control, and acts upon it on the sudden and before there is time for the person's passion to cool, and if the force used is not disproportionate to the provocation and is not intended, and is not such as is likely, to cause death or grievous bodily harm.

- (2) Whether any particular act or insult is such as to be likely to deprive an ordinary person of the power of self-control and to induce the ordinary person to assault the person by whom the act or insult is done or offered, and whether, in any particular case, the person provoked was actually deprived by the provocation of the power of self-control, and whether any force used is or is not disproportionate to the provocation, are questions of fact.

270 Prevention of repetition of insult

It is lawful for any person to use such force as is reasonably necessary to prevent the repetition of an act or insult of such a nature as to be provocation to the person for an assault, if the force used is not intended, and is not such as is likely, to cause death or grievous bodily harm.

271 Self-defence against unprovoked assault

- (1) When a person is unlawfully assaulted, and has not provoked the assault, it is lawful for the person to use such force to the assailant as is reasonably necessary to make effectual defence against the assault, if the force used is not intended, and is not such as is likely, to cause death or grievous bodily harm.
- (2) If the nature of the assault is such as to cause reasonable apprehension of death or grievous bodily harm, and the person using force by way of defence believes, on reasonable grounds, that the person can not otherwise preserve the person defended from death or grievous bodily harm, it is lawful for the person to use any such force to the assailant as is necessary for defence, even though such force may cause death or grievous bodily harm.

272 Self-defence against provoked assault

- (1) When a person has unlawfully assaulted another or has provoked an assault from another, and that other assaults the person with such violence as to cause reasonable apprehension of death or grievous bodily harm, and to induce the person to believe, on reasonable grounds, that it is necessary for the person's preservation from death or grievous bodily harm to use force in self-defence, the person is not criminally responsible for using any such force as is reasonably necessary for such preservation, although such force may cause death or grievous bodily harm.
- (2) This protection does not extend to a case in which the person using force which causes death or grievous bodily harm first begun the assault with intent to kill or to do grievous bodily harm to some person; nor to a case in which the person using force which causes death or grievous bodily harm endeavoured to kill or to do grievous bodily harm to some person before the necessity of so preserving himself or herself arose; nor, in either case, unless, before such necessity arose, the person using such force declined further conflict, and quitted it or retreated from it as far as was practicable.

273 Aiding in self-defence

In any case in which it is lawful for any person to use force of any degree for the purpose of defending himself or herself against an assault, it is lawful for any other person acting in good faith in the first person's aid to use a like degree of force for the purpose of defending the first person.

274 Defence of moveable property against trespassers

It is lawful for any person who is in peaceable possession of any moveable property, and for any person lawfully assisting him or her or acting by his or her authority, to use such force as is reasonably necessary in order to resist the taking of such property by a trespasser, or in order to retake it from a trespasser, provided that the person does not do grievous bodily harm to the trespasser.

275 Defence of moveable property with claim of right

When a person is in peaceable possession of any moveable property under a claim of right, it is lawful for the person, and for any person lawfully assisting him or her or acting by his or her authority, to use such force as is reasonably necessary in order to defend the person's possession of the property, even against a person who is entitled by law to possession of the property, provided that he or she does not do grievous bodily harm to such other person.

276 Defence of moveable property without claim of right

When a person who is entitled by law to the possession of moveable property attempts to take it from another person who is in possession of the property, but who neither claims right to it, nor acts by the authority of a person who claims right, and the person in possession resists him or her, it is lawful for the person so entitled to possession to use the force that is reasonably necessary in order to obtain possession of the property, provided that he or she does not do grievous bodily harm to the person in possession.

277 Defence of premises against trespassers—removal of disorderly persons

- (1) It is lawful for a person who is in peaceable possession of any land, structure, vessel, or place, or who is entitled to the control or management of any land, structure, vessel, or place, and for any person lawfully assisting him or her or acting by his or her authority, to use such force as is reasonably necessary in order to prevent any person from wrongfully entering upon such land, structure, vessel, or place, or in order to remove therefrom a person who wrongfully remains therein, provided that he or she does not do grievous bodily harm to such person.

- (2) It is lawful for a person who is in peaceable possession of any land, structure, vessel, or place, or who is entitled to the control or management of any land, structure, vessel, or place, and for any person acting by his or her authority, to use the force that is reasonably necessary in order to remove therefrom any person who conducts himself or herself in a disorderly manner therein, provided that he or she does not do the person grievous bodily harm.

- (3) In this section—

place includes any part of an enclosure or structure, whether separated from the rest of the enclosure or structure by a partition, fence, rope, or any other means, or not.

278 Defence of possession of real property or vessel with claim of right

When a person is in peaceable possession of any land, structure, or vessel, with a claim of right, it is lawful for the person, and for any person lawfully assisting him or her or acting by his or her authority, to use such force as is reasonably necessary in order to defend the person's possession, even against a person who is entitled by law to the possession of the property, provided that he or she does not do grievous bodily harm to such person.

279 Exercise of right of way or easement

When a person who is lawfully entitled to enter upon land for the exercise of a right of way or other easement or profit enters upon the land for the purpose of exercising such right of way, easement, or profit, after notice that right to use such way or easement or to take such profit is disputed by the person in possession of the land, or having entered persists in entry after such notice, it is lawful for the person in possession, and for any person lawfully assisting him or her or acting by his or her authority, to use such force as is reasonably necessary for the purpose of making the person so entering desist from the entry, provided that he or she does not do the person entering grievous bodily harm.

280 Domestic discipline

It is lawful for a parent or a person in the place of a parent, or for a schoolteacher or master, to use, by way of correction, discipline, management or control, towards a child or pupil, under the person's care such force as is reasonable under the circumstances.

281 Discipline of vehicle

It is lawful for a person in charge of a vehicle on a journey and for any person acting by his or her authority to use, for the purpose of maintaining good order and discipline on board the vehicle, such force as the person or such person acting by his or her authority believes, on reasonable grounds, to be necessary, and as is reasonable under the circumstances.

282 Surgical operations and medical treatment

- (1) A person is not criminally responsible for performing or providing, in good faith and with reasonable care and skill, a surgical operation on or medical treatment of a person or unborn child if performing the operation or providing the treatment is reasonable, having regard to all the circumstances of the case.
- (1A) A person is not criminally responsible for performing or providing, in good faith and with reasonable care and skill, a surgical operation on or medical treatment of a person or unborn child in an emergency if it is necessary to perform the operation or provide the treatment to save the mother's life or the life of another unborn child.

- (2) If the administration by a health professional of a substance to a patient would be lawful under this section, the health professional may lawfully direct or advise another person, whether the patient or another person, to administer the substance to the patient or procure or supply the substance for that purpose.
- (3) It is lawful for a person acting under the lawful direction or advice, or in the reasonable belief that the advice or direction was lawful, to administer the substance, or supply or procure the substance, in accordance with the direction or advice.
- (4) In this section—

health professional see the Hospital and Health Boards Act 2011, schedule 2.

medical treatment, for subsection (1), does not include medical treatment provided by an unqualified person that is intended to adversely affect an unborn child.

patient means the person or unborn child on whom the surgical operation is performed or of whom the medical treatment is provided.

surgical operation, for subsection (1), does not include a surgical operation performed by an unqualified person that is intended to adversely affect an unborn child.

unqualified person see section 319A(3).

282A Palliative care

- (1) A person is not criminally responsible for providing palliative care to another person if—
 - (a) the person provides the palliative care in good faith and with reasonable care and skill; and
 - (b) the provision of the palliative care is reasonable, having regard to the other person's state at the time and all the circumstances of the case; and

- (c) the person is a doctor or, if the person is not a doctor, the palliative care is ordered by a doctor who confirms the order in writing.
- (2) Subsection (1) applies even if an incidental effect of providing the palliative care is to hasten the other person's death.
- (3) However, nothing in this section authorises, justifies or excuses—
 - (a) an act done or omission made with intent to kill another person; or
 - (b) aiding another person to kill himself or herself.
- (4) To remove any doubt, it is declared that the provision of the palliative care is reasonable only if it is reasonable in the context of good medical practice.
- (5) In this section—

good medical practice means good medical practice for the medical profession in Australia having regard to—

 - (a) the recognised medical standards, practices and procedures of the medical profession in Australia; and
 - (b) the recognised ethical standards of the medical profession in Australia.

palliative care means care, whether by doing an act or making an omission, directed at maintaining or improving the comfort of a person who is, or would otherwise be, subject to pain and suffering.

283 Excessive force

In any case in which the use of force by one person to another is lawful the use of more force than is justified by law under the circumstances is unlawful.

[s 284]

284 Consent to death immaterial

Consent by a person to the causing of the person's own death does not affect the criminal responsibility of any person by whom such death is caused.

Chapter 27 Duties relating to the preservation of human life

285 Duty to provide necessities

It is the duty of every person having charge of another who is unable by reason of age, sickness, unsoundness of mind, detention, or any other cause, to withdraw himself or herself from such charge, and who is unable to provide himself or herself with the necessities of life, whether the charge is undertaken under a contract, or is imposed by law, or arises by reason of any act, whether lawful or unlawful, of the person who has such charge, to provide for that other person the necessities of life; and the person is held to have caused any consequences which result to the life or health of the other person by reason of any omission to perform that duty.

286 Duty of person who has care of child

- (1) It is the duty of every person who has care of a child under 16 years to—
 - (a) provide the necessities of life for the child; and
 - (b) take the precautions that are reasonable in all the circumstances to avoid danger to the child's life, health or safety; and
 - (c) take the action that is reasonable in all the circumstances to remove the child from any such danger; and he or she is held to have caused any consequences that result to the life and health of the child because of any omission to perform that duty, whether the child is helpless or not.

(2) In this section—person who has care of a child includes a parent, foster parent, step parent, guardian or other adult in charge of the child, whether or not the person has lawful custody of the child.

288 Duty of persons doing dangerous acts

It is the duty of every person who, except in a case of necessity, undertakes to administer surgical or medical treatment to any other person, or to do any other lawful act which is or may be dangerous to human life or health, to have reasonable skill and to use reasonable care in doing such act, and the person is held to have caused any consequences which result to the life or health of any person by reason of any omission to observe or perform that duty.

289 Duty of persons in charge of dangerous things

It is the duty of every person who has in the person's charge or under the person's control anything, whether living or inanimate, and whether moving or stationary, of such a nature that, in the absence of care or precaution in its use or management, the life, safety, or health, of any person may be endangered, to use reasonable care and take reasonable precautions to avoid such danger, and the person is held to have caused any consequences which result to the life or health of any person by reason of any omission to perform that duty.

290 Duty to do certain acts

When a person undertakes to do any act the omission to do which is or may be dangerous to human life or health, it is the person's duty to do that act: and the person is held to have caused any consequences which result to the life or health of any person by reason of any omission to perform that duty.

Chapter 28 Homicide—suicide—concealment of birth

291 Killing of a human being unlawful

It is unlawful to kill any person unless such killing is authorised or justified or excused by law.

292 When a child becomes a human being

A child becomes a person capable of being killed when it has completely proceeded in a living state from the body of its mother, whether it has breathed or not, and whether it has an independent circulation or not, and whether the navel-string is severed or not.

293 Definition of killing

Except as hereinafter set forth, any person who causes the death of another, directly or indirectly, by any means whatever, is deemed to have killed that other person.

294 Death by acts done at childbirth

When a child dies in consequence of an act done or omitted to be done by any person before or during its birth, the person who did or omitted to do such act is deemed to have killed the child.

295 Causing death by threats

A person who, by threats or intimidation of any kind, or by deceit, causes another person to do an act or make an omission which results in the death of that other person, is deemed to have killed the other person.

296 Acceleration of death

A person who does any act or makes any omission which hastens the death of another person who, when the act is done or the omission is made, is labouring under some disorder or disease arising from another cause, is deemed to have killed that other person.

297 When injury or death might be prevented by proper precaution

When a person causes a bodily injury to another from which death results, it is immaterial that the injury might have been avoided by proper precaution on the part of the person injured, or that the injured person's death from that injury might have been prevented by proper care or treatment.

298 Injuries causing death in consequence of subsequent treatment

When a person does grievous bodily harm to another, and such other person has recourse to surgical or medical treatment, and death results either from the injury or the treatment, the person is deemed to have killed that other person, although the immediate cause of death was the surgical or medical treatment, provided that the treatment was reasonably proper under the circumstances, and was applied in good faith.

300 Unlawful homicide

Any person who unlawfully kills another is guilty of a crime, which is called murder or manslaughter, according to the circumstances of the case.

302 Definition of murder

- (1) Except as hereinafter set forth, a person who unlawfully kills another under any of the following circumstances, that is to say—
- (a) if the offender intends to cause the death of the person killed or that of some other person or if the offender intends to do to the person killed or to some other person some grievous bodily harm;
 - (aa) if death is caused by an act done, or omission made, with reckless indifference to human life;
 - (b) if death is caused by means of an act done in the prosecution of an unlawful purpose, which act is of such a nature as to be likely to endanger human life;
 - (c) if the offender intends to do grievous bodily harm to some person for the purpose of facilitating the commission of a crime which is such that the offender may be arrested without warrant, or for the purpose of facilitating the flight of an offender who has committed or attempted to commit any such crime;
 - (d) if death is caused by administering any stupefying or overpowering thing for either of the purposes mentioned in paragraph (c);
 - (e) if death is caused by wilfully stopping the breath of any person for either of such purposes;
- is guilty of murder.
- (2) Under subsection (1)(a) it is immaterial that the offender did not intend to hurt the particular person who is killed.

- (3) Under subsection (1)(b) it is immaterial that the offender did not intend to hurt any person.
- (4) Under subsection (1)(c) to (e) it is immaterial that the offender did not intend to cause death or did not know that death was likely to result.
- (5) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.

303 Definition of manslaughter

- (1) A person who unlawfully kills another under such circumstances as not to constitute murder is guilty of manslaughter.
- (2) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.

304 Killing on provocation

- (1) When a person who unlawfully kills another under circumstances which, but for the provisions of this section, would constitute murder, does the act which causes death in the heat of passion caused by sudden provocation, and before there is time for the person's passion to cool, the person is guilty of manslaughter only.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if the sudden provocation is based on words alone, other than in circumstances of an exceptional character.
- (3) Also, subsection (1) does not apply, other than in circumstances of an exceptional character, if—
 - (a) a domestic relationship exists between 2 persons; and

- (b) one person unlawfully kills the other person (the deceased); and
- (c) the sudden provocation is based on anything done by the deceased or anything the person believes the deceased has done—
 - (i) to end the relationship; or
 - (ii) to change the nature of the relationship; or
 - (iii) to indicate in any way that the relationship may, should or will end, or that there may, should or will be a change to the nature of the relationship.
- (4) Further, subsection (1) does not apply, other than in circumstances of an exceptional character, if the sudden provocation is based on an unwanted sexual advance to the person.
- (5) For subsection (3)(a), despite the Domestic and Family Violence Protection Act 2012, section 18(6), a domestic relationship includes a relationship in which 2 persons date or dated each other on a number of occasions.
- (6) Subsection (3)(c)(i) applies even if the relationship has ended before the sudden provocation and killing happens.
- (7) For proof of circumstances of an exceptional character mentioned in subsection (2) or (3) regard may be had to any history of violence that is relevant in all the circumstances.
- (8) For proof of circumstances of an exceptional character mentioned in subsection (4), regard may be had to any history of violence, or of sexual conduct, between the person and the person who is unlawfully killed that is relevant in all the circumstances.
- (9) On a charge of murder, it is for the defence to prove that the person charged is, under this section, liable to be convicted of manslaughter only.
- (10) When 2 or more persons unlawfully kill another, the fact that 1 of the persons is, under this section, guilty of manslaughter only does not affect the question whether the unlawful killing amounted to murder in the case of the other person or persons.

(11) In this section—

unwanted sexual advance, to a person, means a sexual advance that—

- (a) is unwanted by the person; and
- (b) if the sexual advance involves touching the person—involves only minor touching.

Examples of what may be minor touching depending on all the relevant circumstances—patting, pinching, grabbing or brushing against the person, even if the touching is an offence against section 352(1)(a) or another provision of this Code or another Act

304A Diminished responsibility

- (1) When a person who unlawfully kills another under circumstances which, but for the provisions of this section, would constitute murder, is at the time of doing the act or making the omission which causes death in such a state of abnormality of mind (whether arising from a condition of arrested or retarded development of mind or inherent causes or induced by disease or injury) as substantially to impair the person's capacity to understand what the person is doing, or the person's capacity to control the person's actions, or the person's capacity to know that the person ought not to do the act or make the omission, the person is guilty of manslaughter only.
- (2) On a charge of murder, it shall be for the defence to prove that the person charged is by virtue of this section liable to be convicted of manslaughter only.
- (3) When 2 or more persons unlawfully kill another, the fact that 1 of such persons is by virtue of this section guilty of manslaughter only shall not affect the question whether the unlawful killing amounted to murder in the case of any other such person or persons.

304B Killing for preservation in an abusive domestic relationship

- (1) A person who unlawfully kills another (the deceased) under circumstances that, but for the provisions of this section, would constitute murder, is guilty of manslaughter only, if—
 - (a) the deceased has committed acts of serious domestic violence against the person in the course of an abusive domestic relationship; and
 - (b) the person believes that it is necessary for the person’s preservation from death or grievous bodily harm to do the act or make the omission that causes the death; and
 - (c) the person has reasonable grounds for the belief having regard to the abusive domestic relationship and all the circumstances of the case.
- (2) An abusive domestic relationship is a domestic relationship existing between 2 persons in which there is a history of acts of serious domestic violence committed by either person against the other.
- (3) A history of acts of serious domestic violence may include acts that appear minor or trivial when considered in isolation.
- (4) Subsection (1) may apply even if the act or omission causing the death (the response) was done or made in response to a particular act of domestic violence committed by the deceased that would not, if the history of acts of serious domestic violence were disregarded, warrant the response.
- (5) Subsection (1)(a) may apply even if the person has sometimes committed acts of domestic violence in the relationship.
- (6) For subsection (1)(c), without limiting the circumstances to which regard may be had for the purposes of the subsection, those circumstances include acts of the deceased that were not acts of domestic violence.
- (7) In this section—

domestic violence see the Domestic and Family Violence Protection Act 2012, section 8.

305 Punishment of murder

- (1) Any person who commits the crime of murder is liable to imprisonment for life, which can not be mitigated or varied under this Code or any other law or is liable to an indefinite sentence under part 10 of the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992.
- (2) If the person is being sentenced—
 - (a) on more than 1 conviction of murder; or
 - (b) on 1 conviction of murder and another offence of murder is taken into account; or
 - (c) on a conviction of murder and the person has on a previous occasion been sentenced for another offence of murder;

the court sentencing the person must make an order that the person must not be released from imprisonment until the person has served a minimum of 30 or more specified years of imprisonment, unless released sooner under exceptional circumstances parole under the Corrective Services Act 2006.

- (3) Subsection (2)(c) applies whether the crime for which the person is being sentenced was committed before or after the conviction for the other offence of murder mentioned in the paragraph.
- (4) If—
 - (a) the person killed was a police officer at the time the act or omission that caused the person's death was done or made; and
 - (b) the person being sentenced did the act or made the omission that caused the police officer's death—
 - (i) when—
 - (A) the police officer was performing the officer's duty; and
 - (B) the person knew or ought reasonably to have known that he or she was a police officer; or

- (ii) because the police officer was a police officer; or
- (iii) because of, or in retaliation for, the actions of the police officer or another police officer in the performance of the officer's duty;

the court sentencing the person must make an order that the person must not be released from imprisonment until the person has served a minimum of 25 or more specified years of imprisonment, unless released sooner under exceptional circumstances parole under the Corrective Services Act 2006.

- (5) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q also states a circumstance of aggravation for the crime of murder.

306 Attempt to murder

- (1) Any person who—
 - (a) attempts unlawfully to kill another; or
 - (b) with intent unlawfully to kill another does any act, or omits to do any act which it is the person's duty to do, such act or omission being of such a nature as to be likely to endanger human life;is guilty of a crime, and is liable to imprisonment for life.
- (2) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q states a circumstance of aggravation for an offence against this section.
- (3) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.

307 Accessory after the fact to murder

- (1) Any person who becomes an accessory after the fact to murder is guilty of a crime, and is liable to imprisonment for life.

- (2) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q states a circumstance of aggravation for an offence against this section.
- (3) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.

308 Threats to murder in document

- (1) Any person who, knowing the contents thereof, directly or indirectly causes any person to receive any document threatening to kill any person, is guilty of a crime, and is liable to imprisonment for 7 years.
- (2) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q states a circumstance of aggravation for an offence against this section.
- (3) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.

309 Conspiring to murder

- (1) Any person who conspires with any other person to kill any person, whether such person is in Queensland or elsewhere, is guilty of a crime, and is liable to imprisonment for 14 years.
- (2) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q states a circumstance of aggravation for an offence against this section.
- (3) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.

310 Punishment of manslaughter

- (1) Any person who commits the crime of manslaughter is liable to imprisonment for life.
- (2) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q states a circumstance of aggravation for the crime of manslaughter.

311 Aiding suicide

Any person who—

- (a) procures another to kill himself or herself; or
 - (b) counsels another to kill himself or herself and thereby induces the other person to do so; or
 - (c) aids another in killing himself or herself;
- is guilty of a crime, and is liable to imprisonment for life.

313 Killing unborn child

- (1) Any person who, when another person is about to be delivered of a child, prevents the child from being born alive by any act or omission of such a nature that, if the child had been born alive and had then died, the person would be deemed to have unlawfully killed the child, is guilty of a crime, and is liable to imprisonment for life.
- (1A) A person does not commit an offence against subsection (1) by performing a termination, or assisting in the performance of a termination, under the Termination of Pregnancy Act 2018.

Note—

See also the Termination of Pregnancy Act 2018, section 10 in relation to a person's criminal liability for a termination on themselves.

- (2) Any person who unlawfully assaults another person who is pregnant with a child and destroys the life of, or does grievous bodily harm to, or transmits a serious disease to, the child before its birth, commits a crime.

Maximum penalty—imprisonment for life.

314 Concealing the birth of children

Any person who, when a woman is delivered of a child, endeavours, by any secret disposition of the dead body of the child, to conceal the birth, whether the child died before, at, or after, its birth, is guilty of a misdemeanour, and is liable to imprisonment for 2 years.

Chapter 28A Unlawful striking causing death

314A Unlawful striking causing death

- (1) A person who unlawfully strikes another person to the head or neck and causes the death of the other person is guilty of a crime.

Maximum penalty—life imprisonment.

- (1A) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q states a circumstance of aggravation for an offence against this section.
- (1B) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.
- (2) Sections 23(1)(b) and 270 do not apply to an offence against subsection (1).
- (3) An assault is not an element of an offence against subsection (1).
- (3A) For subsection (1), the striking of another person is unlawful unless it is authorised or justified or excused by law.

- (4) A person is not criminally responsible for an offence against subsection (1) if the act of striking the other person is—
- (a) done as part of a socially acceptable function or activity; and
 - (b) reasonable in the circumstances.
- (5) If a court sentences a person to a term of imprisonment for an offence mentioned in subsection (1), the court must make an order that the person must not be released from imprisonment until the person has served the lesser of—
- (a) 80% of the person's term of imprisonment for the offence; or
 - (b) 15 years.
- (6) Subsection (5) does not apply if the court sentences the person to—
- (a) a term of imprisonment for life; or
- Note—*
- See the Corrective Services Act 2006, section 181 for the parole eligibility date for a prisoner serving a term of imprisonment for life for an offence mentioned in subsection (1).

359F Court may restrain unlawful stalking, intimidation, harassment or abuse

- (1) This section applies on the hearing before a court of a charge against a person of unlawful stalking, intimidation, harassment or abuse.
- (2) Whether the person is found guilty or not guilty or the prosecution ends in another way, if the presiding judge or magistrate considers it desirable, the judge or magistrate may constitute the court to consider whether a restraining order should be made against the person.
- (3) The judge or magistrate may act under subsection (2) on application by the Crown or an interested person or on the judge's or magistrate's own initiative.
- (4) Also, if the restraining order proceeding is started before the Supreme Court or the District Court, the court may order the proceeding to be transferred to a Magistrates Court.
- (5) If a court makes an order under subsection (4), the registrar of the court must send to the clerk of the relevant Magistrates Court a copy of the order and the record of proceedings of the hearing of the charge and any application mentioned in subsection (3).
- (6) The court hearing the restraining order proceeding may make a restraining order against the person in relation to any person or any property if it considers it desirable to do so having regard to the evidence given at the hearing of the charge and any application under subsection (3) and any further evidence the court may admit.

- (7) A restraining order takes effect on the day it is made and continues in force until—
 - (a) the day stated by the court in the restraining order; or
 - (b) if no day is stated, the day that is 5 years after the day the restraining order is made.
- (8) The court may order that a restraining order continues in force for a period of less than 5 years only if the court is satisfied that the safety of a person in relation to whom the restraining order is made is not compromised by the shorter period.
- (9) A restraining order may be varied or revoked at any time by the court, and, if the order provides, by another court.
- (10) A person who knowingly contravenes a restraining order commits an offence.
Maximum penalty—120 penalty units or 3 years imprisonment.
- (11) However, if the person has been convicted of a domestic violence offence in the 5 years before the contravention, the person is guilty of a misdemeanour and is liable to a fine of 240 penalty units or imprisonment for 5 years.
- (12) A restraining order may be made against a person whether or not another order is made against the person in the proceeding for the charge.
- (13) A restraining order proceeding is not a criminal proceeding.
- (14) A question of fact for a decision under subsection (2) and in a restraining order proceeding must be decided on the balance of probabilities.
- (15) In this section—

charge means the charge of unlawful stalking, intimidation, harassment or abuse mentioned in subsection (1).

parent includes—

- (a) for a child who has been legally adopted in Queensland or in another State—a person who has adopted the child; or
 - (b) for a child whose parentage has been transferred by a parentage order under the Surrogacy Act 2010 or a corresponding parentage order—a person who is a parent of the child under the order; or
 - (c) for a child whose parentage has been transferred under a cultural recognition order made under the Meriba Omasker Kaziw Kazipa (Torres Strait Islander Traditional Child Rearing Practice) Act 2020—a person who is a parent of the child under the order;
- but does not include a natural parent of the child.

363A Abduction of child under 16

- (1) Any person who unlawfully takes an unmarried child under the age of 16 years out of the custody or protection of the child's father or mother, or other person having the lawful care or charge of the child, and against the will of the father, mother or other person, is guilty of a crime, and is liable to imprisonment for 7 years.
- (2) It is immaterial that the offender believed the child to be of or above the age of 16 years.
- (3) It is immaterial that the child was taken with the consent of or at the suggestion of the child.

364 Cruelty to children under 16

- (1) A person who, having the lawful care or charge of a child under 16 years, causes harm to the child by any prescribed conduct that the person knew or ought reasonably to have known would be likely to cause harm to the child commits a crime.

Maximum penalty—7 years imprisonment.

[s 364A]

(2) In this section—

harm, to a child, means any detrimental effect of a significant nature on the child’s physical, psychological or emotional wellbeing, whether temporary or permanent.

prescribed conduct means—

- (a) failing to provide the child with adequate food, clothing, medical treatment, accommodation or care when it is available to the person from his or her own resources; or
- (b) failing to take all lawful steps to obtain adequate food, clothing, medical treatment, accommodation or care when it is not available to the person from his or her own resources; or
- (c) deserting the child; or
- (d) leaving the child without means of support.

364A Leaving a child under 12 unattended

- (1) A person who, having the lawful care or charge of a child under 12 years, leaves the child for an unreasonable time without making reasonable provision for the supervision and care of the child during that time commits a misdemeanour.

Maximum penalty—3 years imprisonment.

- (2) Whether the time is unreasonable depends on all the relevant circumstances.

Chapter 35 Criminal defamation

365 Criminal defamation

- (1) Any person who, without lawful excuse, publishes matter defamatory of another living person (the relevant person)—

- (a) knowing the matter to be false or without having regard to whether the matter is true or false; and
- (b) intending to cause serious harm to the relevant person or any other person or without having regard to whether serious harm to the relevant person or any other person is caused;

commits a misdemeanour.

Maximum penalty—3 years imprisonment.

- (2) In a proceeding for an offence defined in this section, the accused person has a lawful excuse for the publication of defamatory matter about the relevant person if, and only if, subsection (3) applies.
- (3) This subsection applies if the accused person would, having regard only to the circumstances happening before or at the time of the publication, have had a relevant defence for the publication if the relevant person had brought civil proceedings for defamation against the accused person.
- (4) The prosecution has the burden of negating the existence of a lawful excuse if, and only if, evidence directed to establishing the excuse is first adduced by or on behalf of the accused person.
- (5) Whether the matter complained of is capable of bearing a defamatory meaning is a question of law.
- (6) Whether the matter complained of does bear a defamatory meaning is a question of fact.
- (7) A person can not be prosecuted for an offence defined in this section without the consent of the director of public prosecutions.
- (8) In this section—

defamatory has the meaning that it has in the law of tort (as modified by the Defamation Act 2005) relating to defamation.

modified statutory defence of justification means the defence stated in the Defamation Act 2005, section 25 as if that section provided that it is a defence to the publication of defamatory matter if the defendant proves that—

- (a) the defamatory imputations carried by the matter of which the relevant person complains are substantially true; and
- (b) it was for the public benefit that the publication should be made.

publish has the meaning that it has in the law of tort (as modified by the Defamation Act 2005) relating to defamation.

relevant defence means—

- (a) a defence available under the Defamation Act 2005 other than—
 - (i) the statutory defence of justification; or
 - (ii) the statutory defence of failure to accept reasonable offer; or
- (b) the modified statutory defence of justification; or
- (c) a defence available other than under the Defamation Act 2005, including under the general law.

statutory defence of failure to accept reasonable offer means the defence stated in the Defamation Act 2005, section 18(1).

statutory defence of justification means the defence stated in the Defamation Act 2005, section 25.

Chapter 35A Circumstance of aggravation for particular offences

365A Application of ch 35A

- (1) This chapter applies to an offence against—
 - (a) section 320; or

- (b) section 323; or
 - (c) section 340(1)(b), if the circumstances mentioned in section 340(1), penalty, paragraph (a) apply; or
 - (d) section 340(2AA), if the circumstances mentioned in section 340(2AA), penalty, paragraph (a) apply.
- (2) This chapter applies in relation to proof of the circumstance of aggravation that the offence was committed in a public place while the person was adversely affected by an intoxicating substance.

Notes—

- 1 The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, part 5, division 2, subdivision 2 provides for the making of a community service order for the person if the offence is committed in a public place while the person is adversely affected by an intoxicating substance.
- 2 The Police Powers and Responsibilities Act 2000, chapter 18A applies the Transport Operations (Road Use Management) Act 1995, section 80 to allow evidentiary certificates about breath, saliva, blood or urine specimens taken from the person to be used in proceedings for the offence.

365B Application of defences

- (1) Section 24 does not apply in relation to a belief of the person that the person is not adversely affected by an intoxicating substance.
- (2) A person is taken to be not adversely affected by an intoxicating substance at the relevant time if the person proves—
 - (a) the person ingested an intoxicating substance that the person did not know the person was ingesting; and
 - (b) an ordinary person would not reasonably have known the person was ingesting the intoxicating substance; and
 - (c) the person would not be adversely affected by an intoxicating substance at the relevant time apart from that ingestion.

[s 365C]

(3) In this section—

ingest includes drink, administer, inhale and smoke.

365C Proof of being adversely affected by an intoxicating substance

- (1) A person is taken to be adversely affected by an intoxicating substance if—
 - (a) the concentration of alcohol in the person’s blood is at least 150mg of alcohol in 100mL of blood; or
 - (b) the concentration of alcohol in the person’s breath is at least 0.150g of alcohol in 210L of breath; or
 - (c) any amount of a drug prescribed by regulation is present in the person’s saliva; or
 - (d) the person fails to provide a specimen as required under the Transport Operations (Road Use Management) Act 1995, section 80 as applied under the Police Powers and Responsibilities Act 2000, chapter 18A.
- (2) However, subsection (1)(c) or (d) does not apply if the person proves he or she was not adversely affected by an intoxicating substance at the relevant time.
- (3) Subsection (1) does not limit the circumstances in which a person may be adversely affected by an intoxicating substance.

Part 6 Offences relating to property and contracts

Division 1 Stealing and like offences

Chapter 36 Stealing

390 Things capable of being stolen

Anything that is the property of any person is capable of being stolen if it is—

- (a) moveable; or
- (b) capable of being made moveable, even if it is made moveable in order to steal it.

391 Definition of stealing

- (1) A person who fraudulently takes anything capable of being stolen, or fraudulently converts to the person's own use or to the use of any other person anything capable of being stolen, is said to steal that thing.
- (2) A person who takes or converts anything capable of being stolen is deemed to do so fraudulently if the person does so with any of the following intents, that is to say—
 - (a) an intent to permanently deprive the owner of the thing of it;
 - (b) an intent to permanently deprive any person who has any special property in the thing of such property;
 - (c) an intent to use the thing as a pledge or security;
 - (d) an intent to part with it on a condition as to its return which the person taking or converting it may be unable to perform;

[s 391]

- (e) an intent to deal with it in such a manner that it can not be returned in the condition in which it was at the time of the taking or conversion;
 - (f) in the case of money—an intent to use it at the will of the person who takes or converts it, although the person may intend to afterwards repay the amount to the owner.
- (2A) A person who has taken possession of anything capable of being stolen in such circumstances that the thing thereupon is not identifiable is deemed to have taken or converted the thing fraudulently notwithstanding that the property in the thing has passed to the person if, at the time the person transports the thing away, the person has not discharged or made arrangements with the owner or previous owner of the thing for discharging the person's indebtedness in respect of the thing.
- (2B) The presumption provided for by subsection (2A) is rebuttable.
- (3) The taking or conversion may be fraudulent, although it is effected without secrecy or attempt at concealment.
- (4) In the case of conversion, it is immaterial whether the thing converted is taken for the purpose of conversion, or whether it is at the time of the conversion in the possession of the person who converts it.
- (4A) It is also immaterial that the person who converts the property is the holder of a power of attorney for the disposition of it, or is otherwise authorised to dispose of the property.
- (5) When a thing converted has been lost by the owner and found by the person who converts it, the conversion is not deemed to be fraudulent if at the time of the conversion the person taking or converting the thing does not know who is the owner, and believes, on reasonable grounds, that the owner can not be discovered.
- (6) The act of stealing is not complete until the person taking or converting the thing actually moves it or otherwise actually deals with it by some physical act.

(6A) For stealing that is a failure to pay an employee, or another person on behalf of the employee, an amount payable to the employee or other person in relation to the performance of work by the employee—

- (a) the amount is a thing that is capable of being stolen; and
- (b) subsection (6) does not apply; and
- (c) the amount is converted to the person's own use when—
 - (i) the amount becomes, under an Act, industrial instrument or agreement, payable to the employee or to the other person on behalf of the employee; and
 - (ii) the amount is not paid.

(7) In this section—

Act includes an Act of another State or the Commonwealth.

industrial instrument means—

- (a) an industrial instrument under the Industrial Relations Act 2016, schedule 5; or
- (b) a fair work instrument under the Fair Work Act 2009 (Cwlth).

owner includes the owner, any part owner, or any person having possession or control of, or a special property in, the thing in question.

special property, in a thing, includes—

- (a) a charge or lien on the thing; and
- (b) a right arising from or dependent on holding possession of the thing, whether by the person entitled to the right or by another person for the other person's benefit; and
- (c) a right of an employee, in relation to the performance of work by the employee—
 - (i) to be paid the thing; or

- (ii) to have the thing paid to another person on behalf of the employee.

392 Special cases

- (1) When a wild animal in the enjoyment of its natural liberty has been killed by any person, the taking of the dead body of the animal by that person, or by any person acting under the person's orders, before it has been reduced into actual possession by the owner of the land on which the animal was killed or on which it died, is not deemed to be stealing.
- (2) When a factor or agent pledges or gives a lien on any goods or document of title to goods entrusted to the factor or agent for the purpose of sale or otherwise for any sum of money not greater than the amount due to the factor or agent from his or her principal at the time of pledging or giving the lien, together with the amount of any bill of exchange or promissory note accepted or made by the factor or agent for or on account of his or her principal, such dealing with the goods or document of title is not deemed to be stealing.

393 Funds etc. held under direction

- (1) When a person receives, either alone or jointly with another person, any money or valuable security, or a power of attorney for the sale, mortgage, pledge, or other disposition, of any property, whether capable of being stolen or not, with a direction in either case that such money or any part thereof, or any other money received in exchange for it, or any part thereof, or the proceeds or any part of the proceeds of such security, or of such mortgage, pledge, or other disposition, shall be applied to any purpose or paid to any person specified in the direction, such money and proceeds are deemed to be the property of the person from whom the money, security, or power of attorney, was received until the direction has been complied with.

- (2) However, if the person receiving the money, security or power of attorney, and the person from whom the person receives it ordinarily deal with each other on such terms that in the absence of any special direction all money paid to the former on account of the latter would be properly treated as an item in a debtor and creditor account between them, the former can not be charged with stealing the money or any such proceeds unless the direction is in writing.

394 Funds etc. received by agents for sale

When a person receives, either alone or jointly with another person, any property from another on terms authorising or requiring the person to sell it or otherwise dispose of it, and requiring the person to pay or account for the proceeds of the property, or any part of such proceeds, or to deliver anything received in exchange for the property, to the person from whom it is received, or some other person, then the proceeds of the property, and anything so received in exchange for it, are deemed to be the property of the person from whom the property was so received, until they have been disposed of in accordance with the terms on which the property was received, unless it is a part of those terms that the proceeds (if any) shall form an item in a debtor and creditor account between the person and the person to whom the person is to pay them or account for them, and that the relation of debtor and creditor only shall exist between them in respect thereof.

395 Money received for another

When a person receives, either alone or jointly with another person, any money on behalf of another, the money is deemed to be the property of the person on whose behalf it is received, unless the money is received on the terms that it shall form an item in a debtor and creditor account, and that the relation of debtor and creditor only shall exist between the parties in respect of it.

396 Stealing by persons having an interest in the thing stolen

When any person takes or converts anything capable of being stolen, under such circumstances as would otherwise amount to stealing, it is immaterial that the person has a special property or interest therein, or that the person is the owner of the thing taken or converted subject to some special property or interest of some other person therein; or that the person is lessee of the thing, or that the person is 1 of 2 or more joint owners of the thing; or that the person is a director or officer of a corporation or company or society who are the owners of it.

398 Punishment of stealing

- (1) Any person who steals anything capable of being stolen is guilty of a crime, and is liable, if no other punishment is provided, to imprisonment for 5 years.
- (2) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q states a circumstance of aggravation for an offence against this section.
- (3) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.

Punishment in special cases

1 Stealing wills

If the thing stolen is a testamentary instrument, whether the testator is living or dead, the offender is liable to 14 years imprisonment.

2 Stealing stock

- (1) If the thing stolen is 1 or more animals and the offender is sentenced to pay a fine, the fine must be at least the following amount for each animal—
 - (a) if the animal's value is determined under a regulation under section 450F—that value or 10 penalty units, whichever is higher;
 - (b) otherwise—10 penalty units.
- (2) Subclause (1) applies whether the person is sentenced to pay the fine in addition to, or instead of, imprisonment.
- (3) Subclause (1) applies whether the person is liable to imprisonment for 5 years or a longer period under this section.
- (4) In this clause—

animal means an animal that is stock.

4 Stealing from the person—stealing goods in transit etc.

If the offence is committed under any of the circumstances following, that is to say—

- (a) if the thing is stolen from the person of another;
- (b) if the thing is stolen in a dwelling, and its value exceeds $1,000, or the offender at or immediately before or after the time of stealing uses or threatens to use violence to any person in the dwelling;
- (c) if the thing is stolen from any kind of vehicle or place of deposit used for the conveyance or custody of goods in transit from 1 place to another;
- (d) if the thing is stolen from a vehicle which is in distress or wrecked or stranded;
- (e) if the thing is stolen from a public office in which it is deposited or kept;

[s 5]

- (f) if the offender, in order to commit the offence, opens any locked room, box, or other receptacle, by means of a key or other instrument;

the offender is liable to imprisonment for 10 years.

5 Stealing by persons in the public service

If the offender is a clerk or servant, and the thing stolen is the property of the offender's employer, or came into the possession of the offender on account of the offender's employer, the offender is liable to imprisonment for 10 years.

7 Stealing by directors or officers of companies

If the offender is a director or officer of a corporation or company, and the thing stolen is the property of the corporation or company, the offender is liable to imprisonment for 10 years.

8 Stealing by agents etc.

If the thing stolen is any of the things following, that is to say—

- (a) property which has been received by the offender with a power of attorney for the disposition thereof;
- (b) money received by the offender with a direction that the same should be applied to any purpose or paid to any person specified in the direction;

- (c) the whole or part of the proceeds of any valuable security which has been received by the offender with a direction that the proceeds thereof should be applied to any purpose or paid to any person specified in the direction;
- (d) the whole or part of the proceeds arising from any disposition of any property which have been received by the offender by virtue of a power of attorney or other authority for the disposition of the property received by the offender with a direction that such proceeds should be applied to any purpose or paid to any person specified in the direction;

the offender is liable to imprisonment for 10 years.

9 Stealing property valued at more than $5,000

If the thing stolen is property, including an animal that is stock, and its value is more than $5,000, the offender is liable to imprisonment for 10 years.

10 Stealing by tenants or lodgers

If the thing stolen is a fixture or chattel let to the offender to be used by him or her with a house or lodging, and its value exceeds $1,000, the offender is liable to imprisonment for 10 years.

11 Stealing after previous conviction

If the offender, before committing the offence, had been convicted upon indictment of any of the indictable offences defined in this division, or had been twice previously summarily convicted of an offence punishable on summary conviction under this division, whether each of the convictions was in respect of an offence of the same character or not, the offender is liable to imprisonment for 10 years.

[s 12]

12 Stealing of a vehicle

If the thing stolen is a vehicle the offender is liable to imprisonment for 14 years.

13 Stealing by looting

If—

- (a) the offence is committed during a natural disaster, civil unrest or an industrial dispute; or
- (b) the thing stolen is left unattended by the death or incapacity of the person in possession of the property; or
- (c) the offence is committed in an area that—
 - (i) is a declared area for a disaster situation under the Disaster Management Act 2003; or
 - (ii) was, immediately before the offence was committed, a declared area for a disaster situation under the Disaster Management Act 2003;

the offender is liable to imprisonment for 10 years.

14 Stealing firearm for use in another indictable offence

If—

- (a) the thing stolen is a firearm; and
- (b) the offender steals the firearm intending that it be used by anyone to commit an indictable offence;

the offender is liable to imprisonment for 14 years.

15 Stealing firearm or ammunition

If the thing stolen is a firearm or ammunition, the offender is liable to imprisonment for 10 years.

16 Stealing by employers

If the offender is or was an employer and the thing stolen is the property of a person who is or was the offender's employee, the offender is liable to imprisonment for 10 years.

Chapter 37 Offences analogous to stealing

- (b) a person's act or omission in relation to property may be dishonest even though—
 - (i) he or she is willing to pay for the property; or
 - (ii) he or she intends to afterwards restore the property or to make restitution for the property or to afterwards fulfil his or her obligations or to make good any detriment; or
 - (iii) an owner or other person consents to doing any act or to making any omission; or
 - (iv) a mistake is made by another person; and
- (c) a person's act or omission in relation to property is not taken to be dishonest, if when the person does the act or makes the omission, he or she does not know to whom the property belongs and believes on reasonable grounds that the owner can not be discovered by taking reasonable steps, unless the property came into his or her possession or control as trustee or personal representative; and
- (d) persons to whom property belongs include the owner, any joint or part owner or owner in common, any person having a legal or equitable interest in or claim to the property and any person who, immediately before the offender's application of the property, had control of it; and
- (e) obtain includes to get, gain, receive or acquire in any way; and
- (f) if a person obtains property from any person or induces any person to deliver property to any person it is immaterial in either case whether the owner passes or intends to pass ownership in the property or whether he or she intends to pass ownership in the property to any person.

408D Obtaining or dealing with identification information

- (1) A person who obtains or deals with another entity's identification information for the purpose of committing, or facilitating the commission of, an indictable offence commits a misdemeanour.

Maximum penalty—5 years imprisonment.

- (1A) A person who possesses equipment for the purpose of committing, or facilitating the commission of, an offence against subsection (1), commits a misdemeanour.

Maximum penalty—5 years imprisonment.

- (1B) The Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q states a circumstance of aggravation for an offence against this section.

- (1C) An indictment charging an offence against this section with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q may not be presented without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.

- (2) For subsection (1), it is immaterial whether the other entity is alive or dead, or exists or does not exist, or consents or does not consent to the obtaining or dealing.

- (3) When a court is sentencing a person for an offence against subsection (1), the court may order that the court's certificate be issued to the other entity stating the offence, the entity's name and anything else the court considers relevant for the entity's benefit.

- (4) The order may be made on the court's own initiative or on application by the entity or the prosecutor.

- (5) If the person is sentenced on a plea of guilty, the certificate may be given to the entity immediately.

- (6) If subsection (5) does not apply, the certificate must not be given to the entity until the later of the following—

- (a) the end of any period allowed for appeal against conviction;

(b) if an appeal is started—the end of any proceedings on the appeal.

(7) In this section—

dealing, with identification information, includes supplying or using the information.

commits a crime.

442E Secret commission for advice given

Whenever any advice is given by one person to another, and such advice is in any way intended or likely to induce or influence the person advised—

- (a) to enter into a contract with any third person; or

[s 442EA]

- (b) to appoint or join with another in the appointment, or to vote for or to aid in obtaining the election or appointment, or to authorise or join with another in authorising the appointment of any third person as trustee, director, manager, or official;

and any valuable consideration is, without the assent of the person advised, given by such third person to the person giving the advice, the gift or receipt of the valuable consideration is a crime; but this subsection shall not apply when the person giving the advice was, to the knowledge of the person advised, the agent of such third person, or when the valuable consideration was not given in respect of such advice.

442EA Offer or solicitation of secret commission in return for advice given or to be given

Any offer or solicitation of a valuable consideration in respect of any advice given, or to be given, by one person to another with a view to induce or influence the person advised—

- (a) to enter into a contract with the person offering or solicited; or
- (b) to appoint or join with another in appointing, or to vote for or to aid in obtaining the election or appointment, or to authorise or join with another in authorising the appointment of the person offering or solicited as trustee, director, manager, or official;

and with the intent that the gift or receipt of such valuable consideration is not to be made known to the person advised, is a crime; but this subsection shall not apply when such first mentioned person is the agent of the person offering or solicited.

442F Secret commission to trustee in return for substituted appointment

Any person who offers or gives any valuable consideration to a trustee, or any trustee who receives or solicits any valuable consideration for himself or herself or for any other person, without the assent of the persons beneficially entitled to the estate or of a judge of the Supreme Court, as an inducement or reward for appointing or having appointed, or for joining or having joined with another in appointing, or for authorising or having authorised, or for joining or having joined with another in authorising, any person to be appointed in the person's stead or instead of the person and any other person as trustee, commits a crime.

442G Liability of director etc. acting without authority

Any director, manager, or officer of a company, or any officer or member of the crew of any vessel, or any person acting for another, who knowingly takes part in or is in any way privy to doing, or attempts to do, any act or thing without authority which, if authorised, would be in contravention of any of the provisions of this chapter, commits a crime.

442I Penalty on conviction

Any person guilty of a crime against any of the provisions of this chapter is—

- (a) liable, if a corporation, to a penalty of 3,400 penalty units, and if an individual, to 7 years imprisonment; and
- (b) in addition, liable to be ordered to pay to such person and in such manner as the court directs the amount or value, according to the estimation of the court, of any valuable consideration received or given by the person, or any part thereof, and such order shall be enforceable in the same manner as an order of the court.

442J Court may order withdrawal of trifling or technical cases

If in any prosecution under this chapter it appears to the court that the offence charged is, in the particular case, of a trifling or merely technical nature, or that in the particular circumstances it is inexpedient to proceed to a conviction, the court may in its discretion, and for reason stated on the application of the accused, dismiss the case; but the court may, if it thinks fit, make the order mentioned in section 442I.

442K Witness giving answers criminating himself or herself

- (1) A person who is called as a witness in any proceeding under this chapter shall not be excused from answering any question relating to any offence against this chapter on the ground that the answer thereto may criminate or tend to criminate the person.
- (2) An answer to a question in any such proceeding shall not, except in the said proceeding or in the case of any prosecution for perjury in respect of such answer, be in any proceeding, civil or criminal, admissible in evidence against the person so answering.

442L Certificate to witness

- (1) A witness in any proceeding under this chapter who, in the judgment of the court, answers truly all questions which the witness is required by the court to answer shall be entitled to receive a certificate from the court stating that such witness has so answered.

Stay of proceedings against such witness

- (2) When a person has received a certificate as aforesaid, and any criminal proceeding is at any time instituted against the person in respect of the offence which was in question in the proceeding in which the said person was called as a witness, the court having cognisance of the case shall, on proof of the certificate and of the identity of the offence in question in the 2 cases, stay the proceedings.

442M Custom of itself no defence

- (1) In any prosecution under this chapter it does not amount to a defence to show that the receiving, soliciting, giving, or offering of any valuable consideration therein mentioned or referred to is customary in any trade, business, or calling.

Burden of proof that gift not secret commission

- (2) If in any prosecution under this chapter it is proved that any valuable consideration has been received or solicited by an agent from or given or offered to an agent by any person having business relations with the principal, without the assent of the principal, the burden of proving that such valuable consideration was not received, solicited, given, or offered in contravention of any of the provisions of this chapter shall be on the accused.

Consent to prosecution

- (3) No prosecution under this chapter shall be commenced without the consent of a Crown Law Officer.

 - (i) makes a relevant bet in relation to the event or contingency; or
 - (ii) encourages another person to make a relevant bet in relation to the event or contingency;

commits a crime.

Maximum penalty—2 years imprisonment.

- (5) For subsection (2)(b), (3)(b) or (4)(c)(ii), it does not matter whether a person mentioned in that provision makes a relevant bet in relation to the event or contingency.
- (6) In this section—

publicly available information means information that—

- (a) is readily available to the public; or

[s 443G]

- (b) has been made known in a manner that would, or would be likely to, bring it to the attention of the public; or
- (c) consists of deductions, conclusions or inferences made or drawn from information mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b).

relevant bet, in relation to a sporting event or a sporting contingency, means a bet on the outcome of the event or the happening of the sporting contingency on behalf of any person.

443G Evidentiary provision

For a proceeding for an offence under this chapter, it does not matter whether any person is successful in affecting the outcome of the sporting event or the happening of the sporting contingency.

Chapter 44 Offences analogous to stealing relating to animals

Chapter division 1 Offences relating to animals generally

444A Killing animals with intent to steal

- (1) Any person who kills any animal capable of being stolen with intent to steal the skin or carcass, or any part of the skin or carcass, is guilty of a crime, and is liable to the same punishment as if the person had stolen the animal.
- (2) If the offender is sentenced to pay a fine in addition to, or instead of, imprisonment, the fine shall be not less than 10 penalty units or, where in respect of the animal in question a value is determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations made pursuant to section 450F, not less than that value, whichever is the higher amount, for every animal killed.

- (3) However, the fine imposed in respect of the offence shall not exceed 455 penalty units.

444B Using registered brands with criminal intention

- (1) Any person who, with intent to facilitate the commission of a crime, brands or marks any animal with a registered brand or registered mark without the permission of the owner of the brand or mark is guilty of a misdemeanour, and is liable to imprisonment for 5 years.
- (2) If the offender is sentenced to pay a fine in addition to, or instead of, imprisonment, the fine shall be not less than 4 penalty units or, where in respect of the animal in question a value is determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations made pursuant to section 450F, not less than that value, whichever is the higher amount, for every animal branded or marked.
- (3) However, the fine imposed in respect of the offence shall not exceed 455 penalty units.

Chapter division 2 Offences relating to stock

445 Unlawfully using stock

- (1) Any person who unlawfully uses an animal that is stock, without the consent of the person in lawful possession thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanour and is liable to imprisonment for 5 years, or to a fine of not less than 4 penalty units or, where in respect of the animal in question a value is determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations made pursuant to section 450F, of not less than that value, whichever is the higher amount, for every animal so used.

- (2) However, the fine imposed in respect of the offence shall not exceed 455 penalty units.
- (3) Without in any wise limiting the meaning of the term unlawfully uses, such term shall, for the purposes of this section, also mean and include the unlawful possession, by any person, of any animal that is stock, without the consent of the person in lawful possession thereof, and with intent to deprive the owner or person in lawful possession thereof of the use and/or possession of the animal, either temporarily or permanently.
- (4) It is a defence to a charge of an offence defined in this section to prove that the accused person had the lawful consent of the owner to the use or possession by the person of the animal in question.

446 Suspicion of stealing stock

- (1) When any animal that is stock is suspected, on reasonable grounds, to have been stolen, any person in whose possession or custody the animal or the skin or carcass, or any part of the skin or carcass, of the animal so suspected to have been stolen, is found, is guilty of a misdemeanour, unless the person proves that the person came lawfully by the thing in question; and the person is liable to imprisonment for 5 years or to a fine of not less than 4 penalty units or, where in respect of the animal in question a value is determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations made pursuant to section 450F, of not less than that value, whichever is the higher amount, for every animal or skin or carcass or part of skin or carcass so found.
- (2) However, the fine imposed in respect of the offence shall not exceed 455 penalty units.
- (3) It is a defence to a charge of the offence defined in this section to prove that the accused person came lawfully by the thing in question.

447 Illegal branding

- (1) Any person who, knowing that the person is not the owner of an animal that is stock, brands or marks it, or knowingly permits it to be branded or marked, with the person's registered brand or the person's registered mark, is guilty of a misdemeanour, and is liable to imprisonment for 5 years or to a fine of not less than 4 penalty units or, where in respect of the animal in question a value is determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations made pursuant to section 450F, of not less than that value, whichever is the higher amount, for every animal so branded or marked.
- (2) However, the fine imposed in respect of the offence shall not exceed 455 penalty units.

448 Defacing brands

- (1) Any person who—
 - (a) alters, defaces, or otherwise renders undistinguishable, any registered brand or registered mark on an animal that is stock; or
 - (b) knowingly permits any such act to be done by any person over whom the person has control;is guilty of a misdemeanour, and is liable to imprisonment for 5 years or to a fine of not less than 4 penalty units or, where in respect of the animal in question a value is determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations made pursuant to section 450F, of not less than that value, whichever is the higher amount, for every animal with respect to which the act is done.
- (2) However, the fine imposed in respect of the offence shall not exceed 455 penalty units.

448A Having in possession stock with defaced brand

- (1) Any person in whose possession or custody any animal that is stock on which any registered brand or registered mark has been altered, defaced, or otherwise rendered indistinguishable, or reasonably suspected to have been altered, defaced, or otherwise rendered indistinguishable, is found, is guilty of a misdemeanour, unless the person proves that the person came lawfully by the animal in question; and the person is liable to imprisonment for 5 years or to a fine of not less than 4 penalty units or, where in respect of the animal in question a value is determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations made pursuant to section 450F, of not less than that value, whichever is the higher amount, for every animal so found.

- (2) However, the fine imposed in respect of the offence shall not exceed 455 penalty units.
- (3) It is a defence to a charge of the offence defined in this section to prove that the accused person came lawfully by the animal in question.

Chapter division 3 Arrest

450A Arrest without warrant

A person found committing any of the offences defined in chapter division 2 may be arrested without warrant by the owner of the property in question or the owner's servant or by any person authorised by such owner or servant.

450B Warrant in first instance

A justice may issue a warrant in the first instance for the arrest of any person charged with any of the offences defined in chapter division 2.

Chapter 44A Special provisions in respect of offences relating to stock

Chapter division 1 Preliminary

450D Definitions for ch 44A

In this chapter—

adequate prescribed record, of an animal, means a prescribed record that is a true representation of the animal.

animal means any animal that is stock.

prescribed record, of an animal, means a record of the animal (including of any brands, permitted brand imprinting positions, ear marks, or tags on the animal) consisting of photographs, tapes, films, digital imagery or any other means of visual reproduction (or any combination of them).

stock disposal order see section 450EB(1).

Chapter division 2 Prescribed records

450E Duty of police officer who seizes an animal connected with a charge

- (1) A police officer who seizes an animal connected with a charge—
 - (a) must as soon as reasonably practicable after the seizure cause an adequate prescribed record of the animal to be made; and
 - (b) if an adequate prescribed record of the animal is caused to be made by the police officer or is otherwise available to a police officer, may cause the animal to be returned to its owner if the defendant does not object to its return.

[s 450EA]

- (2) However, subsection (1)(a) does not apply if an adequate prescribed record of the animal is already available to a police officer.

450EA Admissibility of adequate prescribed record

- (1) An adequate prescribed record of an animal is admissible in a proceeding on the charge in relation to which the prescribed record was made by, or made available to, a police officer or on a related charge, as evidence of the matters it depicts, including any of the following—
- (a) the existence of the animal when the prescribed record was made;
 - (b) the condition of the animal at that time;
 - (c) a brand or other mark or feature of identification on the animal at that time.
- (2) Subsection (3) applies if an adequate prescribed record of an animal connected with a charge and seized by a police officer is tendered as evidence of matters depicted by the record in a proceeding on the charge or a related charge.
- (3) No objection can be taken or allowed to the admission as evidence of matters depicted by the adequate prescribed record.
- (4) Subsections (1) and (3) apply in relation to a proceeding whether it is started before or after the commencement of this section.
- (5) In this section—
- related charge, for a charge, means a charge based on the same act or omission as the act or omission that charge is based on.

Chapter division 3 Stock disposal orders

450EB Application for stock disposal order

- (1) A police officer or Crown prosecutor may apply to the District Court or a Magistrates Court for an order (a stock disposal order) for the sale of an animal that is—
 - (a) seized; and
 - (b) connected with a charge that has not finally been disposed of.
- (2) An application for a stock disposal order for an animal may be made only if—
 - (a) a police officer has caused an adequate prescribed record of the animal to be made, or an adequate prescribed record of the animal is otherwise available to a police officer; and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) the defendant objects to the animal's return to its owner; or
 - (ii) all of the following apply—
 - (A) the defendant has indicated to a police officer that the defendant does not object to the animal's return to its owner;
 - (B) a police officer has offered the owner the return of the animal;
 - (C) the owner declined the offer.
- (3) However, subsection (2)(b) does not apply if the defendant and the person claiming ownership of the animal can not reasonably be located.
- (4) The applicant must, at least 28 days before the hearing of the application, give each person who has a legal or equitable interest in the animal a copy of the application, unless the person can not reasonably be located.

[s 450EC]

- (5) Each person who has a legal or equitable interest in the animal may be a party to the application.

450EC Affidavit to accompany application

An application for a stock disposal order for an animal must be accompanied by 1 or more affidavits stating the following—

- (a) a description of the animal;
- (b) the charge with which the animal is connected;
- (c) the name of the defendant, the police officer or Crown prosecutor, and the person claiming to own the animal;
- (d) details of the adequate prescribed record of the animal;
- (e) the value of the animal as valued under section 450F;
- (f) the number of animals connected with the charge;
- (g) the date and place of the animal's seizure;
- (h) the persons to whom the applicant gave a copy of the application under section 450EB(4);
- (i) the persons to whom the applicant could not give a copy of the application under section 450EB(4) because the person could not reasonably be located.

450ED When order may be made if party disputes making of order

If a party to an application for a stock disposal order for an animal disputes the making of the order, the court may make the order only if it is satisfied of the following—

- (a) section 450EB(2) is satisfied in relation to the application;
- (b) the applicant gave each person who has a legal or equitable interest in the animal a copy of the application as required under section 450EB(4);

- (c) the animal has been valued under section 450F;
- (d) the animal is not registered breeding stock;
- (e) the defendant has had a reasonable time to conduct his or her own inquiries about the identification and value of the animal;
- (f) there is no good reason for not making the order.

450EE Order if no dispute

If no party to an application for a stock disposal order for an animal disputes the making of the order, the court may make the order, unless there is a good reason for not making the order.

450EF Content of order

- (1) A stock disposal order for an animal must—
 - (a) identify the animal; and
 - (b) direct the commissioner of the police service to sell the animal—
 - (i) by auction at market value; or
 - (ii) in another stated way; and
 - (c) direct that the net proceeds of the sale be paid into the court.
- (2) Subsection (3) applies if—
 - (a) the defendant is acquitted or convicted of the charge with which the animal is connected; or
 - (b) the prosecution of the defendant in relation to the charge with which the animal is connected is discontinued.
- (3) The prosecutor or the defendant may apply for, or the court in which the charge was heard or to be heard may on its own initiative make, an order that the net proceeds of the sale be paid out of the court, in which the proceeds are held, in a stated way.

- (4) In deciding how the net proceeds of sale are to be paid out of the court, the court must give priority to any amount owing, immediately before the sale, to an entity under a security interest registered for the animal under the Personal Property Securities Act 2009 (Cwlth).
- (5) Payment out of court under an order under subsection (3) is stayed—
 - (a) for 1 month after the making of the order; or
 - (b) if an appeal against the defendant's conviction is started, until the end of the appeal.
- (6) The appeal court may vary an order made under subsection (3).

450EG Security for costs of keeping animal

- (1) Subsection (2) applies if—
 - (a) a party to an application for a stock disposal order for an animal disputes the making of the order; and
 - (b) no stock disposal order is made.
- (2) The court may order the party to provide security, for the benefit of the person keeping the animal, for the amount of the costs decided by the court of keeping the animal for the relevant period.
- (3) In this section—

relevant period means the period—

 - (a) starting on the day the hearing of the application starts; and
 - (b) ending on the later of the following—
 - (i) the day judgment is delivered in an appeal relating to the charge with which the animal is connected;

- (ii) the day on which any right to appeal relating to the charge with which the animal is connected expires.

450EH Clear title to animal for sale under order

A stock disposal order for an animal is sufficient authority for the commissioner of the police service to convey clear title to the animal to any buyer under the order.

Chapter division 4 Other provisions

450EI Unavailability of animal at trial

- (1) An animal connected with a charge and seized by a police officer is not required to be made available at the defendant's trial if an adequate prescribed record of the animal is available to the prosecutor for the trial.
- (2) A defendant's trial is not unfair merely because an animal is unavailable at trial because it has been—
 - (a) sold under a stock disposal order; or
 - (b) returned to its owner under section 450E(1)(b) after its seizure.

450EJ Effect of defendant not objecting to animal's return to its owner

- (1) This section applies if a police officer seizes an animal connected with a charge and the defendant does not object to the return of the animal to its owner.
- (2) In a proceeding on the charge the court can not draw an inference adverse to the defendant from the fact that the defendant does not object to the animal's return to its owner.

450F Animal valuers and valuations

- (1) This section is applicable in every case in which a provision of this Code relates the amount of a fine to the value of an animal determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations made pursuant to this section.
- (2) The chief executive may appoint a person as an animal valuer.
- (3) The Governor in Council may make regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Code, for or with respect to the following—
 - (a) terms and conditions of appointment of animal valuers;
 - (b) qualifications, eligibility and experience of persons to be animal valuers;
 - (c) fees and allowances payable to animal valuers;
 - (d) appointment of animal valuers;
 - (e) valuation of animals by animal valuers;
 - (f) the selection of panels of animal valuers;
 - (g) the constitution and operation of panels, including the number of animal valuers constituting a panel;
 - (h) functions and duties of animal valuers;
 - (i) the keeping of a register of animal valuers;
 - (j) method of determination of valuation of animals in cases where animals available for inspection and in cases where animals not available for inspection and, in the latter case, use of hides, skins, ears, photographs or tapes, films or any other means of visual reproduction, books, records and comparable prices for comparable animals;
 - (k) method of determination of valuation of animals where animal valuers constituting a panel are not in agreement as to value;

- (l) procedures in relation to meetings of panels and making of valuations of animals in conjunction with court proceedings and adjournments of proceedings;
- (m) identification of animals by panels;
- (n) issue and use of valuation certificates with respect to valuation of animals;
- (o) form of valuation certificates;
- (p) regulating matters and procedures relating to the initiation of the making of valuations of animals, times within which valuations are to be made in relation to any proceedings, adjournments of proceedings in connection with the making of animal valuations, use of valuation certificates in proceedings and receipt of valuation certificates as evidence in proceedings;
- (q) sufficiency of evidence of value of animals by tender of valuation certificates in proceedings until contrary value is proved, determination of value where contrary value is so proved, and application of such determined value;
- (r) facilitation of proof of—
 - (i) appointments of animal valuers; and
 - (ii) selection of animal valuers to panels; and
 - (iii) signatures of animal valuers;
- (s) such other matters as may be convenient for the operation of this section and its application in accordance with subsection (1) or that may be necessary or expedient to achieve the objects and purposes with respect to such operation and application.

450H Licence disqualification where commission of offence facilitated by licence or use of vehicle

- (1) Where a person is convicted of an offence under section 242, 398 (where the offence relates to the stealing of an animal), 444A, 444B, 445, 446, 447, 448, 448A or 468 and the court or magistrate is satisfied that the commission of the offence by that person was facilitated by the holding by the person of a driver licence or by the use by the person of a motor vehicle, the court or magistrate may order and direct in addition to any sentence that may be passed or penalty that may be imposed that the offender shall, from the date of conviction, be disqualified absolutely from holding or obtaining a driver licence to operate a motor vehicle or be so disqualified for such period as the court or magistrate shall specify in the order.

- (2) A copy of the order shall be transmitted to the chief executive of the department in which the Transport Operations (Road Use Management) Act 1995 is administered by the officer or clerk having custody of the records of the court wherein the conviction was recorded.

- (3) In this section—

driver licence includes any driving licence or driving permit deemed to be equivalent in Queensland to and accepted in lieu of a driver licence for the purpose of authorising the holder thereof to drive in Queensland any vehicle of the type or class to the driving of which the driving licence or driving permit is applicable.

- (4) Nothing contained in this section limits the operation of any other provision of any Act under which the court or magistrate is empowered to do any act or thing in respect of the driving, or the driver licence, of any offender.

450I Forfeiture in cases of conviction for offences under specified sections

- (1) Where a person is convicted of an offence under section 242, 398 (where the offence relates to the stealing of an animal), 444A, 444B, 445, 446, 447, 448, 448A or 468, the court or magistrate may order to be forfeited to the Sovereign any vehicle, vessel, animal, equipment or other property or thing used in connection with or to facilitate the commission of the offence of which the person has been convicted.

- (2) Anything forfeited to the Sovereign pursuant to this section shall be dealt with or disposed of in such manner as the Attorney-General directs.

Division 2 Injuries to property

Chapter 45 Definitions

458 Unlawful acts

- (1) An act which causes injury to the property of another, and which is done without the owner's consent, is unlawful unless it is authorised or justified or excused by law.
- (2) For section 469, punishment in special cases, clause 11, the destruction or damage by a person of property fixed in a cemetery or at a crematorium is unlawful unless the person is acting—
- (a) with the owner's consent; or
 - (b) with the lawful consent of the entity (if any) responsible for managing and administering the cemetery or crematorium; or
 - (c) in the reasonable belief that lawful consent mentioned in paragraph (b) has been given.
- (3) It is immaterial that the person who does the injury is in possession of the property injured, or has a partial interest in it, or an interest in it as joint or part owner or owner in common.
- (4) A person is not criminally responsible for an injury caused to property by the use of such force as is reasonably necessary for the purpose of defending or protecting himself, herself, or any other person, or any property, from injury which the person believes, on reasonable grounds, to be imminent.

459 Acts done with intent to defraud

- (1) When an act which causes injury to property, and which would be otherwise lawful, is done with intent to defraud any person, it is unlawful.
- (2) When an act which causes injury to property is done with intent to defraud any person, it is immaterial that the property in question is the property of the offender.

It is lawful for the person in command of an aircraft, on board the aircraft, and for persons acting with the person's authority to arrest or cause to be arrested without warrant any person whom the person finds committing, or whom on reasonable grounds the person suspects of having committed, or of having attempted to commit, or of being about to commit, an offence on or in relation to or affecting the use of the aircraft and for that purpose to use such force as the person or the person arresting believes, on reasonable grounds, to be necessary and is reasonable under the circumstances.

548 Arrest of persons found committing offences

- (1) It is lawful for a justice to arrest without warrant any person whom the justice finds committing any indictable offence or committing any simple offence with respect to which it is provided that a person found committing it may be arrested without warrant.
- (2) When it is provided with respect to an offence that a person found committing the offence may be arrested without warrant generally, it is lawful for any person who finds another committing the offence to arrest the other person without warrant.
- (3) When it is provided with respect to an offence that a person found committing the offence may be arrested without warrant by a specified person, or specified persons, it is lawful for any such person who finds another committing the offence to arrest the other person without warrant.

549 Arrest of offender committing indictable offences by night

It is lawful for any person who finds another person by night committing any indictable offence to arrest the other person without warrant.

550 Arrest during flight

It is lawful for any person to arrest without warrant any other person whom the person believes, on reasonable grounds, to have committed an offence and to be escaping from, and to be freshly pursued by, some person whom, on reasonable grounds, the person believes to have authority to arrest the other person for that offence.

551 Arrest of persons offering stolen property for sale etc.

It is lawful for any person to whom another offers to sell, pawn, or deliver, any property, and who believes, on reasonable grounds, that the property has been acquired by means of an offence with respect to which it is provided that a person found committing it may be arrested without warrant, to arrest that other person without warrant.

552 Duty of persons arresting

- (1) It is the duty of a person who has arrested another upon a charge of an offence to take the other person forthwith before a justice to be dealt with according to law.
- (2) However, it is sufficient for subsection (1) if the person immediately delivers the arrested person into the custody of a police officer.
- (3) The police officer may receive the arrested person into custody.

Note—

See also section 137 for a relevant offence and the Police Powers and Responsibilities Act 2000, section 393 for the duties of the police officer.

Chapter 58A Indictable offences dealt with summarily

552A Charges of indictable offences that must be heard and decided summarily on prosecution election

- (1) This section applies to a charge before a Magistrates Court of any of the following indictable offences—
- (a) an offence against any of the following provisions—
 - section 141
 - section 142
 - section 143
 - section 205A
 - section 340;
 - (b) any offence involving an assault, if—
 - (i) the assault is not of a sexual nature or accompanied by an attempt to commit a crime; and
 - (ii) the maximum term of imprisonment for which the defendant is liable is more than 3 years but not more than 5 years; and
 - (iii) the assault is without the circumstance of aggravation stated in section 335(3)(a);
 - (c) the offence of counselling or procuring the commission of an offence mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b);

- (d) the offence of attempting to commit an offence mentioned in paragraph (a);
 - (e) the offence of becoming an accessory after the fact to an offence mentioned in paragraph (a).
- (2) A charge to which this section applies must be heard and decided summarily if the prosecution elects to have the charge heard and decided summarily.
- (3) This section is subject to section 552D.

552B Charges of indictable offences that must be heard and decided summarily unless defendant elects for jury trial

- (1) This section applies to a charge before a Magistrates Court of any of the following indictable offences—
- (a) an offence of a sexual nature without a circumstance of aggravation if—
 - (i) the complainant was 14 years of age or over at the time of the alleged offence; and
 - (ii) the defendant has pleaded guilty; and
 - (iii) the maximum term of imprisonment for which the defendant is liable is more than 3 years;
 - (b) an offence against section 339(1);
 - (c) an offence involving an assault, other than an offence against section 339(1), if—
 - (i) the assault is—
 - (A) without a circumstance of aggravation; and
 - (B) not of a sexual nature; and
 - (ii) the maximum term of imprisonment for which the defendant is liable is more than 3 years but not more than 7 years; and
 - (iii) a charge of the offence is not a charge to which section 552A applies;

[s 552B]

- (d) an offence against section 60A, 60B, 76 or 77B;
 - (e) an offence against section 229BB;
 - (f) an offence against section 316A;

 - (h) an offence against section 359E if the maximum term of imprisonment for which the defendant is liable is not more than 5 years;
 - (i) an offence against section 359F if the defendant is liable to the penalty mentioned in section 359F(11);
 - (j) an offence against chapter 14, chapter division 2, if the maximum term of imprisonment for which the defendant is liable is more than 3 years;
 - (l) an offence against chapter 42A;
 - (m) the offence of counselling or procuring the commission of an offence mentioned in any of paragraphs (a) to (l);
 - (n) the offence of attempting to commit an offence mentioned in any of paragraphs (a) to (l), unless the offence is a relevant offence under section 552BA(4), definition relevant offence, paragraph (a);
 - (o) the offence of becoming an accessory after the fact to an offence mentioned in any of paragraphs (a) to (l), unless the offence is a relevant offence under section 552BA(4), definition relevant offence, paragraph (a).
- (2) A charge to which this section applies must be heard and decided summarily unless the defendant informs the Magistrates Court that he or she wants to be tried by jury.
- (3) This section is subject to section 552D.

552BA Charges of indictable offences that must be heard and decided summarily

- (1) This section applies to a charge before a Magistrates Court of any indictable offence against this Code if the offence is a relevant offence.
- (2) A charge to which this section applies must be heard and decided summarily.
- (3) This section is subject to section 552D.
- (4) In this section—

relevant offence means—

- (a) an offence against this Code, if the maximum term of imprisonment for which the defendant is liable is not more than 3 years; or
- (aa) an offence against section 335 alleged to have been committed with the circumstance of aggravation stated in section 335(3)(a); or
- (b) an offence against part 6, other than—
 - (i) an offence mentioned in paragraph (a); or
 - (ii) an offence against chapter 42A; or
 - (iii) an offence that, under section 552BB, is an excluded offence.

552BB Excluded offences

- (1) An offence is an excluded offence if the offence is—
 - (a) an offence against a provision listed in column 1 of the following table and—
 - (i) no relevant circumstance is listed for the provision in column 3; or
 - (ii) both of the following apply—
 - (A) 1 or more relevant circumstances are listed for the provision in column 3;

[s 552BB]

- (B) at least 1 of the relevant circumstances, or the relevant circumstance if only 1 relevant circumstance is listed, applies in relation to the offence; or
- (b) the offence of—
 - (i) counselling or procuring the commission of an offence that is an excluded offence under paragraph (a); or
 - (ii) attempting to commit an offence that is an excluded offence under paragraph (a), unless the offence is a relevant offence under section 552BA(4), definition relevant offence, paragraph (a); or
 - (iii) becoming an accessory after the fact to an offence that is an excluded offence under paragraph (a), unless the offence is a relevant offence under section 552BA(4), definition relevant offence, paragraph (a).
- (2) Column 2 of the following table gives the headings of the provisions mentioned in column 1, and is for information only.
- (3) In this section—prescribed value means $30,000.

552C Constitution of Magistrates Court

- (1) A Magistrates Court that summarily deals with an indictable offence under this chapter must be constituted by—
 - (a) a magistrate; or
 - (b) justices appointed under subsection (3) for the place at which the Magistrates Court is being held.
- (2) Jurisdiction of the justices mentioned in subsection (1)(b) is limited to an offence—
 - (a) that is dealt with on a plea of guilty; and
 - (b) that the justices consider they may adequately punish by the imposition of a penalty not more than the maximum penalty they may impose under section 552H; and
 - (c) for an offence involving property—that involves property, or property damage or destruction, of a value not more than $2,500.
- (3) For subsection (1)(b), the Attorney-General may by gazette notice appoint a justice for a place specified in the gazette notice.
- (4) A justice appointed under subsection (3) must be a justice of the peace (magistrates court) who the Attorney-General is satisfied has appropriate qualifications.
- (5) A gazette notice may only specify a place appointed for holding a Magistrates Court—

[s 552D]

- (a) that is within a local government area of an indigenous local government under the Local Government Act 2009; or
- (b) that the Attorney-General considers is remote.
- (6) The Justices of the Peace and Commissioners for Declarations Act 1991, section 29(4)(a) is subject to subsections (1) to (3).

552D When Magistrates Court must abstain from jurisdiction

- (1) A Magistrates Court must abstain from dealing summarily with a charge under section 552A, 552B or 552BA if satisfied, at any stage, and after hearing any submissions by the prosecution and defence, that because of the nature or seriousness of the offence or any other relevant consideration the defendant, if convicted, may not be adequately punished on summary conviction.
- (1A) A Magistrates Court must abstain from dealing summarily with a charge under section 552BA if—
 - (a) the charge has been laid against the defendant as an alternative to a charge for another offence (the main offence); and
 - (b) the main offence is an indictable offence that is not required to be heard and decided summarily under this chapter.
- (2) A Magistrates Court must abstain from dealing summarily with a charge under section 552BA if satisfied, on an application made by the defence, that because of exceptional circumstances the charge should not be heard and decided summarily.

Examples of exceptional circumstances—

- 1 There is sufficient connection between the offence the subject of the charge, and other offences allegedly committed by the defendant and to be tried on indictment, to allow all the offences to be tried together.
- 2 There is an important issue of law involved.

- 3 An issue of general community importance or public interest is involved, or the holding of a trial by jury is justified in order to establish contemporary community standards.
- (2A) A Magistrates Court must abstain from dealing summarily with a charge of a prescribed offence if the defendant is alleged to have committed the offence with the circumstance of aggravation stated in the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161Q.
- (3) If the court abstains from jurisdiction, the proceeding for the charge must be conducted as a committal proceeding.
- (4) In this section—prescribed offence see the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 161N.

552E Charge may be heard and decided where defendant arrested or served

Without limiting the places a charge may be heard summarily under section 552A, 552B or 552BA, the charge may also be heard and decided at a place appointed for holding magistrates courts within the district in which the accused person was arrested on the charge or served with the summons for the charge under the Justices Act 1886.

552F Time for prosecution

If a Magistrates Court hears and decides a charge summarily under section 552A, 552B or 552BA, the Magistrates Court has jurisdiction despite the time that has elapsed from the time when the matter of complaint of the charge arose.

552G Value of property affecting jurisdiction to be decided by Magistrates Court

For section 552BB, the value of property or of damage to property is the value as decided by the Magistrates Court.

[s 552H]

552H Maximum penalty for indictable offences dealt with summarily

- (1) A person is liable on summary conviction under section 552A, 552B or 552BA to a maximum penalty of—
 - (a) if the Magistrates Court is a court constituted by a magistrate imposing a drug and alcohol treatment order under the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, part 8A—100 penalty units or 4 years imprisonment; or
 - (b) if the Magistrates Court is constituted by a magistrate other than a magistrate mentioned in paragraph (a)—100 penalty units or 3 years imprisonment; or
 - (c) if the Magistrates Court is constituted by justices under section 552C(1)(b)—100 penalty units or 6 months imprisonment.
- (2) However, in no case may the person be punished more than if the offence had been dealt with on indictment.

552I Procedure under s 552B

- (1) This section applies to any charge for an offence to which section 552B applies.
- (2) If the defendant is not legally represented, the Magistrates Court is required—
 - (a) to state the substance of the charge to the defendant; and
 - (b) to explain to the defendant that he or she is entitled to be tried by a jury and is not obliged to make any defence; and
 - (c) to ask the defendant whether he or she wants the charge to be dealt with summarily.
- (3) Whether or not the defendant is legally represented, unless the defendant informs the Magistrates Court that he or she wants to be tried by a jury, the Magistrates Court must ask whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty of the offence.

- (4) If the defendant is legally represented and there is more than 1 charge before the Magistrates Court, a plea to any number of the charges may, with the consent of the defendant, be taken at the same time on the basis that the plea to 1 charge will be treated as a plea to any number of the charges if the court is satisfied—
- (a) the defendant has obtained legal advice in relation to each of the charges; and
 - (b) the defendant is aware of the substance of each of the charges.
- (5) If the Magistrates Court takes a plea under subsection (4), the court is not required to state the substance of any charge before the court to the defendant.
- (6) If the defendant says ‘guilty’ the Magistrates Court must convict.
- (7) If the defendant says ‘not guilty’ the Magistrates Court must hear the defence.
- (8) After the defendant enters a plea, the Magistrates Court must then deal with the charge summarily.
- (9) Unless a defendant’s criminal history is admissible in evidence, the Magistrates Court must not have any regard to the defendant’s criminal history—
- (a) before receiving a plea of guilty or making any decision of guilt; or
 - (b) for deciding whether the defendant may be adequately punished on summary conviction.

552J Appeals against decision to decide charge summarily

- (1) This section applies if a person is summarily convicted or sentenced under section 552A, 552B or 552BA.
- (2) The grounds on which the person may appeal include that the Magistrates Court erred by deciding the conviction or sentence summarily.

[s 553]

- (3) The grounds on which the Attorney-General may appeal against sentence include that the Magistrates Court erred by deciding the sentence summarily.
- (4) On an appeal against sentence relying on a ground that the Magistrates Court erred by proceeding summarily, the court deciding the appeal may, if it decides to vary the sentence, impose the sentence the court considers appropriate up to the maximum sentence that could have been imposed if the matter had been dealt with on indictment.

Chapter 59 Jurisdiction—preliminary proceedings—bail

553 Jurisdiction

The jurisdiction of courts of justice with respect to the trial of offenders is set forth in the laws relating to the constitution and jurisdiction of those courts respectively.

554 Preliminary proceedings on charges of indictable offences

The practice and procedure relating to the examination and committal for trial of persons charged with indictable offences are set forth in the laws relating to justices of the peace, their powers and authorities.

557 Place of trial

- (1) A person charged with committing an offence may be tried in any jurisdiction within which any act or omission or event which is an element of the offence takes place.

- (2) A person charged with stealing any property may also be tried in any jurisdiction within which the person has the stolen property in the person's possession.
- (3) A person charged with stealing anything while employed in the public service may also be tried in any jurisdiction within which the person is arrested or is in custody.
- (4) A person charged with an offence which involves the receiving of any property by the person may also be tried in any jurisdiction within which the person has the property in the person's possession.
- (5) A person charged with forging anything, or with uttering any false document or writing or anything counterfeit, may also be tried in any jurisdiction within which the person is arrested or is in custody.
- (6) A person who is charged with counselling or procuring the commission of an offence, or with becoming an accessory after the fact to an offence, may also be tried in any jurisdiction within which the principal offender might be tried.
- (7) A person who is charged with an offence committed out of Queensland, and who may lawfully be tried in Queensland, may be tried in any jurisdiction within which the person is arrested or is in custody.
- (8) If a person is charged with committing an offence for which the person may lawfully be tried in Queensland and it is uncertain where the offence was committed, the person may be tried in any jurisdiction within which the person is arrested or is in custody.
- (9) A person charged with committing an offence can be tried with the person's consent in any jurisdiction.

558 Persons brought before wrong court

- (1) If on the trial of a person charged with any offence before any court it appears that the person is not properly triable before that court under any of the provisions of section 557, the person is not by reason thereof entitled to be acquitted, but the court may, at the request of the accused person, discharge the jury from giving a verdict, and direct that the person be tried before some proper court, and may remand the person for trial accordingly.

- (2) If the person does not make such request, the trial is to proceed, and the verdict and judgment have the same effect in all respects as if the court had originally had jurisdiction to try the accused person.
- (3) This section does not affect the right of an accused person to plead to the jurisdiction of a court.

559 Change of place of trial

- (1) When a person has been committed for trial for an indictable offence at a court held at any place, whether the person has been granted bail or not, the Supreme Court or a judge thereof may, on the application of the Crown or of the accused person, and upon good cause shown order that the trial shall be held at some other place, either before the same court or before some other court of competent jurisdiction, at a time to be named in the order.
- (2) When an indictment has been presented against any person in the Supreme Court, the court may, on the application of the Crown or the accused person, order that the trial shall be held at some place other than that named in the margin of the indictment and at a time to be named in the order.
- (3) An application for a change of the place of trial for an indictable offence shall be granted if based upon the facts—
 - (a) that the accused person has been committed for trial for another indictable offence at a court held at any other place or that an indictment has been presented to a court held at any other place charging the accused person with another offence; and

- (b) that the charge for the offence in respect of which the application is made and the charge for the offence referred to in paragraph (a) could have been joined in the same indictment, had the offences been committed at the same place; unless good cause is shown for not granting the application.

- (4) When an order is made under the provisions of this section, the consequences are the same in all respects, and with regard to all persons, as if the accused person had been committed for trial at the place named in the order and at the sittings named therein; and, if the person has been granted bail, the undertakings as to bail are to be deemed to be enlarged to that time and place accordingly.

Chapter 60 Indictments

559A Definition for ch 60

In this chapter—

DPP presenter means a person, other than a Crown prosecutor, appointed or employed in, or engaged by, the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions who is authorised in writing by the director of public prosecutions to present an indictment for the director.

560 Presenting indictments

- (1) When a person charged with an indictable offence has been committed for trial and it is intended to put the person on trial for the offence, the charge is to be reduced to writing in a document which is called an indictment.
- (2) The indictment is to be signed and presented to the court by a Crown Law Officer, a Crown prosecutor or some other person appointed in that behalf by the Governor in Council.

[s 560A]

- (3) If a person has been committed for trial for an indictable offence that may be tried in the District Court, a Crown Law Officer or a Crown prosecutor may present the indictment to either the Supreme Court or District Court.
- (4) In deciding the court to which the indictment is to be presented, the Crown Law Officer or Crown prosecutor must have regard to—
 - (a) the complexity of the case; and
 - (b) the seriousness of the alleged offence; and
 - (c) any particular importance attaching to the case; and
 - (d) any other relevant consideration.
- (5) Also, if an indictment is signed by a person authorised to sign the indictment under this section, a DPP presenter may present the indictment to the court stated in the indictment.

560A Place where indictment is presented

- (1) An indictment may be presented to the court at the place of trial named in the margin of the indictment (the place of trial) or at another place.
- (2) If an indictment is presented to the court at a place other than the place of trial—
 - (a) the indictment is taken to have been presented to the court at the place of trial; and
 - (b) anything that may be done by, or in relation to, the court at the place of trial may also be done by, or in relation to, the court at the other place; and

Example—

An application under section 590AA may be made to, and dealt with by, the court at the other place or at the place of trial.

- (c) as soon as practicable after the indictment is presented, the proper officer of the court at the other place must transfer the indictment to the court at the place of trial.

561 Ex officio indictments

- (1) A Crown Law Officer may sign and present an indictment in any court of criminal jurisdiction against any person for any indictable offence, whether the accused person has been committed for trial or not.
- (2) A Crown prosecutor or a person appointed by the Governor in Council to sign and present indictments in any court of criminal jurisdiction may sign and present an indictment in that court against any person for any indictable offence within the jurisdiction of the court, whether the accused person has been committed for trial or not and against any person for an indictable offence who with the person's prior consent has been committed for trial or for sentence for an offence before that court.
- (3) Also, if an indictment is signed by a person authorised to sign the indictment under this section, a DPP presenter may present the indictment to the court stated in the indictment.

562 Arrest of person charged in ex officio indictment

When an indictment has been presented against a person who is not in custody, and has not been committed for trial or held to bail to attend to be tried upon the charge set forth in the indictment, or who does not appear to be tried upon the charge set forth in the indictment, a judge of the court in which the indictment is presented may issue a warrant under the judge's hand to arrest the accused person and bring the person before a justice of the peace; and the justice before whom the person is brought may commit the person to prison until the person can be tried on the indictment, or may, in a proper case, grant bail.

563 Nolle prosequi

- (1) A Crown Law Officer may inform any court, by writing under the officer's hand, that the Crown will not further proceed upon any indictment, or in relation to any charge contained in any indictment, then pending in the court.

- (2) A Crown prosecutor or a person appointed by the Governor in Council to present indictments in any court of criminal jurisdiction may inform that court, by signed writing, that the Crown will not further proceed upon any indictment, or in relation to any charge contained in any indictment, then pending in that court.
- (3) When such information is given to the court the accused person is to be discharged from any further proceedings upon that indictment or charge.

564 Form of indictment

- (1) An indictment is to be intituled with the name of the court in which it is presented, and must, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, set forth the offence with which the accused person is charged in such a manner, and with such particulars as to the alleged time and place of committing the offence, and as to the person (if any) alleged to be aggrieved, and as to the property (if any) in question, as may be necessary to inform the accused person of the nature of the charge.
- (2) If any circumstance of aggravation is intended to be relied upon, it must be charged in the indictment.
- (2A) Despite subsection (2), a relevant circumstance of aggravation may be relied on for the purposes of sentencing an offender for the offence charged in the indictment despite the relevant circumstance of aggravation not being charged in the indictment for the offence.
- (3) It is sufficient to describe an offence in the words of this Code or of the statute defining it.
- (3A) An indictment for an offence may also state the offence is a domestic violence offence.

Note—

See the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 12A for when a conviction for the offence must also be recorded as a conviction for a domestic violence offence or entered in the offender's criminal history as a domestic violence offence.

- (3B) An indictment for an offence committed in relation to a pregnant person that allegedly resulted in destroying the life of the person's unborn child may also state the name, or a description, of the unborn child.
- (4) The place of trial is to be named in the margin of the indictment.
- (5) In this section—

relevant circumstance of aggravation means a circumstance of aggravation that is a previous conviction of the offender.

565 General rules applicable to indictments

The following rules are applicable to all indictments—

- (a) any document or other thing may be described by any name or designation by which it is usually known, and any document may be described by its purport without setting out a copy or facsimile of the whole or any part of it;
- (b) a trademark may be described by that name, and any other mark may be described in any way which will indicate its nature, without setting out a copy or facsimile of it;
- (c) it is not necessary to set forth the value of anything mentioned in an indictment unless the value is an essential element of the offence;
- (d) it is not necessary to set forth the means or instrument by which any act is done, unless the means or instrument are an essential element of the offence;

- (e) it is not necessary to set forth any particulars as to any person or thing which need not be proved, nor any other matter which need not be proved.

566 Particular indictments

- (1) In an indictment for an offence relating to giving information or a document that a person knows is false or misleading, it is enough to state the information or document was ‘false or misleading’ to the person’s knowledge, without specifying whether it was false or whether it was misleading.
- (2) In an indictment for an offence which relates to taking or administering an oath or engagement, or to giving false testimony or to making a false statement on solemn declaration or otherwise, or to procuring the giving of false testimony or the making of a false statement, it is not necessary to set forth the words of the oath or engagement or testimony or statement, but it is sufficient to set forth the purport thereof, or so much of the purport as is material.
- (3) In an indictment for an offence which relates to giving false testimony, or procuring or attempting to procure the giving of false testimony, it is not necessary to allege the jurisdiction of the court or tribunal before which the false testimony was given, or intended or proposed to be given.
- (5) In an indictment in which it is necessary to mention money, such money may be described simply as money, without specifying any particular form of money.
- (5A) Such an averment, so far as regards the description of the property, will be sustained by proof that the offender obtained or dealt with anything which is included in the term ‘money’, or any portion of the value, in such a manner as to constitute the offence, although the thing was delivered to the offender in order that some part of the value thereof should be returned to the person who delivered the same or to some other person, and has been returned accordingly.

- (6) In an indictment in which it is necessary to mention any co-owners of property it is sufficient to name 1 of such persons, adding the words ‘and another’ or ‘and others’, as the case may be, and to state that the property belonged to the person so named and another or others, as the case may be.
 - (7) In an indictment against a man for an offence committed by him with respect to his wife’s separate property, the property may be alleged to be the property of the wife.
 - (8) In an indictment for an offence relating to any property of a company which is authorised to sue and be sued in the name of a public officer, the property may be alleged to be the property of the public officer.
 - (9) In an indictment for an offence relating to any property which by any statute is to be deemed to be the property of any officer of any institution, the property in question may be alleged to be the property of the officer of the institution for the time being by the officer’s name of office.
 - (10) In an indictment for an offence relating to a testamentary instrument, it is not necessary to allege that the instrument is the property of any person.
 - (11) In an indictment for an offence relating to anything fixed in a square, street or cemetery or at a crematorium, or in a place dedicated to public use or ornament, or to anything in or taken from a public office, it is not necessary to allege that the thing in respect of which the offence is committed is the property of any person.
 - (12) In an indictment for an offence relating to a document which is evidence of title to land or an estate in land, the document may be described as being evidence of the title of the person or some 1 of the persons having an estate in the land to which the document relates, the land or some part thereof being described in some manner sufficient to identify it.
 - (13) In an indictment for stealing a chattel or fixture let to the offender, the chattel or fixture may be described as the property of the person who actually let it to hire.

- (14) In an indictment against a person employed in the public service for an offence committed with respect to anything which came into the person's possession by virtue of the person's employment, the thing in question may be described as the property of the Sovereign.
- (15) In an indictment for an offence respecting any property (whether within the meaning of section 1 or section 408C), if it is uncertain to which of 2 or more persons the property belonged at the time when the offence was committed, the property may be described as being the property of one or other of such persons, naming each of them, but without specifying which of them; and the indictment will be sustained, so far as regards the allegation of ownership, upon proof that at the time when the offence was committed the property belonged to one or other of such persons without ascertaining which of them.
- (16) In an indictment for the offence of obtaining or inducing the delivery of anything dishonestly, or of attempting to commit, or to procure the commission of, any such offence, it is not necessary to mention the owner of the property in question.
- (17) In an indictment for an offence which involves any fraud or fraudulent pretence, it is not necessary to set forth the details of the fraud or pretence or trick or device.

567 Joinder of charges

- (1) Except as otherwise expressly provided, an indictment must charge 1 offence only and not 2 or more offences.
- (2) Charges for more than 1 indictable offence may be joined in the same indictment against the same person if those charges are founded on the same facts or are, or form part of, a series of offences of the same or similar character or a series of offences committed in the prosecution of a single purpose.
- (3) Where more than 1 offence is charged in the same indictment, each offence charged shall be set out in the indictment in a separate paragraph called a count and the several statements of the offences may be made in the same form as in other cases without any allegation of connection between the offences.

- (4) Counts shall be numbered consecutively.

568 Cases in which several charges may be joined

- (1) In an indictment against a person for stealing property the person may be charged and proceeded against on 1 charge even though—
- (a) the property belongs to the same person or to different persons; or
 - (b) the property was stolen over a space of time; or
 - (c) different acts of stealing took place at different times, whether or not the different acts can be identified.
- (2) In an indictment against a trustee to whom the Trust Accounts Act 1973 applies, for stealing money, the trustee may be charged and proceeded against for the amount of a general deficiency notwithstanding that such general deficiency is made up of any number of specific sums of money, such sums being the property of different persons, the taking, destruction or conversion of which extended over any space of time.
- (2A) For subsection (2), the reference to a trustee to whom the Trust Accounts Act 1973 applies includes a legal practitioner associate of a law practice, within the meaning of the Legal Profession Act 2007, if part 3.3 of the Legal Profession Act 2007 applies to the law practice.
- (3) In an indictment against a person for fraud the person may be charged and proceeded against on 1 charge even though—
- (a) any number of specific frauds of the same type has been committed, whether or not each specific act of fraud can be identified; or
 - (b) the frauds have extended over any space of time; or

- (c) property applied belongs to different persons, and has come into the possession or control of the accused person at different times and subject to different trusts, directions, conditions, or duties to account; or
 - (d) the property, benefit, detriment or inducement belongs to or is caused to different persons.
- (4) In an indictment against a person for receiving property the person may be charged and proceeded against on 1 charge even though—
 - (a) the property belongs to different persons; or
 - (b) the property was received over a space of time; or
 - (c) different acts of receiving took place at different times, whether or not the different acts can be identified.
- (5) In an indictment against a person for forgery or uttering the person may be charged and proceeded against on 1 charge even though—
 - (a) any number of separate forgeries or utterings has been committed, whether or not the separate acts of forgery or uttering can be identified; or
 - (b) the forgeries or utterings have extended over any space of time; or
 - (c) there was an intent to defraud one or more than one person.
- (5A) In an indictment against a person for obtaining or dealing with identification information under section 408D, the person may be charged and proceeded against on 1 charge even though—
 - (a) the identification information relates to different entities; or
 - (b) the identification information was obtained or dealt with over a space of time; or

- (c) different acts of obtaining or dealing with the identification information took place at different times, whether or not the different acts can be identified.
 - (6) Any 2 or all of the following charges may be joined in the same indictment (a subsection (6) indictment)—
 - (a) entering or being in a dwelling or premises and stealing property in the dwelling or premises;
 - (b) stealing all or part of property the subject of the indictment;
 - (c) receiving all or part of property the subject of the indictment having reason to believe the property is stolen.
 - (7) If a subsection (6) indictment is preferred against a person, the person may, according to the evidence, be convicted of the offence mentioned in subsection (6)(a), the offence mentioned in subsection (6)(b) or the offence mentioned in subsection (6)(c).
 - (8) If a subsection (6) indictment is preferred against 2 or more persons—
 - (a) all or any of them may, according to the evidence, be convicted of the offence mentioned in subsection (6)(a), the offence mentioned in subsection (6)(b) or the offence mentioned in subsection (6)(c); or
 - (b) 1 or more of them may, according to the evidence, be convicted of 1 of the offences and the other or others of them may be convicted of another of the offences, or of 1 or the other of the other offences.
 - (9) However, if the jury finds specially—
 - (a) that a person charged on a subsection (6) indictment—
 - (i) entered or was in a dwelling or premises and stole property in the dwelling or premises; or
 - (ii) stole all or part of property the subject of the indictment; or

- (iii) received all or part of property the subject of the indictment having reason to believe the property to have been stolen; or
 - (b) that a person charged on a subsection (6) indictment committed 1 of any 2 of the offences mentioned in paragraph (a);
but can not say which of the offences (the alternative offences) was committed by the person, the trial judge must enter a conviction against the person for 1 of the alternative offences in accordance with subsection (10).
- (10) For subsection (9), the trial judge must enter a conviction for the following offence—
- (a) if the same maximum penalty is provided for the alternative offences, the alternative offence decided by the trial judge;
 - (b) if a particular maximum penalty is provided for 1 of the alternative offences and the same lower maximum penalty is provided for the other alternative offences, 1 of the other alternative offences decided by the trial judge;
 - (c) otherwise, the alternative offence for which the lowest or lower maximum penalty is provided.
- (10A) In an indictment against a person for an offence against section 228A, 228B, 228C or 228D, the person may be charged and proceeded against on 1 charge for the offence even though—
- (a) any number of separate acts constituting the offence have been committed, whether or not the separate acts constituting the offence can be identified; or
 - (b) the separate acts constituting the offence have extended over any space of time; or
 - (c) different acts constituting the offence took place at different times, whether or not the different acts can be identified.

- (11) Any number of persons charged with committing or with procuring the commission of the same offence, although at different times, or of being accessories after the fact to the same offence, although at different times, and any number of persons charged with receiving, although at different times, any property which has been obtained by means of a crime or misdemeanour, or by means of an act which if it had been done in Queensland would be a crime or misdemeanour and which is an offence under the laws in force in the place where it was done, or any part of any property so obtained, may be charged with substantive offences in the same indictment, and may be tried together notwithstanding that the principal offender or the person who so obtained the property is not included in the same indictment, or is not amenable to justice.
- (12) Any number of persons charged with committing different or separate offences arising substantially out of the same facts or out of closely related facts so that a substantial part of the facts is relevant to all the charges may be charged in the same indictment and tried together.

569 Accessories

A person who counsels or procures another person to commit an offence, or who aids another person in committing an offence, or who does or omits to do any act for the purpose of enabling or aiding another person to commit the offence, or who becomes an accessory after the fact to an offence, may be charged in the same indictment with the principal offender, and may be tried with the principal offender or separately, or may be indicted and tried separately, whether the principal offender has or has not been convicted, or is or is not amenable to justice.

570 Statement of previous conviction

In an indictment for an offence charged to have been committed after a conviction for any offence, it is sufficient, after charging the subsequent offence, to state the substance and effect of the indictment or complaint, and the conviction, for the previous offence, and the time and place of such conviction.

571 Formal defects

- (1) An indictment is not open to objection by reason of the designation of any person by a name of office or other descriptive appellation instead of by the person's proper name, nor for omitting to state the time at which the offence was committed, unless the time is an essential element of the offence, nor for stating imperfectly the time at which the offence was committed, nor for stating the offence to have been committed on an impossible day, or on a day that never happened or has not yet happened.
- (2) An objection to an indictment for a formal defect apparent on its face must be taken by motion to quash the indictment before the jury is sworn, and not afterwards.

572 Amendment of indictments

- (1) If, on the trial of a person charged with an indictable offence, there appears to be a variance between the indictment and the evidence, or it appears that any words that ought to have been inserted in the indictment have been omitted, or any count that ought to have been included in the indictment has been omitted, or that any words that ought to have been omitted have been inserted, the court may, if it considers that the variance, omission, or insertion, is not material to the merits of the case, and that the accused person will not be prejudiced thereby in the person's defence on the merits, order the indictment to be amended, so far as it is necessary, on such terms (if any) as to postponing the trial, and directing it to be had before the same jury or another jury, as the court may think reasonable.
- (1A) Without limiting subsection (1), if the court considers the offence charged in the indictment is also a domestic violence offence, the court may order that the indictment be amended to state the offence is also a domestic violence offence.

- (2) The indictment is thereupon to be amended in accordance with the order of the court.
- (3) If the court is satisfied no injustice will be done by amending the indictment, the court may make the order at any time before, or at any stage of, the trial on the indictment, or after verdict.
- (4) When an indictment has been amended, the trial is to proceed, at the appointed time, upon the amended indictment, and the same consequences ensue, in all respects and as to all persons, as if the indictment had been originally in its amended form.
- (5) If it becomes necessary to draw up a formal record in any case in which an amendment has been made, the record is to be drawn up setting out the indictment as amended, and without taking any notice of the fact of the amendment having been made.

573 Particulars

The court may, in any case, if it thinks fit, direct particulars to be delivered to the accused person of any matter alleged in the indictment, and may adjourn the trial for the purpose of such delivery.

574 Summary convictions

The provisions of this chapter relating to indictments apply to complaints preferred against offenders upon their trial before justices in order to their summary conviction of an indictable offence.

Chapter 61 Effect of indictment

575 Offences involving circumstances of aggravation

Except as hereinafter stated, upon an indictment charging a person with an offence committed with circumstances of aggravation, the person may be convicted of any offence which is established by the evidence, and which is constituted by any act or omission which is an element of the offence charged, with or without any of the circumstances of aggravation charged in the indictment.

575A Evidence at murder trial

- (1) This section applies in relation to the trial of a person charged with murder under a paragraph of section 302(1).
- (2) The person may be convicted of murder if the evidence at the trial establishes that the person is guilty of murder under any other paragraph of section 302(1).

576 Indictment containing count of murder or manslaughter

- (1) Upon an indictment against a person containing a count of the crime of murder, the person may be convicted on that count of the crime of manslaughter if that crime is established by the evidence but not on that count of any other offence than that with which the person is charged except as otherwise expressly provided.
- (2) Upon an indictment against a person containing a count of the crime of manslaughter the person can not on that count be convicted of any other offence except as otherwise expressly provided.

577 Charge of homicide of child

However, upon an indictment charging a person with the murder of any person, or with unlawfully killing any person, if upon the evidence it appears that the person alleged to have been killed was a child of which a female had recently been delivered, the accused person may be convicted of an offence defined in section 313 or 314, if any offence under either of those sections is established by the evidence.

578 Charge of offence of a sexual nature

- (1) Upon an indictment charging a person with the crime of rape, the person may be convicted of any offence, if established by the evidence, defined in section 210(1), 215, 216, 217(1), 218, 222 or 352.
- (2) Upon an indictment charging a person with engaging in unlawful penile intercourse with a child under the age of 16 years, the person may be convicted of any offence, if established by the evidence, defined in section 210(1), 217 or 218.
- (3) Upon an indictment charging a person with unlawfully and indecently assaulting another, the person may be convicted of any offence, if established by the evidence, defined in section 210(1).
- (4) Upon an indictment charging a person with incest or an attempt to commit incest, the person may be convicted of any offence, if established by the evidence, defined in section 210(1), 215, 216, 217, 218, 349, 350 or 352.
- (5) A person convicted of any offence pursuant to this section may be convicted of that offence with any circumstance of aggravation established by the evidence.

579 Charge of specific injury—charge of injury with specific intent

- (1) Upon an indictment charging a person with an offence of which the causing of some specific result is an element, the person may be convicted of any offence which is established by the evidence, and of which an intent to cause that result, or a result of a similar but less injurious nature, is an element.

- (2) Upon an indictment charging a person with an offence of which an intent to cause some specific result is an element, the person may be convicted of any offence which is established by the evidence and of which the unlawful causing of that result is an element.

580 Charge of injury to property

Upon an indictment charging a person with an offence of which destruction of property, or wilfully and unlawfully doing any specific damage to property, is an element, the person may be convicted of wilfully and unlawfully damaging the property, or of wilfully and unlawfully damaging the property in any lesser degree, if either of such offences is established by the evidence.

581 Offences of dishonesty

Upon an indictment charging a person with any of the offences following, that is to say—

- (a) stealing, with or without a circumstance of aggravation;
- (b) fraud, with or without a circumstance of aggravation;
- (c) obtaining from any other person any chattel, money or valuable security by passing a cheque that is not paid on presentation for payment;
- (d) unlawful use or possession of a vehicle, with or without a circumstance of aggravation;
- (e) unlawfully receiving anything under section 433;
- (f) counselling or procuring any other person to commit any of such offences;

the person may be convicted of any other of such offences committed with respect to the same property, if such other offence is established by the evidence.

582 Charge of procuring commission of offence or wrongful act

- (1) Upon an indictment charging a person with procuring the commission of any offence, the person may be convicted of procuring the commission of any other offence of such a nature that a person may be convicted of it upon an indictment charging the person with committing the offence of which the accused person is alleged to have procured the commission.
- (2) Upon an indictment charging a person with procuring another to do an act or make an omission of such a nature that if the accused person had done the act or made the omission, the person would have been guilty of an offence, the person may be convicted of procuring that other person to do any other act or make any other omission which is established by the evidence, and which is of such a nature that if the accused person had done that act or made that omission the person would have been guilty of an offence, such last-named offence being itself of such a nature that a person may be convicted of it upon an indictment charging the person with committing the offence of which the accused person would have been guilty if the person had done the act or made the omission which the person is alleged to have procured to be done or made.

583 Conviction for attempt to commit offence

- (1) Upon an indictment charging a person with committing any offence, the person may be convicted of attempting to commit that offence, or of attempting to commit any other offence of which the person might be convicted upon the indictment.
- (2) Upon an indictment charging a person with procuring the commission of any offence, the person may be convicted of attempting to procure the commission of that offence, or of attempting to procure the commission of any other offence of such a nature that a person may be convicted of it upon an indictment charging the person with committing the offence of which the accused person is alleged to have procured the commission.

- (3) Upon an indictment charging a person with attempting to commit any offence, the person may be convicted of attempting to commit any other offence of such a nature that a person may be convicted of it upon an indictment charging the person with committing the offence which the accused person is alleged to have attempted to commit.
- (4) Upon an indictment charging a person with attempting to procure the commission of any offence, the person may be convicted of attempting to procure the commission of any other offence of such a nature that a person may be convicted of it upon an indictment charging the person with committing the offence of which the accused person is alleged to have attempted to procure the commission.
- (5) Upon an indictment charging a person with attempting to procure another to do an act or make an omission of such a nature that if the act had been done or the omission had been made, an offence would thereby have been committed the person may be convicted of attempting to procure that other person to do any other act or make any other omission of such a nature that if the act had been done or the omission had been made an offence would thereby have been committed, such last mentioned offence being itself of such a nature that a person may be convicted of it upon an indictment charging the person with doing the act or making the omission which the accused person is alleged in the indictment to have attempted to procure that other person to do or make.

584 When evidence shows offence of similar nature

- (1) If, on the trial of a person charged with any indictable offence, the evidence establishes that the person is guilty of another indictable offence of such a nature that upon an indictment charging the person with it the person might have been convicted of the offence with which the person is actually charged, the person may be convicted of the offence with which the person is so charged.

- (2) A person so tried is not liable to be afterwards prosecuted for the offence so established by the evidence, unless the court before which the trial is had thinks fit to discharge the jury from giving any verdict, and to direct the accused person to be indicted for that offence; in which case the person may be dealt with in all respects as if the person had not been put upon trial for the offence with which the person is actually charged.

585 Effect of conviction

A person convicted under any of the provisions of sections 575 to 584 is liable to the same punishment as if the person had been convicted on an indictment charging the person with the offence of which the person is actually convicted.

586 Corrupt practices

If, on the trial of a person charged with an indictable offence relating to elections the evidence establishes that the person is not guilty of the offence charged, but is guilty of an offence relating to elections and punishable on summary conviction, the person may be convicted of such last mentioned offence, and is liable to the same punishment as if the person had been summarily convicted of that offence.

587 Illegal practices

If, on the trial of a person charged with an offence relating to elections and punishable on summary conviction, the evidence establishes that the person is guilty of an indictable offence relating to elections, the person is not entitled to have the charge dismissed if the evidence also establishes that the person did any act or acts such as to constitute the offence with which the person is actually charged.

588 Charge of stealing stock

If, on the trial of a person charged with stealing an animal that is stock, the evidence establishes that the person is not guilty of the offence charged, but is guilty of any of the offences following, that is to say—

- (a) unlawfully using the animal without the consent of the owner, or of the person in lawful possession thereof;
- (b) branding or marking the animal, or knowingly permitting it to be branded or marked, with the person's registered brand or registered mark, knowing that the person is not the owner of the animal;
- (c) altering or defacing, or otherwise rendering undistinguishable, any registered brand or registered mark upon the animal;
- (d) knowingly permitting any act as mentioned in paragraph (c) to be done by any person over whom the person has control;

the person may be convicted of the offence so established by the evidence, and is liable to the same punishment as if the person had been convicted of that offence.

588A Charges of stealing certain animals and of killing certain animals with intent to steal

- (1) If on the trial of a person charged with stealing an animal that is stock the evidence establishes that the person is not guilty of the offence charged but is guilty of the offence of killing an animal with intent to steal the skin or carcass or any part of the skin or carcass, the person may be convicted of the latter offence and is liable to the punishment prescribed in respect of that offence.
- (2) If on the trial of a person charged with killing an animal with intent to steal the skin or carcass or any part of the skin or carcass the evidence establishes that the person is not guilty of the offence charged but is guilty of the offence of stealing an animal, the person may be convicted of the latter offence and is liable to the punishment prescribed in respect of that offence.

- (3) A reference in this section to the offence of killing an animal with intent to steal the skin or carcass or any part of the skin or carcass is a reference to the offence of killing an animal with intent to steal the skin or, as the case may be, the carcass or, as the case may be, part of the skin or, as the case may be, part of the carcass.

589 Indictment for joint receiving

Upon an indictment charging 2 or more persons jointly with an offence of which the receiving of any property is an element, if the evidence establishes that 1 or more of them separately received any part or parts of the property under such circumstances as to constitute an offence, such 1 or more of the accused persons may be convicted of the offence or offences so established by the evidence.

589A Indictment for using or disclosing knowledge of match-fixing conduct or match-fixing arrangement for betting

If, on the trial of a person charged with an indictable offence under section 443D, the evidence establishes that the person is not guilty of the offence charged but is guilty of any offence under section 443F, the person may be convicted of the offence under section 443F.

Chapter 62 Trial—adjournment—pleas— practice

Chapter division 1 Bringing accused person to trial

590 Bringing accused to trial

- (1) Subject to section 561, when a person charged with an indictable offence has been committed for trial and it is intended to put the person upon his or her trial for the offence, the director of public prosecutions or a Crown prosecutor must present the indictment no later than 6 months after the date on which the person was committed for trial.

- (2) If—

- (a) an indictment is not so presented; or
- (b) it becomes apparent that evidence necessary to establish the offence is not going to be available; or
- (c) the accused has absconded and is not likely to be found before the expiry of the period; or
- (d) for any other reason it is impracticable to present the indictment;

the director of public prosecutions or a Crown prosecutor may apply to the court at any time before or after the expiry of the period for an extension of time within which to present an indictment.

- (3) The court hearing the application may, if satisfied that good cause is shown and no miscarriage of justice is likely to result, grant the extension of time the court considers just.
- (4) If an indictment is not presented before the expiry of the period or any extension of the period, the person is entitled to be discharged from the consequences of his or her committal.

Chapter division 2 Directions and rulings before trial

590AA Pre-trial directions and rulings

- (1) If the Crown has presented an indictment before a court against a person, a party may apply for a direction or ruling, or a judge of the court may on his or her initiative direct the parties to attend before the court for directions or rulings, as to the conduct of the trial or any pre-trial hearing.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1) a direction or ruling may be given in relation to—
 - (a) the quashing or staying of the indictment; or
 - (b) the joinder of accused or joinder of charges; or
 - (ba) disclosure under chapter division 3 or 4; or
 - (c) the provision of a statement, report, proof of evidence or other information; or
 - (d) noting of admissions and issues the parties agree are relevant to the trial or sentence; or
 - (da) an application for trial by a judge sitting without a jury; or
 - (e) deciding questions of law including the admissibility of evidence and any step that must be taken if any evidence is not to be admitted; or
 - (f) ascertaining whether a defence of insanity or diminished responsibility or any other question of a psychiatric nature is to be raised; or
 - (g) the psychiatric or other medical examination of the accused; or
 - (h) the exchange of medical, psychiatric and other expert reports; or
 - (i) the reference of the accused to the Mental Health Court; or

[s 590AAA]

- (j) the date of trial and directing that a date for trial is not to be fixed until it is known whether the accused proposes to rely on a defence of insanity or diminished responsibility or any other question of a psychiatric nature; or
 - (k) the return of subpoenas; or
 - (ka) matters relating to protected counselling communications under the Evidence Act 1977, part 2, division 2A: or
 - (l) the Evidence Act 1977, part 2, division 4, 4A, 4C or 6 or part 6A; or
 - (m) encouraging the parties to narrow the issues and any other administrative arrangement to assist the speedy disposition of the trial.
- (3) A direction or ruling is binding unless the judge presiding at the trial or pre-trial hearing, for special reason, gives leave to reopen the direction or ruling.
- (4) A direction or ruling must not be subject to interlocutory appeal but may be raised as a ground of appeal against conviction or sentence.

590AAA Noncompliance with direction about disclosure

- (1) If it appears to the court that a person (the directed person) has not complied with a direction given under section 590AA(2)(ba), the court may order the directed person to file an affidavit, or give evidence in court, explaining and justifying the failure to comply.
- (2) If the court requires the directed person to file an affidavit, a copy of the affidavit must be served on the person for whose benefit the direction was given (the affected person).
- (3) An order under subsection (1) may be made—
 - (a) on the court's own initiative; or
 - (b) on the application of the affected person.

- (4) If the court is not satisfied the directed person's affidavit or evidence satisfactorily explains and justifies the noncompliance, the court may—
- (a) adjourn the proceeding to allow enough time for—
 - (i) the directed person to comply with the direction; and
 - (ii) the affected person to consider anything disclosed under the direction and take any necessary further action; and
 - (b) if the court is satisfied that the noncompliance was unjustified, unreasonable or deliberate—make, in relation to the adjournment, an award in favour of the affected person of an amount of costs the court considers just and reasonable; and
 - (c) if an award of costs is made under paragraph (b)—fix a time for the amount to be paid.
- (5) This section does not limit the court's power otherwise to deal with a failure to comply with a direction, including, for example, any power in the court to punish for contempt.
- (6) The directed person is not excused from failing to file an affidavit or give evidence under this section on the ground that an affidavit or evidence explaining and justifying a failure to comply with the direction given under section 590AA(2)(ba) might tend to incriminate the directed person because the directed person would be required to admit to the failure to comply.
- (7) However, the affidavit or evidence is not admissible against the directed person in a criminal proceeding or a proceeding for contempt.
- (8) Subsection (7) does not stop the affidavit or evidence from being admissible against the person—
- (a) in a perjury proceeding in relation to the affidavit or evidence; or

[s 590AB]

- (b) for the purposes of making an order under subsection (4).
- (9) In this section—
direction includes ruling.
perjury proceeding, in relation to an affidavit or evidence, means a proceeding in which the falsity or misleading nature of the affidavit or evidence is relevant.

Chapter division 3 Disclosure by the prosecution

Chapter subdivision A Preliminary provisions

590AB Disclosure obligation

- (1) This chapter division acknowledges that it is a fundamental obligation of the prosecution to ensure criminal proceedings are conducted fairly with the single aim of determining and establishing truth.
- (2) Without limiting the scope of the obligation, in relation to disclosure in a relevant proceeding, the obligation includes an ongoing obligation for the prosecution to give an accused person full and early disclosure of—
 - (a) all evidence the prosecution proposes to rely on in the proceeding; and
 - (b) all things in the possession of the prosecution, other than things the disclosure of which would be unlawful or contrary to public interest, that would tend to help the case for the accused person.

590AC Chapter division does not have particular consequences

- (1) Nothing in this chapter division—

- (a) requires disclosure that is unlawful under this or another law; or
 - (b) affects an accused person's right to anything under another law.
- (2) Failure to comply with this chapter division in a proceeding does not affect the validity of the proceeding.

Chapter subdivision B Interpretation

 - (ii) any film, negative, tape or other device mentioned in paragraph (f) of the definition document in the Evidence Act 1977, schedule 3; and
- (c) given in, or in anticipation of, a criminal proceeding about the alleged offence; and
- (d) that is potentially admissible under the Evidence Act 1977, section 93A.

590AG Particular references to an accused person include references to a lawyer acting for the accused person

- (1) A reference in this chapter division to giving or disclosing a thing to an accused person includes a reference to giving or disclosing the thing to a lawyer acting for the accused person.
- (2) A reference in this chapter division to an accused person viewing a thing includes a reference to a lawyer acting for the accused person viewing the thing.

Chapter subdivision C Disclosure

590AH Disclosure that must always be made

- (1) This section applies—
 - (a) without limiting the prosecution’s obligation mentioned in section 590AB(1); and
 - (b) subject to section 590AC(1)(a) and chapter subdivision D.
- (2) For a relevant proceeding, the prosecution must give the accused person each of the following—
 - (a) a copy of the bench charge sheet, complaint or indictment containing the charge against the person;
 - (b) a copy of the accused person’s criminal history in the possession of the prosecution;
 - (c) a copy of any statement of the accused person in the possession of the prosecution;
 - (d) for each proposed witness for the prosecution who is, or may be, an affected child—a written notice naming the witness and describing why the proposed witness is, or may be, an affected child;
 - (e) for each proposed witness for the prosecution other than a proposed witness mentioned in paragraph (d)—
 - (i) a copy of any statement of the witness in the possession of the prosecution; or
Example—
 - a statement made by a proposed witness for the prosecution in an audio recording of an interview
 - (ii) if there is no statement of the witness in the possession of the prosecution—a written notice naming the witness;
 - (f) if the prosecution intends to adduce evidence of a representation under the Evidence Act 1977, section 93B, a written notice stating that intention and the matters mentioned in section 590C(2)(b) to (d);

- (g) a copy of any report of any test or forensic procedure relevant to the proceeding in the possession of the prosecution;

Examples of a forensic procedure—

DNA, fingerprint or another scientific identification procedure

- (h) a written notice describing any test or forensic procedure, including a test or forensic procedure that is not yet completed, on which the prosecution intends to rely at the proceeding;
 - (i) a written notice describing any original evidence on which the prosecution intends to rely at the proceeding;
 - (j) a copy of anything else on which the prosecution intends to rely at the proceeding;
 - (k) a written notice or copy of anything else in possession of the prosecution prescribed under a regulation.
- (3) Also, for a relevant proceeding or a summary proceeding under the Justices Act 1886 for an accused person who is charged with a domestic violence offence, the prosecution must give the accused person a copy of the person's domestic violence history in the possession of the prosecution.
 - (4) In this section—

domestic violence history, of a person, means a document that states—

- (a) each of the following, within the meaning of the Domestic and Family Violence Protection Act 2012—
 - (i) a domestic violence order or recognised interstate order made against the person;
 - (ii) a police protection notice issued against the person; and

[s 590AI]

- (b) each domestic violence order made against the person under the repealed Domestic and Family Violence Protection Act 1989.

domestic violence offence includes an offence against the Domestic and Family Violence Protection Act 2012, part 7.

Note—

See also the definition of domestic violence offence in section 1.

590AI When mandatory disclosure must be made

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) the prosecution must give an accused person a written notice or copy of a thing under section 590AH(2); or
 - (b) the prosecution must give an accused person a written notice of a thing under section 590AO(2), 590AOA(2) or 590AOB(3) and, apart from sections 590AO, 590AOA and 590AOB, the prosecution would have to give the accused person a copy of the thing under section 590AH(2).
- (2) The prosecution must give the accused person the written notice or copy—
 - (a) for a committal proceeding or prescribed summary trial—at least 14 days before the date set by the court for the commencement of the hearing of evidence; or
 - (b) for a trial on indictment—no more than 28 days after presentation of the indictment, or if the trial starts less than 28 days after presentation of the indictment, before evidence starts to be heard at the trial.
- (3) Subsection (2) is not intended to discourage the prosecution from voluntarily giving the accused person the written notice or copy at a time before the latest time the subsection may be complied with.

Note—

An administrative arrangement made under section 706A (Development of administrative arrangements) might provide for the prosecution's agreement to a form of staged disclosure that will ensure an accused person is provided with at least part of the material that must be disclosed under section 590AH within a period stated in the arrangement that is shorter than the period stated in subsection (2).

- (4) The court may, at any time, shorten the period mentioned in subsection (2)(a) or extend the period mentioned in subsection (2)(b).
- (5) If the relevant proceeding is a committal proceeding, the court may set a date to have effect under subsection (2)(a) as the date for the commencement of hearing of evidence in the proceeding even if, having regard to the Justices Act 1886, section 110A, it will or may be the case that no witness will appear at the proceeding to give oral evidence.

590AJ Disclosure that must be made on request

- (1) This section applies—
 - (a) without limiting the prosecution's obligation mentioned in section 590AB(1); and
 - (b) subject to section 590AC(1)(a) and chapter subdivision D.
- (2) For a relevant proceeding, the prosecution must, on request, give the accused person—
 - (a) particulars if a proposed witness for the prosecution is, or may be, an affected child; and
 - (b) a copy of the criminal history of a proposed witness for the prosecution in the possession of the prosecution; and
 - (c) a copy or notice of any thing in the possession of the prosecution that may reasonably be considered to be adverse to the reliability or credibility of a proposed witness for the prosecution; and
 - (d) notice of any thing in the possession of the prosecution that may tend to raise an issue about the competence of a proposed witness for the prosecution to give evidence in the proceeding; and

- (e) a copy of any statement of any person relevant to the proceeding and in the possession of the prosecution but on which the prosecution does not intend to rely at the proceeding; and
- (f) a copy or notice of any other thing in the possession of the prosecution that is relevant to the proceeding but on which the prosecution does not intend to rely at the proceeding.

Example of any other thing—

a transcript of a recorded statement

- (3) If the prosecution gives notice of a thing under subsection (2) that is not original evidence, the prosecution must advise the accused person that the thing may be viewed on request by the accused person at a stated place.

- (4) In this section—

particulars means particulars of a matter alleged in the bench charge sheet, complaint or indictment containing the charge against the accused person.

590AK When requested disclosure must be made

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) an accused person requests particulars or a copy or notice of a thing under section 590AJ(2); and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) the prosecution must give the accused person particulars or a copy or notice of the thing under section 590AJ(2); or
 - (ii) the prosecution must give the accused person written notice of the thing under section 590AO(2), 590AOA(2) or 590AOB(3) and, apart from sections 590AO, 590AOA and 590AOB, the prosecution would have to give the accused person a copy of the thing under section 590AJ(2).

- (2) The prosecution must give the accused person the particulars, copy or notice as soon as practicable after the request is made.

590AL Ongoing obligation to disclose

- (1) If the prosecution can not comply with a time requirement because the thing to be disclosed was not in the possession of the prosecution in sufficient time, including, for example, because the thing did not exist at the time, the prosecution must disclose the thing to the accused person as soon as practicable after it comes into the possession of the prosecution.
- (2) The obligation to disclose a thing, other than an exculpatory thing, to the accused person continues despite a failure to comply with a time requirement or subsection (1) until the prosecution ends, whether by the accused person being discharged, acquitted or convicted, or in another way.
- (3) If a thing is an exculpatory thing, the obligation to disclose it to the accused person continues despite a failure to comply with a time requirement or subsection (1) until 1 of the following happens—
 - (a) the accused person is discharged or acquitted;
 - (b) the accused person dies.
- (4) In this section—

time requirement means a requirement under section 590AI or 590AK.

590AM How disclosure may be made

- (1) If a written notice or copy of a thing must or may be given to the accused person under this chapter division, it is sufficient for—
 - (a) a document advising that the written notice or copy of the thing is available for collection at a stated place to be served on the accused person—

[s 590AN]

- (i) if a lawyer acts for the accused person—at the lawyer’s address for service; or
 - (ii) otherwise—at the accused person’s place of business, or residential address, last known to the prosecution; and
 - (b) the written notice or copy of the thing to be available for collection at the stated place.
- (2) If notice of a thing must or may be given to the accused person under this chapter division, it is sufficient for notice to be given in a way the prosecution considers appropriate.

Example—

If the prosecution considers it appropriate, notice may be given by phone to the lawyer acting for the accused person or in writing made available under subsection (1).

Chapter subdivision D Limitations on disclosure

590AN Limit on disclosure of things accused person already has

The prosecution is not, for a relevant proceeding, required under this chapter division to give the accused person anything the accused person or a lawyer acting for the accused person already possesses or has already been given by the prosecution.

Example—

The prosecution is not required to give the accused person a copy of a complaint or indictment already given to the accused person or a copy of depositions already given to the accused person under section 705.

590AO Limit on disclosure of sensitive evidence

- (1AA) This section does not apply to an Evidence Act section 93A device statement or a recorded statement.
- (1) The prosecution is not, for a relevant proceeding, required under this chapter division to give the accused person a copy of a thing the prosecution reasonably considers to be sensitive evidence other than as required under this section.

(2) If—

- (a) apart from this section, the prosecution would have to give the accused person a copy of the thing; and
- (b) the prosecution does not give the accused person a copy of the thing;

then the prosecution must give the accused person a written notice—

- (c) describing the thing; and
- (d) stating that the prosecution—
 - (i) considers the thing to be sensitive evidence; and
 - (ii) is not required to give the accused person a copy of the thing other than as required under this section; and
- (e) if the thing is not original evidence, stating the place where the accused person may, on request, view the thing for the purposes of the relevant proceeding; and
- (f) if the thing is original evidence, stating that the prosecution may, on request, allow an appropriate person to view and examine the thing for the purposes of the relevant proceeding at a stated place—
 - (i) under the supervision of the prosecution; and
 - (ii) subject to any other conditions the prosecution considers appropriate to ensure—
 - (A) the thing will only be viewed and examined for a legitimate purpose connected with the relevant proceeding; and
 - (B) there is no unauthorised reproduction or circulation of the thing; and
 - (C) the integrity of the thing is protected.

[s 590AO]

- (3) If the thing is original evidence, the court may direct that the prosecution allow an appropriate person to view and examine the thing for the purposes of the proceeding subject to the conditions the court considers appropriate.
- (4) The court may make the direction under subsection (3) only if the court is satisfied the terms of the direction can ensure—
 - (a) the thing will only be viewed and examined for a legitimate purpose connected with the relevant proceeding; and
 - (b) there is no unauthorised reproduction or circulation of the thing; and
 - (c) the integrity of the thing is protected.
- (5) Also, the court may direct that the prosecution give the accused person a copy of the thing (whether or not the thing is original evidence).
- (6) The court may make the direction under subsection (5) only if—
 - (a) the accused person satisfies the court a legitimate purpose is achieved by the accused person being given a copy of the thing; and
 - (b) the court is satisfied the terms of the direction can ensure there is no unauthorised reproduction or circulation of the thing.
- (7) If, under subsection (5), the court directs the prosecution to give the accused person a copy of the thing, the court may also direct that the accused person return the copy of the thing to the prosecution within the period stated in the direction to the accused person.
- (8) In this section—
 - appropriate person means—
 - (a) the accused person; or
 - (b) a lawyer acting for the accused person; or

- (c) another person engaged by the accused person if the prosecution or court considers it is appropriate for the other person to view or examine the thing.

590AOA Evidence Act section 93A device statement

- (1) The prosecution is not, for a relevant proceeding, required under this chapter division to give the accused person a copy of an Evidence Act section 93A device statement (the statement) other than as required under this section.
- (2) If—
 - (a) apart from this section, the prosecution would have to give the accused person a copy of the statement; and
 - (b) the prosecution does not give the accused person a copy of the statement;then the prosecution must give the accused person a written notice—
 - (c) describing the statement; and
 - (d) stating that the prosecution—
 - (i) considers the statement to be an Evidence Act section 93A device statement; and
 - (ii) is not required to give the accused person a copy of the statement other than as required under this section; and
 - (e) stating the matters mentioned in subsection (3) or (6), whichever is applicable.
- (3) If the accused person has a lawyer acting for him or her, the notice must state that the prosecution will give a lawyer acting for the accused person a copy of the statement (the copy) on the following conditions—
 - (a) that the lawyer must not give the copy to the accused person or anyone else other than the following—

- (i) a lawyer acting for the accused person or to whom the copy is referred for particular advice;
 - (ii) a person, other than a lawyer, to whom the copy is referred for particular expert advice;
 - (iii) an associate of the lawyer to the extent necessary for work to be done for the lawyer in relation to the relevant proceeding or a proceeding for a relevant charge in the ordinary practice of the law;
- (b) that any lawyer acting for the accused person, other than the lawyer to whom the prosecution gives the copy, must not give the copy to the accused person or anyone else other than the persons mentioned in paragraph (a)(ii) or (a)(iii);
- (c) that a person who is given the copy under paragraph (a) or (b), other than a lawyer mentioned in the paragraph, must not give the copy to the accused person or anyone else who is not a lawyer acting for the accused person;
- (d) that the copy held by the lawyer to whom it was given by the prosecution, or held by anyone else to whom the copy has been given under this section—
 - (i) must not be copied; and
 - (ii) must be returned to the prosecution within 14 days after—
 - (A) the lawyer or other person stops being someone who may be given the copy under this section; or
- Example—*

A lawyer may stop acting for the accused person.

 - (B) the end of the proceedings for the relevant charge;
- (e) that the copy may only be given to another person in accordance with the conditions mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (d) for a legitimate purpose connected with the relevant proceeding or a proceeding for a relevant charge.

- (4) If the original statement is a visual image device and the copy to be given by the prosecution under the notice is only a sound device, the court may direct the prosecution to give a copy that is a visual image device.
- (5) The court may make a direction under subsection (4) only if it is satisfied the terms of the direction can ensure—
 - (a) the copy will only be viewed for a legitimate purpose connected with the relevant proceeding; and
 - (b) there is no unauthorised copying or circulation of the copy.
- (6) If the accused person does not have a lawyer acting for him or her, the notice must state that—
 - (a) the prosecution will not give the statement (whether the original or copy) to the accused person; and
 - (b) the prosecution will, on request, allow an appropriate person to view the statement, either the original or a copy as stated in the notice for the purposes of the relevant proceeding at a stated place.
- (7) If the prosecution refuses to accept a person, nominated by the accused person under paragraph (c) of the definition appropriate person, as an appropriate person for subsection (6)(b), the court may direct the prosecution to accept the person as an appropriate person for subsection (6)(b), subject to the conditions the court considers appropriate.
- (8) The court may make the direction under subsection (7) only if the court is satisfied the terms of the direction can ensure—
 - (a) the statement will only be viewed for a legitimate purpose connected with the relevant proceeding; and
 - (b) there is no unauthorised copying or circulation of the statement; and

- (c) if the original statement is to be viewed—the integrity of the statement is protected.
- (9) For the Evidence Act 1977, section 93AA(2)(a), it is declared that an act done in contravention of a condition imposed by a notice under subsection (3) or a direction under subsection (5) or (7) is not done for a legitimate purpose related to the relevant proceeding.
- (10) For subsection (3)(d)(i) or (8)(b), it is declared that the making of a transcript of the contents of the statement is not the making of a copy of the statement to which the Evidence Act 1977, section 93AA(1)(c) applies.
- (11) In this section—

appropriate person means—

- (a) the accused person; or
- (b) a lawyer mentioned in the Evidence Act 1977, section 21O(4); or
- (c) another person engaged by the accused person if the prosecution or court considers it is appropriate for the other person to view the thing.

Examples of persons prosecution may consider appropriate—

- interpreter
- expert

copy, of the statement, in subsections (3) and (6) means a copy of the original statement in the form of—

- (a) a device of similar function to the original device containing a copy of the statement; or
- (b) if the original statement is in the form of a visual image device—any sound device capable of reproducing a soundtrack of the visual image device; and includes any additional copy provided by the prosecution for convenience.

sound device means a device mentioned in section 590AFA(b)(i).

visual image device means a device mentioned in section 590AFA(b)(ii).

590AOB Disclosure of recorded statement

- (1) The prosecution is not, for a relevant proceeding, required under this chapter division to give the accused person a copy of a recorded statement other than as required under this section.
- (2) Subsection (3) applies if—
 - (a) other than for this section, the prosecution would have to give the accused person a copy of a recorded statement; and
 - (b) the prosecution does not give the accused person a copy of the statement.
- (3) The prosecution must give the accused person a written notice—
 - (a) describing the recorded statement; and
 - (b) stating that the prosecution—
 - (i) considers the statement to be a recorded statement; and
 - (ii) is not required to give the accused person a copy of the statement other than as required under this section; and
 - (c) stating the matters mentioned in subsection (4) or (5), whichever is applicable.
- (4) If the accused person has a lawyer acting for the person, the notice must state that the prosecution will give a lawyer acting for the accused person a copy of the recorded statement on the following conditions—
 - (a) that the lawyer must not give the copy to the accused person or anyone else other than the following—

- (i) a lawyer acting for the accused person or to whom the copy is referred for particular advice;
 - (ii) a person, other than a lawyer, to whom the copy is referred for particular expert advice;
 - (iii) an associate of the lawyer to the extent necessary for work to be done for the lawyer in relation to the relevant proceeding or a proceeding for a relevant charge in the ordinary practice of the law;
- (b) that any lawyer acting for the accused person, other than the lawyer to whom the prosecution gives the copy, must not give the copy to the accused person or anyone else other than the persons mentioned in paragraph (a)(ii) or (iii);
- (c) that a person who is given the copy under paragraph (a) or (b), other than a lawyer mentioned in the paragraph, must not give the copy to the accused person or anyone else who is not a lawyer acting for the accused person;
- (d) that the copy held by the lawyer to whom it was given by the prosecution, or held by anyone else to whom the copy has been given under this section—
 - (i) must not be copied; and
 - (ii) must be returned to the prosecution within 14 days after—
 - (A) the lawyer or other person stops being someone who may be given the copy under this section; or
- Example—*

A lawyer may stop acting for the accused person.

 - (B) the end of the proceedings for the relevant charge;
- (e) that the copy may only be given to another person in accordance with the conditions mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (d) for a legitimate purpose connected with the relevant proceeding or a proceeding for a relevant charge.

- (5) If the accused person does not have a lawyer acting for the person, the notice must state that—
 - (a) the prosecution will not give the recorded statement (whether the original or a copy) to the accused person; and
 - (b) the prosecution will, on request, allow an appropriate person to view the statement, either the original or a copy as stated in the notice, for the purposes of the relevant proceeding at a stated place; and
 - (c) the prosecution must, on request, give the accused person a transcript of the recorded statement that is in the possession of the prosecution.
- (6) If the prosecution refuses to accept a person nominated by the accused person as an appropriate person for subsection (5)(b), the court may direct the prosecution to accept the person as an appropriate person for subsection (5)(b), subject to the conditions the court considers appropriate.
- (7) The court may make the direction under subsection (6) only if the court is satisfied the terms of the direction can ensure—
 - (a) the recorded statement will only be viewed for a legitimate purpose connected with the relevant proceeding; and
 - (b) an offence against the Evidence Act 1977, section 103Q or 103S will not be committed; and
 - (c) if the original recorded statement is to be viewed—the integrity of the statement is protected.
- (8) For the Evidence Act 1977, section 103Q(2)(a), it is declared that an act done in contravention of a condition imposed by a notice under subsection (4) or a direction under subsection (6) is not done for a legitimate purpose related to the domestic violence proceeding.

[s 590AP]

- (9) For subsection (4)(d)(i) or (7)(b), it is declared that making a transcript of the contents of the recorded statement is not making a copy of the statement for the Evidence Act 1977, section 103Q(1)(c).
- (10) In this section, a reference to a recorded statement includes, if the context permits, a reference to a lawfully edited copy of a recorded statement under the Evidence Act 1977, schedule 3.
- (11) In this section—
- appropriate person, to view a recorded statement, means—
- (a) the accused person; or
 - (b) a lawyer mentioned in the Evidence Act 1977, section 21O(4) or another lawyer who is providing legal advice or assistance to the accused person; or
 - (c) another person engaged by the accused person if the prosecution or court considers it is appropriate for the other person to view the recorded statement.

Examples of persons the prosecution may consider appropriate—

- an interpreter
- an expert

copy, of a recorded statement, for subsections (4) and (5)—

- (a) means a copy of the original recorded statement in the form of a videorecording under the Evidence Act 1977; and
- (b) includes any additional copy of the recorded statement provided by the prosecution for convenience but does not include a transcript of the recorded statement.

590AP Limit on disclosure of witness contact details

- (1) The prosecution is not, for a relevant proceeding, required under this chapter division to give the accused person a witness contact detail other than as required under this section.

- (2) The prosecution must give the accused person a witness contact detail that is materially relevant as part of the evidence for the relevant proceeding.

Example 1—

If the alleged offence is breaking and entering a dwelling and a proposed witness was the occupant of the dwelling when the offence allegedly happened, the address of the proposed witness when the offence allegedly happened would be materially relevant as part of the evidence.

Example 2—

If the alleged offence is unlawful stalking, intimidation, harassment or abuse involving contacting the stalked person by telephone, the telephone number of the stalked person when the offence allegedly happened would be materially relevant as part of the evidence.

- (3) However, the court may direct that another witness contact detail be given to the accused person.
- (4) The court may make the direction only if—
 - (a) the accused person satisfies the court a legitimate purpose is achieved by the witness contact detail being given to the accused person; and
 - (b) the court is satisfied that giving the detail is not likely to present a reasonably ascertainable risk to the welfare or protection of any person.
- (5) A witness contact detail the prosecution is not required to give the accused person may be deleted from, or rendered illegible in, a thing that is to be disclosed to, or may be viewed by, the accused person.
- (6) Although it is acknowledged that a person is not obliged to have contact with the defence, nothing in this section is intended to discourage the prosecution, at the request of the defence, from voluntarily passing on to a person a request from the defence that the person contact the defence.
- (7) In this section—

witness contact details include details of the address and telephone and facsimile number of a proposed witness for the prosecution or a person a copy of whose statement may be given to the accused person under section 590AJ(2)(e).

590APA Protected counselling communications

- (1) The prosecution is not, for a relevant proceeding, required under this chapter division to give the accused person a copy of a document if the prosecution reasonably considers the document is a protected counselling communication.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if—
 - (a) for a relevant proceeding to which the Evidence Act 1977, part 2, division 2A, subdivision 3 applies—the document is produced by leave of the court under that subdivision; or
 - (b) the counselled person to whom the protected counselling communication relates has consented to the production of the document in the proceeding under the Evidence Act 1977, section 14I; or
 - (c) the document may be produced under the Evidence Act 1977, section 14J.
- (3) If the prosecution reasonably considers subsection (1) applies to a document and, apart from this section, the prosecution would have to give the accused person a copy of the document, the prosecution must give the accused person a written notice stating—
 - (a) that the prosecution is in possession of a document that it considers is a protected counselling communication the disclosure of which is prevented by the Evidence Act 1977, part 2, division 2A; and
 - (b) a description of the nature and particulars of the document (other than particulars disclosing the content of the protected counselling communication); and the fact the document contains a counsellor's notes, the identity of the counsellor and the date the notes were made

Example of particulars—

- (c) that the counselled person to whom the document relates has not consented to the production of the document; and
 - (d) if the relevant proceeding is a proceeding to which the Evidence Act 1977, part 2, division 2A, subdivision 3 applies—that the accused person may apply to the court for leave under that subdivision enabling the document to be produced.
- (4) In this section—

counselled person see the Evidence Act 1977, section 14B.

protected counselling communication see the Evidence Act 1977, section 14A.

590AQ Limit on disclosure contrary to the public interest

- (1) The prosecution is not, for a relevant proceeding, required under this chapter division to disclose to the accused person a thing, other than as required under this section, if the prosecution—
- (a) considers the disclosure would be contrary to the public interest; and
 - (b) gives the accused person a written notice stating that the prosecution—
 - (i) considers the disclosure would be contrary to the public interest; and
 - (ii) is not required to disclose the thing to the accused person other than as required under this section.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1)(a), the prosecution is not required to disclose the thing to the accused person if—
- (a) there are reasonable grounds for considering disclosure of the thing would—
 - (i) prejudice the security, defence or international relations of Australia; or

[s 590AQ]

- (ii) damage relations between the Commonwealth and a State or between 2 or more States; or
 - (iii) facilitate the commission of another offence; or
 - (iv) prejudice the prevention, investigation or prosecution of an offence; or
 - (v) prejudice the usefulness of surveillance or other detection methods; or
 - (vi) disclose, or enable a person to find out, the existence or identity of a confidential source of information relating to the enforcement or administration of a law of the Commonwealth or a State; or
 - (vii) cause unlawful or dishonest interference with potential witnesses; or
 - (viii) prejudice the proper functioning of the government of the Commonwealth or a State; or
- (b) disclosure of the thing to the accused person is prohibited by law.

Example for paragraph (b)— disclosure of an informer's identity under the Drugs Misuse Act 1986, section 119

- (3) However, unless disclosure to the accused person of the thing is prohibited by law, the court may direct that the thing be disclosed to the accused person.
- (4) The court may make a direction only if the court is satisfied, on balance, that disclosing the thing to the accused person is not contrary to the public interest.
- (5) In deciding whether to make a direction, the court may inform itself in any way it considers appropriate.
- (6) Without limiting the matters the court may take into account in deciding whether to make a direction, the court must take into account the following matters—

- (a) the importance of the thing in the relevant proceeding, including, for example, whether the thing is an exculpatory thing;
 - (b) the nature of the offence;
 - (c) the likely effect of disclosing the thing and how publication of the thing may be limited;
 - (d) whether the substance of the thing has already been published.
- (7) In this section—
State includes a Territory.

Chapter subdivision E Viewing

590AR Viewing evidence that is not original evidence

If—

- (a) advice is given under section 590AJ(3); or
- (b) notice is given under section 590AO(2)(e) or 590AOA(6);

of a place where the accused person or appropriate person may, on request, view a thing, the prosecution must allow the accused person or appropriate person, on request, to view the thing at the place for the purposes of the relevant proceeding.

590AS Viewing particular original evidence—generally

- (1) This section applies if a thing that is original evidence, and is not the body of a deceased person, sensitive evidence, an Evidence Act section 93A device statement or a recorded statement, is disclosed to an accused person under section 590AH(2)(i) or 590AJ.

[s 590AS]

Notes—

- 1 For the viewing of original evidence that is the body of a deceased person, see section 590ASA.
 - 2 For the viewing of original evidence that is sensitive evidence, see section 590AO(2)(f), (3) and (4).
- (2) The prosecution is not required to allow the accused person to view or examine the thing for the relevant proceeding other than as required under this section.
- (3) The prosecution may, on request, allow an appropriate person to view or examine the thing for the purposes of the relevant proceeding—
- (a) under the supervision of the prosecution; and
 - (b) subject to any other conditions the prosecution considers appropriate to protect the integrity of the thing.
- (4) Also, the court may direct that the prosecution allow an appropriate person to view and examine the thing for the purposes of the proceeding subject to the conditions the court considers appropriate to protect the integrity of the thing.
- (5) The court may make the direction only if the court is satisfied the terms of the direction can ensure the integrity of the thing is protected.
- (6) In this section—
- appropriate person means—
- (a) the accused person; or
 - (b) a lawyer acting for the accused person; or
 - (c) another person engaged by the accused person if the prosecution or court considers it is appropriate for the other person to view or examine the thing.
- body see the Coroners Act 2003, schedule 2.

590ASA Viewing bodies of deceased persons

- (1) This section applies if the body of a deceased person that is original evidence is disclosed to an accused person under section 590AH(2)(i) or 590AJ.
- (2) The prosecution is not required to allow the accused person to view or examine the body for the relevant proceeding other than as required under this section.
- (3) The prosecution may, on request, allow a permitted person to view, or an appropriate person to view or examine, the body for the purposes of the relevant proceeding—
 - (a) under the supervision of the prosecution; and
 - (b) subject to any other conditions the prosecution considers appropriate—
 - (i) to protect the integrity of the body; and
 - (ii) to ensure the release of the body for burial under the Coroners Act 2003, section 26 is not unnecessarily delayed.
- (4) The court may direct that the prosecution allow a permitted person to view, or an appropriate person to view or examine, the body for the purposes of the relevant proceeding subject to the conditions the court considers appropriate—
 - (a) to protect the integrity of the body; and
 - (b) to ensure the release of the body for burial under the Coroners Act 2003, section 26 is not unnecessarily delayed.
- (5) The court may make the direction only if satisfied the terms of the direction can ensure—
 - (a) the integrity of the body is protected; and
 - (b) the release of the body for burial under the Coroners Act 2003, section 26 is not unnecessarily delayed.
- (6) In this section—

appropriate person means a person engaged by the accused person, other than a lawyer acting for the accused person, if the prosecution or court considers it is appropriate for the person to view or examine the body.

Examples of an appropriate person—

- a person appointed as a DNA analyst under the Evidence Act 1977, section 133A
- a person employed by an accredited laboratory, as defined under the Police Powers and Responsibilities Act 2000, section 488B, who has appropriate qualifications and experience in DNA analysis body see the Coroners Act 2003, schedule 2.

permitted person means—

- (a) if a lawyer is acting for the accused person—the lawyer; or
- (b) otherwise—the accused person.

Chapter subdivision F Miscellaneous provisions

590AT Accused person may waive entitlement

- (1) An accused person may waive any or all entitlements the accused person would otherwise have under this chapter division.
- (2) The waiver must be in writing and be given to the prosecution.

590AU Court may waive requirement

A court may waive any requirement imposed by this chapter division in relation to a relevant proceeding if it is satisfied there is a good reason for waiving the requirement and that waiving the requirement will not result in a miscarriage of justice.

590AV Disclosure directions under particular provisions

- (1) The court may make a disclosure direction on the court's own initiative or on an application made by the accused person.
- (2) The court may make a disclosure direction on the conditions, whether about the circumstances of disclosure or otherwise, it considers appropriate.
- (3) Without limiting subsection (2), the court may make a disclosure direction on condition that—
 - (a) partial disclosure only be made; or
 - (b) disclosure only be made to a lawyer acting for the accused person; or
 - (c) particular persons are excluded from the room in which the court is sitting for all or part of the proceedings; or
 - (d) reporting of the proceedings be limited in a particular way.
- (4) In this section—

disclosure direction means a direction for a relevant proceeding under section 590AO, 590AOA, 590AOB, 590AP, 590AQ, 590AS or 590ASA.

590AW When issues about disclosure must be resolved

Any issue about compliance with this chapter division must, if possible, be resolved before evidence starts to be heard at the relevant proceeding.

590AX Unauthorised copying of sensitive evidence

- (1) A person in possession of sensitive evidence for the purposes of a relevant proceeding commits an offence if, without authority, the person copies or permits a person to copy the sensitive evidence.

Maximum penalty—100 penalty units or 2 years imprisonment.

[s 590A]

- (2) A person has possession of sensitive evidence for the purposes of a relevant proceeding only if—
 - (a) the sensitive evidence was given to the person under this chapter division; or
 - (b) the sensitive evidence came into the person’s possession directly or incidentally, including by an opportunity given, because the person is a public official.
- (3) A person has authority only if the person copies or permits a person to copy sensitive evidence for a legitimate purpose connected with a proceeding.
- (4) In this section—

public official includes—

 - (a) a police officer; and
 - (b) a person appointed, engaged or employed under the Director of Public Prosecutions Act 1984.

Chapter division 4 Disclosure by an accused person

590A Notice of alibi

- (1) An accused person shall not upon the person’s trial on indictment, without the leave of the court, adduce evidence in support of an alibi unless, before the expiration of the prescribed period, the person gives notice of particulars of the alibi.
- (2) An accused person shall not upon the person’s trial on indictment, without the leave of the court, call any other person to give evidence in support of an alibi unless—
 - (a) the notice under subsection (1) includes the name and address of the person or, if the name or address is not known to the accused person at the time the accused person gives the notice, any information in the accused person's possession that may be of material assistance in locating the person; or

- (b) where the name or address is not included in the notice, the court is satisfied that the accused person, before giving the notice, took and thereafter continued to take all reasonable steps to secure that the name or address would be ascertained; or
 - (c) where the name or address is not included in the notice and the accused person subsequently discovers the name or address or receives other information that may be of material assistance in locating the person, the accused person gives notice forthwith of the name, address or, as the case may be, other information; or
 - (d) where the accused person is notified by or on behalf of the director of public prosecutions that the person has not been traced by the name or located at the address given, the accused person gives notice forthwith of any information then in the accused person's possession or subsequently received by the accused person that may be of material assistance in locating the person.
- (3) The court shall not refuse leave under this section if it appears to the court that the accused person was not, upon the accused person's committal for trial, informed by the justices of the requirements of this section.
 - (4) Evidence tendered to disprove an alibi may, subject to a direction by the court, be given before or after evidence is given in support of the alibi.
 - (5) A notice purporting to be given under this section on behalf of the accused person by the person's solicitor shall, until the contrary is proved, be deemed to be given with the authority of the accused person.
 - (6) A notice under this section—
 - (a) shall be in writing; and
 - (b) shall be given to the director of public prosecutions; and

[s 590B]

(c) shall be duly given if it is delivered to or left at the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions or sent by certified mail addressed to the director of public prosecutions at the director's office.

(7) In this section—

evidence in support of an alibi means evidence tending to show that by reason of the presence of the accused person at a particular place or in a particular area at a particular time the accused person was not, or was unlikely to have been, at the place where the offence is alleged to have been committed at the time of its alleged commission.

the prescribed period means the period of 14 days after the date of the committal for trial of the accused person.

590B Advance notice of expert evidence

- (1) If an accused person intends to adduce expert evidence in relation to an issue in the person's trial, the person must—
 - (a) as soon as practicable—give the other parties to the trial written notice of the name of the expert, and any finding or opinion he or she proposes to adduce; and
 - (b) as soon as practicable before the trial date—give the other parties to the proceeding a copy of the expert report on which the finding or opinion is based.
- (2) The directions judge under section 590AA or trial judge may fix times for compliance with subsection (1).

590C Advance notice of representation if person who made it is unavailable

- (1) If an accused person intends to adduce evidence of a representation under the Evidence Act 1977, section 93B, the accused person must, as soon as practicable before the person's trial date, give each of the other parties to the trial written notice of the person's intention.

- (2) The notice must state—
- (a) the accused person intends to adduce evidence of a representation under the Evidence Act 1977, section 93B; and
 - (b) the name of the person with personal knowledge of an asserted fact who made a representation and the reason the person is unavailable to give evidence about the asserted fact; and
 - (c) the name of the person who saw, heard or otherwise perceived the representation; and
 - (d) details of the representation and the circumstances in which it was made.
- (3) The directions judge under section 590AA or trial judge may fix a time for compliance with subsection (1).

Chapter division 4A Disclosure obligation directions

590D Purpose and scope of ch div 4A

- (1) This chapter division makes particular provision for disclosure obligation directions.
- (2) This chapter division does not affect—
 - (a) any other power a court has in relation to a failure to comply with a disclosure obligation, including, for example, to exclude evidence if it would be unfair to an accused person to admit the evidence; or
 - (b) any other action that may be taken against a party in relation to a failure to comply with a disclosure obligation.
- (3) This chapter division does not limit the making of practice directions by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge about disclosure in a proceeding.

590E Definitions for ch div 4A

In this chapter division—

arresting officer has the same meaning it has in chapter division 3.

disclosure obligation means—

- (a) the obligation of the prosecution, for the purposes of a relevant proceeding under chapter division 3, to comply with the requirements of that chapter division for disclosure, other than the obligation to comply with a disclosure direction as defined in section 590AV; or
- (b) the obligation of an accused person to comply with requirements of chapter division 4 for disclosure.

disclosure obligation direction means a direction or ruling under section 590AA(2)(ba), to the extent it relates to compliance with a disclosure obligation.

party, to a proceeding, means—

- (a) an accused person who is charged with an offence the subject of the proceeding; or
- (b) the prosecution in relation to an offence the subject of the proceeding.

prosecution has the same meaning it has in chapter division 3.

590F Subject matter for disclosure obligation direction

- (1) A disclosure obligation direction may provide for any of the following—
 - (a) whether a party to a proceeding has a disclosure obligation in relation to another party to the proceeding;
 - (b) requiring that a particular thing must be disclosed;
 - (c) allowing the court to inspect a particular thing to decide whether the court should further direct that a party has a disclosure obligation in relation to the thing;

- (d) allowing the court to examine the arresting officer to decide whether the prosecution has a disclosure obligation in relation to a particular thing;
 - (e) requiring that the arresting officer file an affidavit to allow the court to decide whether the prosecution has a disclosure obligation in relation to a particular thing;
 - (f) allowing the accused person or a lawyer acting for the accused person to cross-examine the arresting officer on an affidavit mentioned in paragraph (e) to allow the court to decide whether the prosecution has a disclosure obligation in relation to a particular thing;
 - (g) how a disclosure obligation is to be complied with in a particular case;
 - (h) setting a timetable for compliance with a disclosure obligation.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not limit section 590AA(2)(ba).
 - (3) The court may make a disclosure obligation direction on the conditions, whether about the circumstances of disclosure or otherwise, it considers appropriate.
 - (4) If a date is set for the commencement of the hearing of evidence in the proceeding, any examination or cross-examination allowed for in a disclosure obligation direction must be conducted before that date.
 - (5) If a person is examined by the court as provided for in subsection (1)(d), required to file an affidavit as provided for in subsection (1)(e) or cross-examined as provided for in subsection (1)(f), the person is not excused from failing to answer a question or file an affidavit on the ground that the answer or affidavit might tend to incriminate the person because the person would be required to admit to a failure to comply with a disclosure obligation.
 - (6) However, the answer or affidavit is not admissible against the person in a criminal proceeding, other than a perjury proceeding in relation to the answer or affidavit.

(7) In this section—

perjury proceeding, in relation to an answer or affidavit, means a proceeding in which the falsity or misleading nature of the answer or affidavit is relevant.

590G Application for disclosure obligation direction

- (1) The procedures applying in relation to an application under section 590AA(1) by a party to a proceeding for a disclosure obligation direction are stated in the Criminal Practice Rules 1999, chapter 9A.
- (2) To the greatest practicable extent, the procedures apply in addition to, and do not limit, the procedures applying under the Criminal Practice Rules 1999, chapter 9.
- (3) The existence of the procedures mentioned in subsection (1) is not intended to stop either party to a proceeding from writing to, or otherwise communicating information to, the other party to resolve issues arising over a disclosure obligation.

Chapter division 5 Bringing on trial and ordering adjournment

591 Accelerating trial of persons not under committal

When an indictment is presented in any court against any person who has not been committed for trial or held to bail upon the charge set forth in the indictment, and the accused person is not brought to trial within a year after the indictment is presented, the court may, upon the application of the accused person or any of the accused persons, if more than 1, authorise the accused person to bring on the trial, and the accused person may bring on the trial accordingly, unless in the meantime the court is informed that the Crown will not further proceed upon the indictment.

592 Adjournment of trial

- (1) The court to which a person has been committed or remanded for trial on indictment or before which an indictment is presented may, if it thinks fit, adjourn the trial and may remand the accused person accordingly.
- (1A) A trial may be adjourned whether or not—
 - (a) the accused person is present; or
 - (b) the accused person has been called upon to plead to the indictment; or
 - (c) a jury has been sworn; or
 - (d) evidence has been given.
- (2) The Crown shall, where it is proposed to make application for an adjournment in the absence of an accused person who is detained in a place of legal detention, notify in writing that accused person—
 - (a) that the application is to be made and the nature, date, time and place thereof; and
 - (b) that the accused person may furnish to the court a statement in writing in relation to the application; and
 - (c) that the accused person may be represented by counsel on the hearing of the application.
- (3) For the purposes of this section—adjourn the trial includes postpone the trial in a case where the accused person has not been called upon to plead to the indictment.

593 Directions as to trial upon adjournment

- (1) Where the trial of a person charged or to be charged with an offence on indictment is adjourned, the court in open court may direct the trial to be held at a later sittings of the same court or before some other court of competent jurisdiction.

[s 593A]

- (1A) Upon a direction in the latter case, the indictment and other proceedings shall be transmitted by the proper officer of the court giving the direction to the proper officer of the court to which the accused person is remanded and the latter court has the same jurisdiction to try the accused person as if the person had been committed originally to be tried before it.
- (2) Where the court directs a trial to be held at a later sittings of the same court, it shall at the same time pronounce the time and place for the commencement of the sittings to which the trial is adjourned.

593A Warrant to bring witness before court

- (1) This section applies if an indictment has been presented against a person before a court.
- (2) If the court is satisfied by evidence on oath that—
 - (a) a witness has evaded service of a subpoena; or
 - (b) a witness is likely to evade service of a subpoena;the court may make an order for the issue of a warrant to bring the witness before the court at a time and place stated in the warrant.

Chapter division 6 Corporation as accused person

594A Presence in court and plea where accused person is a corporation

- (1) Where an indictment is presented against a corporation in respect of an indictable offence, the corporation may be present in court by its representative and it may, on arraignment, enter a plea in writing by its representative.
- (1A) Any plea so entered by the representative shall for all purposes be taken to be a plea entered by the corporation.

- (2) If the corporation is not present in court by its representative or if, though it is so present, it does not enter a plea in writing by its representative, the court shall order a plea of not guilty to be entered on behalf of the corporation.
- (2A) A plea so entered has the same effect as if it had been actually pleaded, and the trial of the corporation may proceed accordingly.
- (3) In respect of a trial, any requirement by law that anything shall be done in the presence of the accused person or shall be read or said to or asked of the accused person shall, in the case of a corporation present in court by its representative, be construed as a requirement that that thing shall be done in the presence of the representative or read or said to or asked of the representative.
- (3A) If the corporation is not present in court by its representative, it shall not be necessary for the thing to be done or read or said or asked.
- (4) Where, in respect of a trial, anything is required to be done or said by the accused person personally, it may, in the case of a corporation present in court by its representative, be done or said by the representative, and anything so done or said shall for all purposes be taken to be done or said by the corporation.
- (4A) Nothing contained in subsection (4) limits the provisions of subsection (1) or (1A) or the provisions of section 616.
- (5) In this section—
representative means a person appointed by the corporation to represent it for the purposes of this section; but a person so appointed is not, by virtue only of being so appointed, qualified to act on behalf of the corporation before the court for any other purpose.
- (6) A representative need not be appointed under the seal of the corporation; and a statement in writing purporting to be signed by a managing director of the corporation or by any other person (by whatever name called) having, or being one of the persons having, the management of the affairs of the corporation to the effect that the person named in the statement has been appointed as the representative of the corporation for the purposes of this section shall be admissible without further proof as prima facie evidence that that person has been so appointed.

Chapter division 7 Applications by accused person about indictment

595 Delivery of copy of indictment

When an indictment is presented against any person, the court is required, upon the person's application, to order a copy of the indictment to be delivered to the person without fee.

596 Motion to quash indictment

- (1) The accused person may before pleading apply to the court to quash the indictment on the ground that it is calculated to prejudice or embarrass the person in the person's defence to the charge, or that it is formally defective.
- (2) Upon such motion the court may quash the indictment, or may order it to be amended in such manner as the court thinks just, or may refuse the motion.

597 Misnomer

If the accused person says that the person is wrongly named in the indictment, the court may, on being satisfied by affidavit or otherwise of the error, order the indictment to be amended.

Chapter division 8 Separate trials

597A Separate trials where 2 or more charges against the same person

- (1) Where before a trial or at any time during a trial the court is of opinion that the accused person may be prejudiced or embarrassed in the person's defence by reason of the person's being charged with more than 1 offence in the same indictment or that for any other reason it is desirable to direct that the person should be tried separately for any 1 or more than 1 offence charged in an indictment the court may order a separate trial of any count or counts in the indictment.
- (1AA) In considering potential prejudice, embarrassment or other reason for ordering separate trials under this provision in relation to alleged offences of a sexual nature, the court must not have regard to the possibility that similar fact evidence, the probative value of which outweighs its potentially prejudicial effect, may be the result of collusion or suggestion.
- (1A) The court may discharge a jury sworn from giving a verdict on the count or counts directed to be tried separately.
- (2) The procedure on the separate trial of a count shall be the same in all respects as if the count had been set out in a separate indictment.
- (3) The court may adjourn a separate trial, remand the accused person and make such orders as to bail and otherwise as the court thinks fit.
- (4) For the purposes of this section—adjourn a separate trial includes postpone a separate trial in a case where the accused person has not been called upon to plead to a count in an indictment.

597B Separate trials

When 2 or more persons are charged in the same indictment, whether with the same offence or with different offences, the court may, at any time during the trial, on the application of any of the accused persons, direct that the trial of the accused persons or any of them shall be had separately from the trial of the other or others of them, and for that purpose may, if a jury has been sworn, discharge the jury from giving a verdict as to any of the accused persons.

Chapter division 9 Pleas

597C Accused person to be called on to plead to indictment

- (1) On the presentation of the indictment or at any later time, the accused person is to be informed in open court of the offence with which he or she is charged, as set forth in the indictment, and is to be called upon to plead to the indictment, and to say whether he or she is guilty or not guilty of the charge.
- (2) If the indictment contains more than one count, a plea to any number of counts may, with the consent of the accused person, be taken at one and the same time on the basis that the plea to one count will be treated as a plea to any number of similar counts on the same indictment.
- (3) The trial is deemed to begin and the accused person is deemed to be brought to trial when the person is so called upon.
- (4) The court may allow anything that must or may be done in relation to the arraignment of the accused person to be done over an audiovisual link or audio link, if the court considers use of the link is in the interests of justice.
- (4A) However, the court may not allow the use of an audiovisual link or audio link under subsection (4) if facilities mentioned in subsection (5A)(a) are not available at the court or the place where the accused person is present.
- (4B) For subsection (4), in deciding whether use of an audio link is in the interests of justice, the court must have regard to the desirability of an accused person's arraignment being done over an audiovisual link, rather than an audio link, if an audiovisual link is available.

- (5) For subsection (4), anything done, for the accused person's arraignment, over an audiovisual link or audio link between the person and the court sitting in open court is taken to be done in open court.
- (5A) If an accused person's arraignment is done over an audiovisual link or audio link and the person's representative in the proceeding is at the place where the court is sitting—
 - (a) the court and the place where the person is present must make facilities available for private communication between the person and the person's representative; and
 - (b) a communication between the person and the person's representative is as confidential and inadmissible in any proceeding as it would be if it took place between the person and the person's representative while in each other's presence.
- (5B) Subsection (5A)(b) does not limit any other protection applying to the communication.
- (6) The provisions of the Evidence Act 1977 relating to the use of an audiovisual link or audio link in criminal proceedings apply for, and are not limited by, subsection (4).

598 Pleas

- (1) If the accused person does not apply to quash the indictment or move for a separate trial of any count or counts of the indictment, the person must either plead to it, or demur to it on the ground that it does not disclose any offence cognisable by the court.
- (2) If the accused person pleads, the person may plead either—
 - (a) that the person is guilty of the offence charged in the indictment, or, with the consent of the Crown, of any other offence of which the person might be convicted upon the indictment; or

[s 599]

- (b) that the person is not guilty; or
 - (c) that the person has already been convicted upon an indictment on which the person might have been convicted of the offence with which the person is charged, or has already been convicted of an offence of which the person might be convicted upon the indictment; or
 - (d) that the person has already been acquitted upon an indictment on which the person might have been convicted of the offence with which the person is charged, or has already been acquitted upon indictment of an offence of which the person might be convicted upon the indictment; or
 - (e) that the person has already been tried and convicted or acquitted of an offence committed or alleged to be committed under such circumstances that the person can not under the provisions of this Code be tried for the offence charged in the indictment; or
 - (f) that the person has received the Royal pardon for the offence charged in the indictment; or
 - (g) that the court has no jurisdiction to try the person for the offence.
- (3) Two or more pleas may be pleaded together, except that the plea of guilty can not be pleaded with any other plea to the same charge.
- (4) An accused person may plead and demur together.

599 Defence of justification for defamation to be specially pleaded

A person charged with the offence defined in section 365, who sets up as a defence the modified statutory defence of justification within the meaning of that section, must plead that defence specially, and may plead it with any other plea, except the plea of guilty.

600 Persons committed for sentence

- (1) When a person has been committed by a justice for sentence for an offence, the person is to be called upon to plead to the indictment in the same manner as other persons, and may plead either that the person is guilty of the offence charged in the indictment or, with the consent of the Crown, of any other offence of which the person might be convicted upon the indictment.
- (2) If the person pleads not guilty, the court, upon being satisfied that the person duly admitted before the justice that the person was guilty of the offence charged in the indictment, is to direct a plea of guilty to be entered, notwithstanding the person's plea of not guilty.
- (3) A plea so entered has the same effect as if it had been actually pleaded.
- (4) If the court is not so satisfied, or if, notwithstanding that the accused person pleads guilty, it appears to the court upon examination of the depositions of the witnesses that the person has not in fact committed the offence charged in the indictment or any other offence of which the person might be convicted upon the indictment, the plea of not guilty is to be entered, and the trial is to proceed as in other cases when that plea is pleaded.
- (5) A person who has been committed for sentence may plead any of the other pleas mentioned in section 598.

601 Standing mute

- (1) If an accused person, on being called upon to plead to an indictment, will not plead or answer directly to the indictment, the court may, if it thinks fit, order a plea of not guilty to be entered on behalf of the accused person.
- (2) A plea so entered has the same effect as if it had been actually pleaded.

602 Plea of autrefois convict or autrefois acquit

In a plea that the accused person has already been convicted or acquitted, it is sufficient to state that the accused person has been lawfully convicted or acquitted, as the case may be, of the offence charged in the indictment, or of the other offence of which the person alleges that the person has been convicted or acquitted, and, in the latter case, to describe the offence by any term by which it is commonly known.

603 Trial on plea to the jurisdiction

Upon a plea to the jurisdiction of the court, the court is to proceed to satisfy itself in such manner and upon such evidence as it thinks fit, whether it has jurisdiction or not, and may ascertain the fact by the verdict of a jury or otherwise.

604 Trial by jury

- (1) Subject to chapter division 9A and subsection (2), if the accused person pleads any plea or pleas other than the plea of guilty, a plea of autrefois acquit or autrefois convict or a plea to the jurisdiction of the court, the person is by such plea, without any further form, deemed to have demanded that the issues raised by such plea or pleas shall be tried by a jury, and is entitled to have them tried accordingly.
- (2) Issues raised by a plea of autrefois acquit or autrefois convict must be tried by the court.

605 Demurrer

- (1) When an accused person demurs only and does not plead any plea, the court is to proceed to hear and determine the matter forthwith.
- (2) If the demurrer is overruled, the accused person is to be called upon to plead to the indictment.

- (3) When an accused person pleads and demurs together, it is in the discretion of the court whether the plea or demurrer shall be first disposed of.
- (4) No joinder in demurrer is necessary.

613 Want of understanding of accused person

- (1) If, when the accused person is called upon to plead to the indictment, it appears to be uncertain, for any reason, whether the person is capable of understanding the proceedings at the trial, so as to be able to make a proper defence, a jury of 12 persons, to be chosen from the panel of jurors, are to be empanelled forthwith, who are to be sworn to find whether the person is so capable or no.
- (2) If the jury find that the accused person is capable of understanding the proceedings, the trial is to proceed as in other cases.
- (3) If the jury find that the person is not so capable they are to say whether the person is so found by them for the reason that the accused person is of unsound mind or for some other reason which they shall specify, and the finding is to be recorded, and the court may order the accused person to be discharged, or may order the person to be admitted to an authorised mental health service to be dealt with under the Mental Health Act 2016.
- (4) A person so found to be incapable of understanding the proceedings at the trial may be again indicted and tried for the offence.

Chapter division 9A Trial by judge alone

614 Application for order

- (1) If an accused person is committed for trial on a charge of an offence or charged on indictment of an offence, the prosecutor or the accused person may apply to the court for an order (no jury order) that the accused person be tried by a judge sitting without a jury.

- (2) The application must be made under section 590AA before the trial begins.
- (3) If the identity of the trial judge is known to the parties when the application is decided, a no jury order may be made only if the court is satisfied there are special reasons for making it.
- (4) Subsection (3) does not limit section 615 or any other restriction on making a no jury order imposed by this chapter division.
- (5) The court may inform itself in any way it considers appropriate in relation to the application.
- (6) For subsection (2), the trial begins when the jury panel attends before the court.

615 Making a no jury order

- (1) The court may make a no jury order if it considers it is in the interests of justice to do so.
- (2) However, if the prosecutor applies for the no jury order, the court may only make the no jury order if the accused person consents to it.
- (3) If the accused person is not represented by a lawyer, the court must be satisfied that the accused person properly understands the nature of the application.
- (4) Without limiting subsection (1), (2) or (3), the court may make a no jury order if it considers that any of the following apply—
 - (a) the trial, because of its complexity or length or both, is likely to be unreasonably burdensome to a jury;
 - (b) there is a real possibility that acts that may constitute an offence under section 119B would be committed in relation to a member of a jury;

- (c) there has been significant pre-trial publicity that may affect jury deliberations.
- (5) Without limiting subsection (1), the court may refuse to make a no jury order if it considers the trial will involve a factual issue that requires the application of objective community standards including, for example, an issue of reasonableness, negligence, indecency, obscenity or dangerousness.

615A More than 1 charge or accused person

- (1) If an accused person is charged with 2 or more charges that are to be tried together, the court must not make a no jury order in relation to 1 of the charges unless the court also makes a no jury order in relation to each other charge.
- (2) If 2 or more accused persons are to be tried together, the court must not make a no jury order in relation to 1 of the accused persons unless the court also makes a no jury order in relation to each other accused person.
- (3) To remove any doubt, it is declared that—
 - (a) each of the accused persons must consent to the making of the no jury order; and
 - (b) the making of an order for a separate trial under section 597A or the giving of a direction about the separate trial of an accused person under section 597B does not prevent the making of a no jury order.

615B Law and procedure to be applied

- (1) In a trial by a judge sitting without a jury, the judge must apply, so far as is practicable, the same principles of law and procedure as would be applied in a trial before a jury.
- (2) In a trial by a judge sitting without a jury, the judge may view a place or thing.
- (3) If an Act or the common law—

[s 615C]

- (a) requires information or a warning or instruction to be given to the jury in particular circumstances; or
- (b) prohibits a warning from being given to a jury in particular circumstances;

the judge in a trial by a judge sitting without a jury must take the requirement or prohibition into account if the circumstances arise in the course of the trial.

615C Judge's verdict and judgment

- (1) In a trial by a judge sitting without a jury—
 - (a) the judge may make any findings and give any verdict that a jury could have made or given if the trial had been before a jury; and
 - (b) any finding or verdict of the judge has, for all purposes, the same effect as a finding or verdict of a jury.
- (2) Without limiting subsection (1), chapter 67 applies with all necessary changes in relation to a person to be tried, being tried, or tried by a judge sitting without a jury in the same way as it applies to persons tried by a judge sitting with a jury.
- (3) The judgment of the judge in a trial by a judge sitting without a jury must include the principles of law that he or she has applied and the findings of fact on which he or she has relied.
- (4) The validity of the proceeding is not affected by a trial judge's failure to comply with subsection (3).

615D Particular proceedings excluded from application

This chapter division does not apply to—

- (a) a trial on indictment before a Childrens Court judge; or

Note—

See also Youth Justice Act 1992, part 6.

- (b) a trial on indictment of any offence against a law of the Commonwealth.

615E References to trial by jury

- (1) In an Act, a reference to the trial of a person by jury, however expressed, includes, unless the contrary intention appears, a reference to the trial of the person by a judge sitting without a jury under this chapter division.
- (2) In an Act, a reference to a jury in the trial of a person, however expressed, includes, unless the contrary intention appears, a reference to a judge sitting without a jury under this chapter division.

Chapter division 10 Appearances and fair conduct

616 Defence by counsel

- (1) Every person charged with an offence is entitled to make the person's defence at the person's trial and to have the witnesses examined and cross-examined by the person's counsel.
- (2) In this section—
counsel includes any person entitled to audience as an advocate.

617 Presence of accused

- (1) Subject to this section the trial must take place in the presence of the accused person.
- (2) If an accused person so conducts himself or herself as to render the continuance of the proceedings in the person's presence impracticable, the court may order the person to be removed and may direct the trial to proceed in the person's absence.
- (3) Where 2 or more accused persons are charged in the 1 indictment, if it is made to appear to the court that any of them is unable to be present by reason of the person's illness or infirmity, the court may permit the person to be absent during the whole or any part of the trial if it is satisfied—

- (a) that the interests of the accused person will not be prejudiced by the trial proceeding in the person's absence; and
 - (b) that the interests of justice require that the trial should proceed in the person's absence.
- (4) The court may in any case permit a person charged with a misdemeanour to be absent during the whole or any part of the trial on such conditions as it thinks fit.
- (5) If an accused person absents himself or herself during the trial without leave, the court may direct a warrant to be issued to arrest the person and bring the person before the court forthwith.

617A Juries

The law respecting the qualifications of jurors and the summoning of jurors to attend for the trial of persons charged with indictable offences, and the challenges allowed to such persons, is set forth in the laws relating to juries and jurors.

Chapter division 11 Trial of issues

618 Evidence in defence

At the close of the evidence for the prosecution the proper officer of the court shall ask the accused person whether the person intends to adduce evidence in the person's defence.

619 Speeches by counsel

- (1) Before any evidence is given at the trial of an accused person the counsel for the Crown is entitled to address the jury for the purpose of opening the evidence intended to be adduced for the prosecution.

- (2) If the accused person or any of the accused persons, if more than 1, is defended by counsel, and if such counsel or any of such counsel says that the accused person does not intend to adduce evidence, the counsel for the Crown is entitled to address the jury a second time for the purpose of summing up the evidence already given against such accused person or persons for whom evidence is not intended to be adduced.
- (3) At the close of the evidence for the prosecution the accused person, and each of the accused persons, if more than 1, may by himself, herself or the person's counsel address the jury for the purpose of opening the evidence (if any) intended to be adduced for the defence, and after the whole of the evidence is given may again address the jury upon the whole case.
- (4) If evidence is adduced for an accused person, the counsel for the Crown is entitled to reply.
- (5) If evidence is adduced for 1 or more of several accused persons, but not for all of them, the counsel for the Crown is entitled to reply with respect to the person or persons by whom evidence is so adduced, but not with respect to the other or others of them.
- (6) However, a Crown Law Officer is entitled to reply in all cases, whether evidence is adduced by any accused person or not.

620 Summing up

- (1) After the evidence is concluded and the counsel or the accused person or persons, as the case may be, have addressed the jury, it is the duty of the court to instruct the jury as to the law applicable to the case, with such observations upon the evidence as the court thinks fit to make.
- (2) After the court has instructed the jury they are to consider their verdict.

624 Special verdict

In any case in which it appears to the court that the question whether an accused person ought or ought not to be convicted of an offence may depend upon some specific fact, or that the proper punishment to be awarded upon conviction may depend upon some specific fact, the court may require the jury to find that fact specially.

625 General verdict on charge of defamation

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 624, the jury, on the trial of a person charged with the offence defined in section 365, may give a general verdict of guilty or not guilty upon the whole matter in issue, in like manner as in other cases.

Chapter division 12 Other provisions

630 Procedure on charge of an offence committed after previous conviction

- (1) The proceedings upon an indictment for committing an offence after a previous conviction or convictions are required to be as follows, that is to say—
 - (a) the accused person is in the first instance to be called upon to plead to so much only of the indictment as charges the subsequent offence;
 - (b) if the accused person pleads any plea which raises an issue to be tried by a jury, the jury are to be charged in the first instance to inquire concerning the subsequent offence only;
 - (c) if the accused person pleads guilty, or if upon trial the accused person is convicted of the subsequent offence, the person is then, and not before, to be asked whether the person had been previously convicted as alleged in the indictment;

- (d) if the accused person answers that the person had been so previously convicted, the court may proceed to pass sentence upon the person accordingly;
 - (e) if the accused person denies that the person had been so previously convicted, or will not answer directly to the question, the jury are then to be charged to inquire concerning the previous conviction or convictions; and in that case it is not necessary that the jury should be sworn afresh, but the oath already taken by them is deemed to extend to such last mentioned inquiry.
- (2) However, if on the trial of a person charged with a subsequent offence, the person offers evidence of the person's good character, the Crown may, in answer thereto, and before any verdict is given, offer evidence of the person's conviction of the previous offence or offences, and in that case the jury are required to inquire concerning the previous conviction or convictions at the same time that they inquire concerning the subsequent offence.

631 Further pleas

- (1) When the issues raised by any plea or pleas, except the plea of not guilty, have been found against an accused person who has not pleaded the plea of not guilty, the person is to be called upon to plead afresh, and, if those issues have been tried by a jury, the court may direct the issues raised by any fresh plea to be tried by the same jury or by another jury.
- (2) If the court directs them to be tried by the same jury, it is not necessary that the jury should be sworn afresh, but the oath already taken by them is to be deemed to extend to the trial of such fresh issues.

631A Plea of guilty during trial

- (1) If, at any time before the jury returns its verdict, the accused person informs the court that—

[s 631A]

- (a) he or she wishes to change his or her plea to one of guilty of the offence charged in the indictment; or
 - (b) he or she wishes to plead guilty to any other offence of which he or she might be convicted upon the indictment; the court—
 - (c) in the case referred to in paragraph (a)—may direct that the accused person be again called upon in open court to plead to the indictment, and to say whether he or she is guilty or not guilty of the offence charged; or
 - (d) in the case referred to in paragraph (b)—may direct, with the consent of the Crown, that the accused person be called upon in open court to plead to any other offence of which he or she might be convicted upon the indictment, and to say whether he or she is guilty or not guilty of that offence.
- (1A) It is not necessary for the plea to be taken in the jury's presence.
 - (2) If the accused person does not plead guilty to the offence charged in the indictment or, in the circumstances described in subsection (1)(d), to another offence, the trial shall proceed.
 - (3) If the accused person pleads guilty to the offence charged in the indictment or, in the circumstances described in subsection (1)(d), to another offence, the jury shall be discharged from giving their verdict in respect of the offence charged in the indictment.
 - (4) A plea of guilty to an offence made by the accused person in the circumstances described in this section shall have effect as if made by him or her when called upon at the beginning of a trial to plead to an indictment charging him or her with that offence.

Chapter 63 Evidence—presumptions of fact

632 Corroboration

- (1) A person may be convicted of an offence on the uncorroborated testimony of 1 witness, unless this Code expressly provides to the contrary.

Note—

See sections 52 (Sedition), 125 (Evidence on charge of perjury) and 195 (Evidence).

- (2) On the trial of a person for an offence, a judge is not required by any rule of law or practice to warn the jury that it is unsafe to convict the accused on the uncorroborated testimony of 1 witness.
- (3) Subsection (1) or (2) does not prevent a judge from making a comment on the evidence given in the trial that it is appropriate to make in the interests of justice, but the judge must not warn or suggest in any way to the jury that the law regards any class of persons as unreliable witnesses.

Note for subsection (3)—

See also the Criminal Law (Sexual Offences) Act 1978, section 4A and the Evidence Act 1977, section 132BA.

634 Evidence on trials for perjury and subornation

On the trial of a person charged with an offence of which the giving of false testimony by any person at the trial of a person charged with an offence is an element, a certificate setting out the substance and effect only, without the formal parts, of the indictment or complaint, and the proceedings at the trial, and purporting to be signed by the officer having the custody of the records of the court where the indictment or complaint was tried, or by the officer's deputy, is sufficient evidence of the trial, without proof of the signature or official character of the person who appears to have signed the certificate.

635 Evidence of previous conviction

- (1) On the trial of a person charged with an offence alleged to have been committed after a previous conviction, a certificate setting out the substance and effect only, without the formal parts, of the indictment, verdict, and judgment, or of the complaint and conviction, purporting to be signed by the officer having the custody of the records of the court where the accused person was first convicted, or by the officer's deputy is, upon proof of the identity of the person of the offender, sufficient evidence of the conviction, without proof of the signature or official character of the person who appears to have signed the certificate.
- (2) If the previous conviction was a summary conviction, the conviction is presumed not to have been appealed against until the contrary is shown.

636 Evidence of blood relationship

- (1) In this section—

blood relationship means the blood relationship existing between a person charged with a prescribed offence and the person in respect of whom or, as the case may be, with whom a prescribed offence is alleged to have been committed.

prescribed offence means an offence—

- (a) defined in section 222; or
 - (b) defined in section 210 or 216(2) where it is alleged as a circumstance of aggravation that the offence was committed in respect of a child under the age of 16 years who is the lineal descendant of the person charged.
- (2) On the trial of a person charged with a prescribed offence—
 - (a) blood relationship is sufficiently proved by proof that the relationship is reputed to exist and it is not necessary to prove that the person charged or the person in respect of whom or with whom the prescribed offence is alleged to have been committed or any person (living or dead) upon whom the blood relationship depends was born in lawful wedlock; and

- (b) the person charged is, until the contrary is proved, presumed to have had knowledge at the time the prescribed offence is alleged to have been committed of the blood relationship.

638 Evidence of authority

The averment in an indictment that the prosecution is instituted by the direction of or with the consent of a Crown Law Officer, or with the consent of the Attorney-General, or with the consent of the director of public prosecutions, or at the request of the Government of any State, is sufficient evidence of the fact, until the contrary is shown.

639 Averments about public officers and public service officers or employees

On the trial of a person charged with any offence of which the fact that some person was at some particular time a public officer or public service officer or employee is an element, the averment in the indictment or complaint that any person therein mentioned was a public officer or public service officer or employee at any time therein stated is sufficient evidence of the fact, until the contrary is shown.

641 Evidence on certain charges of stealing money

- (1) On the trial of a person charged with stealing, while employed in the public service, money which was the property of the Sovereign, or which came into the person's possession by virtue of the person's employment, or charged with stealing, while a clerk or servant, money which was the property of the person's employer or which came into the person's possession on account of the person's employer or being a trustee within the meaning of the Trust Accounts Act 1973 charged with stealing money of which the person is a trustee on behalf of any other person, an entry in any book of account kept by the accused person, or kept in, under, or subject to, the person's charge or supervision, purporting to be an entry of the receipt of any money, is evidence that the money so purporting to have been received was so received by the person.

- (2) On the trial of a person charged with any such offence, it is not necessary to prove the stealing by the accused person of any specific sum of money, if, on examination of the books of account or entries kept or made by the person, or kept or made in, under, or subject to, the person's charge or supervision, or by any other evidence, there is proof of a general deficiency, and if the jury are satisfied that the accused person stole the deficient money or any part of it.
- (3) And on the trial of a person charged with any offence as a trustee referred to in subsection (1), the ownership of or the right, title, use or benefit in, to or of the money the subject matter of the charge may be laid in the indictment in the name of any one or other of the persons (the beneficiaries) of whose money the person charged is the trustee as aforesaid specifying any one of the beneficiaries by name with the addition of the words 'and others', and it is immaterial whether or not the evidence establishes that the said money was the property of any specific one of the beneficiaries, or that the right, title, use or benefit in, to or of the said money was in any specific one of the beneficiaries and the indictment will be sustained so far as regards that allegation upon proof that the property in, or the right, title, use or benefit in, to or of the money was in one or other of the beneficiaries without ascertaining which of them.
- (4) For subsection (1) or (3), the reference to a trustee within the meaning of the Trust Accounts Act 1973 includes a legal practitioner associate of a law practice, within the meaning of the Legal Profession Act 2007, if part 3.3 of the Legal Profession Act 2007 applies to the law practice.

642 Evidence on charges relating to seals and stamps

On the trial of a person charged with any offence relating to any seal or stamp used for the purposes of the public revenue, or of the post office, in any part of the Sovereign's dominions or in any foreign state, a dispatch from 1 of the Sovereign's Principal Secretaries of State, transmitting to the Governor any stamp, mark, or impression, and stating it to be a genuine stamp, mark, or impression, of a die, plate, or other instrument, provided, made, or used, by or under the direction of the proper authority of the country in question for the purpose of expressing or denoting any stamp duty or postal charge, is admissible as evidence of the facts stated in the dispatch; and the stamp, mark, or impression, so transmitted may be used by the court and jury and by witnesses for the purposes of comparison.

643 Intention to injure, deceive or defraud

On the trial of a person charged with any offence of which an intent to injure or deceive or defraud, or an intent to enable another person to deceive or defraud, is an element, it is not necessary to prove an intent to injure or deceive or defraud any particular person, or an intent to enable any particular person to deceive or defraud any particular person.

644 Admissions

- (1) An accused person may by himself, herself or the person's counsel admit on the trial any fact alleged against the person, and such admission is sufficient proof of the fact without other evidence.
- (2) The Crown may by its counsel admit on the trial of an accused any fact relevant to the trial where the accused is in agreement with this being done, and such admission is sufficient proof of the fact without other evidence.
- (3) In this section—

[s 644A]

trial also includes, and it is hereby declared to have always included, proceedings before justices dealing summarily with an indictable offence.

644A Witness giving incriminating answers

- (1) A person who is called as a witness in any proceeding for an offence against section 59, 60, 87, 98C, 101, 118, 120, 121, 122, 127 or 133, must not be excused from answering any question relating to the offence on the ground that the answer to the question may incriminate or tend to incriminate himself or herself.
- (2) An answer to a question in a proceeding to which this section applies is not admissible in evidence against the person giving the answer other than in the proceeding or in a prosecution for perjury in respect of the answer.

Chapter 63A Non-attendance of witness

644B Non-attendance of individual

- (1) This section applies if an individual fails to comply with a subpoena or order of a court requiring attendance to give evidence or produce a document or thing to the court or a person having authority to take evidence for the court.
- (2) The court may make an order for the issue of a warrant for—
 - (a) the arrest of the individual; and
 - (b) the production of the individual as required by the subpoena or order for the purpose of the proceeding; and
 - (c) the detention in custody of the individual until released by the court.

- (3) The court may order an individual who did not attend as required by the subpoena or order to pay the costs and expenses wasted by, or resulting from, noncompliance with the subpoena or order.

644C Non-attendance of corporation

- (1) This section applies if a corporation or an officer of the corporation fails to comply with a subpoena or order of a court requiring attendance to give evidence or produce a document or thing to the court or a person having authority to take evidence for the court.
- (2) The court may make an order for the issue of a warrant for—
 - (a) the arrest of the officer of the corporation to whom the subpoena or order was directed; and
 - (b) the production of the officer as required by the subpoena or order for the purpose of the proceeding; and
 - (c) the detention in custody of the officer until released by the court.
- (3) However, if the subpoena or order was directed to the ‘proper officer’ of the corporation, the court may make an order for the issue of a warrant for the arrest of a particular officer only if it is proved the officer had received the subpoena or order, or otherwise had actual knowledge of it.
- (4) The court may order a corporation that did not attend as required by the subpoena or order to pay the costs and expenses wasted by, or resulting from, noncompliance with the subpoena or order.

644D Noncompliance is contempt of court

- (1) Failure to comply with a subpoena without lawful excuse is contempt of court and a person who fails to comply may be dealt with for contempt of court.

- (2) Nothing in section 644B or 644C affects a court's power to punish for contempt.

Chapter 64 Verdict—judgment

645 Accused person insane during trial

- (1) If on the trial of any person charged with an indictable offence it is alleged or appears that the person is not of sound mind, the jury are to be required to consider the matter, and if the jury find that the person is not of sound mind, the finding is to be recorded, and thereupon the court is required to order the person to be admitted to an authorised mental health service to be dealt with under the Mental Health Act 2016.
- (2) A person so found to be not of sound mind may be again indicted and tried for the offence.

646 Discharge of persons acquitted

If the jury find that the accused person is not guilty, or give any other verdict which shows that the person is not liable to punishment, the person is entitled to be discharged from the charge of which the person is so acquitted.

647 Acquittal on ground of insanity

- (1) However, if, on the trial of a person charged with any indictable offence, it is alleged or appears that the person was not of sound mind at the time when the act or omission alleged to constitute the offence occurred, the jury are to be required to find specially, if they find that the person is not guilty, whether the person was of unsound mind at the time when such act or omission took place, and to say whether the person is acquitted by them on account of such unsoundness of mind; and if they find that the person was of unsound mind at the time when such act or omission took place, and say that the person is acquitted by them on account of such unsoundness of mind, the court is required to order the person to be admitted to an authorised mental health service to be dealt with under the Mental Health Act 2016.

- (2) In any such case the Governor, in the name of the Sovereign, may give such order for the safe custody of such person during the Governor's pleasure, in such place of confinement, and in such manner, as the Governor in Council may think fit.

648 Convicted person to be called on to show cause

When an accused person pleads that the person is guilty of any offence, and when, upon trial, an accused person is convicted of any offence, the proper officer is required to ask the person whether the person has anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon the person, but an omission to do so does not invalidate the judgment.

649 Arrest of judgment

- (1) A person convicted of an indictable offence, whether on the person's plea of guilty or otherwise, may at any time before sentence move that judgment be arrested on the ground that the indictment does not disclose any offence.
- (2) Upon the hearing of the motion the court may allow any such amendments of the indictment as it might have allowed before verdict.
- (3) The court may either hear and determine the motion forthwith or may reserve the question of law for the consideration of the Court of Appeal as hereinafter provided.

650 Sentence

If a motion to arrest the judgment is not made or is dismissed, the court may pass sentence upon the offender forthwith or make any other order it may make by law instead of passing sentence.

651 Court may decide summary offences if a person is charged on indictment

- (1) If an indictment has been presented against a person before a court, the court may also, subject to section 652(2) to (4) and subsection (2), hear and decide summarily any charge of a summary offence that has been laid against the person.
- (2) The court must not hear and decide the summary offence unless—
 - (a) the court considers it appropriate to do so; and
 - (b) the accused person is represented by a lawyer; and
 - (c) the Crown and the accused consent to the court so doing; and
 - (d) the accused person states his or her intention of entering a plea of guilty to the charge; and
 - (e) the complaint or bench charge sheet for the offence, or a copy, is before the court, whether or not returnable before another court.
- (3) Subject to this section, the practices of the court and the express provisions of this Code relating to taking a plea on an indictment apply to the taking of a plea to the charge in a complaint or bench charge sheet.
- (4) On convicting the person of the summary offence, the court may make any orders in relation to the conviction a Magistrates Court may make.
- (5) The power to make rules for the court extends to the making of rules in relation to the practice and procedure to be applied in the hearing and decision summarily of summary offences by the court.

- (6) If the court hears and decides a charge summarily, the court has jurisdiction despite the time that has elapsed from the time when the matter of complaint of the charge arose.
- (7) In this section—
summary offence means—
 - (a) a simple or regulatory offence; or
 - (b) an offence for which—
 - (i) proceedings for a charge of the offence may be taken summarily under the Drugs Misuse Act 1986; and
 - (ii) the prosecution has made an election under section 118 of that Act; or
 - (c) an indictable offence against this Code if, under section 552A, the prosecution has elected to have a charge for the offence heard and decided summarily; or
 - (d) an indictable offence against this Code if, under section 552BA, the charge for the offence must be heard and decided summarily.

652 Proceedings to transmit charge for summary offence

- (1) A charge for a summary offence may be transmitted to the registry of a court for the purpose of the charge being dealt with under section 651 at any time despite any limitation in any Act as to the time for commencing proceedings for a summary offence.
- (2) If a person charged with committing a summary offence wishes to have the offence heard and decided under section 651, the person must make written application to the clerk of the relevant court of summary jurisdiction to take any necessary steps to transmit the relevant complaint or bench charge sheet to the registrar of the court that is to deal with the charge under section 651 (the receiving court).

[s 653]

- (3) An application under subsection (2) must be a written statement containing at least the following information—
 - (a) the charge to be transmitted;
 - (b) the defendant's intention to plead guilty to the offence charged;
 - (c) that the defendant wishes to have the charge transmitted for no other reason than to plead guilty to the charge before the receiving court.
- (4) On being satisfied that the application fulfils the requirements of this section the clerk of the relevant court of summary jurisdiction must transmit, by any secure and expeditious means, the relevant complaint or bench charge sheet, or a copy, to the registrar of the receiving court.
- (5) On the final decision of the transmitted charge by the receiving court, the registrar of the court must, within 1 calendar month, notify the result of the decision to the clerk of the relevant court of summary jurisdiction from which the charge was transmitted and no further appearance is required in that court by any party to the proceeding.

653 Remission of proceedings to court exercising summary jurisdiction

- (1) This section applies if a charge against a person for a summary offence has been transmitted to the registry of a court for the purpose of the charge being dealt with under section 651.
- (2) If—
 - (a) the person states an intention of entering a plea of not guilty before the court to the charge or enters a plea of not guilty before the court to the charge; or
 - (b) any of the conditions mentioned in section 651(2) are not satisfied; or

- (c) the person has been dealt with on the indictment mentioned in section 651(1) before the charge for the summary offence is brought before the court; or
- (d) for any other reason the court decides not to deal with the charge;

the court must direct that the charge must be heard by a court exercising summary jurisdiction and order the court registrar to send the relevant court record to the registrar of the court exercising summary jurisdiction.

659 Effect of summary conviction for indictable offences

When a person has been summarily convicted of an indictable offence, the conviction is to be deemed a conviction of a simple offence only, and not of an indictable offence.

Chapter 65 Costs

660 Costs of prosecution in certain cases

- (1) When a person is convicted on indictment of any indictable offence relating to the person of any person, the court, on the application of the person aggrieved by the offence, may, in addition to any sentence which is passed upon the offender, adjudge the offender to pay to the person aggrieved the person's costs of prosecution, together with a sum by way of compensation for any loss of time suffered by the person by reason of the offence of which the offender is convicted.
- (2) An order for the payment of such costs, or of any sum so awarded by way of compensation, may be enforced in the same manner as a judgment of the court given in an action.
- (3) If any money was found on the person of the offender on the offender's arrest, the court may order it to be applied towards the payment of any money so ordered to be paid by the offender.

- (4) When an order is made under the provisions of this section for the payment of money by way of compensation to an aggrieved person, the offender is not liable to any civil proceedings for the same cause at the suit of that person.

662 Taxation

- (1) Costs of a prosecution or defence must be taxed by the proper officer of the court in which the indictment is presented.
- (2) In this section—

costs of defence includes costs incurred by the accused person both before and after the person's committal.

costs of prosecution includes costs incurred by the person aggrieved in order to the committal of the offender, and costs incurred by the person with the consent of the Crown for the purposes of the trial.

Chapter 67 Appeals, subsequent appeals and pardons

Chapter division 1 Preliminary

668 Definitions for chapter

- (1) In this chapter—

appellant includes a person who has been convicted and desires to appeal, or to make a subsequent appeal, under this chapter.

Court means the Court of Appeal.

court of trial means any court from whose finding, sentence, or other determination a person is by this Act entitled—

- (a) to appeal or to apply for leave to appeal; or
- (b) to apply for leave to make a subsequent appeal.

registrar means the registrar of the Court.

sentence includes any order made by the court of trial on conviction of a person with reference to the person's person or property whether or not the person is adversely affected thereby and whether or not the order is made instead of passing sentence.

subsequent appeal means an appeal under section 671AC(2).

- (2) The power of the Court to pass any sentence includes a power to make any such order.
- (3) For the purposes of this chapter a person acquitted on the ground of insanity, where such insanity was not set up as a defence by the person, shall be deemed to be a person convicted, and any order to keep the person in custody shall be deemed to be a sentence.

Chapter division 2 References, reservations and appeals

668AA Application of chapter division

This chapter division does not apply to a subsequent appeal.

668A Reference by Crown Law Officer of pre-trial direction or ruling

- (1) A Crown Law Officer may refer to the Court for its consideration and opinion a point of law that has arisen in relation to a direction or ruling under section 590AA given by another court as to the conduct of a trial or pre-trial hearing.

[s 668B]

- (2) If a reference is made—
- (a) the Crown Law Officer must give notice of the reference to the other court and the accused person; and
 - (b) the other court—
 - (i) must adjourn the trial until the Court has given its opinion on the point; and
 - (ii) may make the other orders it considers appropriate, including an order about remanding the accused person; and
 - (c) the Court must hear argument on the reference—
 - (i) by the Crown Law Officer; and
 - (ii) by the accused person if the accused person wishes; and
 - (d) after hearing argument on the reference, the Court—
 - (i) must consider the point referred and give the Crown Law Officer its opinion on the point; and
 - (ii) may make the orders it considers appropriate, including the directions or rulings it considers appropriate to give effect to its opinion.
- (3) In this section—
- adjourn, for a trial where the accused person has not been called on to plead to the indictment, includes postpone the trial.

668B Reservation of points of law

- (1) When any person is indicted for any indictable offence, the court of trial must, on the application of counsel for the accused person made before verdict, and may in its discretion, either before or after judgment, without such application, reserve any question of law which arises on the trial for the consideration of the Court.

- (2) If the accused person is convicted, and a question of law has been so reserved before judgment, the court of trial may either pronounce judgment on the conviction and respite execution of the judgment, or postpone the judgment until the question has been considered and decided, and may either commit the person convicted to prison or grant bail to the person conditioned to appear at such time and place as the court of trial may direct, and to attend in execution of, or to receive judgment, as the case may be.
- (3) The judge of the court of trial is thereupon required to state, in a case signed by the judge, the question of law so reserved, with the special circumstances upon which it arose; and the case is to be transmitted to the Court.
- (4) Any question so reserved is to be heard and determined as an appeal by the Court.
- (5) The Court may send the case back to be amended or restated if it thinks it necessary so to do.

668C Appeal from arrest of judgment

- (1) When the court of trial before which a person is convicted on indictment arrests judgment, the court is required, on the application of counsel for the prosecution, to reserve a case for the consideration of the Court as hereinbefore provided.
- (2) On the hearing of the case the Court may affirm or reverse the order arresting judgment.
- (3) If the order is reversed, the Court is to direct that judgment be pronounced upon the offender, and the offender is to be ordered to appear at such time and place as the Court may direct to receive judgment, and any justice may issue a warrant for the arrest of the offender.
- (4) An offender so arrested may be granted bail by order of the Court or a judge thereof, which may be made at the time when the order directing judgment to be pronounced is made, or afterwards.

668D Right of appeal

- (1) A person convicted on indictment, or a person convicted of a summary offence by a court under section 651, may appeal to the Court—
 - (a) against the person's conviction on any ground which involves a question of law alone; and
 - (b) with the leave of the Court, or upon the certificate of the judge of the court of trial that it is a fit case for appeal, against the person's conviction on any ground of appeal which involves a question of fact alone, or question of mixed law and fact, or any other ground which appears to the Court to be a sufficient ground of appeal; and
 - (c) with the leave of the Court, against the sentence passed on the person's conviction.
- (2) A person summarily convicted under section 651 may appeal to the court, with the leave of the court, against the sentence passed on conviction, including any order made under that section.

668E Determination of appeal in ordinary cases

- (1) The Court on any such appeal against conviction shall allow the appeal if it is of opinion that the verdict of the jury should be set aside on the ground that it is unreasonable, or can not be supported having regard to the evidence, or that the judgment of the court of trial should be set aside on the ground of the wrong decision of any question of law, or that on any ground whatsoever there was a miscarriage of justice, and in any other case shall dismiss the appeal.
- (1A) However, the Court may, notwithstanding that it is of the opinion that the point or points raised by the appeal might be decided in favour of the appellant, dismiss the appeal if it considers that no substantial miscarriage of justice has actually occurred.

- (2) Subject to the special provisions of this chapter, the Court shall, if it allows an appeal against conviction, quash the conviction and direct a judgment and verdict of acquittal to be entered.
- (3) On an appeal against a sentence, the Court, if it is of opinion that some other sentence, whether more or less severe, is warranted in law and should have been passed, shall quash the sentence and pass such other sentence in substitution therefor, and in any other case shall dismiss the appeal.
- (4) In subsection (1), if an appellant has been convicted of an offence in the court of trial by a judge sitting without a jury, a reference to the jury is taken to be a reference to the judge.

668F Powers of Court in special cases

- (1) If it appears to the Court that an appellant, though not properly convicted on some count or part of the indictment, has been properly convicted on some other count or part of the indictment, the Court may either affirm the sentence passed at the trial or pass such sentence, whether more or less severe, in substitution therefor, as it thinks proper, and as may be warranted in law by the conviction on the count or part of the indictment on which it considers the appellant has been properly convicted.
- (2) Where an appellant has been convicted of an offence, and the jury could on the indictment have found the appellant guilty of some other offence, and on the finding of the jury it appears to the Court that the jury must have been satisfied of facts which proved the appellant guilty of that other offence, the Court may, instead of allowing or dismissing the appeal, substitute for the verdict found by the jury a verdict of guilty of that other offence, and pass such sentence in substitution for the sentence passed at the trial as may be warranted in law for that other offence, not being a sentence of greater severity.
- (3) Where, on the conviction of the appellant, the jury have found a special verdict, and the Court considers that a wrong conclusion has been arrived at by the court of trial on the effect of that verdict, the Court may, instead of allowing the appeal, order such conclusion to be recorded as appears to the Court to be in law required by the verdict, and pass such sentence, whether more or less severe, in substitution for the sentence passed at the trial, as may be warranted in law.

- (4) If on any appeal it appears to the Court that, although the appellant committed the act or made the omission charged against the appellant, the appellant was not of sound mind at the time when the act or omission alleged to constitute the offence occurred, so as not to be responsible therefor according to law, the Court may quash the sentence passed at the trial, and order the appellant to be admitted to an authorised mental health service to be dealt with under the Mental Health Act 2016 in the same manner as if a jury had found that fact specially under section 647.
- (5) In subsection (2), if an appellant has been convicted of an offence in the court of trial by a judge sitting without a jury, a reference to the jury is taken to be a reference to the judge.

669 Power to grant new trial

- (1) On an appeal against a conviction on indictment, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of the appellant, order a new trial in such manner as it thinks fit, if the Court considers that a miscarriage of justice has occurred, and that, having regard to all the circumstances, such miscarriage of justice can be more adequately remedied by an order for a new trial than by any other order which the Court is empowered to make.
- (2) If the Court makes an order for a new trial and the appellant is not granted bail, the order is taken to be a warrant for the appellant's detention under the Corrective Services Act 2006, section 9(1)(a).

669A Appeal by Attorney-General or Crown Law Officer

- (1) The Attorney-General may appeal to the Court against any sentence pronounced by—
 - (a) the court of trial; or
 - (b) a court of summary jurisdiction in a case where an indictable offence is dealt with summarily by that court;and the Court may in its unfettered discretion vary the sentence and impose such sentence as to the Court seems proper.
- (1A) A Crown Law Officer may appeal to the Court against an order staying proceedings or further proceedings on an indictment.
- (2) The Attorney-General may refer any point of law that has arisen at the trial upon indictment of a person in relation to any charge contained therein to the Court for its consideration and opinion thereon if the person charged has been—
 - (a) acquitted of the charge; or
 - (b) discharged in respect of that charge after counsel for the Crown, as a result of a determination of the court of trial on that point of law, has duly informed the court that the Crown will not further proceed upon the indictment in relation to that charge; or
 - (c) convicted, following a determination of the court of trial on that point of law—
 - (i) of a charge other than the charge that was under consideration when the point of law arose; or
 - (ii) of the same charge with or without a circumstance of aggravation.
- (2A) The Attorney-General may refer to the Court for its consideration and opinion a point of law that has arisen at the summary trial of a charge of an indictable offence, if the person charged has been—
 - (a) acquitted of the charge at the summary trial; or

[s 669A]

- (b) discharged on the charge after the prosecution, because of a decision on the point of law by the court of trial, indicates to the court that it will not further proceed on the charge in the proceeding before the court; or
- (c) convicted, following a determination of the court of trial on that point of law—
 - (i) of a charge other than the charge that was under consideration when the point of law arose; or
 - (ii) of the same charge with or without a circumstance of aggravation.
- (3) Notice of the reference shall be given to the person acquitted or, as the case may be, discharged.
- (4) Upon the reference the Court shall hear argument—
 - (a) by the Attorney-General or by counsel on the Attorney-General's behalf; and
 - (b) if the person so desires, by the person acquitted or discharged or by counsel on his or her behalf;and thereupon shall consider the point referred and furnish to the Attorney-General its opinion thereon.
- (5) Where the reference relates to a trial in which the person charged has been acquitted or convicted, the reference shall not affect the trial of nor the acquittal or conviction of the person.
- (6) If a person convicted summarily of an indictable offence appeals to a District Court judge under the Justices Act 1886, section 222 or the Youth Justice Act 1992, part 6, division 9, subdivision 3, and, in relation to the same conviction, the Attorney-General appeals under this section—
 - (a) the convicted person's appeal is, by force of this section, removed to the Court of Appeal; and
 - (b) both appeals must be heard together by the Court of Appeal.
- (7) In this section—

discharged includes the dismissal or striking out of a charge at a summary trial.

670 Revesting and restitution of property on conviction

- (1) Subject to section 134 of the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, the operation of any order for the restitution of any property, or for the payment of compensation to an aggrieved person, made by the court of trial, and the operation of the provisions of section 26(1) of the Sale of Goods Act 1896 as to the revesting of the property in stolen goods on conviction, shall (unless such court directs to the contrary in any case in which in its opinion the title to the property is not in dispute) be suspended—

- (a) until the expiration of the time provided for appealing to the Court; and
- (b) where notice of appeal or of application for leave to appeal is given within the time provided, until the determination of the appeal or refusal of the application or, where the appeal is by the Attorney-General against sentence within the time provided, until the determination of that appeal; and in cases where the operation of any such order or the operation of the said provisions is suspended until the determination of the appeal, the order or provisions, as the case may be, shall not take effect as to the property in question if the conviction is quashed on appeal, except by the special order of the Court.

- (2) The Court may annul or vary any such order, although the conviction is not quashed.
- (3) Where any matter arises before the Court in relation to the operation or suspension of the operation of any such order as aforesaid or the operation or suspension of the operation of such provisions as aforesaid, the person in whose favour the order is made or the person benefiting from the operation of the said provisions, as the case may be, may appear in person, or by the person's counsel or solicitor, before the Court and there make submissions in connection with such matter.

671 Time for appealing

- (1) Any person convicted desiring to appeal to the Court, or to obtain the leave of the Court to appeal from any conviction or sentence, shall give notice of appeal or notice of application for leave to appeal, in the prescribed manner, within 1 calendar month of the date of such conviction or sentence.
- (2) An appeal to the Court by the Attorney-General against sentence shall be made within 1 calendar month of the date of such sentence.
- (3) The time within which notice of appeal, or notice of an application for leave to appeal, may be given or within which the Attorney-General may appeal against sentence may be extended at any time by the Court.

Chapter division 3 Subsequent appeals

671AA Definitions for chapter division

In this chapter division—

fresh and compelling evidence see section 671AB.

new and compelling evidence see section 671AB.

671AB Fresh and compelling evidence and new and compelling evidence—meanings

- (1) This section applies for the purpose of deciding under this chapter division whether there is fresh and compelling evidence or new and compelling evidence.
- (2) Evidence is fresh if—

- (a) the evidence was not adduced in the proceedings in the court of trial before which the appellant was convicted; and
- (b) either—
 - (i) the evidence could not have been adduced in the proceedings in the court of trial with the exercise of reasonable diligence by the defence; or
 - (ii) the evidence could have been adduced in the proceedings in the court of trial with the exercise of reasonable diligence by the defence but was not because of the incompetence or negligence of a lawyer acting for the appellant in those proceedings.
- (3) For subsection (2)(b)(i), the defence is taken not to have failed to exercise reasonable diligence in relation to the evidence if—
 - (a) the prosecution failed to comply with the prosecution’s obligation mentioned in section 590AB(1) in relation to the evidence; and
 - (b) the defence did not discover the evidence only because of the failure to comply with that obligation.
- (4) Evidence is new if—
 - (a) the evidence was not adduced in the proceedings in the court of trial before which the appellant was convicted; and
 - (b) the evidence could have been adduced in the proceedings in the court of trial with the exercise of reasonable diligence by the defence.
- (5) Under this chapter division, evidence that is both fresh evidence and new evidence is taken to only be fresh evidence.
- (6) Evidence is compelling if—
 - (a) the evidence is reliable; and
 - (b) the evidence is substantial; and

[s 671AC]

- (c) the evidence—
 - (i) is highly probative in the context of the issues that were in dispute in the proceedings in the court of trial before which the appellant was convicted; or
 - (ii) would have substantially weakened the case for the prosecution in the proceedings in the court of trial.
- (7) Evidence that would be admissible under this chapter division is not precluded from being fresh and compelling evidence or new and compelling evidence merely because it would have been inadmissible—
 - (a) in the proceedings in the court of trial before which the appellant was convicted; or
 - (b) in earlier proceedings in the Court for an appeal or subsequent appeal against the appellant's conviction.
- (8) In this section, the defence is the appellant or a lawyer acting for the appellant in proceedings in the court of trial before which the appellant was convicted.

671AC Right of subsequent appeal

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) a person appealed, or applied for leave to appeal, against a conviction of the person under section 668D; and
 - (b) the Court, under chapter division 2—
 - (i) refused to grant leave to appeal; or
 - (ii) dismissed the appeal in whole or in part; or
 - (iii) determined the appeal and dealt with the person under section 668F.
- (2) The person may make a subsequent appeal to the Court, with the leave of the Court, against the person's conviction on a ground that there is fresh and compelling evidence or new and compelling evidence.

- (3) Also, the person may make a subsequent appeal under subsection (2) if—
 - (a) the Court has, under this chapter division, refused to grant an earlier application for leave to make a subsequent appeal; or
 - (b) the Court has, under this chapter division, dismissed an earlier subsequent appeal in whole or in part.
 - (4) The Court may give its leave to make a subsequent appeal at any time it considers necessary or desirable.

671AD Evidence in proceedings for subsequent appeal

- (1) This section applies in relation to proceedings in the Court for a subsequent appeal, or leave to make a subsequent appeal, against an appellant's conviction.
- (2) Evidence is not inadmissible in the proceedings merely because it would have been inadmissible—
 - (a) in the proceedings in the court of trial before which the appellant was convicted; or
 - (b) in earlier proceedings in the Court for an appeal or subsequent appeal against the appellant's conviction.

671AE Determination of subsequent appeal

- (1) For a subsequent appeal against an appellant's conviction on a ground of fresh and compelling evidence, the Court must allow the subsequent appeal if it is of the opinion that there was a miscarriage of justice.
- (2) However, the Court may, even if it is of the opinion that the point or points raised by a subsequent appeal on a ground of fresh and compelling evidence might be decided in favour of the appellant, dismiss the subsequent appeal if it considers that no substantial miscarriage of justice has actually occurred.

[s 671AF]

- (3) For a subsequent appeal against an appellant's conviction on a ground of new and compelling evidence, the Court must allow the subsequent appeal if, on the balance of probabilities, it is of the opinion that, in considering all of the evidence, the appellant was not guilty of the offence of which the appellant was convicted.
- (4) Also, if for any subsequent appeal the Court considers the subsequent appeal to be a special case under section 668F, the Court may deal with the appellant under section 668F, despite section 668AA, as if the subsequent appeal were an appeal against conviction under chapter division 2.
- (5) The Court must, if a subsequent appeal is not determined under subsection (1), (3) or (4), dismiss the subsequent appeal.

671AF Directions, orders etc. on allowed subsequent appeal

- (1) If the Court allows a subsequent appeal under section 671AE, the Court must quash the appellant's conviction and direct a judgment and verdict of acquittal to be entered.
- (2) However, if the Court considers, for a subsequent appeal allowed under section 671AE(1), that there is a miscarriage of justice that can be more adequately remedied by an order for a new trial than by any other order, the Court may order a new trial in the way the Court considers appropriate.
- (3) If the Court makes an order for a new trial and the appellant is not granted bail, the order is taken to be a warrant for the appellant's detention under the Corrective Services Act 2006, section 9(1)(a).

Chapter division 4 Other provisions for appeals and subsequent appeals

671A Judge's notes and report to be furnished on appeal

- (1) The judge of the court of trial shall, in the case of any appeal or application for leave to appeal, furnish to the registrar the judge's notes of the trial, and also a report giving the judge's opinion upon the case or upon any point arising in the case.
- (2) However, where shorthand notes have been taken in accordance with this chapter, a transcript of such notes may be furnished in lieu of such judge's notes.
- (3) This section does not apply to a subsequent appeal.

671B Supplemental powers

- (1) The Court may, if it thinks it necessary or expedient in the interests of justice—
 - (a) order the production of any document, exhibit, or other thing connected with the proceedings of the Court; and
 - (b) order any persons who would have been compellable witnesses at the trial to attend and be examined before the Court, whether they were or were not called at the trial, or order any such persons to be examined before any judge of the Court, or before any officer of the Court, or justice, or other person appointed by the Court for the purpose, and admit any depositions so taken as evidence; and
 - (c) receive the evidence, if tendered, of any witness (including the appellant) who is a competent, but not a compellable, witness; and
 - (d) receive any other evidence; and
 - (e) where any question arising on the appeal or subsequent appeal involves prolonged examination of documents or accounts, or any scientific or local investigation, which can not, in the opinion of the Court, be conveniently conducted before the Court, refer the question for inquiry and report to a commissioner appointed by the Court, and act upon the report of such commissioner so far as the Court thinks fit; and

- (f) appoint any person with special expert knowledge to act as assessor to the Court in any case in which it appears to the Court that such special knowledge is required for the determination of the case; and
- (g) order the appellant or Crown Law Officer to give further particulars for a ground of the appeal or subsequent appeal; and
- (h) strike out a ground of the appeal or subsequent appeal in which the Court considers the particulars are inadequate and not consider the matters in relation to the ground for the proceedings; and
- (i) amend or add a ground of appeal or subsequent appeal against a conviction; and exercise in relation to the proceedings of the Court any other powers which may for the time being be exercised by the Supreme Court on appeals or applications in civil matters, and issue any warrant or other process necessary for enforcing the orders or sentences of the Court.

- (2) However, in no case shall any sentence be increased by reason of or in consideration of any evidence that was not given at the trial.
- (3) Subject to this chapter, the general rules may provide that any application under subsection (1)(a), (b), (e) or (f) may be heard and determined by a judge of the Court.

671D Right of appellant to be present

- (1) An appellant, notwithstanding that the appellant is in custody, shall be entitled to be present if the appellant desires it, on the hearing of the appellant's appeal or subsequent appeal.

- (1A) However, the appellant is not entitled to be present, without leave of the Court, for any of the following—
- (a) an appeal on some ground involving a question of law alone;
 - (b) an application for leave to appeal or leave to make a subsequent appeal;
 - (c) any proceedings preliminary or incidental to an appeal or subsequent appeal.
- (2) The power of the Court to pass any sentence may be exercised notwithstanding that the appellant is not present.

671E Appeals and subsequent appeals permitted in writing

An appellant shall be entitled to present the appellant's case and argument to the Court in writing if the appellant so desires.

671F Costs of appeal or subsequent appeal

- (1) On the hearing or determination of an appeal or subsequent appeal, or any proceedings preliminary or incidental thereto, no costs shall be allowed on either side.
- (2) The expenses of any assessor appointed, and of any witnesses attending on the order of the Court or examined, and of and incidental to any examination or reference, and of the appearance of an appellant on the hearing of the appeal or subsequent appeal or on any proceedings preliminary or incidental to the appeal or subsequent appeal, shall be defrayed out of the Consolidated Fund up to an amount allowed by the registrar; but, subject to any regulations as to rates of payment made by the Crown Law Officer, the decision of the registrar may be reviewed by the Court or a judge thereof.

671G Grant of bail to appellant and custody when attending Court

- (1) An appellant who is not granted bail shall, pending the determination of the appeal or subsequent appeal, be treated in such manner as may be directed under the laws relating to prisons.
- (2) The period the appellant is in custody pending the determination of the appeal or subsequent appeal counts as part of any term of imprisonment under the appellant's sentence.
- (3) If an appellant is released on bail pending the determination of the appeal or subsequent appeal—
 - (a) the period the appellant is released on bail does not count as part of any term of imprisonment under the appellant's sentence, whether passed by the court of trial or the Court; and
 - (b) the appellant's imprisonment under the appellant's sentence resumes or begins to run, as the case requires, on the day the appellant is received into prison under the appellant's sentence.
- (4) Provision shall be made under the laws relating to prisons for the manner in which an appellant, when in custody, is to be brought to any place where the appellant is entitled to be present, or ordered to be taken, for the purposes of this chapter, and for the manner in which the appellant is to be kept in custody whilst absent from prison for the purpose; and an appellant whilst in custody in accordance with those laws shall be deemed to be in legal custody.
- (5) Where pursuant to an appeal to the Court by the Attorney-General against sentence the Court varies the sentence—
 - (a) by imposing a term of imprisonment; or
 - (b) in a case where the court of trial imposed a term of imprisonment—by increasing the term of imprisonment imposed;

then, subject to any order the Court may make or any direction it may give to the contrary in the circumstances—

- (c) the term of imprisonment referred to in paragraph (a) shall commence from the time the person in question is received into prison pursuant to the decision of the Court or, where that person is already in prison in respect of imprisonment arising out of another matter, from the date of the decision of the Court;
- (d) in the service of the increased term of imprisonment referred to in paragraph (b) by the person in question, any part of the sentence already served by the person shall be taken into account.

671H Duties of registrar

- (1) The registrar must, if notice is given to the registrar, take all necessary steps for obtaining a hearing of any appeal, subsequent appeal or application.
- (2) The registrar must obtain and give the Court, in the appropriate form, all documents, exhibits and other things relating to the proceedings in the court of trial that appear necessary for the proper determination of the appeal, subsequent appeal or application.
- (3) Also, for a subsequent appeal or application for leave to make a subsequent appeal, the registrar must obtain and give the Court—
 - (a) the judge's notes and report under section 671A that relate to the proceedings in the court of trial given to the registrar in relation to any appeal or application for leave to appeal against the appellant's conviction; and
 - (b) in the appropriate form, all documents, exhibits and other things relating to the proceedings in the Court for—
 - (i) an appeal or application for leave to appeal against the appellant's conviction; and

[s 671J]

- (ii) an earlier subsequent appeal or application for leave to make a subsequent appeal against the appellant's conviction.
- (4) The registrar may refer any appeal, subsequent appeal or application to the Court for summary determination if it appears to the registrar that the notice of appeal, subsequent appeal or application does not show any substantial ground of appeal or subsequent appeal.
- (5) The Court may, if it considers that the appeal, subsequent appeal or application is frivolous or vexatious, dismiss the appeal, subsequent appeal or application summarily without calling upon any person to attend the hearing.
- (6) The registrar must give forms and instructions in relation to notices of appeals, subsequent appeals or applications to—
 - (a) any person who asks for the same; and
 - (b) officers of courts; and
 - (c) the chief executive (corrective services); and
 - (d) any other officers or persons as the registrar considers appropriate.
- (7) The chief executive (corrective services) must cause the forms and instructions mentioned in subsection (6) to be placed at the disposal of prisoners desiring to appeal, to make a subsequent appeal or to make an application.
- (8) Also, the chief executive (corrective services) must cause any notice given by a prisoner for whom the chief executive (corrective services) has responsibility to be forwarded for the prisoner to the registrar.

671J Documents, exhibits etc.

- (1) Any documents, exhibits, or other things connected with any proceedings before a court of trial, in respect of which any person is entitled or may be authorised to appeal, shall be kept in the custody of the court of trial for such time as may be prescribed, subject to such power as may be prescribed for the conditional release of any such documents, exhibits, or other things from that custody.

- (2) This section does not apply to a subsequent appeal.

671K Records of proceedings

- (1) If the registrar directs in relation to any notice of appeal, subsequent appeal or application for leave to appeal or leave to make a subsequent appeal, the following must be given to the registrar for the use of the Court or a judge of the Court—
- (a) a record or part of the record of the proceedings in the court of trial;
 - (b) for a subsequent appeal—a record or part of the record of earlier proceedings in the Court for an appeal or subsequent appeal against the appellant’s conviction.

Note—

See the Recording of Evidence Act 1962, section 5 which provides for recording all relevant matter in a legal proceeding.

- (2) A copy of a record of proceedings or of any part thereof may be furnished to any party interested in accordance with provisions of the Criminal Practice Rules 1999 and the Criminal Practice Rules 1999, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, may prescribe, for a trial, an appeal or a subsequent appeal—
- (a) charges for the copy of the record or part thereof; or
 - (b) circumstances in which such charges may be varied or waived and on whose or by what authority they may be varied or waived; or
 - (c) who is a ‘party interested’ for the purpose of having furnished to the person a copy of the record or part thereof; or
 - (d) the authorisation of the furnishing of a copy of a record of proceedings or of any part thereof to any other person on the ground that such person has a sufficient interest therein, and by whom any such authorisation may be made.

- (3) In addition to the foregoing, the Attorney-General may cause a copy of a record of proceedings or of any part thereof to be furnished to any person in such circumstances and subject to such conditions as the Attorney-General thinks fit.
- (4) The Crown is entitled to receive a copy of any record of proceedings or of any part thereof without payment of any charge.
- (5) The furnishing in accordance with this section and, in an appropriate case, the Criminal Practice Rules 1999 of a copy of any record of proceedings or of any part thereof shall not render the Crown, a Crown Law Officer, the registrar, a recorder under the Recording of Evidence Act 1962 or other person responsible for or associated with that furnishing liable in any way in law in respect thereof.

671L Powers exercisable by a judge

The powers of the Court to give leave to appeal, to extend the time in which notice of appeal or of an application for leave to appeal may be given, to give leave to make a subsequent appeal and to allow the appellant to be present at any proceedings in cases where the appellant is not entitled to be present without leave may be exercised by any judge of the Court in the same manner as they may be exercised by the Court, and subject to the same provisions; but if the judge refuses an application on the part of the appellant to exercise any such power in the appellant's favour, the appellant shall be entitled to have the application determined by the Court.

672 Appeals from the decisions of the Court

- (1) Where an appeal or subsequent appeal to the Court is upheld, and the appellant is entitled to have the conviction against the appellant quashed by order of the Court, the Court may, upon application on behalf of the Crown, at any time before the release of such appellant, either by the same or by a separate order, direct that execution of the order quashing the appellant's conviction be stayed for such time (not exceeding 7 days) as the Court thinks fit; and the Court or a judge thereof shall thereupon make such order for the detention of the appellant or the appellant's return to any former custody, or for granting bail to the appellant, as the Court or judge thinks fit, for the time during which such stay has been directed.

- (2) The Court or a judge thereof may, upon application by or on behalf of the Crown Law Officer, make such order for the detention of the appellant or for granting bail to the appellant pending the hearing of an appeal to the High Court of Australia as the Court or a judge may think fit, and may at any time vary or rescind such order.
- (3) On the application of any appellant who considers they were wronged by any failure to diligently prosecute such appeal, the Court or a judge thereof may order the immediate execution of the original order of the Court quashing the conviction, and may order the appellant's immediate release, and the Court may further, if it thinks fit, award the appellant such compensation as appears just.

Chapter division 5 Pardons

672A Pardoning power preserved

Nothing in sections 668 to 672 shall affect the pardoning power of the Governor on behalf of the Sovereign, but the Crown Law Officer, on the consideration of any petition for the exercise of the pardoning power having reference to the conviction of any person or to any sentence passed on a convicted person, may—

- (a) refer the whole case to the Court, and the case shall be heard and determined by the Court as in the case of an appeal by a person convicted; or

[s 675]

- (b) if the Crown Law Officer desires the assistance of the Court on any point arising in the case with a view to the determination of the petition, refer that point to the Court for its opinion thereon, and the Court shall consider the point so referred and furnish the Crown Law Officer with its opinion thereon accordingly.

675 Conditional remission of sentence by Governor

- (1) In any case in which the Governor is authorised, on behalf of the Sovereign, to extend the Royal mercy to an offender under sentence of imprisonment, the Governor may extend mercy upon condition of the offender entering into a recognisance conditioned as in the case of offenders discharged by the Court upon suspension of the execution of a sentence.
- (2) The offender is thereupon liable to the same obligations, and is liable to be dealt with in all respects in the same manner, as a person discharged by the Court on recognisance upon such suspension.

676 Pardon in case of imprisonment for non-payment of money

The Governor may extend the Royal mercy to any person imprisoned upon conviction of any of the offences defined in chapter 44, although the person is imprisoned for non-payment of money which is payable to some private person.

677 Effect of pardon

A pardon by the Governor, on behalf of the Sovereign, has the effect of discharging the convicted person from the consequences of the conviction.

Chapter 68 Exceptions to double jeopardy rules

678 Definitions for chapter

(1) In this chapter—

25 year offence means an offence punishable by imprisonment for life or for a period of 25 years or more.

acquittal—

(a) includes—

- (i) an acquittal in appeal proceedings in relation to an offence; and
- (ii) an acquittal at the direction of a court; and
- (iii) a dismissal under section 700 or the Justices Act 1886, section 149; but

(b) does not include—

- (i) an acquittal on account of unsoundness of mind under section 647; or
- (ii) a discontinuance of proceedings under the Mental Health Act 2016, section 119.

administration of justice offence means an offence under chapter 16.

Court means the Court of Appeal.

fresh and compelling evidence see section 678D.

interests of justice see section 678F.

prescribed offence means an offence, punishable by imprisonment for life, defined in—

- (a) section 215(1) to which section 215(3), (4) or (4A) applies; or
- (b) section 216(1) to which section 216(3)(a) or (b) applies; or

[s 678A]

- (c) section 217A(1) to which section 217A(3) applies; or
- (d) section 222(1); or
- (e) section 229B; or
- (f) section 303; or
- (g) section 306; or
- (h) section 313; or
- (i) section 314A; or
- (j) section 349; or
- (k) section 352(1) to which section 352(3)(a), (b) or (c) applies.

tainted acquittal see section 678E.

- (2) For the purposes of this chapter, the retrial of an acquitted person for an offence includes a trial if the offence is not the same as the offence of which the person was acquitted.
- (3) In this chapter, a reference to the proceedings in which a person was acquitted includes, if they were appeal proceedings, a reference to the earlier proceedings to which the appeal related.

678A Application of ch 68

- (1) This chapter applies if a person has been acquitted of an offence, whether before, on or after the commencement of this section.
- (2) However, this chapter does not apply if, in relation to a charge of an offence, a person was acquitted of the offence as charged and convicted instead of another offence of which the person might have been convicted as an alternative to the offence as charged.

Examples where this chapter does not apply—

- in relation to a charge of the offence of murder, a person was acquitted of murder and convicted instead of manslaughter

- in relation to a charge of an offence committed with circumstances of aggravation, a person was acquitted of the offence committed with circumstances of aggravation and convicted instead of the offence without any of the circumstances of aggravation
 - in relation to a charge of the offence of rape, a person was acquitted of rape and convicted instead of incest
- (3) This section extends to a person acquitted in proceedings outside this State of an offence under the law of the place where the proceedings were held.
- (4) However, this section does not extend as mentioned in subsection (3) if the law of the place where the proceedings were held does not permit the person to be retried and the application of this chapter to the retrial is inconsistent with the Commonwealth Constitution or a law of the Commonwealth.

678B Court may order retrial for murder—fresh and compelling evidence

- (1) The Court may, on the application of the director of public prosecutions, order an acquitted person to be retried for the offence of murder if satisfied that—
- (a) there is fresh and compelling evidence against the acquitted person in relation to the offence; and
 - (b) in all the circumstances it is in the interests of justice for the order to be made.
- (2) The Court may order a person to be retried for the offence of murder under this section even if the person had been charged with and acquitted of a lesser offence relating to the unlawful killing of another person.
- (3) If the Court orders an acquitted person to be retried for the offence of murder, the Court must quash the person's acquittal or remove the acquittal as a bar to the person being retried.
- (4) On the retrial, section 17 does not apply in relation to the charge of the offence of murder.

678BA Court may order retrial for prescribed offence—fresh and compelling evidence

- (1) The Court may, on the application of the director of public prosecutions, order an acquitted person to be retried for a prescribed offence if satisfied that—
 - (a) there is fresh and compelling evidence against the acquitted person in relation to the prescribed offence; and
 - (b) in all the circumstances it is in the interests of justice for the order to be made.
- (2) The Court may order a person to be retried for a prescribed offence (the relevant offence) under this section even if—
 - (a) the person had been charged with and acquitted of another prescribed offence; and
 - (b) the relevant offence is an offence of which the person might have been convicted as an alternative to the other prescribed offence.
- (3) Also, the Court may order a person to be retried for a prescribed offence (also the relevant offence) under this section even if—
 - (a) the person had been charged with and acquitted of the offence of murder; and
 - (b) the relevant offence is an offence of which the person might have been convicted as an alternative to the offence of murder.
- (4) If the Court orders an acquitted person to be retried for the prescribed offence, the Court must quash the person's acquittal or remove the acquittal as a bar to the person being retried.
- (5) On the retrial, section 17 does not apply in relation to the charge of the prescribed offence.

678C Court may order retrial for 25 year offence—tainted acquittal

- (1) The Court may, on the application of the director of public prosecutions, order an acquitted person to be retried for a 25 year offence if satisfied that—
 - (a) the acquittal is a tainted acquittal; and
 - (b) in all the circumstances it is in the interests of justice for the order to be made.
- (2) The Court may order a person to be retried for a 25 year offence under this section even if the person had been charged with and acquitted of another offence of which the person might have been convicted as an alternative to the 25 year offence.
- (3) If the Court orders an acquitted person to be retried for a 25 year offence, the Court must quash the person's acquittal or remove the acquittal as a bar to the person being retried.
- (4) On the retrial, section 17 does not apply in relation to the charge of the 25 year offence.

678D Fresh and compelling evidence—meaning

- (1) This section applies for the purpose of deciding under this chapter whether there is fresh and compelling evidence against an acquitted person in relation to the offence of murder or a prescribed offence.
- (2) Evidence is fresh if—
 - (a) it was not adduced in the proceedings in which the person was acquitted; and
 - (b) it could not have been adduced in those proceedings with the exercise of reasonable diligence by—
 - (i) a police officer in relation to the investigation of the commission of the offence; or
 - (ii) a prosecutor in relation to the prosecution of the offence.

[s 678E]

- (3) Evidence is compelling if—
 - (a) it is reliable; and
 - (b) it is substantial; and
 - (c) in the context of the issues in dispute in the proceedings in which the person was acquitted, it is highly probative of the case against the acquitted person.
- (4) Evidence that would be admissible on a retrial under this chapter is not precluded from being fresh and compelling evidence merely because it would have been inadmissible in the earlier proceedings against the acquitted person.

678E Tainted acquittal—meaning

- (1) This section applies for the purpose of deciding under this chapter whether the acquittal of an accused person is a tainted acquittal.
- (2) An acquittal is tainted if—
 - (a) the accused person or another person has been convicted in this State or elsewhere of an administration of justice offence in relation to the proceedings in which the accused person was acquitted; and
 - (b) it is more likely than not that, but for the commission of the administration of justice offence, the accused person would have been convicted.
- (3) An acquittal is not a tainted acquittal during any of the following periods—
 - (a) the period provided under section 671(1) for the person convicted of the administration of justice offence (the convicted person) to appeal, or obtain leave to appeal, from the conviction;
 - (b) if, within the period mentioned in paragraph (a), the convicted person gives notice of an appeal—the period ending when the appeal is decided;

- (c) if, within the period mentioned in paragraph (a), the convicted person gives notice of an application for leave to appeal, the period ending—
 - (i) if the application is refused—when the decision refusing the application is made; or
 - (ii) if the application is granted—when the appeal is decided.

Note—

Section 668D provides the right of appeal.

- (4) If the conviction for the administration of justice offence is, on appeal, quashed after the Court has ordered the acquitted person to be retried under this chapter because of the conviction, the person may apply to the Court to set aside the order and—
 - (a) restore the acquittal that was quashed; or
 - (b) restore the acquittal as a bar to the person being retried for the offence.

678F Interests of justice—matters for consideration

- (1) This section applies for the purpose of deciding under this chapter whether it is in the interests of justice for an order to be made for the retrial of an acquitted person.
- (2) It is not in the interests of justice to make an order for the retrial of an acquitted person unless the Court is satisfied that a fair retrial is likely in the circumstances.
- (3) The Court must have regard in particular to—
 - (a) the length of time since the acquitted person allegedly committed the offence; and
 - (b) whether any police officer or prosecutor has failed to act with reasonable diligence or expedition in relation to—
 - (i) the investigation of the commission of the offence of which the person was acquitted and the

[s 678G]

- prosecution of the proceedings in which the person was acquitted; and
- (ii) the application for the retrial of the acquitted person.

678G Application for retrial—procedure

- (1) If a person has been acquitted, not more than 1 application for the retrial of the person may be made under this chapter in relation to the acquittal.
- (2) If the acquittal results from a retrial under this chapter—
 - (a) an application may not be made for an order under section 678B or 678BA in relation to the acquittal; but
 - (b) an application may be made for an order under section 678C in relation to the acquittal.
- (3) An application for the retrial of an acquitted person may not be made under this chapter unless—
 - (a) the person has been charged with the offence for which the retrial is sought (the relevant offence); or
 - (b) a warrant has been issued for the person's arrest in relation to the relevant offence.
- (4) The application must be made not later than 28 days after the person is charged with the relevant offence or the warrant is issued for the person's arrest in relation to the relevant offence.
- (5) The Court may extend the period mentioned in subsection (4) for good cause.
- (6) The Court must consider the application at a hearing.
- (7) The person to whom the application relates is entitled to be present and heard at the hearing, whether or not the person is in custody.

- (8) However, if the person has been given a reasonable opportunity to be present, the application may be decided even if the person is not present.
- (9) The powers of the Court mentioned in section 671B(1) may be exercised in relation to the hearing of the application.
- (10) The Court may at 1 hearing consider more than 1 application under this chapter for a retrial (whether or not relating to the same person), but only if the offences concerned may be tried on the same indictment.
- (11) If the Court decides in proceedings on an application under this chapter that the acquittal is not a bar to the person being retried for the offence concerned, it must make a declaration to that effect.

678H Retrial

- (1) An indictment for the retrial of a person that has been ordered under this chapter may not, without the leave of the Court, be presented after the end of the period of 2 months after the order was made.
- (2) The Court may give leave only if it is satisfied that—
 - (a) the prosecutor has acted with reasonable expedition; and
 - (b) there is good and sufficient reason for the retrial despite the lapse of time since the order was made.
- (3) If, after the end of the period of 2 months after an order for the retrial of an accused person was made under this chapter, an indictment for the retrial of the person has not been presented or has been withdrawn or quashed, the person may apply to the Court to set aside the order for the retrial and—
 - (a) restore the acquittal that was quashed; or
 - (b) restore the acquittal as a bar to the person being tried for the offence.

[s 678I]

- (4) If the order is set aside, a further application may not be made under this chapter for the retrial of the accused person in relation to—
 - (a) the offence concerned; or
 - (b) another offence of which the person might have been convicted as an alternative to the offence concerned.
- (5) At the retrial of an accused person, the prosecution is not entitled to refer to the fact that the Court has found that it appears that—
 - (a) there is fresh and compelling evidence against the acquitted person; or
 - (b) more likely than not, but for the commission of the administration of justice offence, the accused person would have been convicted.

678I Authorisation of police investigations

- (1) This section applies to any police investigation of the commission of an offence by an acquitted person in relation to the possible retrial of the person for the offence under this chapter.
- (2) For the purposes of this section, a police investigation is an investigation that involves, whether with or without the consent of the acquitted person—
 - (a) any arrest, questioning or search of the acquitted person, or the issue of a warrant for the arrest of the person; or
 - (b) any forensic procedure carried out on the person or any search or seizure of premises or property of or occupied by the person.
- (3) A police officer may carry out or authorise a police investigation to which this section applies only if the director of public prosecutions—
 - (a) has advised that, in the opinion of the director of public prosecutions, the acquittal would not be a bar to the

- retrial of the acquitted person in this State for the offence; or
- (b) has given written consent to the police investigation on the application in writing of the commissioner, or a deputy commissioner, of the police service.
- (4) The commissioner, or a deputy commissioner, of the police service may make an application for the police investigation only if satisfied that relevant evidence for the purposes of an application for a retrial under this chapter—
- (a) has been obtained; or
 - (b) is likely to be obtained as a result of the investigation.
- (5) The director of public prosecutions may give consent to the police investigation only if satisfied that—
- (a) there is, or there is likely as a result of the investigation to be, sufficient new evidence to warrant the conduct of the investigation; and
 - (b) it is in the public interest for the investigation to proceed.
- (6) Despite the Police Service Administration Act 1990, section 4.10, the commissioner of the police service may not delegate powers of the commissioner under this section to a police officer or staff member.

678J Bail

- (1) This section has effect despite anything to the contrary in the Bail Act 1980.
- (2) There is a presumption in favour of bail for a person who is charged with an offence for which a retrial is sought under this chapter until the application for the retrial is dealt with.

678K Restrictions on publication

- (1) A person must not publish any matter for the purpose of identifying or having the effect of identifying an acquitted person who is being retried under this chapter or who is the subject of—
 - (a) a police investigation, or an application for a police investigation, mentioned in section 678I; or
 - (b) an application for a retrial, or an order for retrial, under this chapter.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if the publication is authorised by order of the Court or of the court before which the acquitted person is being retried.
- (3) The relevant court may make an order authorising publication only if the court is satisfied that it is in the interests of justice to make the order.
- (4) Before making an order under this section, the relevant court must give the acquitted person a reasonable opportunity to be heard on the application for the order.
- (5) The relevant court may at any time vary or revoke an order under this section.
- (6) The prohibition on publication under this section ceases to have effect, subject to any order under this section, when the first of the following paragraphs apply—
 - (a) there is no longer any step that could be taken which would lead to the acquitted person being retried under this chapter;
 - (b) if the acquitted person is retried under this chapter—the trial ends.
- (7) Nothing in this section affects any prohibition of the publication of any matter under any other Act or law.
- (8) A contravention of a prohibition on publication under this section is punishable as contempt of the Supreme Court.

Chapter 69 Seizure and detention of property connected with offences—restitution of property unlawfully acquired

679A Search of aircraft

- (1) If it appears to the person in command of an aircraft that there are reasonable grounds for suspecting that any offence involving the safety of the aircraft has been, is being, is about to be, or may be, committed on board or in relation to the aircraft it shall be lawful for the person and for any person acting by the person's authority with such assistance as the person or such person may think necessary to search or cause to be searched—

- (a) the aircraft and any person luggage and freight on board the aircraft; and
- (b) any person who is about to board the aircraft and any luggage or freight that is about to be placed on board the aircraft; and seize—

- (c) anything whether animate or inanimate and whether living or dead as to which there are reasonable grounds for believing that it will of itself or by or on scientific examination, afford evidence as to the commission of any offence; or
- (d) anything as to which there are reasonable grounds for believing that it is intended to be used for the purpose of committing any offence; and take it before a justice to be dealt with according to law.

- (2) A female shall not be searched under this section except by a female.

680 Property found on offenders on arrest

When, on the arrest of any person on a charge of an offence relating to property, the property in respect of which the offence is alleged to be committed is found in the person's possession, the person arresting the person may take such property before a justice to be dealt with according to law.

682 Disposal of property seized

- (1) When anything is seized or taken under the provisions of this Code, the person seizing or taking it is required forthwith to carry it before a justice.
- (2) The justice may cause the thing so seized or taken to be detained in such custody as the justice may direct, taking reasonable care for its preservation, until the conclusion of any investigation that may be held with respect to it; and, if any person is committed for trial for any offence committed with respect to the thing so seized or taken, or committed under such circumstances that the thing so seized or taken is likely to afford evidence at the trial, the justice may cause it to be further detained in like manner for the purpose of being produced in evidence at such trial.
- (3) If no person is so committed, the justice is required to direct that the thing be returned to the person from whom it was taken, unless the justice is authorised or required by law to dispose of it otherwise.
- (4) If the thing so seized or taken is anything forged or counterfeit, or is of such a nature that a person who has it in the person's possession without lawful authority or excuse is guilty of an offence, then, if any person is committed for trial for any offence committed with respect to it or committed under such circumstances as aforesaid and is convicted, the court before which the person is convicted, or, in any other case, any justice, may cause it to be defaced or destroyed.
- (5) If the thing so seized or taken is of such a nature that a person who has it in his or her possession, knowing its nature and without lawful authority or excuse, is guilty of an offence, then, as soon as it appears that it will not be required, or further required, in evidence against the person who had it in his or her possession, it is to be delivered to the Treasurer, or some person authorised by the Treasurer to receive it.

683 Explosives

If the thing seized or taken is an explosive substance found in a vessel or vehicle, the person acting in the execution of the warrant may for 24 hours after seizure, and for such longer time as is necessary for the purpose of removal to a safe place of deposit, use the vessel or the vehicle, with the tackle and furniture thereof, or the beasts, and accoutrements belonging thereto as the case may be, paying afterwards to the owner of the vessel or vehicle a sufficient recompense for its use, which is to be assessed by the justice or justices before whom the suspected offender is brought, and, in case of non-payment immediately after such assessment, may be recovered before 2 justices in a summary way.

685B Orders for delivery of certain property

- (1) Where any property has come into the custody or possession of a court or justices in connection with any charge, the court or justices, on the conclusion of the trial and on the application of the prosecutor, may make an order for the delivery of the property to the person appearing to the court or justices to be the person lawfully entitled thereto or, if that person can not be ascertained, may make such order with respect to the property as to the court or justices seems just.
- (2) An order so made shall not be a bar to the right of any person to recover the property by action from the person to whom it is delivered by virtue of the order.

Chapter 70 Informations by private persons for indictable offences—ex officio indictments

686 Information by leave of the court by private prosecutors

- (1) Any person may by leave of the Supreme Court present an information against any other person for any indictable offence, alleged to have been committed by such other person.
- (2) An information presented by leave of the court is to be signed by the person on whose application the leave is granted, or some other person appointed by the court in that behalf, and filed in the Supreme Court.
- (3) The person who signs the information is called the prosecutor.
- (4) The information is to be intituled ‘The Queen on the prosecution of the prosecutor (naming the person) against the accused person (naming the person)’, and must state that the prosecutor informs the court by leave of the court.
- (5) Except as otherwise expressly provided, the information and the proceedings upon it are subject to the same rules and incidents in all respects as an indictment presented by a Crown Law Officer and the proceedings upon such an indictment as hereinbefore set forth.

687 Security to be given by prosecutor for costs of defence

Before the information is presented the prosecutor is to be required to give security, in such amount and in such manner as the court on giving leave to present the information may direct, that the prosecutor will prosecute the information without delay, and will pay to the accused person such costs incurred by the accused person in respect of the person’s defence to the charge as the court may order the prosecutor to pay.

688 Service of information

An office copy of the information is to be served upon the accused person, upon which copy there must be endorsed a summons, under the hand of the registrar and seal of the court, requiring the person to appear and plead to the information within the same time after service within which the person would be required to enter an appearance after service of a writ in a civil action.

689 Plea

The accused person is required within the time so limited to enter an appearance and file the person's plea in writing in the Supreme Court, and to deliver a copy thereof forthwith to the prosecutor.

690 Default of plea

- (1) If the accused person does not plead to the information according to the exigency of the summons endorsed on the copy served on the person, the prosecutor may serve the accused person with a notice to the effect that unless the person pleads or demurs within 8 days a plea of not guilty will be filed in the person's name.
- (2) Upon filing an affidavit setting forth the service of the information and of such notice, and of default of pleading in accordance with the exigency of the notice, the prosecutor may cause a plea of not guilty to be filed for the accused person, and thereupon the same proceedings may be had as if the accused person had filed a plea of not guilty.
- (3) Or, in the case of a misdemeanour, judgment of conviction may, by leave of the court or a judge, be entered against the accused person for want of a plea.
- (4) But the court or a judge may, either before or after the time so prescribed, allow further time for the accused person to plead or demur to the information.

691 Time and place of trial

When the accused person pleads any plea, or when a plea of not guilty is filed for the person by the prosecutor, either party may apply to a judge to appoint the time and place of trial, of which notice is to be given to the accused person.

692 Effect of judgment for prosecutor on demurrer

- (1) If the accused person demurs only, and does not plead any plea, and judgment is given against the person on demurrer, the person is required to plead to the information within such time as the court or a judge may allow.
- (2) If the accused person makes default in doing so, the same proceedings may be taken as if the person had made default in pleading in the first instance.

693 Effect of judgment by default

- (1) If judgment of conviction is entered against the accused person for want of a plea, the person is required to attend to receive the judgment of the court at a time and place to be appointed by a judge.
- (2) If the accused person does not so attend, any justice may issue a warrant to arrest the person and bring him or her before the court to receive judgment.

694 Costs of defence

In any of the following cases, that is to say—

- (a) if an application for leave to present an information against a person (the accused person) ends without the application being granted;
- (b) if the accused person pleads to the information, and is not brought to trial within a year after filing the person's plea;

- (c) if a Crown Law Officer informs the court that the Crown Law Officer will not further proceed on the information;
 - (d) if the accused person is acquitted upon trial;
- the court, or the judge before whom the trial (if any) is had, may award costs to the accused person.

695 Practice to be applied on ex officio indictment

When an indictment is presented in the Supreme Court by a Crown Law Officer against any person who has not been committed for trial for the offence charged in the indictment, the Crown may proceed thereon in the manner prescribed in this chapter with respect to informations filed by private prosecutors, except that no security shall be required.

Chapter 71 Miscellaneous provisions

695A Power to protect victim of violence by prohibiting publication of information about proceedings

- (1) This section applies to—
 - (a) a judge of a court—
 - (i) to which someone has been committed for trial or sentence for an indictable offence involving personal violence; or
 - (ii) before which an indictment has been presented for an offence involving personal violence; or
 - (iii) hearing and deciding a proceeding for a COVA application relating to an offence involving personal violence; and

[s 696]

- (b) a magistrate summarily hearing and deciding a proceeding for an indictable offence involving personal violence, including a committal proceeding.
- (2) The judge or magistrate may make an order prohibiting, indefinitely or for a specified time, the publication of information about the address of a person against whom the violence is alleged to have been committed.
- (3) The order may be made on application by the person, or by the prosecution acting in the person's interests.
- (4) The order may be made only if the information is not relevant to the guilt or innocence of the charged person.
- (5) An application for an order under this division may be made—
 - (a) in chambers; and
 - (b) only in the presence of persons the judge or magistrate allows.
- (6) On the hearing of the application the judge or magistrate may receive and act on information the judge or magistrate considers appropriate.
- (7) In this section—

address, of a person, means the address of the person's residence, school, place of employment or other address.

COVA application means an application under the repealed Criminal Offence Victims Act 1995, part 3, as applying under the Victims of Crime Assistance Act 2009, chapter 6, part 2.

696 Warrant for release of person detained in custody

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) a person (the accused) is detained in custody on a charge of an indictable offence; and
 - (b) a decision has been made not to proceed with the charge.

- (2) The Attorney-General may issue a warrant for the accused's release from custody in relation to the charge.
- (3) The warrant must be—
 - (a) signed by the Attorney-General; and
 - (b) addressed to the person having custody of the accused.
- (4) The warrant authorises the person having custody of the accused to release the accused from custody immediately in relation to the charge stated in the warrant.
- (5) However, the accused must not be released from custody if the accused is otherwise lawfully detained.

697 Court may direct certain persons to be prosecuted for perjury

- (1) If it appears to any court that any person has been guilty of perjury in any testimony given before it, the court may commit the person to take the person's trial for such perjury before any court of competent jurisdiction in the same manner as if the person had been charged before a justice with the same perjury, and sufficient evidence had been given against the person.
- (2) A person so committed may be granted bail in the same manner as if the person had been committed for trial by a justice.
- (3) The court may order that any person be given a notice to appear and give evidence at the trial of a person so directed to be prosecuted.
- (4) In this section—

court includes any person before whom a writ of inquiry is executed, but does not include a Magistrates Court.

699 Staying prosecution for publication of parliamentary paper

- (1) A person prosecuted on a charge of the unlawful publication of defamatory matter which is contained in any paper published by the person, or by the person's servant, by order or under the authority of the Legislative Assembly, may, at any stage of the proceedings, apply to the Supreme Court or a judge thereof or to the court in which the proceedings are pending, for an order staying the prosecution, first giving 24 hours notice of intention so to do to the prosecutor; and upon production to the court or judge of a certificate under the hand of the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly or clerk of the Parliament stating that the paper in respect of which the prosecution is instituted was published by the defendant, or by the defendant's servant, by order or under the authority of the Assembly, together with an affidavit verifying such certificate, the court or judge is required immediately to stay the prosecution, and may order the prosecutor to pay to the defendant the defendant's costs of defence.
- (2) A person prosecuted on a charge of the unlawful publication of defamatory matter which is contained in a copy of, or an extract from or abstract of, any such paper, may, at any stage of the proceedings, apply to the Supreme Court or a judge thereof, or to the court in which the proceedings are pending, for an order staying the prosecution; and upon production to the court or judge of an original of such paper, together with such a certificate as aforesaid, and an affidavit verifying the same, the court or judge may stay the prosecution, and may order the prosecutor to pay to the defendant the defendant's costs of defence.

700 Certificate of dismissal by justices

- (1) When justices dismiss a complaint of an offence punishable on summary conviction, whether an indictable offence or not, they may, if required and if they think fit, give the accused person a certificate of dismissal.

- (2) Such a certificate is a bar to any further prosecution of the accused person for the same cause.

702 Saving of civil remedies

Except when expressly so provided, the prosecution or conviction of a person for an offence does not affect any civil remedy which any person aggrieved by the offence may have against the offender.

704 No court fees in criminal cases

- (1) No fees can be taken in any court of criminal jurisdiction or before any justice from any person who is charged with an indictable offence for any proceeding had or taken in the court or before the justice with respect to the charge.
- (2) To remove any doubt, it is declared that the offender levy imposed under the Penalties and Sentences Act 1992, section 179C is not a fee mentioned in subsection (1).

705 Copies of depositions to be allowed to persons committed for trial

- (1) Any person who is committed for trial or granted bail for any indictable offence is entitled to have on demand from the person who has the lawful custody thereof copies of the depositions of the witnesses on whose depositions the person has been so committed or granted bail.
- (2) However, if the demand is not made before the day appointed for the commencement of the sittings of the court at which the trial of the person on whose behalf the demand is made is to take place, the person is not entitled to have any such copy unless the judge is of opinion that the copy may be made and delivered without delay or inconvenience to the trial.
- (3) The court may postpone a trial on account of the accused person not having previously had a copy of the depositions.

706 Inspection of depositions at trial

Any person who is tried for any offence is entitled at the time of the person's trial to inspect without fee all depositions, or copies of depositions, which have been taken against the person and returned into the court before which the trial is had.

706A Development of administrative arrangements

- (1) An administrative arrangement can not affect—
 - (a) any power of a court, including any inherent power, to give a direction or make an order in a particular case, or generally; or
 - (b) the judicial independence of any court or judicial officer.
- (2) However, a practice direction may be made to give effect to an administrative arrangement.
- (3) In this section—

administrative arrangement means an arrangement entered into between 2 or more relevant agencies for the development of compatible business and operating processes to facilitate the efficient and timely resolution of proceedings under relevant laws.

relevant agency means any of the following—

- (a) the chief executive;
- (b) the chief executive (corrective services);
- (c) the chief executive of the department in which the Youth Justice Act 1992 is administered;
- (d) the commissioner of the police service;
- (e) the director of public prosecutions;
- (f) the Chief Magistrate under the Magistrates Act 1991;
- (g) the Chief Judge of the District Court of Queensland under the District Court of Queensland Act 1967;

- (h) the Chief Justice of Queensland;
- (i) the chief executive officer, Legal Aid Queensland;
- (j) the president of the Queensland Law Society Incorporated;
- (k) the president of the Bar Association of Queensland;
- (l) if nominated by the chief executive—the chief executive officer of a publicly funded, non-profit corporation whose primary purpose as a corporation is to provide legal services to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

relevant law means any of the following—

- (a) any law that includes provisions relating to criminal procedure, including in particular this Code and the Justices Act 1886;
- (b) any other law that operates in conjunction with, or whose operation is otherwise associated with, the operation of a law mentioned in paragraph (a);
- (c) practice directions relating to criminal practice and procedure for the purposes of the operation of a law mentioned in paragraph (a).

707 Forms of criminal proceedings

A form prescribed under a rule of court for a criminal proceeding is taken to be—

- (a) sufficient for the purpose for which it is to be used; and
- (b) if used, a sufficient statement of the relevant offence or matter.

708 Regulation-making power

The Governor in Council may make regulations under this Code.

Part 9 Transitional and validation provisions

Chapter 72 Transitional provision for Act No. 18 of 1999

709 Transitional provision for Act No. 18 of 1999

On a charge of unlawful stalking committed after the commencement of the Criminal Code (Stalking) Amendment Act 1999 (the commencement), evidence of an act described in section 359B(c) done before the commencement may be admitted for the purpose of deciding whether an act done after the commencement constituted unlawful stalking.

Chapter 73 Transitional provision for Justice Legislation (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act (No. 2) 1999

710 Transitional provision for Justice Legislation (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act (No. 2) 1999

- (1) This section applies if, after the commencement of the Justice Legislation (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act (No. 2) 1999, section 11—
 - (a) a charge of an offence against section 339(1) is before the Supreme or District Court; and
 - (b) the person charged with the offence informs the court that he or she does not want to be tried by jury; and

- (c) the prosecutor agrees to the charge being dealt with summarily.
- (2) The court may order that—
 - (a) the matter be remitted to a court of summary jurisdiction for the charge to be dealt with summarily; and
 - (b) the court registrar send the relevant court record to the registrar of the relevant court of summary jurisdiction.
- (3) The court may not make an order under subsection (2) if satisfied that because of the nature or seriousness of the offence or any other relevant consideration the defendant, if convicted, may not be adequately punished on summary conviction.

Chapter 74 Transitional provision for Criminal Law Amendment Act 2000

711 Transitional provision for Criminal Law Amendment Act 2000

- (1) In relation to an indictment mentioned in section 578(1), (1A) or (4) charging a person with an offence that was committed before the commencement of this section, the reference in those provisions to section 352 is a reference to section 337 as in force at any time before the commencement of this section.
- (2) In relation to an indictment presented before the commencement of this section, the person charged in the indictment may be convicted of an offence because of section 578 only if the person could have been convicted of the offence because of section 578 as in force immediately before the commencement of this section.

Chapter 75 Transitional provision for Criminal Law Amendment Act 2002

712 Transitional provision for Criminal Law Amendment Act 2002

Section 568(6) to (8), as in force at any time before the commencement of this section, continues to apply in relation to an indictment under section 568(6) presented before the commencement of this section as if the Criminal Law Amendment Act 2002, section 29 had not been enacted.

Chapter 76 Transitional provision for Sexual Offences (Protection of Children) Amendment Act 2003

713 Transitional provision for Sexual Offences (Protection of Children) Amendment Act 2003—unlawful sexual relationship

On a charge of an offence as defined in section 229B, evidence of an unlawful sexual act or acts done before the commencement of this section may be admitted for the purpose of deciding whether unlawful sexual acts done after the commencement of this section establish the existence of an unlawful sexual relationship.

Chapter 77 Validation provision for Criminal Proceeds Confiscation Act 2002

714 Validation provision for Criminal Proceeds Confiscation Act 2002—presentation of indictment

- (1) This section applies to an indictment presented before the commencement of this section by a person, appointed or employed in, or engaged by, the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions, who was not authorised under an Act to present the indictment.
- (2) The indictment is taken to have been presented by the director of public prosecutions.
- (3) Any proceedings taken, or other thing done, in relation to the indictment is taken to be as valid as if the proceedings were taken, or other thing done, in relation to an indictment presented by the director of public prosecutions.

Chapter 78 Transitional provision for Evidence (Protection of Children) Amendment Act 2003

715 Transitional provision for disclosure by the prosecution

Chapter 62, chapter division 3 applies to the following types of relevant proceeding, even if the offence concerned was committed before the commencement of this section—

- (a) a relevant proceeding started in relation to an offence if the charge against the accused person for the offence was brought after the commencement of this section;

[s 716]

- (b) a relevant proceeding in relation to an indictment presented after the commencement of this section;
- (c) a relevant proceeding that is a new trial ordered by the court if the order is made after the commencement of this section.

Chapter 79 Transitional provision for Defamation Act 2005

716 Defence of truth of defamatory matter still to be specially pleaded

Section 599, as in force at any time before the commencement of this section, continues to apply in relation to a person charged with the unlawful publication of defamatory matter under the Defamation Act 1889 as if the Defamation Act 2005, schedule 4, amendments of the Criminal Code, item 2 had not been enacted.

Chapter 80 Transitional provision for Criminal Code Amendment Act 2006

717 Effect of repeal of ss 56, 57 and 58

- (1) After the commencement of the Criminal Code Amendment Act 2006, a person can not be charged with, prosecuted for or further prosecuted for, or convicted of, an offence against section 56, 57 or 58 or punished for doing or omitting to do an act that constituted that offence.

- (2) However, subsection (1) does not prevent a person being punished by the Legislative Assembly for contempt of the Legislative Assembly as defined under the Parliament of Queensland Act 2001.

Chapter 81 Transitional provision for Justice and Other Legislation Amendment Act 2007

718 Appointment of animal valuers

A person appointed as an animal valuer under section 450F, as in force immediately before the commencement of this section, continues to hold the appointment after the commencement, as if the appointment had been made by the chief executive.

Chapter 102 Transitional and declaratory provisions for Criminal Code (Child Sexual Offences Reform) and Other Legislation Amendment Act 2020

Chapter division 1 Provisions commencing on day after assent

744 Application of repealed s 212

- (1) Repealed section 212 is taken always to have applied as if the limitation provision of the section were not, and had never been, in force.
- (2) To remove any doubt, it is declared that any immunity from prosecution acquired because of the limitation provision of repealed section 212 is abolished.
- (3) In this section—

1989 amendment means the Criminal Code, Evidence Act and Other Acts Amendment Act 1989, section 13.

limitation provision, of repealed section 212, means the provision of repealed section 212 that limited the period within which a prosecution for either of the offences defined in the section must be begun.

repealed section 212 means section 212 as in force from time to time before the commencement of the 1989 amendment.

745 Application of former s 215

- (1) Former section 215 is taken always to have applied as if the limitation provision of the section were not, and had never been, in force.

- (2) To remove any doubt, it is declared that any immunity from prosecution acquired because of the limitation provision of former section 215 is abolished.
- (3) However, subsections (1) and (2) do not apply in relation to the limitation provision of former section 215 to the extent it applied, from time to time before the commencement of the 1976 amendment, to a prosecution for an offence in relation to a girl of 16 years.
- (4) In this section—

1976 amendment means the Criminal Code Amendment Act 1976, section 19.

1989 amendment means the Criminal Code, Evidence Act and Other Acts Amendment Act 1989, section 14.

former section 215 means section 215 as in force from time to time before the commencement of the 1989 amendment.

limitation provision, of former section 215, means the provision of former section 215 that limited the period within which a prosecution for either of the offences firstly defined in the section must be begun.

746 Application of s 229B to acts done before 3 July 1989

- (1) Section 229B as in force on the commencement of this section applies, and is taken always to have applied, in relation to acts done before the commencement of the 1989 amendment.
- (2) For applying section 229B under subsection (1), the section applies, and is taken always to have applied, as if—
 - (a) the maximum penalty under section 229B(1) were—
 - (i) if in the course of the unlawful sexual relationship the adult committed an unlawful sexual act for which the adult is liable to imprisonment for 14 years or more—life imprisonment; or
 - (ii) if in the course of the unlawful sexual relationship the adult committed an unlawful sexual act for which the adult is liable to imprisonment for 5 years or more but less than 14 years—14 years imprisonment; or

- (iii) otherwise—7 years imprisonment; and
- (b) the reference in section 229B(10), definition offence of a sexual nature to an offence defined in section 210 (other than section 210(1)(e) or (f)), 215, 222, 349, 350 or 352 included a reference to an offence—
 - (i) defined in a provision of this Code as in force from time to time before the commencement of the 1989 amendment; and
 - (ii) constituted by an act that would, if committed on the commencement of this section, constitute an offence defined in a section mentioned in that definition.
- (3) Subsection (1) does not apply in relation to an act done before the commencement of the 1989 amendment if, before the commencement of this section, the act was the subject of a charge of an offence, whether or not the charge was finally dealt with.
- (4) In this section—

1989 amendment means the Criminal Code, Evidence Act and Other Acts Amendment Act 1989, section 23.

747 Application of s 229B during period 3 July 1989 to 30 April 2003

- (1) Section 229B as in force on the commencement of this section applies, and is taken always to have applied, during the following periods—
 - (a) the period starting on the commencement of the 1989 amendment and ending immediately before the commencement of the 1997 amendment;

- (b) the period starting on the commencement of the 1997 amendment and ending immediately before the commencement of the 2003 amendment.
- (2) For applying section 229B under subsection (1)(a), the section applies, and is taken always to have applied, as if—
 - (a) the maximum penalty under section 229B(1) were—
 - (i) if in the course of the unlawful sexual relationship the adult committed an unlawful sexual act for which the adult is liable to imprisonment for 14 years or more—life imprisonment; or
 - (ii) if in the course of the unlawful sexual relationship the adult committed an unlawful sexual act for which the adult is liable to imprisonment for 5 years or more but less than 14 years—14 years imprisonment; or
 - (iii) otherwise—7 years imprisonment; and
 - (b) the reference in section 229B(10), definition offence of a sexual nature to an offence defined in section 210 (other than section 210(1)(e) or (f)), 215, 222, 349, 350 or 352 included a reference to an offence—
 - (i) defined in a provision of this Code as in force from time to time before the commencement of the 1997 amendment; and
 - (ii) constituted by an act that would, if committed on the commencement of this section, constitute an offence defined in a section mentioned in that definition.
- (3) For applying section 229B under subsection (1)(b), the section applies, and is taken always to have applied, as if—
 - (a) the maximum penalty under section 229B(1) were—
 - (i) if in the course of the unlawful sexual relationship the adult committed an unlawful sexual act for which the adult is liable to imprisonment for 14 years or more—life imprisonment; or

- (ii) otherwise—14 years imprisonment; and
- (b) the reference in section 229B(10), definition offence of a sexual nature to an offence defined in section 210 (other than section 210(1)(e) or (f)), 215, 222, 349, 350 or 352 included a reference to an offence—
 - (i) defined in a provision of this Code as in force from time to time before the commencement of the 2003 amendment; and
 - (ii) constituted by an act that would, if committed on the commencement of this section, constitute an offence defined in a section mentioned in that definition.
- (4) If an adult has been charged, before the commencement of this section, with committing an offence against section 229B over a period that includes any part of a period mentioned in subsection (1)(a) or (b), subsection (1) does not apply in relation to the period the subject of the charge for—
 - (a) the proceeding for the offence; or
 - (b) any appeal against a conviction or sentence for the offence.
- (5) Also, section 229B as applied under subsection (1) does not apply in relation to an act done during a period mentioned in subsection (1)(a) or (b) if, before the commencement of this section, the act was the subject of a charge of an offence, whether or not the charge was finally dealt with.
- (6) In this section—

1989 amendment means the Criminal Code, Evidence Act and Other Acts Amendment Act 1989, section 23.

1997 amendment means the Criminal Law Amendment Act 1997, section 33.

2003 amendment means the Sexual Offences (Protection of Children) Amendment Act 2003, section 18.

748 Proceedings for offences against s 229B

- (1) This section applies in relation to an offence committed by a person against section 229B as applied under section 746 or 747.
- (2) A proceeding for the offence may be started, and the person may be convicted of and punished for the offence, as if section 229B had always applied in the way provided for under section 746 or 747.
- (3) This section applies despite section 11 and the Acts Interpretation Act 1954, section 20C.

749 Application of former s 218B to certain conduct

- (1) If conduct constituting an offence against former section 218B started before the commencement and continues after the commencement, former section 218B continues to apply in relation to all of the conduct constituting the offence.
- (2) In this section—
former section 218B means section 218B as in force from time to time before the commencement.

750 Application of amended ss 668A and 669A

- (1) Section 668A, as amended by the amending Act, applies in relation to the referral, after the commencement, of a point of law mentioned in section 668A(1), whether the direction or ruling in relation to which the point of law has arisen was given before, or is given after, the commencement.
- (2) Section 669A, as amended by the amending Act, applies in relation to the making of an appeal, after the commencement, against an order staying proceedings or further proceedings on an indictment, whether the order was made before, or is made after, the commencement.
